The First National Bank

(From the files of Journal June 21, 1871) J. P. Becker's first kiln of brick for this season are ready for handling.

The business men of Columbus are desirous of having a road opened from Warrens place on the Columbus and Yankton road, in a northwesterly direction up a branch of Shell Creek to the settlements at the mouth of Cedar on the Elkhorn. Many of the settlers desire to make Columbus their business point.

James North tells us that on his last trip up the Loup he went fifteen miles further than he had ever gone before, and found a ledge of very valuable limestone rock. The ledge, which is stratified rock, is about fifteen miles from the North settlement, and is from ten to forty feet thick as it faces the street.

Prince of Pilsen.

Lee Jenkins returned Monday after a visit of eight months on the ranch of his cousin Carl and Bert McKinnis, four miles from Loup City.

John Munson of Genoa was in the city on business Monday.

The production of the "Prince of Pilsen" was a splendid success at the North Opera house, last Thursday night. There were sixty-five in the company and when they were all on the stage, chorists, girls, dancers, soldiers, coquettes, all the scene was a dazzling display of beauty, elegant costumes, smiles, wit, everything to make one forget to be blue.

The singing of the beautiful songs of "Message of the Violet," and the "Tale of the Sea Shell," were especially well rendered and called for repeated encores, as did also the Heidelberg and Stein songs by the college boys and the catchy airs of the punch maid.

Manager Saly is to be congratulated on having secured this treat for his Columbus audience. There seems to be a popular demand for comic opera, and the less tragic plays, and in securing this attraction he has touched the public pulse. It was gratifying to notice the number of out of town parties who came in for the occasion. This is as it should be. Columbus might easily become a rival of Omaha as a theatre town. The business men would profit by the out of town trade by helping build up the theatre business of Columbus.

Ryba-Storz.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Catholic church Sunday morning at 9:30 a. m., when Mr. John Storz and Miss Anna Ryba, both of this city, were united in marriage. A large number of friends and relatives were present at the ceremony, directly after which the guests accompanied the young couple to the home of the bride where an elaborate spread awaited them. In the evening the festivities ended with a social dance and more than one danced, drank and ate to the good wishes of the newly married couple. The contracting parties have lived in our city many years and are deserving of every congratulation extended.

That $454.15 Warrant.

The taxpayers of Platte county are paying 7 per cent interest on Sheriff Carrig's warrant for $454.15. This is the same warrant that Supervisor Kiernan at first refused to sign. The bill is itemized as follows:

Copies of notices, $78.00
Service and return, $141.50
Mileage, $234.65

An examination of the records in Assessor Galley's hands shows the return of 262 notices. The law allows 25c each for copies and 50c for service and 10c a mile mileage. Take your pencil and figure this out. Mr. Carrig either made a "clerical error" in figuring up his charges for "copies" and service or some of the returned notices have been lost from Mr. Galley's records.

At any rate it is evident that the bill in question was not checked up with the records. And as for mileage, Sheriff Carrig must have traveled 4,693 miles to have collected legally the amount specified, an absurd proposition on its face.

Taxpayers, draw your own conclusions. The Journal merely states the facts.

WHY?

Why do the democratic papers of Platte county and Argus, a subsidized independent paper, fill their columns with personal attacks on the editor of the Journal instead of attempting to deny the statements of fact made by the Journal concerning the official record of Platte county officials?

They say the Journal is engaged in "dirty work," in "personal attacks" on good men. The Journal has not given a line to an attack on any man in his capacity as a citizen but we admit that we have made charges against these men in their capacity as public officials and those charges are supported by the public records and have not been and cannot be denied.

If it is "dirty work" to criticize a democratic official for an official act why did the Telegram refer to Frank Kiernan and John Goetz democrats as "political shysters" because of their part in trying to force Ernst and Bender to pay back to the county $526?

Why have the democratic papers of Platte county left it for the Journal to give credit for honest and efficient performance of duty by August Boethner, John Goetz, Frank Kiernan and Diederich Becher, all democrats? What paper has been alone in criticizing an official act of John Swanson republican? The Journal alone.

If Stires and Webb are elected, the Humphrey Democrat and the Columbus Telegram will have the publication to every notice that the patrons request published in those papers. And yet they charge that the Journals motives in defeating the democratic candidates is to get all the legal notices. They are afraid of a "square deal."

