Blake Maher came down from the Center this noon and is among his numerous friends in our city today.
Judge Ratterman today married George Henderson of St. Edward and Allie Baer of Bellwood at the court house.
Miss Lida McMahon, matron of the Girls' Industrial school at Geneva, who has been in Columbus on a visit to relatives, returned yesterday.
O. E. Hart a prominent hardware man of Grand Island is in the city today. He came in with an automobile from Omaha and will remain until tomorrow.
Henry Gass, Jr., returned last night from St. Paul. Mrs. Gass will remain a few days. They were called to that place by the death of Mrs. Gass' grandmother.
August Wagner, after a good run caught No. 11 east this noon. Don't know where he went but quite likely it was a business trip or he would not have lugged time quite so hard.
"Cash" Jones is home from a trip up the branch. They say "Cash" will leave soon for the balmy climate of the western slope, having lately disposed of much of his real estate here.

Miss Marion Smith went to Lincoln this morning for two days visit. Mrs. Sarah Brindley will also go down this evening.
Frank Larmer, a Fullerton barber was in our city today. After twenty years of living in that city he has caught the western fever and in two weeks leave Nebraska for Portland, Oregon.
A large delegation of Workmen from Columbus will go to Omaha Sunday and Monday to work for the election of Marc G. Perkins to the office of Grand Receiver, for which he is a candidate.
Hester Newburn of Schuyler, age thirteen, was brought to Columbus today for treatment in St. Mary's Hospital. She was brought in a rocking chair in a completely helpless condition. She is afflicted with dropsy.
John Dires, a Fullerton merchant was in Columbus a few hours today. Mr. Dires is one of the leading business men of his town and was returning home from Omaha where he had visited the large wholesale houses there.
In mentioning the name of prominent Chicagoans who visited Columbus yesterday, we omitted mention of John McCarthy, assistant cashier of the Continental National Bank, which carries deposits aggregating 50 or 60 millions.
Chas. Reynolds, clerk of the district court of Warren county, passed a few hours in our city before leaving for Fullerton where he will visit relatives. He is one of the few democrats who succeeded in seeing first base in the election last fall.
The U. P. board of examiners will be in Columbus this afternoon and tomorrow to take the various employers here through a general course of reports. All the railroad boys here seem to be a husky set and the report sent in to the headquarters will no doubt be O. K.
About a dozen friends of Mrs. Amalgia Saffron surprised her yesterday afternoon by dropping in to celebrate with her the sixty-first anniversary of her birthday. They brought her a number of presents as souvenirs of the occasion and the afternoon was spent in a very pleasant manner.
Yesterday Leo, the four year old son of Frank Gerhart, in a fall among some rough timbers ran some large splinters of wood into his leg and a physician had to be called to remove them. It will be several days before he can walk with the injured member.
Mr. and Mrs. H. Hockenberger and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cornelius entertained the Evening Card Club last night at the home of the former. This was the first meeting of the club since the winter season. The prizes were won by Messames Arthur Gray and H. I. Mervick and Judge Sullivan and Mr. A. Anderson.
Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. M. Jenny of Sherman township, to a double wedding on Wednesday, May 17th. Their daughter Anna will wed Mr. Henry Dassenbrock and their son Rudolph will be united to Miss Mary Gigax. The wedding will be at St. Paul's church, Sherman township, and the wedding feast at the Jenny home.
O. A. Kellogg the popular night clerk at the Meridian Hotel quit work today. Mr. Kellogg has held the position for three years and one month and has not missed a night or a call in that time. He is a general favorite in Columbus; every man who meets him becomes his fast friend. The boys on the road as well as the boys in Columbus will regret to see "Dad" Kellogg go. It is hoped his future plans will keep him in Columbus.
This afternoon the team of Chris From, while standing hitched to a dray by the creamery, wandered off to the excavation on the corner where the new bank is to be built. They got so close that one horse slipped down into the hole, pulling the other horse and the wagon along and spilling several cans of milk that were on the dray. They were untangled and got out with no damage to team, harness or wagon.
Saturday's Daily Journal.

Campbell Brothers' street parade today was much larger than it was last year and those who attended the show this afternoon say it is much better, in fact that it is a first class performance that the residents of Columbus should not fail to see.

