talk of the possible outcome of the election. Roosevelt is assured of a big vote here and by what we can learn Mr. Hobart will also run well here, and it would be better known up here, he would undoubtedly run better yet. He will surely make a staunch county officer. Saturday evening the republicans met for the purpose of organizing a "Roosevelt club." The following officers being elected. President, S. Eastman; Vice-president, Wm. Dean; Treasurer, S. T. Fleming; Secretary, Chas. Wagner. The weather being very bad few turned out. A Trip to Boston. Bert Galley gives the following account of the trip which he and Sam Gans, Jr. recently made to Boston and other eastern cities: We left Omaha's Grand 13th for Chicago over the Northwestern. From Chicago we went to Niagara Falls, crossing at Detroit in a ferry boat. The stop at the Falls was one hour, which allowed us to see the great cataract. Then we went on the West Shore line to Rotterdam, N. Y. We passed through the famous Hoosack tunnel, which is four and a half miles long, a 15-minute ride. While going through the tunnel all the doors and windows are closed to keep out the smoke as much as possible. Even then the train is filled with the engine smoke before the end of the tunnel is reached.

We reached Boston on Monday, the 15th, and next morning witnessed the great G. A. R. parade of 37,000 old soldiers, marching in column of 12. It took four hours for the procession to pass a given point. There were 140 bands and 60 drum corps in the line of march. Every state in the union was represented, even Alaska. Massachusetts had the largest delegation. There were 100,000 visitors in Boston during the week. Gas Lockner, an old Columbus resident, was on the same car with us and roomed with us in Boston. We visited Boston Commons where is situated the Shaw memorial monument, raised in honor of Col. Robert G. Shaw, colonel of the first colored regiment to enlist in the civil war. This monument is one of the most beautiful pieces of bronze work in the world. The State House is one of the finest buildings in the United States. We saw Old North Church, Old South Church, Brimley Hill, Faneuil Hall, Harvard college, the Peabody museum, and the old three-story building used for Washington's headquarters in the Revolution. The old state house stands in the center of Boston, just as in the Revolution. We visited the Boston public library. On the 18th we left Boston and went by rail to Fall River, Mass., where we took the steamer "Puritan", with wireless telegraphic station on board, and went down Fall River and through Long Island Sound to New York City. There we went partly around the city, passed under Brooklyn bridge, had a good view of the harbor and the statue of Liberty.

From New York we went to Washington, arriving there on the 19th. Sam Gans liked New York best, but I liked Washington with its broad streets and beautiful buildings. We had a letter of introduction to R. W. Hobart's brother, and he took us around the city, and showed us the capitol, white house and other government buildings. We met Frank Fugard, an old-time Columbus man, and Frank North who is a stenographer in the postoffice department. Next we went to Arlington cemetery and Alexandria, Va. We saw the house where Col. Ellsworth was shot and Mount Vernon, Washington's old home. While in Washington we went through the navy yard, heard the marine band play, visited the army and navy museums and the Smithson Institution. Washington seemed like home because of the hospitality of the Nebraskans there.

After Washington, we went back to New York again, and visited Central Park and the zoological gardens. They ran a line of automobiles, starting from the Flat Iron building. The cars carry 40 people and there is a lecturer along to point out and describe the various points of interest. We took a 3-1/2 hours ride through the main streets, Broadway, the Bowery, Wall street, "Chinatown," Italian quarters, past the battery where the big ocean ships land, past Castle Square Garden, the fish market, Brooklyn bridge and Trinity cathedral. The trip costs $1.25. By steamer we went up the Hudson river to West Point, and Albany. We went to Troy, N. Y., thence to Boston again and from there home by way of the World's fair, St. Louis. The fair is a great exhibit; especially the European, Japanese and some of the South American exhibits. On the last afternoon we visited the Anheuser-Busch brewery, one of the largest in the world. It employs 5,000 people and bottles 800,000 bottles a day. Besides turning out 8,000 barrels. They have four of the largest switch engines ever built, in their own yards. We had a fine trip but were glad to get home.

Lovied $21,000 Tax Misch. A careful study of the returns of the election of 1903 proves that the next legislature will be republican in certain by an election day dawn. The abstract of votes tells its own story of the comparative strength of the parties in the various counties and district. Without going into details, it is enough to say that Judge Barnes, pitted against Judge Sullivan, perhaps the strongest member of the opposition force, carried forty-six out of sixty-seven representative districts, almost invariably by majorities which the fusion forces cannot have the faintest hope of being able to overcome. He carried twenty-one out of thirty senatorial districts and of the nine carried by Judge Sullivan fully half were won by majorities of less than 100 and are the best of fighting ground in this campaign. On the other hand, but one or two districts in which the republicans were triumphant were called by margins small enough to make the situation appear at all dangerous. Thus the Barnes vote is far below the republican strength this year will be conceded by any fair-minded and well-posted man, and that Judge Sullivan was far stronger than his party and that his party is stronger than than it is now is also indisputable. In the face of these facts the courageous effort of the fusion leaders to win the legislature by misrepresenting the revenue law is admirable enough, but hopeless.—Newman Grove Herald.

Anti-Jewish Disturbances. Katowitz, Silesia, Sept. 13.—Anti-Jewish disturbances occurred Sunday at the frontier town of Sosonowice, Russian Poland, the occasion of the celebration of the Jewish New Year. Boys stoned the celebratians and injured a child, with the result that a rumor spread that the Jews had killed a child. A number of workmen marched in procession through the streets in the evening, stoning the houses of Jewish houses. Several Jews were injured with knives and stones. The rioters refused to attend them, fearing the mob. The rioters also broke into several Jewish dwellings. The troops of the garrison eventually dispersed the rioters and arrested ten of them.

Jewelry Stolen in Sleeper. Lincoln, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Mark Woods of this city was robbed of $700 worth of jewelry while on a route with her husband from a trip east. Mrs. Woods had placed the jewels in a charms bag, which she planned to her gown before retiring to her berth for the night. In the morning the jewels were missing. Mr. Woods thinks the robbers were after a roll of bills which he had displayed during the early evening while paying the conductor and porter for accommodations on the sleeper. He intends to bring suit against the company.

Business District Wiped Out. Idaho Falls, Ida., Sept. 13.—Fanned by a wind that blew with almost hurricane velocity, fire swept down Broadway, the principal business street, destroying every building for nearly six blocks. The fire department was utterly helpless as the fire burned itself out. The fire was confined to the business district, no residences being destroyed. Among the heavy losers are the Consolidated Wagon and Machine company, $95,000; Goldman Lumber company, $40,000; and O. Wilbur, clothing, $10,000.

Due! With Shotgun. Columbus, Miss., Sept. 14.—In a duel with shotguns near this city Rev. E. M. Younghans shot John Harris in the stomach, and the life of the latter is despaired of. Rev. Younghans received a charge of shot in his side, but is not seriously injured. The cause of the shooting is unknown. Both parties are widely known. Rev. Younghans is detained at the jail in this city.

Suspect Identified as Slayer. Chicago, Sept. 14.—Joseph Briggs, who was arrested on suspicion of being connected with the murder of Harold Peterson, the tobacco dealer, who was killed in his store by robbers, has been positively identified as the man who did the shooting by William Potes, the colored porter, who is lying in the hospital with a bullet through his lungs.

American Court at Colon. Colon, Sept. 14.—Judge Osceola Kyle presided at the first American court in the Panama canal zone. Prosecuting Attorney J. M. Keedy was at his post and G. R. Shanton, captain of police of the canal zone, acted as marshal. The former railway station at Colon has been converted into a court house.