If the course of the democratic papers has been so honest, why did the democratic committee deem it necessary to buy up the Platte County Argus, an independent paper, to help it win in this campaign.

The republican central committee concedes that the Argus has gone democratic.

When the democratic committee needs another paper to deceive the taxpayers, Ernst and Bender can put in an extra bill and the taxpayers pay the freight the next year in higher taxes.

"We predict that the attempt of the Journal to make spots on the record of a good man will serve only to increase Mr. Leavy's popularity with the people."—Telegram.

The Telegram "predicted" that Roosevelt would not carry Platte county last fall.

The democratic committee allowed the Journals charges against Sheriff Carrig and Judge Ratterman and John Graf to stand unanswered for two weeks and then fell all over themselves to deny the charges against Leavy before the ink was dry, thus admitting the truth of charges against the other fellows, but hoping to discredit those charges by proving false the charges against Leavy. Where the democratic committee erred was in taking Leavy's word for it. Had the committee come to us we would have shown them the evidence and saved them this humiliation.

CHANGES POLITICS

Jacob Shure an Old Time Democrat Declares for the Roosevelt Program in Platte County.

Jacob Shure the republican candidate for supervisor in Bender's district was in Columbus yesterday. Commenting on the charge made in the democratic paper that "Jacob Shure is a democrat," Mr. Shure said to a Journal reporter: "I used to be a democrat. But in county affairs I always have voted for the best men without regard to party. But I voted for McKinley and I am a Roosevelt man. As for the county ticket this year the republicans have taken the same stand that Roosevelt has taken in the nation, and I shall support all the republican candidates but one. It is time we were taking the business of the county out of the hands of the few men who are running things in their own interest. Of course the democratic candidates will work hard to hold control, but the taxpayers are tired of ring rule and high taxes. I believe our officers should get what the law allows and no more. My heart is with the republicans in the campaign for clean government."

Mr. Anderson had just got into the wagon and had the horse nearly under control when he started to kick, smashing the dashboard and breaking entirely loose, when he ran west on thirteenth street, Mrs. J. E. Geitzen and Mrs. F. A. Roberts and two children were driving past the Thurston. Mrs. Geitzen saw the horse coming and pulled in close to the curb, but could not get entirely out of the way and the horse struck the side of their carriage, tearing off the two wheels on the outer side as it dashed past. The ladies and children got out without injury to themselves beside a little shaking and the nervous shock such an experience would occasion. Mr. Anderson found his horse tied to a post in front of Friedhofs store.

DEMOCRATS OBJECT

Resort to Technicalities and Trickery to Nullify Republican Nominations and to Promote the Ernst-Bender Interests.

In spite of the attempts of the democratic committee to "play horse" with the taxpayers of Platte county by raising legal technicalities to prevent an honest election of supervisors, the republicans have succeeded in putting two men on their ticket who are sure to win and the case of the third, A. E. Priest of Monroe, will be settled in district court tomorrow on mandamus proceedings.

The republicans nominated Blaser in Ernst's district; Schure in Bender's district and Priest in Kiernan's district. The democratic committee was afraid of a fair fight, so they filed objections with County Clerk Graf on technical grounds, the chief one being that sufficient notice was not given of the republican nominating conventions.

Meanwhile Blaser had been prevailed upon to decline and J. H. Johannes by some means got possession of Blaser's resignation. With the resignation in his pocket he withdrew the objection filed against Blaser's nomination, believing that the republicans were not aware of Blaser's resignation and hoping to keep it hidden until too late for the republicans to fill the vacancy. Thus by resorting to trickery it was hoped to give Ernst the field without an opponent. The game was balked, however, and the republican committee straightway named Wm. J. Newman, an ex-supervisor and one of the best men in the county to fill the vacancy.

Jacob Schure, of Humphrey, whose nomination was objected to by F. J. Pratt, evinced a desire to run by petition, on the same basis with Peter Bender. He therefore brought in a petition with 300 signers secured in two days, while Bender's petition had less than 250 signers with ten days work.

It should be said to the credit of a number of democrats in the court house that they opposed the idea of trying to steal the offices of supervisor by trickery and technicalities. But the machine knows it needs its Ernst and Bender for supervisors as much as it needs its Ratterman and Carrig, hence its action.

