Canning Factory.

W. A. McAllister, president of the commercial club, has called a meeting of the members of that creanization at s o'clock tomorrow evening in the firemen's hall, to meet Mr. M. B. Miller of Chicago who comes to Columbus representing Hastings Industrial Co., of that city. An invitation is extended to all people of Columbus who are interested in its development to be present at this meeting.

The Hastings Industrial Co., have established canning factories in Pastings. Auburn and St. Paul in this state and in many of the eastern states, where they have done a great work in building up home industries. Mr. Miller's plan is to establish a factory to can fruits and all kinds of vegetables and to have it ready for next year's crop. In order to do this the work of organizing the company and buying land must be begun soon.

Should the factory be built it would mean the employment of from fifty to seventy-five men and the employment an increased demand for farm land and a better market for the products of the farm. There is no soil better suited to the growing of vegetables than the Loup valley and there is no reason why a canning factory should recovered. not be a great success here.

Death of Mrs Rickly.

The death augel entered the home of W. T. Rickly today noon, at 12:30, removing from their midst the spirit of the dearly beloved wife and mother, Mrs. W. T. Rickly. The news of her sudden illness and death comes as a shock to her acquaintances as she was thought to be enjoying fairly good health, although she had for many years been subject to severe nervous headaches. This morning soon after arising she was found unconscious by her daughters, where she had fallen on the floor. From that time to the hour of death she was unconscious with the exception of a few minutes. > A new wholesale grocery store has been organized to start in Omaha, in which one of our Columbus citizens will be a member of the firm. J E. Erskine, who has been a resident of this city for several years, will be a member of the new company, together with Jos. Selfeck traveling for Allen Bros. of Omaha, and Mesers Rappke, Katz and Woodman all of Omaha. The new company have money and business influence with them and their friends who are acquainted with the an encouraging future before them. Mr. Selleck was at one time a resident of Columbus and is a salesman in this district, his family residing in Albion. Mr. Erskine will not leave his present firm, McCord. Brady Co., until the first of January when he may decide to remove to Omaha, although the family may not leave until later in the spring. Mr. Erskine is considered one of the best salesmen on the road in Nebraska, and there is no more popular man in the state than he. His record among salesmen in the United States classed among the best for which he has repeatedly received moval from Columbus will mean a great loss to the Methodist church, as the assistance both he and Mrs. Erskine have given in the choir and numerous other ways have been of untold value to the church, and their
