

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in 4-ounce packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 ozs." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.

We have never yet seen a pretty girl with a swell figure who didn't try to find out if she was being rubbed at.

What's in McClure's.
The October McClure's is devoted peculiarly to American life and activities. Not a story in it, nor a special article, but concerns the real and immediate things that move this country at large. Pastor Charles Wagner, the French clergyman-author of "The Simple Life," writes of his visit at the White House, and with simple directness tells of the children and the household life of the president as he saw them. He writes an interesting and important estimate of President Roosevelt as a man. "What Kansas Did to Standard Oil" concludes Miss Tarbell's story of the oil war in Kansas, and tells excitingly of how the Kansans rushed in and won. "Pioneer Transportation in America" is the truthful romance of traffic, an absorbingly interesting story full of curious information. In this first paper Charles F. Lummis, foremost authority on the subject, carries traffic through America's heroic age up to the beginnings of the great days on the plains.

Every time a man cheats the devil he knows in his heart that sooner or later the devil will get even.

If you allow your wife to have the last word the row will soon end.

Thomas John Barnardo
FRIEND OF THE WAIFS

N LONDON there has just died a man known to philanthropists and those people of reason whose gospel is the gospel of works as "The Father of Nobody's Children." With the passing of his lamp of life, the founder who was director of philanthropic institutions by which nearly sixty thousand orphan waifs have been rescued, trained and enabled to give good account of themselves in life, ended his stewardship and entered into eternal rest. Because this man has lived, useful citizens have been raked out of the gutters and slums of London, and many of the theories concerning original sin and total depravity have been severely punctured. His name—Thomas John Barnardo—is graven upon the hearts of thousands, uplifted because he lived and worked, and the world has been bettered because of him and his efforts.

Born in Ireland in 1845, Thomas John Barnardo was of Spanish descent. A Protestant and nonconformist, his education was obtained in private schools, and at an age when the sons of well-to-do fathers begin to form in their own minds ideas as to their future, he decided to become a missionary. It was his ultimate intention to spend his life in China, and, desiring to equip himself the better for work abroad, he went to London, where he began the study of medicine and upon the receipt of his degree continued his studies in the hospitals of London, Edinburgh and Paris. It was during his student days at the London hospital in Whitechapel road that he determined upon his career. How well he fulfilled his mission is now written in the history of the world's good deeds.

His first term in the London hospital was in that gloomy, eventful and ominous year 1866, a period of political agitation, commercial disturbance—it was in May that the stoppage of the great discount establishment of Overend & Gurney produced such consternation—and an outbreak of cholera, due to impurities in the water supply. Neither the political situation nor the commercial depression engrossed young Barnardo. He gave evidence this early of the philanthropic stuff within him, and although comparatively inexperienced, volunteered for the cholera service. He was gladly accepted, and his services were few. Of his personal security he seemed never to think and made a house to house visitation of the East End poor, others refusing the service on the ground that it would be going into the jaws of death.

When the scourge was over Dr. Barnardo went back to the hospital and dissecting room. His work in the poor quarters had given him a new view of life, however, and he made up his mind that it was his duty to contribute something toward helping those who appeared unable to help themselves. As a beginning he established a Ragged School in the very center of squalid Stepney, to which he devoted two nights each week and all of Sunday. Of this work he said some time before his death:

emigration on a large scale. Close upon 60,000 children have been rescued from the streets. These have been educated and trained and placed out in life. Everybody knows the characteristic features that make our work unique. Most orphanages and institutions have certain rules for the admission of candidates. Ours is only that a child must be destitute. We search for them; we don't wait for them to come to us. We have a varying number of expert men and women along at work searching the common lodging houses, the streets and lanes of squalid parts of the great cities of England, and in most of the towns we have places where the doors are always open, our idea being that in every great center of population there should be a door open at which the feeblest little knock or cry of a wail can be heard. None ever refused if destitute; it does not matter what creed, sex, age, country, language or what physical condition. They come to me deaf, dumb, blind, crippled, maimed for life, with their features horribly distorted, at times often with the hand of death upon them, so that I know they can be with us but a short time. Our doors are never closed against any little children.

