J. B. DENSMORE has withdrawn as a republican candidate for governor.
KREMERON sends a new variety imported from Russia in 1897 are recommended by the Nebraska experiment station. They are said to have given unusually good results, particularly in central and western portions of the state.
BECAUSE of the typhoid epidemic distilled water has been selling on the streets of Waterloo, Iowa, at 5 cents per gallon. There were thirteen funerals of people dead from typhoid fever in one day in that place recently.
QUEEN WILHEMINE's failing health continues to cause great anxiety, so states a telegram from The Hague. She has been ordered by her physician to take a villa on Lake Maggiore and will set out for Italy almost immediately. She is a prey to continual depression.
By the way, the democratic party might take judicial notice of the fact that all its representatives on the supreme court hold that the Sherman act against combinations and trusts in restraint of trade is unconstitutional. It is quite significant if it is not decisive. Only one of the six republicans on the bench agreed with them, but it was sufficient to make the vote just as close as could be—five to four.—Lincoln Journal.

A BUSINESS CHANGE.
Last Saturday afternoon papers were signed whereby THE JOURNAL and the property passes into the hands of Frank H. Abbott of Fremont and Stewart Kennedy of St. Edward. Mr. Abbott is at present engaged in the insurance business. He is a man of literary attainments, having attended both the Iowa and Nebraska state universities, graduating from the Iowa institution in both the general law course and was a few years ago the city superintendent of schools in Albion, this state.
Mr. Kennedy is editor of the St. Edward Advance, which he will continue to publish in connection with this paper. He is a young man respected in his home town, where he and his parents have made their residence for many years. Mr. Kennedy was a member of the First Nebraska regiment and served in the Philippines during the Spanish-American war and has made a decided success in his undertakings in the newspaper field. We believe THE JOURNAL will be in worthy hands under Messrs. Abbott & Kennedy, who will take entire charge of the plant April 1.
With the selling of THE JOURNAL the Turner family dispose of one of the oldest established business institutions in this part of the state. At the time of its first publication, May 11, 1870, there was but one other paper west of Fremont, and that was a publication at Grand Island, with Seth P. Mobley as editor. There are few business men in Columbus today who were engaged at its first publication, May 11, 1870, there was but one other paper west of Fremont, and that was a publication at Grand Island, with Seth P. Mobley as editor. There are few business men in Columbus today who were engaged at its first publication, May 11, 1870, there was but one other paper west of Fremont, and that was a publication at Grand Island, with Seth P. Mobley as editor.

Next week the office will be transferred but friends of the paper who have given it unstinted patronage for so many years, may be assured that they will not be disappointed, as we have every reason to believe that the paper under the new regime will meet the growing needs of the city, county and state, under the direction of these able, energetic gentlemen.
Next week we will have more to say, in somewhat of a personal way.

The Brooklyn Eagle (dem.) sent a staff correspondent out to Nebraska to look over the field politically, concerning the condition of democracy, and from an extended article we clip the following:
"Mr. Bryan has not yet rounded up the Nebraska democracy for Editor Hearst. There are the best of grounds for saying that he will never do it. In every essential the Nebraska situation is distinctly unfavorable to Mr. Hearst's candidacy, and especially is it unfavorable in the camp of Bryanism. Mr. Herdman, who has been affiliated with Mr. Bryan until recently, is opposed to the reaffirmation of the Kansas City platform. Mr. Herdman claims and some of Mr. Bryan's best friends concede, that three-fourths of the Nebraska democrats are opposed to it. It is not so certain to be defeated as this would imply, however, because all of Mr. Bryan's friends are determined that he shall not be humiliated in his own state if he can help it. At the state central committee meeting at Lincoln the reorganizers sprung a resolution to endorse ex-Judge John J. Sullivan of Columbus as the Nebraska candidate for vice president and the Bryanites were so surprised that they offered no opposition. Former Judge Sullivan's candidacy will probably, if it is followed by instructions at the state convention, prevent any attempted delivery of the Nebraska delegation to Mr. Hearst. It is evidently the sincere intention of the Nebraskaans to do all they can to bring about Mr. Sullivan's nomination. His friends are mainly the friends of Judge Parker. He has been in harmony with Mr. Bryan in state politics recently, but he was in 1896 and 1900 affiliated with the conservative democrats. He is popular with the rank and file of Nebraska democratic voters and has much influence with the leaders."

