...MONARCH OLIVES...

No other house in all America has the same splendid organization for selecting and buying olives in Spain as the house that puts up the Monarch Brand. These advantages, combined with their enormous volume of business and the unequalled facilities at their command in Chicago for handling it, puts them in a position to keep their brands at the same unvarying standard of excellence year after year. The workmanship on the bottled goods is particularly worthy of attention. Every package presents an attractive appearance. Even the lowest priced grades are carefully packed, and we welcome every opportunity to compare this line with any olives on the market. Past experience makes us confident that we give a better value than can be procured anywhere else. Note that this line is complete. It embraces every desirable quality, every size of bottle every shape and every style of package that appeals to the customer, and the prices begin at the lowest point at which dependable qualities can be found, and end with quotations consistent with the very highest grades obtainable.

The agricultural bulletin of the principal crop yields of the states and territories on and tributary to the Union Pacific Railroad for the year 1901, just issued by the advertising department of that road is full of interesting information. The bulletin covers seventeen states and territories west of the Missouri river, six of which are in the territory of the Southern Pacific and eleven on the Union Pacific and its auxiliaries. These eleven states only a few years ago were a comparatively unproductive wilderness. Now they are the major portion of the granary of the world. The total average yield and farm value of the seventeen states and territories for the past year were 424,000,000 bushels of wheat, 1,475,074,451 bushels of corn and potatoes and 22,477,070 tons of hay and a total farm value of $207,730,245.—World Herald, April 7, 1902.

In the Journal one day this week was the statement that the boys of Co. E. were given a supper at the restaurant of Corbett & Co. in honor of the winners of the shoot at Keosauqua. Now comes the proprietor of the Hotel Restaurant and claims that the honor was due to his establishment instead of his friendly rival. We are sorry that the mis-statement occurred, but in the hurry and worry of the journalistic career such things do occasionally occur.
The new Principal J. Phillips took a train from a front of pressed brick, but all the other brick to the number of 35,000 are being furnished by the Kerr Nichols Brick Co., of Columbus. This company has just finished the brick for the new Columbus State Bank, and is also furnishing the brick for the new high school gymnasium. The contractors of the gymnasium are using this brick for the facing as well as the inside as they can then be equal to pressed brick.

In the District Court of Platte County, Nebraska.
In the matter of the Estate of George L. Dorr, deceased.
This cause came on for hearing upon the petition of Arthur B. Dorr, administrator of the estate of George L. Dorr, deceased, praying for license to sell the north half of the southeast quarter of section nine, township eighteen north, range three west of the Sixth Principal Meridian in Platte county, Nebraska, or a sufficient amount of the same to bring the sum of $1,500.00 for the payment of the indebtedness against the estate and the costs of administration, there not being sufficient personal property to pay the said debts and expenses. It is therefore ordered that the persons interested in said estate appear before me, or some other judge of said court, at the court house in the city of Columbus in the said county, on the 7th day of September, 1902, at one o'clock p. m., to show cause why license should not be granted to said administrator to sell so much of the above described real estate of said deceased as shall be necessary to pay said debts and expenses.
It is further ordered that a copy hereof be published in the Columbus Journal, a weekly newspaper printed and published in said county, four successive weeks prior to September 1st, 1902.
Dated July 24, 1902.
James G. Reeder,
Judge of Sixth Judicial District of Nebraska.
