The Boone County Fair.

Albion is one of the few counties in the state which keeps up the old-fashioned way. The big pumpkins, the fat pigs, the sleek horses, crocheted lace, pieced bed quilts, pop corn, beautiful boys and girls etc., etc., are all a part of the county fair in Albion this year, just the same as it was at their first annual fair, which happened nineteen years ago, only all are on a larger scale.

After all, what is more enjoyable than a good county fair. And Boone county appreciates the benefits as well as pleasures, derived from a fair.

Among the Columbus people who visited the fair last week, which was held from Tuesday to Friday, were: Wm Swartsley, J. E. Fullmer, P. J. McCaffrey, George Scott, James Nevels, Mrs. Mabel Nevels, John Dawson, Fred Drumm and Luther North.

Lute North was interested in the horse races, and acted in the capacity as starter of the races. He also had a race horse run in the 2:30 class.

Wm Swartsley acted as judge in the poultry exhibit, and had a number of birds on exhibit including Polish, Bantams, Andalusians and also geese.

Mr. Fullmer and P. J. McCaffrey also exhibited, the former carrying off all the best prizes possible in his class, which was 1st on fowls and first on the chicks of the Rhode Island Red. Mr. McCaffrey won 1st on White Rock chicks.

The exhibitors from Columbus were enthusiastic in praise of the accommodations and treatment they received from the Albion people.

Thursday was the big day, 12,000 people passing through the gates, making almost a continual stream of people coming and going, all day. One of the remarkable features about the fair is the enclosure about the grounds. Only two rows of barbed wire fence is stretched to keep the crowd out, or rather to remind them that they should pay to get in. The authorities claim they have no trouble from fence sneaks.

This week, beginning Tuesday and continuing until Friday evening, Madison county will have a fair at Madison, when excursion rates from Columbus will be given all those who wish to attend. The freight leaves Columbus at 7:45 a. m. and will leave Madison to return in the evening at 5:30 p. m. Wm Swartsley, J. E. Fullmer and P. J. McCaffrey will each exhibit fowls at the chicken exhibit.

Presbyterian Church Improvement.

The building committee of the Presbyterian church met Friday evening and let the contract for the carpenter work in repairing the church, to Jas. Pezarrall. A new tower will be built, a large window put in the south of the building, a furnace, fresh paint and paper will add much to the comfort and appearance of the edifice. About $2,000 will be expended on the repairs.

Good Indians.

This is the way a Belgrade correspondent to the Fullerton Post expresses his feelings: Messrs. Sisson, Miller and Mallory, the three star base ball men of the Belgrade team returned Monday from Columbus, where they have been helping that crippled aggregation (the Columbus club) defeat the Fullerton boys in a series of three games. Of course a scalp dance was in order.

Kersenbrock-Cockson.

The marriage of Miss Emma Rosalia Kersenbrock daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kersenbrock, to Mr. Charles Cockson, occurred Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in the Catholic church, Father Theobald officiating. Miss Ella Kersenbrock, sister of the bride, and Mr. Harold Cockson, brother of the groom, attended the couple during the ceremony.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white shot voile over white silk, with veil, and carried a white prayer book. The bridesmaid also wore white. Sister Agnes presided at the organ during the ceremony.

After the ceremony, the mother of the bride served a breakfast to the guests, and also a six o'clock dinner, before the departure of the bride and groom for their home four miles south of town.

Mr. Cockson is one of the prominent young farmers of the community, owner of the Island Grove farm, a beautiful home recently repaired and furnished to receive the new bride. Mrs. Cockson is a Columbus girl, having lived in this city all her life. She is a charming young lady with many accomplishments and makes friends where ever she is known.

Gass-Higgins.

Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in south Schuyler occurred one of the prettiest weddings of the season when Father McCarthy performed the ceremony that made Mr. Samuel Gass and Miss Winifred Higgins husband and wife. The house was prettily decorated with ferns, palms and flowers. Four charming young ladies, Misses Florence Prun, Rose Gass, Lulu Williams and Nan Higgins, dressed in pure white acted as ribbon bearers and formed an aisle with ribbon canopy, under which the bride and groom passed followed by Miss Katherine Farrell, the ring bearer. Miss Vera Dickinson played the wedding march. The bride wore a beautiful gown of pearl gray Sappho silk over taffeta and carried a bouquet of brides roses. After the ceremony the guests were served with a delicious three course luncheon after which the bride threw away the bouquet. It was caught by Miss Nan Higgins. They received many beautiful presents. The bride and groom left for Denver on the evening train. They will be at home in Columbus after November 1st. A number of their friends were at the station to see them off and throw rice. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. P. M. Higgins, a native of Colfax county and one of the most popular young ladies in Schuyler. The groom is one of the most enterprising business men in Columbus. He is engaged in the furniture and undertaking business there and is an excellent young man. The out of town guests who attended the wedding were Mr. Sam Gass, Henry Gass, Mrs. Henry Gass, Mr. August Merz, Miss Anna Gass and Miss Rose Gass of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pollard of Silver Creek.

