Geo. Scott, Hans Elliott, Albert Rasmussen and D. C. Kavanagh went to Kansas this morning over the Burlington.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Barruss left last night for their future home in Swoa City. In Mr. Barruss' mother has so far improved as to permit his leaving.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Eastman of Croston were in Columbus yesterday on their return from Greeley county where Mrs. Eastman has visited relatives for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Perry went through Columbus today on their way to Schuyler. Mr. Perry is relief agent on the Union Pacific and has been on duty at Fullerton.

Mrs. George Winslow returned today from Stuart, Nebr., where she has been visiting her father for the past two weeks. She was accompanied by her brother Mr. Earl Seafeld.

Word was received here today that a daughter was born on Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Everett at Packard, Iowa, where they are visiting at the home of Mr. Everett's father.

Mrs. Geo. Scott entertained eight girls one day last week in honor of Miss Maude Searles of Chicago. The table was decorated with sweet peas and luncheon was served in four courses.

Prof. W. M. Kern left today for Ellendale, North Dakota to take charge of his work as president of the state manual training school. Mr. Kern leaves hosts of warm friends in Columbus who will leave the lath string out for his return. No school man in Nebraska ranks higher than Mr. Kern and Columbus is fortunate to have held him as long as she did.

Miss Stella Garten of St. Edward came down to Columbus yesterday to meet her cousin, Mrs. H. E. Nelson, who has been on a visit to Missouri. They returned together this afternoon to St. Edward.

Moslam M. D. Karr and Ohas. Daek have issued invitations for an "at home" to be given July 20 at 5:30 in honor of Mrs. Julia Olsen of Omaha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Karr and Mrs. E. Stillians of Clarinda, Iowa.

A Bratt and son Harry of Genoa were in the city this forenoon on their return from Norton, Kansas where Mr. Bratt has made large investments. Mr. Bratt will build a block which Harry will go to superintend in a short time.

Howard Clarke has a new two seated "auto" the "Reo", which he drove up from Omaha last Saturday. The new machine is capable of twenty-two horse power and can strike a clip that makes its passengers sick. It also claims the advantage of being almost noiseless.

Mrs. E. Nonmarker and a number of the members of the Ladies Aid society of the German Evangelical Protestant church will give for the benefit of said society an ice cream social on David Schupbach's lawn on Eleventh street tonight. Everybody cordially invited.

J. F. Siems now boasts two automobiles, one a single seated vehicle which he uses for light work and a two seated machine for the pleasure of his family and friends. Mr. Siems left the first of the week for National City, Cal. where he went to dispose of a valuable fruit ranch of 75 acres. Mr. Siems is one of the men who have through their genius and industry created wealth for Platte county.

F. H. Roszell of St. Edward died at St. Mary's hospital last Friday night of blood poisoning. He was a druggist and had been in the employ of A. D. White. Last week he scratched his hand on some part of Mr. White's soda fountain. Trouble immediately began, and he came to the hospital Thursday night. He grew rapidly worse and died Friday. J. M. Kennedy of St. Edward coming down on the noon train to take him home.

E. H. Chambers has been confined to his home most of the time since his return from Sherman county last Thursday by a stubborn attack of rheumatism. The disease has confined itself to Mr. Chambers' feet and his eyes.

Mrs. Gillette and the Misses Minnie Gerhold and Olga Rasmussen drove to the Gerhold farm fourteen miles south of Columbus last Sunday. Swimming, horseback riding and an abundant supply of sweet and tender spring chickens were among the things that made the day pass pleasantly.

Craig Turner, accompanied by his sisters the Misses Martha, Rena and Frances returned Saturday night from an overland trip to Sherman county where they have been visiting their cousins Carl and Bert McKinnis. While there they also visited the Fred Stenger farm occupied by Mr. Masser. They report crop conditions excellent in Sherman county.

There is only one Chautauqua in the state this year that will be worthy of your attention and that will be the one at Fullerton the site of the famous Lover's Leap. There is where you will get your money's worth and some to spare and if you are looking for a vacation and a place to spend it you should write to the secretary for a copy of their handsome souvenir book giving full details of the program and dates. It is the handsomest thing of the sort ever put out in the west and you should have one whether you are going or not. Their dates are August 11 to 20th inclusive. Excursion rates on all railroads during the time of the meeting. See the big bills for further particulars or write the secretary.

