Platte Center.

Mr. James Lee and Miss Joseph Henney were married at St. Joseph's church at Platte Center at 9:30 Wednesday morning. Rev. Father Symith officiating. The bride wore white silk, a white veil and carried white roses. The groom wearing the customary black. They were attended by Mr. D. Lee and Miss Gertrude Henney. The contracting parties are among our most popular young people and have a host of friends who vie in wishing them the best life affords.

Mr. Ben Nilson and Miss Hattie Keeler, both of the Waterville neighborhood west of town were married in Columbus Wednesday. Mr. Nilson is a prosperous young farmer and Miss Keeler is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Keeler, pioneer settlers of Platte county. These young people are well and favorably known in this locality and have many friends who wish them only the best.

Mrs. Grace Dockborn of Arcadia, Neb., has been visiting friends here for several days.

The dance at Henry hall last Friday was rather poorly attended. However those present report a fine time.

D. D. Roberts is the hardest worked man in town these days. Between buying hogs and trying to make people believe that he believes a single democratic nominee will be successful this fall. Denny said one day last week, for ten dollars worth a certain republican candidate would be defeated. He got a telegram next morning saying that there was a five cent drop and unloaded to a sympathizer at a few cents below par.

Politicians galore— a number of candidates have been here this week, among them John Graf, et. We are all Lusienaki men up here.

Mr. Joseph Lamb of University Place came up Saturday to look after his farm northwest of town.

By the way, Mr. Editor, publisher or what ever you may call it, of the Signal, is it not a fact that the republican candidates that you spoke of as not having lived in the county long enough to be interested, have any one or all of them been here longer than yourself? Well they are pretty much interested just now, and from the tracks that the court house gang are making it would appear that they too were becoming interested. We wonder why?

The new High school building is progressing very satisfactorily and the building will be ready for occupancy about January 1.

Edwin Hoare lost a fine driving horse Tuesday.

Hello Denny! What are hogs worth? What odds are you giving on election today? Called.

A stranger drifted into town Friday evening and after imbibing freely wanted to make his bed in the gutter. Can't do that here, we have a place for drunks. Ed. Lusienaki will make as good a county clerk as he is a ball player. He is always in the game. Home run old man. Ditto Doc Morris.

Mr. L. N. Jones was in town Wednesday on his way home from South Dakota and he reports quite a snow fall there. Also said Joe Frervert is as fat and jolly as ever and is improving his homestead nicely.

Sorry we couldn't sandwich in a little politics but we don't talk it up here, just do things, see!

Mt. Pleasant.

M. H. Gnilos and wife, after a brief visit with Mt. Pleasant friends returned to Beatrice Monday.

Shell Clark and son spent Sunday in Columbus.

L. Justus went to Omaha on business this week.

J. E. Welch went to Columbus Saturday to visit his wife at St. Mary's hospital.

Louis Crunn is suffering with a sprained wrist.

Moors. Will Rinner and Fred Frank of Iowa are husking corn in Mt. Pleasant neighborhood.

Welcome Marshall and family visited their parents Sunday.

LINDSAY

The Opinion.
By their refusal to promise needed reforms, the democratic candidates virtually announce that they would rather be defeated than to quit grafting the taxpayers. So be it.

Throughout this campaign the democratic papers and the democratic candidates have loudly announced that the candidates were asking for support on their "records," and yet it seems impossible to get one of them to really talk about those records. Whenever a republican paper takes them at their word and begins to hunt up the records of these men and tell the people about them the democratic ringleaders and newspapers begin to yell "Liar! Mudslinger!" etc. The Opinion has a notion to offer a prize to anyone who can get a democratic candidate or a democratic newspaper in Platte county to really discuss the record of a democratic county candidate—not his record as a "good fellow" but his local record.

Woodville.

Superintendent Lenny was visiting the schools in Woodville township this week. He spent Wednesday night with his old friend Frank Kiernan, taking dinner Thursday with Kay Clark. He was also looking after his political fences.

Mrs. May Bevins of Mt. Pleasant is spending the week with Mrs. J. W. Carrier.

Miss Mand Abernathy and Miss Mary Thompson were Albion visitors Saturday. The young ladies missed the last train and so were obliged to spend a little more time in the county seat than they had intended.

Mr. and Mrs. John Finch took tea with G. W. Price and family Saturday evening.

Mrs. A. S. Fonda of St. Edward visited s. Ray Clark a few days this week.

J. E. Weldon, Lawrence Clark and Will Mahon were hunting ducks over on the Loop Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Weldon stayed with Mrs. Mahon during the boys absence.

Doctor and Mrs. Ola Britell took tea Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark.

Grandpa and grandma Finch of St. Edward spent Thursday and Friday with their son, Will.

Andrew Christenson of Gregory, S. D., arrived in Woodville Tuesday. He will assist J. E. Weldon through corn husking. Andrews many friends were very glad to see him.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Lou Palmer, Friday, October 27, a girl.