Schuyler Quill.

Week of Sport.

Last Saturday the fast Belgrade ball team came down to our city loaded to the muzzle with fast men and undertook to take a game from the locals, but "not yet."

The famous Indian Mallory pitched for the visitors, but this fact did not win them anything as our boys gave him his bumps proper and won out by a score of 6 to 1. It should have been a clean shut-out.

Captain Lohr was on the slab for the locals and while he was touched up in an inning or two, he kept the visitors safely on his staff and led his players to easy victory.

A good crowd was present and, although the score was small, yet the game at times was lifeless and lacked ginger. No important features occurred during the play unless it was the coaching of Judge Curtis and two "fair ones" in the grand stand. Umpire, Mahaffey.

Tomorrow the locals go to Madison to play at the fair for a purse of $75. This game is expected to be a fast one and that purse looks good to Manager Corbett and the rest of the crew.

Friday the Omaha league team will play here and this will sure be the big one of the season. The locals will be strengthened by several league players and there will be no snaps tucked away on the field for either side. After we clean up the Omahas, the boys go next day to Belgrade for a game. So you see our boys have their hands full this week, and great things are expected of the whole bunch.

Center fielder Spencer arrived last night and will join the Columbus club for the balance of the season. He just finished his engagement with the St. Joe western league.

Jack Corbett and our new outfielder Spencer, went up the branch to Belgrade yesterday morning where they will assist the ball team at that place in defeating some unsuspecting club from a near by town.

Remember the date of Miss Kelson's Fall Millinery Opening is September 28 and 29.

Ladies' Watches.

Watches to suit the fair sex must do double duty—that of ornament and that of correct time-keeping. Our watches are based on the latter essential—first the works must be reliable. After that the goldsmith may employ his arts to his full desire in making the case or the chatelaine pin as ornate or as severely plain as he wishes.

That's Why our Watches are Guaranteed Time-Keepers.

Miss Sarah Perkinson of Platte Center was in town last week on her way to her homestead in Oklahoma, where she goes semi-annually to sleep the required number of nights on the claim. Her brother, Joe Perkinson of Millford, who has a homestead adjoining hers, accompanies her on the trip. Their nearest rail road station is Higgins Texas.

The Rogers correspondent to the Schuyler Quill says: M. J. Costello, section foreman at this place, received orders Monday afternoon from head quarters to report at Ogden, Utah, as soon as he could get there. The purpose of his going will be for him to act as a witness in a suit brought by a cattle shipper who had several cars of cattle held on account of the washout several miles west of here last year. The shipper claims that the company could have passed his stock on considerable sooner than they did and by their being held lost his money.

The Fremont Tribune recently contained the following: "L. D. Richards of Fremont, acting in behalf of the Fremont General Power Co., has filed application with the State Board of Irrigation for a water right for a power plant near Fremont. His plan calls for an appropriation of 2,000 cubic feet per second, taken from the Platte river four miles southwest of Schuyler, carried in a race twenty-six miles, following along near the Northwestern right-of-way, to the location of the power plant at the mouth of Elm creek, two miles south of Fremont. The head of water obtained is named as 125 feet and 42,000 horse-power will be developed. The cost of the dam is named in the application as $125,000, is to cost $235,000, the machinery $700,000 the buildings $100,000 more making the total plant worth $3,250,000. L. D. Richards is named as sole owner of the proposed plant. The application has to be passed upon and the tract in question examined before its approval, the matter taking a month or two for final settlement."

Lives 30 Days in Cornfield

Sheriff Davis of Nance county, arrived in Columbus Friday with a young man twenty years old named Wil Carpenter who is demented and was taken to Norfolk and placed in the asylum.

