 The high school reception last night at the home of Miss Nellie Evans, in honor of the Seniors was a brilliant success. About one hundred students were present. It was to be a lawn party but owing to the rain, tables, chairs and rugs were arranged on the large and spacious porch, where the young people enjoyed the evening in true student manner, singing favorite songs and springing original jokes. Ice cream and sherbet were served.
 The man who was struck by the Union Pacific train yesterday morning is reported this afternoon to be in a dying condition at St. Mary's hospital. He has never regained consciousness. From papers found in his pockets it is thought that his name is not Brown, as he gave it, but Carson. On the day of the accident he had intended to leave Columbus, announcing that he was going to North Bend.
 Mrs. Martyn, Evans, Evans & Martyn Jr., office three doors north of Friedhof's store.

Mme Revillo.

(Tuesday's Daily)
 The song recital by Mme. Caro Revillo which was billed for the opera house last night was given only in part, owing to the fact that the audience which turned out was almost invisible to the naked eye. The manager of the company announced that the audience was not sufficiently large to justify a performance, but that Revillo was unwilling to disband the company and she was given and it was fully worth hearing. Madame Revillo has a fine voice which is perfectly true and no better soprano has ever been heard here. Her accompanist, Miss Gertrude Phillips, was an excellent accompanist and the two soloists played with difficult and exceptionally well rendered.
 It is greatly to be regretted that the extremely hot weather and the lateness of the season prevented a good attendance, for the performance was worthy of the best patronage. Mme. Revillo is yet young and she may be expected to rank high in the vocal part before her career is finished.
 The Tornado Season is now at hand. Insure your property against loss by having Becher, Stockenberger and Chambers write your Tornado Insurance.