Several of the Woodville ladies attended the Ladies Aid society held at Mrs. J. W. Fonda's last Wednesday. William L. Smith of Monroe, republican candidate for County Treasurer, was in the neighborhood this week doing a little political work.

Route 4.

Mrs. Schenlow of Omaha is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Al Butler this week.

Mrs. Thomas Shaffer gave a delightful hallowe'en party to about twenty five guests last night. The house was decorated with jack-o'-lanterns. Stories and games amused the guests till midnight when lunch was served. The guests were all costumed as ghosts.

Mrs. A. E. Campbell and daughter Maxie entertained the Vesta circle last Thursday in celebration of the first anniversary of the organization. Tea was served in the evening.

Mrs. Grace Backhorn left this week for her home in Aradia after several weeks visit among friends at Oconee. Rev. Dools left for Portland, Ore., last night.

Ed. Mayberger is hauling lumber for a new corn crib.

Mrs. Kelso was called to Lincoln last Wednesday by telegram announcing the very critical condition of her sister, Mr. John Burky of Ulysis, who had undergone an operation at St. Elizabeth's hospital. She reached the bedside of her sister just before her death.

The following marriage license were issued last week: Benjamin L. Nelson and Hattie M. Keeler, Monroe, William H. Carr, Lincoln and Catherine A. Burgess, College View; Mike J. Duranski and Lucy Borowick, Columbus; John Bugher and Lottie Russell, Oconee.

F. T. Walker and a number of capitalists of David City and Lincoln have opened up an office at Wamego Chase county, Neb. The name of the concern will be the Wanneta Falls Land Co., and they have secured control of 30,000 acres of farm land in Chase Hitchcock and Dundy counties, which they are going to put on the market on November 1st, 1905.

J. M. Curtis, police judge against whom the council ordered impeachment proceedings for his alleged refusal to correctly record certain complaints, and who on his part refused "to make fish of one and fowl of another, has resigned and is absent to look after a position as telegraph operator for the Great Northern. William O'Brien was appointed police judge to fill the vacancy until another election.

Myron Gray sustained a fracture of the large bone of his lower leg about four inches above the ankle during the Columbus Kearney foot ball game last Saturday. Although the bone was broken squarely off, young Gray went into the game and played for two downs. Then his father C. C. Gray induced him to quit and undergo an examination. Gray is one of the strongest players on the Columbus team and his injury in the early part of the game caused Columbus defeat. He will not be able to get into the game again this year.

Were you visited by ghosts Tuesday night? The Idlers ten in number, dressed in white shoes and spooky white clothes went around town, and at each house visited, opened the door without the ceremony of knocking, and in ghostly array, marched through the house, and wherever fruit was standing on the table they helped themselves to it, and left by the back doors silently and mysteriously as they had come. After travelling around until their ghostships were tired, they repaired to the home of Mrs. Julius Nichols where they were served cake and ice cream.

At the Congregational church Sunday morning, Rev. Munro will discuss, the Great Exomplar, answering incidentally the question: "Is Hallowe'en a Heretic." In the evening, a political sermon. How should we vote at next Tuesday's election."

"Last night was hallowe'en and of course more or less devilment was carried out by the boys. No damage has been reported and the way our police conducted matters made the merry-makers loath to meddle with people's property. A few coal sheds and other small buildings were turned star-board and aside from a few of these small maneuvers nothing of unusual note occurred.

Joe Casev has a very sore knee. He is lucky not to have a broken leg. He drove into the country Monday for a load of hay. He loaded the hay alright and after riding a few miles homeward bound, his horses missed the main traveled road and the hay, Joe Casev and the wagon went into the ditch. Joe is still on earth but declares that a few more accidents like the last one may lead to serious results.

Hallowe'en Party.

The Hallowe'en party given by Prof. and Mrs. E. V. Graves for the Junior was a delightful success. The house was decorated and lighted with jack-o'-lanterns, appropriate to the occasion. The place cards at the table had jack-o'-lantern designs, and at each table stood a candle set in an apple. In a dark room stood an improvised coffin, with Horatio Adams in it, looking a very life like corpse. Into this dark room the Juniors were led one at a time. Screaming was the principal occupation here. Prof and Mrs. Graves had devised a very clever guessing game which we publish for its ingenuity, with the answers. The questions were to be answered by the name of some one in the high school. They were:

1. Which one of the foot ball team makes the best light?—Gass.
2. What is a popular way of crossing a river?—Roan.
3. What usually brings a rainy day?—McCloud.
4. What bread do doctors prescribe for good health?—Graham.
5. What is a popular outdoor game for girls?—Hokey.
6. Into what is our last step on earth?—Graves.
7. Whose forefather got canned?—Adam.
8. How do Jr. girls dress differently than others?—Nester.
9. Who is a namesake of one of our presidents? Hays.
10. Give a good seasoning.—Mace.
11. What great general is represented in high school?—Sherman.
12. What boy in high school will make a literary man?—Reeder.
13. Who has one of our great authors for a namesake?—Byron.
14. What is it about the head that signifies old age?—Gray.
14. Who is the heroine of "The Little Minister"?—Bab.