The unfortunate fellow resides near Belgrade and for a time had acted wrong when, about four weeks ago left home and but a few times during that period was he seen. His occasional appearance aroused the community and when the authorities were notified and search began, the man was found hid in a cornfield. He had provided himself with an improvised shelter, and had during the thirty days absence from home, subsisted entirely on what the cornfield afforded. County Superintendent Wood Smith, of Nance county accompanied the sheriff and prisoner on their trip to Norfolk, and in speaking to a Journal reporter, said the man was formerly a pupil in his school when teaching in Belgrade and was an unusual bright scholar.

The demented man at times become racing and being strong physically is a dangerous man.

Society Circles.

Mrs. Charles Platz entertained at a linen shower for Miss Kramer, last Friday afternoon. It was one of those delightfully informal affairs, only ten of the club girls being present. After admiring all the beautiful pieces of linen which the young ladies had brought, the guests, seated around one table, were served a three course luncheon. Mrs. Platz had painted dainty little place cards for the occasion.

On Saturday Miss Metta Hensley entertained at a Kensington for Miss Kramer. Twenty two young ladies were present. The house was artistically decorated in yellow. A dainty two course luncheon was served, and just as the guests were ready to rise a messenger arrived with a package for "Miss Vera Kramer." As it was elaborately done up in many wrappings Miss Kramer declared it was some joke and hesitated at opening it. But when all the wrappings were removed, she held a beautiful silver coffee brewer, the gift of the ladies present. Miss Kramer was beautifully gowned in a black lace costume.

The next party for Miss Kramer was the miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Frank Stevenson and Miss Stevenson at their home Monday afternoon. Here also the color scheme was yellow. In one corner of the back parlor, a wedding bell, white outside, with yellow lining was suspended with yellow ribbons. Around the edge were fastened many streamers of narrow yellow and white ribbons, the end of each attached to a gift and all piled into the bell which was held up. Miss Kramer was asked to sit under the bell, when little Madeline Stevenson pulled the ribbons and all the packages came showering down. Miss Kramer then opened each parcel, and they were passed around amid many "ahs" and "ohs" and "How sweet." The gifts were served dainty refreshments in the dining room.

Mrs. J. R. Carter Deard

Mrs. Carter, wife of J. R. Carter, died Thursday at her home in east Columbus after about six weeks illness. Not until the last two days was she considered to be in a serious condition, and the announcement of her death came as a shock to her acquaintances. This is the case in which Cronin sued Tompson for the overflow of water from a mill dam, the matter being left to arbitrators, and now Cronin claims that the arbitrators had been tampered with and asks the court to set aside their report, which was to allow Cronin $200 damages.

School News.

On account of diphtheria in the home of Prof. Sherman he decided to have telephones placed in each school building in the city so that he can communicate with the teachers without calling in person at the buildings, as many people are fearful of the spreading of the disease. Each ward was provided Monday with an independent telephone and Prof. Sherman will make his headquarters in Clougher hotel. Although the precaution is necessary, Mr. Sherman is anxious that the disease will not spread through any fault of his.

The Columbus High school foot ball boys will go to North Bend Saturday to play a game.

Last Saturday the first foot ball game of the season was played in Columbus between our city and the York High school boys. The game was interesting from first to last and no score was made by either side. Myron Gray by some swift running at one time kept the York boys from making a score and through good tackle work on our side, the Columbus boys held their position. The York boys were heavier, and had other advantages in their favor. In the evening after the game, the two foot ball teams were entertained by the basket ball girls at the home of Miss Susie Roen. The evening was passed in singing popular and college songs, after which refreshments were served. The rooms had been neatly decorated with the High school colors among them being the handsome satin banner of the high school.

The following taken from the Omaha Bee sent by the Schuyler correspondent will be of interest to Columbus young people: "The contestants in the potato raising contest started by Prof. Sherman last spring, brought their samples of the crop into town today and the judges inspected them and awarded the prizes. The prizes were not awarded upon the crop alone, but the board inspected the fields before the crop matured and graded them according to the way they were kept up and the general appearance. After inspecting the samples of the crops submitted, the judges awarded the first prize of $10 to Miss Anna Stienberger and the second prize of $5 to Miss Mattie Van Housen. County Clerk Mapes and Councilman Chaplin were the judges. The judges say the girls kept up their fields much better than the boys and as a whole their grades exceeded the boys by a good margin."