Kauffmann-Foot.

The following notice in the Schuyler County (Ill.) Herald of the marriage of T. F. Kauffmann, one of Columbus best young men will be of interest to Journal readers. Mr. and Mrs. Kauffmann returned last Friday night to Columbus and will make their home at the residence of Mrs. E. Kauffmann, 114 East Fourteenth Street:

Wednesday evening of this week at 8 o'clock at the home of John Foots in this city, grandfather of the bride, occurred the marriage of Mr. T. F. Kauffmann, of Columbus, Neb., to Miss Ada E. Foots, daughter of A. F. Foots. The ceremony, beautiful and impressive, was performed by Rev. J. Edward Artz of the LeRoy M. E. church.

The bride's dress was a beautiful creation of white silk and during the ceremony she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The parlor decorations were autumn leaves and chrysanthemums. The decorations in the dining room were green and white. After the ceremony congratulations were extended, followed by a wedding supper participated in by about thirty guests, immediate relatives of the bride and groom. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful wedding presents consisting mainly of silver ware and china.

The groom is a son of Mrs. E. Kauffmann, a former resident of Rushville, and is a bridge and building foreman for the Union Pacific railway with headquarters at Columbus, Neb. He is a model, energetic young man admired and respected by all who know him. The bride is a beloved young lady of this city where she has made her home from childhood. She is a graduate of the Rushville Union schools and also Kennedy's Normal and Business college. For six years she has been stenographer for Attorney L. A. Jarman and for the past four years held the responsible position of court reporter in the Schuyler county court. She is a member of the Rushville M. E. church and will be greatly missed in church and social circles.

Baumgart-Hohen.

Miss Anna Hohen, youngest daughter of Dr. E. Hohen of this city and Dr. Frederick Baumgart of Danville, Ill., were married last Thursday morning at ten o'clock in the German Reform church by Rev. Neumarker. The bride wore a traveling suit of plum color and was attended by the Misses Elizabeth and Mary Sheehan. The groom was attended by Mr. Carl Hohen brother of the bride of South Omaha and Mr. Henry Baltz, a cousin of the groom of Danville, Ill. Miss Emma Neumarker played the wedding march. Only the immediate relatives were present. At the close of the ceremony an elaborate wedding breakfast was served at the Mers Hotel, the Misses Gladys Turner, Rose and Anna Gass assisting. The bridal party left on the Overland Limited for Danville, Ill., where the groom has a large practice. The bride has lived all her life in Columbus where she has a large circle of friends. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Schmill of Scribner, sister of the bride and Mrs. Hugo Schmidt of South Omaha.

Mrs. Samuel Imhoff.

Mrs. Samuel Imhoff died suddenly of heart failure in the depot at Huntington, Ore., Sunday night, October 15, while on her return to Nebraska.

Miss Mary Blaser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Blaser, came to Nebraska with her parents in 1876 at the age of seventeen. In 1887 she was united in marriage with Samuel Imhoff, who has resided in Loup township fifteen miles west of Columbus until 1900 when he moved to Columbus with his wife. Mrs. Imhoff leaves five children. Sam Imhoff, Jr., of Platte county, two sons in Folk county, and two married daughters in Oregon. Mrs. John Stauffer was a sister of the deceased.

The funeral was held at the German Reform church last Sunday, Rev. Neumarker officiating.

Mrs. R. C. Anderson and Miss Wells of Genoa were among the out of town shoppers in Columbus yesterday.

The ladies served doughnuts, coffee, sandwiches and pie and also sold candy and popcorn. Chances on a hand painted rose bowl donated by Mrs. E. V. Graves and on a pitcher painted by Miss White were sold. The bowl was secured by Mrs. Mayer of Chicago, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Carl Kramer and the pitcher by Mrs. O. D. Evans. The ladies cleared $42 for the evening.

"Equal Rights" Ratterman.

Three prominent citizens of Creston testify to the correctness of the Journal's charge that Judge Ratterman serves the democratic newspapers first and the people afterwards. They are D. A. Steenis, W. H. Dean, and Theo. D. Wagner. They all requested notices published in the Creston Statesman and Judge Ratterman turned them down.
