REPUBLICANS NAME COUNTY TICKET

R. W. HOBART & JOE HENGGLER

Harmony and Enthusiasm for the Ticket Among Republicans—Everybody Satisfied.

The adjourned republican county convention reassembled in the court house last Thursday at 2 o'clock for the nomination of candidates. The convention was called to order by A. G. Rolfe, chairman of the former convention. Frank Wardenman acted as secretary.

The business of the convention was transacted in brief and harmonious fashion, hardly more than an hour being taken up by the proceedings. After the convention was in order, C. J. Garlow moved that they proceed to the nomination of candidates under the order of business, and the nomination of a county attorney being in order Mr. Garlow placed in nomination R. W. Hobart of Columbus. The nomination was seconded by F. M. Cookingham of Humphrey. The rules were suspended and Mr. Hobart was nominated by acclamation. He made a brief address to the convention, which speaks for itself. Mr. Hobart spoke as follows, in part:

I confer the convention for the honor of the county to be in honor to be nominated for office on the republican ticket, although it may be in the face of an adverse majority. I want to urge Republicans to stand by the ticket and work hard for it, and not to be ashamed of their principles. There is a great deal to be proud of in the record of the republican party and the part it has played in the history of the country. In the fifty years of the republican party's existence and administration of the affairs of the nation, the United States has come to be the greatest nation of the world. The record of the party for achievement has been more than maintained by Theodore Roosevelt. He has kept his pledge made at the death of the murdered McKinley Democrats, finding nothing to say against him, have taken refuge in the indefinite, meaningless charge that he is "mad."

To quote the words of the great independent lawyer of Baltimore, Charles J. Bonaparte, Roosevelt is unafraid only to graze and thieves, to the real business interests of the country he is perfectly safe. In our present state government we have a governor who may have his faults, but he has proved that he is a good man and he has given the state a business-like administration. Our state treasurer, Mr. Mortensen, is one of the best treasurers the state has ever had. The old cry that the republican party is under the control of the railroads is a revival of the same charge that was made in 1899 when Reese, who was not a corporation man, was defeated. The republican party has had occasion to regret the acts of some of its officials, but where there have been crimes committed they have been punished. In defaulting state treasurer Bartley, was prosecuted by a republican attorney general and sent to the penitentiary by a republican judge. How does this compare with the record of democratic officials in Plate county who utterly failed to prosecute a defaulting democratic county treasurer? His crime was exactly the same as Bartley's; the only difference was in the amount of money stolen.

In conclusion, I want to urge every republican present to assist his township committee man to roll up a majority for Roosevelt and to elect the republican ticket in Plate county, and put Plate county in line with the rest of the state. For representative, O. C. Shannon nominated Joseph Henggeler of Bismack township. He also was nominated unanimously under suspension of the rules. Mr. Henggeler was not present to accept the nomination in person, but it was known that he would accept it, though he had not sought it. The following delegates were unanimously selected to represent the county at the next representative convention: W. A. McAllister, E. H. Chambers, Henry Rodehorst, O. C. Shannon and David Thomas of Columbus; Harry Lamb of Burrows, Ed Hoare of Lost Creek, Arthur Little of Monroe, Fred Meedel of Loup and B. G. Strother of Monroe. As delegates to the senatorial convention the following were named without contest: Garrett Hales, Hugh Hughes, Carl Kramer, Howard Clark and C. C. Gray of Columbus; J. L. Sharrar and Nels Olson of Creston, Nels Olson of Walker, F. M. Cookingham of Grandville, and Chris Meedel of Butler. C. J. Garlow introduced and spoke in favor of the following resolution, which was adopted: Whereas, a move is on foot to introduce and push to a successful termination at the next session of congress a bill to be known as a "Postal Telephone bill," the object and intention of which is to enact a law providing for the issuance of a special stamp which, when placed upon a letter and sent through the mails, will be authority for the postmaster at the point of destination to open and transmit its contents through the telephone to the party to whom the letter may be addressed; and Whereas, the enactment of such a law would be a great benefit to the country and bring the rural resident into more direct and speedy communication with his correspondents and would increase the revenue of the

ANOTHER ATTEMPT AT JAIL BREAKING

Bars of Jail Window Sawed

Man Charged with Knife Sawing Discovered in Caswell-Ladd Plans to Escape.

Attempt at jail breaking is becoming a habit of with Plate county prisoners. Last Monday, October, the man held on the charge of stealing the horse and buggy from George Winslow's livery barn, secured a saw and succeeded in sawing off all the iron bars on one of the jail windows before his acts were discovered. The work was done during the day while the prisoners were outside their cells. Ed Bomster happened to walk around the court house Monday night just before leaving for supper and noticed the loosened bars. In the meantime, Sheriff Carrig had locked Carter in his cell but did not know anything had worked. He would have freed two other prisoners, Weaver who is held for stabbing Otto Kumpf and the young man held on the charge of entering burglariously the home of Mike Osmen on the night of the fire at Gray's store.

Mr. Henggeler was born on a farm near Dubuque, Ia., June 10, 1857. In the same year his parents moved to Omaha, and in the year following to the present home in Plate county, nine miles northeast of Columbus. Mr. Henggeler received his education in the common schools of Plate county. He was in business in Columbus for 13 years, beginning at the age of 20. Then he returned to the farm where he has since been located. Mr. Henggeler has been a farmer of the scientific kind, a careful student of agriculture and a wide reader. He has never held office of any kind except that of Justice of the Peace. He was a democrat up until the campaign of 1896 when the administration of Cleveland had demonstrated the fallaciousness of free trade and the democratic party strayed after the new craze of free silver. Since that time Mr. Henggeler has been a republican, because he has become convinced that it is to the interest of the farmer as well as the small business dealer to keep in power the party which has provided protection for the weaker industries and has opposed the growth of the monopolies which are now seeking the election of Parker, the Wall street candidate.