"The question of money never enters, I mean to say that we accept a child whether there is any money at hand or not. I receive children when I have not a penny at hand. Funds or no funds, about eight cases are admitted every twenty-four hours, and I always have about 5,000 children under my care. And my boys and girls have done well in the world, too. Some of my girls have married persons of very superior rank of life. I have boys who are clergymen, nonconformist ministers, lawyers, doctors. One has reached parliament. The rank and file of my boys are mechanics and laborers. Of carpenters, blacksmiths, printers, matmakers, tinmiths and other trades I have an immense number. And would you believe it, less than 3 per cent of all the boys and girls of mine have gone to the bad?"

A Christian whose Christianity was not of the ready made sort was Dr. Barnardo. He called himself "An humble servant of the Lord," and he practiced all his preaching.

The great work of Dr. Barnardo, now known wherever men of benevolence and charity aid their fellows, did not develop without trials and tribulations. A Protestant Irishman, a nonconformist, he was at the first denounced by the Church of Rome and the Church of England. He appeared many times as a defendant in the courts and so-called Christian societies fought him until finally he was obliged to enter a suit for libel in order to vindicate himself and keep his work from failure. This cost him $40,000 and much anguish of spirit, but it won the day, for it brought to his aid the chief justice of England, who helped him with money and influence. Now that he is gone, Catholics, Protestants, men and women of all sects, are offering tributes to his memory, and Queen Alexandra herself, a patron of his society, is evincing a deep personal interest in its affairs.

To-day in Canada and the United States there are twenty thousand men and women, industrious, law-abiding, God-fearing. They are graduates of the schools which Dr. Barnardo founded and watched over with unceasing vigil, patient care and undiminished sympathy. And they know, better than others can, that the world is poorer because out of it has been taken "the father of nobody's children."

Recovering Lost Treasure.
It was but a few years ago that a ship with $250,000 in gold was sunk not far from Shanghai and that divers were sent to the spot to recover the treasure. The ship lay at the depth of 160 feet, making it a work of extreme difficulty and hazard, but day after day the divers labored, taking up box after box through which the seaworms had already bored their tiny holes, until four-fifths of the gold was recovered. Then, one day, a fleet of pirate junks bore down upon them and it was only by the exertion of the most tremendous efforts that the party escaped with what they had already recovered. And afterward they returned and completed the job and took out the very last box of gold! Truly, the age of romance is still with us.—Technical World.

Pearl Fishing in the United States.
Pearl fishing in the United States has been carried on in many states, including Kentucky, Tennessee, Texas, Wisconsin, Illinois, Arkansas, Missouri, Georgia and Kansas. One pearl from a freshwater mussel was sold for $1,500, while a round pink pearl from Tennessee brought $650. One of the finest pearls ever collected in the United States was the "Queen." It had a beautiful luster and weighed ninety-three grains. It was found near Paterson, N. J., in 1857, and was sold to the Empress Eugenie for $2,500. To-day it is probably worth $12,000.—Randolph I. Geare, in the Scientific American.

Fasting to Reduce Weight.
Alderman Moritz C. Wuerz of Kansas City started on a three weeks' fast with the view of reducing his weight. Before beginning his ordeal he tipped the beam at 250 pounds and he is determined to reduce this by at least 100.

American Women in London Society.
American women are much to the fore just now in the social life of London. Mrs. Mackay, who has come to be known as "the silver queen," is among the best-known and most popular hostesses; Mrs. Chauncey is young, rich and beautiful; Mrs. Adair is coming in for a good deal of attention and Lady Naylor-Leland has been entertaining English and foreign royalty at Hyde Park house.

Tiny Elephant is Dined.
"Jumbo Junior," a tiny elephant that is now the pet of London, was "dined" by "some fair Americans" at a restaurant and afterwards "entertained the company with favorite airs on the mouth organ."

Some grocers say they don't keep Defiance Starch. This is because they have a stock on hand of other brands which they won't be able to sell first, because Defiance contains 16 oz. for the same money.

Do you want 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. for the same money? Then buy Defiance Starch. Requires no cooking.

The real Nemesis calls itself by the name of "What-I-Might-Have-Done."

Why It is the Best is because made by an entirely different process. Defiance Starch is unlike any other, better and one-third more for 10 cents.