From a Lincoln correspondent of the Bee, Judge Sullivan is quoted as saying: "I appreciate the good will shown by the committee, but I am afraid that I am partially committed to John L. Webster, so it would ill become me to get out and fight for the place, as it is not likely that the two vice presidents would come from the same state."

The Fremont Tribune admits in the following item taken from its pages, that the Long river is what may be depended upon for canal power: "The alarm sounded concerning the stage of water in the Platte need not scare anybody who has the development of the power canal in mind. The Platte is an intermittent stream at best, above the mouth of the Loup. It depends for its moisture principally upon the snowfall in the mountains of Colorado, and when there has been little of it there, as has been the situation this winter, the river is sure to be pretty dry and in need of irrigating next summer. But down this way, below the confluence with the Loup, there is water enough for all. The Loup is fed by a myriad of never falling springs up in the sand hills and the Platte's volume below Columbus is steadfast and dependable as a Mormon's fifth wife. The wheels that may be hitched to a dynamo driven by the Fremont power canal will never cease to revolute on account of more or less snow on Pike's, Long's, Ute, Haha's and the thousands of other peaks that lift their giant heads to the cold, gray sky."

For stern bravado, says the United States magazine, it would be hard to rival the feat of Ensign Gillis, who saw a stray torpedo coming slowly but surely toward the anchored torpedo boat Forster in the Spanish-American war. He sprang overboard, turned the nose of the torpedo in a safer direction and screwed up the firing pin tightly so that it would not operate. Thus treading water, he saluted Lieutenant Fremont and reported: "Sir, I have captured a torpedo." "Bring it on board, sir," commanded Fremont, and Gillis actually did so, swimming with it to the ship and fastening tackle to it.

NEARLY all republican county conventions so far held in the state have passed resolutions endorsing Governor Mickey's administration and pledged support for his re-nomination. They also approve the selecting of a United States senator by the state convention, and E. J. Barrett seems to be the favored one for that important position.

Mr. HARRY McFERRERY of Omaha will let the contract for a large restaurant, which will occupy a large portion of the state building of the St. Louis school's fair. This restaurant, which will have a seating capacity of 1,000, will be especially attractive, Nebraskaans in Mrs. McFerry's plan to employ pretty Nebraska girls exclusively for waiters, preferably those who have had domestic science training, and to serve largely Nebraska food stuffs. At certain hours of the day she will also give practical demonstrations in the cooking and use of Nebraska food products.

The Salvation Army, after carrying on its business in Omaha for seventeen years without a home, has purchased the old First Methodist church at the price of $8,500. The Army last year held 376 street meetings, 468 indoor meetings and 104 services for young people and children.

Next week Columbus will entertain in the neighborhood of six hundred people, the teachers of the North Nebraska Normal, the majority of the number will be ladies, and if they do so much shopping as the visitors during the association last year, the merchants will profit by their presence. On account of the large number of strangers, it will be necessary for residents here to provide room and board for many, as the hotels are nearly always crowded with their usual customers. The teachers come prepared to pay their own expenses, and our town people should see to it that they find pleasant homes and leave the city feeling that they have had an enjoyable as well as profitable gathering.

Last Wednesday evening a team of horses and buggy belonging to the J. J. Siens was stolen from the street near Gray's store where the owner had hitched it. In the buggy were two robes, a fur overcoat and some shoes. The outfit was found Saturday morning, the horses tied to a telephone pole south of the Loup river at Genoa where the man had evidently intended to cross, but finding the bridge out left them on the other side. Everything was taken from the buggy but a grip which proved to be one lost by Court Reporter Blake Maher, who missed it while waiting for the Norfolk train to leave Wednesday evening. Nothing was taken from the grip which contained documents valuable to him only. Sheriff Carrig is still on the trail of the thief and hopes soon to land him in the county jail.