Rev. Halsey will go to Fullerton today and on Sunday will occupy the pulpit in the Presbyterian church at that place. Rev. Houseman will arrive from Fullerton Saturday evening and preach to the congregation of Rev. Halsey's church.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clayborn, in Lost Creek township is experiencing considerable more than their share of sorrow. A day or two ago the parents buried one of their children and following closely to this loss, another of the children met with a severe accident. Two of the little girls were handling a rifle and the old story that the gun was not loaded, proved another victim and now one of the girls is lying very low with a bullet in her body. A Platte Center doctor was called and the child is getting along very well.

Monday's Daily Journal.

Mrs. Perkins came in from St. Paul this noon and will remain in our city a few days. If suitable quarters can be secured she will remain in Columbus and conduct a boarding house.
Attorney Jim Nichols came down from Madison on the Norfolk branch. He did not say what his mission was but an attorney generally has something in his pocket when he packs his grip and goes somewhere.
Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Robinson of St. Edward, passed through Columbus today enroute to Lincoln where Mr. Robinson will attend a delegate meeting of the state photographers' association which meets there this week.
O. B. Legg of Fullerton is in the city today. Mr. Legg will be the first to open after two years of strenuous drudgery in Fullerton, a place where the citizens can appear their thirst on everything that is generally kept behind a mahogany bar.
The Tenth grade of the Columbus high school has made all necessary arrangements for a big time at McPherson's lake next Saturday. The gathering will be in the nature of an entertainment expressly prepared in honor of the Senior class. A program has been carefully prepared and if the weather permits will eclipse anything yet given at the favorite camping place. Lunch baskets will be jammed to overflowing with toothsome edibles and every game imaginable will be had.

It is seldom that a want ad in a newspaper costing but twenty-five cents brings over twenty-five dollars returns. Well it did just the same and it was a little five line ad in the Journal that did the business. It will be remembered that Miss Collins lost a gold watch a few evenings ago on the streets of our city and quite awhile passed before she thought of advertising for the lost article. A friend advised her to go to the Journal and have a mention made of the loss. The ad cost her 25 cents and now she has her watch. The watch was a gift from her father who lives in Fullerton and the value she places on it cannot be estimated. The finder is to be praised for his honesty.

WESTERN MILLERS ON STAND

Complaint is Made of Rates on Corn Compared With Those on Wheat.

Chicago, May 9.—Complaints made by millers of Missouri river cities against railroad rates on corn products from Missouri river points and southern Texas were the subject of an investigation begun here by the interstate commerce commission. The investigation is made that rates discriminating in favor of the Texas and Louisiana millers. C. A. Davis of Kansas City was the first witness. Mr. Davis stated that at Missouri river points there are twenty-one cereal mills in operation, representing an investment of $25,000,000. He said the mills had been in operation for sixteen years, shipping the manufactured product to Texas and Atlantic coast points. Regarding the rate from Kansas City to Texas on cornmeal, Mr. Davis testified that the freight charge on meal was 2 1/2 cents to the southern part of Texas. The rate on corn to the same points, he said, was 20 1/2 cents. The difference in rate, Mr. Davis declared, thus gave an undue advantage to Texas manufacturers.

Evidence of millers who have lodged complaint against the railroads which they patronize in making shipments to Pacific coast points was heard. These millers, principally located in Nebraska, complain that a 10 cent increase in the rate on corn products over the rate on corn is excessive and shows a discrimination on the part of the railroads in favor of western manufacturers. E. S. Miller of Beatrice, Neb., was the chief witness against the railroads and declared that the millers did not demand so much a reduction in the rate as its equalization.

The railroads gave as their reason for maintaining the present rates that a greater risk is incurred in handling corn products than in carrying the corn, because of the greater liability of damage to the product and loss to the railroads in paying for the damage.

Finkbine Opposes Rate Legislation.
Washington, May 9.—E. P. Bacon of Milwaukee appeared before the senate interstate commerce committee. Mr. Bacon said that persons suffering from excessive rates were, under the Elkins act, prohibited from securing redress. It was impossible for the committee to fix rates in the whole country, he declared, but the commission should be empowered to order just rates charged. In the past five years he said there had been changes in classification resulting in an advance of 21 per cent. Testimony of posing any change in the present condition was given by E. C. Finkbine of Des Moines and several others.

French Army Officers on Trial.
Paris, May 9.—Five persons, including Captains Tamburini and Volpert, were before the police court charged with plotting a conspiracy against the state and having in their possession military equipment and ammunition. Several officers had testified that Captain Tamburini had proposed the seizure of the palace of the Elysee and other public buildings. The accused denied the statement. The uniforms and ammunition the accused claimed, was the foundation of a colonial enterprise.
