Spring litters can be handled to advantage, as they can have the run of grass and clover lots, in addition to being fed, and the corn ration should be very small...

United States Gas Plants

In 1900, according to the census, there were 877 gas plants in the United States and the number was growing. They earned an income of $75,000,000.

Good Udders

Good udders are the exception rather than the rule. There are a good many cows that are kept for both milk production and breeding that have very badly shaped udders...

Testing Seed Oats

Several daily papers have recently printed the following: "A Des Moines (Iowa) wire to a Chicago firm says that a careful canvass of the oat situation reveals the fact that there is going to be a big demand for seed oats..."

Improvement by Draining

Irving C. Smith, in an address before the Wisconsin Fruit Growers, said: "There is land which would be almost useless without drains, and all the way up to the point where drains would seem to be as useless as the wet land without them..."

Feeding Dairy Cattle

Very careful feeding may be observed in many of the dairies of several foreign countries. The owners seem to know how to obtain the maximum product from their cows with the minimum expenditure of forage...

The Creamery Manager

The manager of a creamery holds an important place. He should be a sort of guiding hand in shaping the policy of the company, and he should know every detail of the business. A great deal of tact is often necessary in keeping patrons well pleased and satisfied...

Effect of Mangels on Land

The Journal of the Royal Agricultural Society, London, has given an account of experiments on the continuous growth for 27 years of mangels on the same lands, which form a part of the Rothamsted investigations. After describing the results in detail, the author writes: "That mangels can be grown continuously on the same land without injuring the tilth of the land or the health of the crop..."

Disposing of Apples

At the last meeting of the Illinois State Horticultural Society a good deal was said on the question of disposing of the apples that fall below number one grade. It was suggested that they should be made into cider or sent to the evaporating plant or fed to the hogs—anything rather than have them go on to the market to keep down the price of the number one apples...

HORTICULTURE

White Wyandottes

White Wyandottes are unquestionably the most popular breed of fowls in existence to-day, with Barred Plymouth Rocks a close second. I have no disposition to question the value of the Barred Plymouth Rocks either as show birds or as utility stock...

Covering Strawberries

I believe that strawberries, plants make a considerable growth during winter, that is, unless the ground is covered so deeply with snow that it does not freeze. Another thing that horticulturists have noticed is that if an injury is done to the foliage of a plant, the whole plant is injured...

The Surprise Plum

The best native plum I grow is the Surprise, taking all things into consideration. The tree itself is a very fine grower and makes a very nice shade tree. It makes fairly rapid growth, though there are others that grow a little faster...

Colored Rouen Ducks

Colored Rouen ducks are becoming every year more popular in this country. They are supposed to have had their origin in the city of Rouen in Normandy. At least they must have been raised there before they were exported to this country...