Procrastination is the thief of time. Don't put it off. Have your house insured now. Have your accounts collected before they are outlaw. Call on C. N. McElfresh. wtf.

JUST IN OUR EYES.

We at Times Collect Curious Things Without Looking For Them.

Few people are aware, says Fred W. Saxby in the Strand Magazine, that we are all constantly "collecting" curious things without looking for them.

In the very act of looking up at the fleeting spectacle of a fiery orb the reader with the big, wide open eyes may easily receive in one of his own orbs a tiny sphere from afar that was produced in a glowing streak of light like the one he is admiring.

Meteoric dust is ever falling and upon all parts of our planet. The little spheres have been found upon the decks of ships far out at sea, in all the deserts of the earth and on the tops of snow clad mountains. Dredging brought up from the silent depths of the ocean give testimony of their universal presence. The particles all contain iron and are easily collected by the magnet from the roof of any outhouse or other place exposed directly to the sky.

Sailors are sometimes pelted with dust of quite a different kind, composed of the microscopic flinty skeletons of beautiful plants called "diatoms." These tiny plants live in both salt and fresh water and occur in enormous numbers in some localities. Occasionally water courses and inundated areas dry up, and the flinty shells of the diatoms which grow there are blown about as dust. There are several instances on record of diatomaceous dust falls at sea. During the thickest part of the fall the sailors have experienced much pain in their eyes, the inflammation being caused by the little flinty shells.

SECRETARY SEWARD.

His Influence Upon the Foreign Policy of This Country.

The importance of Secretary Seward's influence in the domestic affairs of the United States during Johnson's administration has probably been exaggerated, but it would be hard to exaggerate the importance of what he achieved and of what he initiated in his own proper field of diplomacy. His chief, occupied as he was with three controversies over other subjects, found, we may well suppose, but little time for foreign relations. He does not appear to have interfered with policies which were already adopted or to have initiated any new policies of his own. Seward must therefore be held responsible to a degree somewhat unusual for the conduct of the delicate negotiations, involving very far reaching consequences, which the war gave rise to. It was he who first presented America to Europe in that attitude of conscious strength which the thorough establishment of our nationality at last enabled us to take. It was he who reasserted effectively, yet without any assistance, our traditional stand in reference to the Latin republics to the south of us. It was he who, facing westward, accomplished an expansion of our system into a region never contemplated until his day by those who guided our destinies and turned our thoughts upon the shores of the Pacific as a field for American trade and American influence. — William Garrott Brown in Atlantic.

THE CRUEL PIANO.

Juvenile Sacrifices That Are Offered Up to the Instrument.

My landlady's little boy, separated from me only by a thin lath partition of a wall, is playing five finger exercises in halting rhythm and with innumerable false notes. The instrument is one in which the flight of years has left a tone like a discontented nutmeg grater.

The little boy, a pale child in a long pinafore and big white ears, hates his chosen instrument as much as I do, and so we meet on a level of mutual affliction. I loathe hearing him, and he hates his instrument; now, in the name of good common sense, why must he be offered up as a sacrifice?

His mother is a poor woman, and the tinkling cottage piano with plaited faded green front represents the chops and many other wholesome things she has not eaten, and what she allows the young lady in the third floor back, who takes her board out in piano lessons, is a serious sacrifice. Now, I ask what for?

Why is all the world playing an unnecessary piano?

Marriage has a fatal effect on music. For some occult reason as soon as a girl is married the piano—the grave of so much money and time retires out of active life and swathed in "tart draperies," burdened by vases, cabinet photographs and imitation "curios" serves less as a musical instrument than a warning. But no sooner are the next generation's legs long enough to pedal between the keyboard and the pedals than the echoes awakened to the same old false notes that serve no purpose unless an hour of daily martyrdom over a tear splashed keyboard is an excellent preparation for the trials of life.—Mrs. John Lane in London Outlook.

African Grosbecks.

The social grosbecks of South Africa live in large societies. They select a tree of considerable size and literally cover it with grass roof, under which their common dwelling is constructed. The roof serves the double purpose of keeping off the heat and the rain, and 400 or 500 pairs of birds are known to have the same shelter. The nests in this aerial dwelling are built in regular streets and closely resemble rows of tenement houses.
