C. A. SPEER.

Bowman Browder, an old settler of Albion drove to Columbus last Friday to catch an Omaha train in response to a telegram announcing the death of his wife in an Omaha hospital. She had submitted to an operation for gall stones.

Con Eagan died last Friday of paralysis at his home in St. Edward. Mr. Eagan was associated with James Nevels for many years in the saloon business at Albion and St. Edward. His health had been poor for several years, forcing him to retire from business. His sons John and Francis of Ravenna passed through Columbus Thursday night to be at their father's bedside.

Mrs. Mary Manly, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Thos. McTaggart and her two little sons returned to Chicago last Thursday after a two months visit in Columbus. This was the first time in twenty-six years that Mrs. McTaggart has been away from home. She expects to be gone several weeks if Tom doesn't get lonesome and write for her.

The funeral of the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Askin was held yesterday morning at the family residence, 112 North Twenty-second street. The boy died Sunday night of diphtheria. Another child of the same family died last Friday, and Mr. Askin is now ill with the same disease.—State Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. Askin lived in Columbus many years, leaving here for Lincoln about a year ago. Mr. Askin was a vegetable gardener here.

A Journal reporter had the pleasure of passing a most delightful hour recently in the company of Albert Stenger, who returned last week from France, and August Boettcher, who returned a few weeks ago from an extensive European trip. These gentlemen exchanged their views on the social and economic conditions in the European countries visited by them on a compared conditions in those countries with conditions in America. Mr. Stenger among other interesting things said: "One thing which impressed me in Germany was the high cost of living. Germany's dependence on the outside world for its living." To illustrate his assertion Mr. Stenger produced the following markets which prevailed in Colmar, Alsace, Germany's soup meat, 18 to 22; veal, 24 to 25; pork, 24 to 25; roast, 30 to 35; beef steak, 40 to 45; leaf lard, 25; smoked ham, 35 to 40. Mr. Stenger's time, was spent chiefly in Paris, Nancy, Strasbourg, Colmar, Berns, Neuchatel, Lausanne, and Lucerne. He climbed the famous Rigi and attended the horse races there. He left New York on August 10, and returned to that city on September 30. The trip for him and his family was one of continued pleasure. His daughters, Katie and Celis remained in Nancy to attend a school for girls, Alfred and Madeline returned with their parents. Tillie Stenger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stenger, remained in Lucerne, Switzerland to attend school. Mr. Stenger, who speaks French and German fluently was educated in the school of Alsace and desires to have his children in the same schools. August Boettcher, the story of whose travels has appeared at length in the Journal, made the following observations on conditions in Germany: "I heard complaints everywhere about the scarcity of farm laborers. The boys all go to the cities. And young men do not enjoy the opportunities they have here. Another thing which impresses American visitors is the position occupied by the women. The women do much of the hard manual labor. The men have to serve in the army, and of course the work in the fields must be done by somebody."

Henry W. Savage has arranged to send his famous musical comedy, "The Prince of Pilsen to the North Opera house, Thursday, October 19. This will provide two greatest musical events this community has ever enjoyed and Manager B. W. Saley in sponsoring Col. Savage a saying house deserves the encouragement of every theater goer. The company comprises about 75 people and two cars of scenery and equipment will be used. The only other towns it will play in Nebraska are Omaha and Lincoln.

Last Friday morning out in school district 20, where Miss Mary Lee teaches, a good deal of consternation was stirred up just before nine o'clock by the appearance of a man who claimed he was going to whip the whole school including the teacher. Miss Lane immediately shut and locked the door and sent two boys to the directors home for assistance. The fellow left however, and for fear he might return, school was dismissed for the day and also Monday. Sheriff Clark went out Monday and brought him to town and placed him in the county jail for safe keeping. His name is William Maeka and some of his neighbors say that he has acted strangely for a long time. There is but little doubt that the man is insane.—Albion Argus.

The following from a Cheyenne paper will interest Columbus. A quiet wedding occurred at the parsonage of St. Mary's cathedral last evening, Miss Ruby Ali e Smith becoming the bride of Mr. Elmer O. Anderson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Duffey and was witnessed by relatives and a few friends only. Miss Gertrude Glynn of Omaha, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. A. J. Miller accompanied the groom. Following the ceremony a delicious supper was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Smith. The bride is a handsome, accomplished and popular young woman who has resided in this city for several years and whose large circle of friends will hasten to extend congratulations to Mr. Anderson. Mr. Anderson is one of the well known young men of the city and is employed by the Union Pacific in the clerical department. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will be at home after October 10 at 1911 Van Lennan street. Miss Ruby Smith was born in Columbus 19 years ago and moved to Cheyenne, Wyo., with her parents 9 years ago, where she has made many friends.
