Monarch Preserves and Jams...

In the making of Monarch Preserves and Jams they are guided by the practical experience of years. Their buyers go to districts where climate, soil and temperature combine to grow the finest fruits. Their facilities and equipment are modern and complete. Not a single detail is slighted in the handling of the fruit from the time it is plucked from tree or vine until it is finally packed in the attractive containers, ready to enter the homes of the most exacting. Bear this in mind: Purity is guaranteed. Only the choicest products of orchard, vineyard and garden are admitted to their clean and wholesome kitchens. Pure sugar—and only sugar—is used with these selected fruits. There is not an individual taste that cannot be pleased, for their line includes every variety of popular fruits.

Miss Nell Evans returned Tuesday evening from Estes Park, Col., where she had gone with a camping party of nine from Omaha and Plattsmouth. The party was so congenial and the surrounding so delightful, that they were loath to break camp, and tried to get their families to come and spend the rest of the summer with them. This being impossible they were forced to exchange their delightful, free and ideal summer life in the mountains for the more conventional and uncomfortable home life in Nebraska.

A meeting of the library board was called for last night, but owing to the absence of a number of the members, there was not a quorum present and no definite work could be done. The question of purchasing a New International Encyclopedia was presented and favorably discussed. Judge Reeder has been made a good offer by the company, and the library is anxious to secure a set of these books. Owing to the departure of Prof. Kern there is a vacancy on the board. Several names were mentioned but as yet no appointment has been made. The board adjourned to meet again when more members were in town.

Details of Shoot.

Durward Davies who won a place on the Nebraska team to go to New Jersey joined the company only a month ago, and his father says he never shot a rifle until he shot the militia rifles.
A. C. Boone, who is counted the best shot in the company, it is reported, ranked fourth.

We omitted to mention that Corbett's restaurant gave the militia boys a supper last Saturday night in honor of the victory scored by Davies and Young.
The Kearney Hub gives the following full account of the contest:
Private W. Duffy, Company B, First regiment, of Stanton, made the highest score in the rifle contest of the Nebraska National Guard held at the rifle range southwest of this city last week for the purpose of selecting a team of fifteen marksmen to represent the state at the national shoot to be held at Sea Girt, N. J., the latter part of the month. His score was 216. The next highest man was Private C. Wagner, of the same town and company, whose score was 214.

At Sea Girt the winning team will win a prize of $1500 and the winning individual a prize of $1000.

Violates Game Law

Tom Zornick, the young man who was fined last winter for shooting his neighbor's bull is in trouble again. This time it is because Chief Game Warden Carter and Dan Bray are said to have caught him with fifteen young ducks in his possession.
Zornick, however, gave Mr. Carter a run for his money. After he was seen with the ducks, he was asked by Carter where he lived. He pointed out the wrong house with the hopes of escaping. When they did learn where he lived, they were ordered off the premises by the boy's father and mother. They returned to Columbus and Dan Bray swore out a complaint for his arrest and this morning Sheriff Carrig drove out to arrest Zornick who lives in the extreme western part of the county.

The penalty fixed by law for the offense is not less than $100 no more than $500.