CHURCH NOTES

Rev. Luce will take for his subject in the discussion in the Methodist church, "Problems of the Laboring Man".

At the union service held in Frankfort last Sunday afternoon, Rev. J. E. Wrigley of Millard delivered the address. There was a vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. Kravine, and recitations by Misses Hazel Millard and Daisy Benschel.

Rev. E. J. Ular of the Baptist church will take part in the annual meeting of the Loup and Elkhorn Baptist Association which will be held in Albion September 6th to 9th. The delegates from this church will be selected tomorrow evening. Columbus people generally will be rejoiced to know that Rev. G. A. Mero will continue regular preaching services in his church next Sunday. His condition has steadily improved since his operation, and he now feels strong enough to resume his church work. For a time, preaching services will be held only in the morning. Rev. Mero's subject next Sunday morning will be "It is Finished." His pulpit was filled last Sunday by Rev. J. E. Wrigley of Millard, and the congregation was much pleased with Rev. Wrigley's sermon.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL

Miss Becker of Schuyler was a guest of the Misses Snyder over Sunday.

See the announcement of the great Poland China hog sale, on page four of this paper.

Stanley Maly, who has been in Schuyler for some time, returned to Columbus Sunday. John Janing left last week for an extended visit in northern states. He will be gone about four weeks. Miss Lottie Hochberger is back from a week's visit with the family of Dr. T. H. Metz of Humphrey. Miss Williamson of Genoa was the guest of Miss Dollie Snyder Sunday. She was on her way to Canon City, Colorado. Mrs. F. H. Rasche entertained twelve ladies at supper last Friday in honor of Mrs. C. J. Dale who is visiting at her home. The county grading machine is at work on the "meridian road" this week, putting that already excellent road in better condition. Mrs. Wm. Dawson, Mrs. John Peterson, Philip and Louise Echols and Miss Dollie Snyder attended the reunion at Genoa last week. Miss Marion Smith arrived in Columbus today, returning from her summer vacation to resume her work in the Columbus schools as teacher of art. Mrs. M. Whittmeyer and her two daughters Misses Florence and Gertrude went to Genoa today to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Anderson. David Thomas, who spent several days this week looking over his land in Joliet township, says that he has never seen a better prospect for a large crop of corn. Miss Julia Miller of Omaha, who has been visiting Miss Lottie Hochberger, left Saturday for St. Louis where she will visit the exposition before returning to her home. Dr. W. B. Evans of Pittsburg, Pa. has leased in Columbus and will practice his profession as a member of the firm of Drs. Martys, Evans, Evans & Hartzy, Jr. He is a nephew of Dr. C. D. Evans. In Justice Curtis' court this morning, Douglas Wagner was fined five dollars and costs for assault on the person of E. P. Duffy. Mr. Wagner said that he would pay the fine and the case would not be appealed. Mrs. Frank Wurdeman of Bohet will entertain at a house party. Misses Elsie Paul and Lottie Hochberger will go Friday, Mrs. Paul and Miss Arnie Kewenig, Saturday, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clark Sunday. Willie Hochberger entertained fifty young friends last Thursday afternoon at his home. They played hearts and check. Prizes were won by North Evans and Helen Basler. Low cream and cake were served, and they had a dance afterwards. Carl T. McKinnis reports from his home in the Rosebud that he has a team and wagon and feels like a full-fledged farmer. Otto Haehl has died on his land, but has not yet decided what he will do with it. Leo Giesem has passed up his right, not considering it worth the trouble. The Episcopal Sunday school had their picnic yesterday at Stevens Grove. They went on two hay racks, but the first section broke down before the destination was reached and had to return to the city for repairs. In the evening the ladies club went out to the grove and had a dance. Prof. Siles furnished the music. Two cases of scarlet fever have been reported by Dr. Vos to the city authorities. They are the two children of Raymond Hairy, living on West Thirteenth street, a girl seven years old and a boy one year old. The residence was quarantined this morning. The cases have not yet developed sufficiently so that the seriousness of the disease may be told. A boy, sixteen years old, who was working with a hay stack on the farm of Al Basler, north-west of town, one day last week, was struck by the arm of the stacker and knocked from the stack. His hand was painfully cut and he was unconscious for some time, but his injury was pronounced not serious by Dr. Martys, Jr. The accident was caused by the breaking of a rope which pulls up the hay. The Columbus organization of the Catholic Knights of America held their annual picnic last Sunday in the beautiful grove of Joseph Henggeler. About one-hundred people, including the Knights and their families for two meals and enjoyed their evening music and innocent sports helped to make this picnic one of the most enjoyable in the history of the organization. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Henggeler invited in about two hundred young people who enjoyed the occasion with songs and all kinds of games. The ball game Sunday between Columbus and Schuyler resulted in another snap for the home team. The score was 10 to 6. Up to the fourth inning the Columbus boys were unable to find the ball, but after they got next to the twist of the Schuyler man they put him out of the box. Lehr and Jones for the home boys did the usual high grade battery work, striking out eleven men. There was a good crowd, over 500 being taken in at the game. Next Sunday the game will be with David City, and will be one of the finest games of the season. The David City boys are reported to be a star aggregation.