Miss Myrtle Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mills living in the north part of town, died this morning about half past 8 o'clock at her parents' home, after an illness of about two months. Myrtle was afflicted with pneumonia a few weeks ago, the disease leaving her constitution in a frail condition, which could not be built up and all that loving friends and relatives could do, availed nothing. About the last hour and among her last words, she sang one entire verse of "Shall We Gather at the River?" Myrtle was a young lady about 18 years of age and had bright prospects and hopes for the future. She was beloved by all who knew her on account of her kind and gentle disposition. She leaves her parents, one brother and one sister to mourn the loss of a young life cut short in the bloom of womanhood.

The Juniors of the High school were entertained Wednesday evening by Miss Mamie Elliott, John Elliott and Miss Anna Rositter at the Elliott home. Progressive flinch was the amusement and Miss Lillian Adams and Mr. Philip Smith (the latter a guest) received the prizes. The Juniors held late in the evening that the seniors would visit the party, so the crowd prepared for the enemy. A hat belonging to one of the boys was captured by a Junior and thoroughly demolished. Upon opening a door Miss Anna Rositter had a quantity of acid thrown in her face and for a time she suffered greatly, the fluid penetrating her eyes. The little Elliott girl also received a portion of the acid in her face. The teachers are indignantly with regard to the action and Prof. Kern says he does not approve of such conduct in the least.

Samuel Galley, brother of J. H. and George Galley of this city, died suddenly Saturday noon at his home in Creighton, Nebraska, death probably caused from heart trouble. J. H. Galley and Mrs. C. A. Brindley went to Creighton Sunday to return Tuesday with the family of Mr. Galley and the remains. Funeral services were held today (Tuesday) at 1 o'clock in the Congregational church in this city, Rev. Munro conducting the services, and the remains were laid to rest in the Columbus cemetery. Mr. Galley was well known to Columbus people, having been for many years a resident of this city, and was held in the highest esteem by all who were favored with his acquaintance. The deceased was born August 6, 1834, in Cheshire, England. He came directly from there to Utah in 1853 where he resided until 1863, at which time he came to this county. For a number of years he was engaged in farming and in 1872, while in that capacity, he became a partner with his brother J. H. Galley in the dry goods business, the same store which is now owned by Mr. Galley of this city. In 1881 Mr. Galley moved to Creighton where he conducted a dry goods store for himself and brother, and which he sold in January of this year. He also owned a store in Lynch, Nebraska. Mr. Galley was married in Columbus in 1868 to Miss Lettice Brindley, sister of Charles, George and Hiram Brindley, all of this city. Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Misses Amy and Martha, two brothers, J. H. and George of this city, and a sister, Mrs. Barrow of Salt Lake City and Mrs. S. A. Riecky of Creighton to mourn their loss.

The city council met Friday evening. J. F. Barney presented a request asking permission to move the city fire bell tower, as he wishes to improve his property on Eleventh street by taking down the sheds now there and rebuilding in a better and more substantial manner. Reports were received from the chief of police, F. A. Hagel, from J. M. Curtis, police judge, Bert J. Galley, treasurer, and from C. P. Overmeyer of streets. The police report one arrest of a party for becoming intoxicated and leaving his team standing uncovered in cold weather. The committee on fire recommended that the city purchase one lantern, one expanding machine for repairing broken hose, and 500 feet of new hose. They also recommended that the fire committee be instructed to repair both fire bells in good shape, and that engineers at the waterworks be ordered to blow the fire whistle as near correct as the fire alarm cards call for. The same committee also recommended that notice be given to the manager of North opera house to have put in on the stage, two stand pipes with good faucets to which over a few years ago when the deaf and blind were little less than outcasts in society. The musical department of the school is under the direction of Fred Low, a former Columbus resident, and in the selection given Tuesday evening the pupils showed marked ability and training. Prof. Loeb has been with the school five years.

Following are the high scores for the week ending March 19, on Hagel's alley: W. A. Way 200, 205; D. C. Kavanagh 215, 218; A. Drake 210, 208, 202, 222; P. J. East 208, 205, 208; Bert J. Ladies' high score: Ethel Elliott 175; Mrs. G. B. Spiece 181; Mamie Elliott 165.

Business Changes.
Eleventh street is undergoing a big change this week in transfers of property. Besides THE JOURNAL exchange, mentioned elsewhere, C. S. Easton, Otto Merz and Herman Brodtweber, have all made sales of their property.
Easton sold his grocery and hardware store to W. A. McWilliams of Monroe, who took charge Monday.
Otto Merz sold to Frank A. Keller and Joe J. Lisko, both of Polk county.
Herman Brodtweber sold to John Hinkelmann, the bartender in the M. Abts saloon. The two last named are abate properties and will be in charge of the new proprietors April 11.
District Court.
The following cases have been filed in district court:
Johann Steiner vs. Mary L. and Ferdinand Steiner, wherein the plaintiff asks the court to quiet the title of a farm of 120 acres.
David Newman as administrator of the Frank Merock estate, prays that the court grant him a judgment against Peter and Mary Koslowski for $1,000 and interest. The plaintiff alleges that the defendants wrongfully seized personal property and cash belonging to Frank Merock at the time of his death to the amount of $1,000, and refuse to deliver any part thereof to the plaintiff.
Faller and Johnson have asked the court for the reversal of a judgment rendered in '95 for $625.00 against D. C. Kavanagh and Bernard Stroeman, on which it is alleged nothing has been paid.
Dr. H. J. Arnold has appealed from the county court for judgment, in the sum of $100 for medical and surgical services to the minor son of Peter and Mary Koslowski.
Court is now in session, Judge Hollenbeck hearing a few short cases.

Republican and Democratic City Conventions.
Saturday evening an unusual gathering was held in the council chamber room and the women's hall just adjoining. The republicans of the city occupied one while the democrats held forth in the other.
Many citizens in each party have talked for weeks relative to combining the two parties by nominating the same ticket, thus taking the matter out of politics to a great degree, and avoiding the unpleasant task of canvassing for votes.
In the democratic convention, August Boettcher presided over the deliberations and L. R. Latham acted as secretary. Walter Phillips, Edgar Howard and J. H. Johnson were appointed a committee to confer with the republicans.
In the republican meeting, E. H. Chambers presided, D. N. Newman secretary, and the committee to confer with the democrats was composed of W. M. Cornelius, C. H. Sheldon and I. Glink.
After much consultation and speeches from both parties the following ticket was named, which being the only one in the field is equivalent to an election: Mayor, A. Boettcher; city clerk, Wm. B. Cook; police judge, J. M. Curtis; treasurer, Bert J. Galley; city engineer, R. L. Rositter; councilman, First ward, August Dietrich; Second ward, A. W. Clark; Third ward, C. G. Gray. Members of board of education, Henry Labber, and E. H. Naumann, r.
The city council will now stand equally divided, three republicans, Galley, Sheldon and Gray, and three democrats, Groesen, Dietrich and Clark, with a democratic mayor.

advisable, took her to the Columbus hospital where she will receive proper care and treatment.
Mrs. A. C. Anderson, of Columbus, who has been caring for her sister, Mrs. Fred Stewart, returned home today.
W. H. Eisinger arrived from Los Angeles, Cal., Friday evening and spent the week in town looking after his business.
Mrs. Henry Corbett of Columbus came up Tuesday for a few days visit with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Kuntzleman, of Corralia.
Frank Cowdery of Omaha was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cowdery the first of the week. Mr. Cowdery holds a responsible position with an insurance company at Omaha.

Platte Center.
(From The Signal.)
Work on a Sister's House in connection with St. Anthony's church was begun this week. This means that the building is completed a Sister's school will be conducted in it.
Rev. Father Hincinich, who severely sprained his ankle several weeks ago, has so far recovered that he has discarded the crutches and gets around with the assistance of a cane.
Will and Henry Siema went to Omaha last week and purchased an automobile and arrived home with it Thursday evening. They had it in town Saturday and it attracted much attention. It is an Olds pattern and is considered one of the best machines made for the price.

Monday the Platte County Bank purchased Dr. Pugh's interest in the drug store and took possession of the store. Dr. Pugh's office will remain in the drug store.
A large crowd, mostly relatives and intimate friends, attended on Wednesday the wedding of Edward Arndt and Miss Mathilda Peterson, which occurred at the German Lutheran church near St. Charles. The bride and groom, money, which was performed by Rev. Miesler, of Columbus, the party proceeded to the Peterson home where a traditional dinner was served. The people will go to honeymooning on the home farm of the groom's father, William Arndt, sr.
