Buster Brown which will be seen at the North, Tuesday January 30th, is one of the very most popular cartoon comedies on the stage today. Manager Saley was fortunate in securing this attraction. The seats are going fast. Journal readers who live in towns tributary to Columbus are urged to attend this attraction.

The Journal calls attention to the number of sale ads it carries for Platte county farmers. The Journal goes to several hundred more farmers than any other paper in Platte county. That is why it is the best advertising medium for the merchants or farmers who have anything to sell to farmers.

Henry Carrig returned last Thursday from a ten days trip to Lincoln and he brought with him the papers which show his ownership of the Lincoln Harness and Implement Co., a large wholesale and retail business. Mr. Carrig has hired a competent manager for the business and he will watch it grow at long range.

Mrs. A. Anderson is enjoying a visit from his two brothers, Peter Anderson of Ft. Collins, Colo., and Gilbert Anderson of White Water, Wis., who came to attend the annual meeting of the First National bank. Mrs. Peter Anderson is expected to arrive the latter part of the week, from the east, where she has been visiting.

The University of Nebraska Glee and Mandolin Clubs are among the best musical organizations in the state. The clubs are composed of the best musical talent from all parts of Nebraska and they give one of the best and most interesting programs that has ever been heard in the state. They will appear at the North Opera House Saturday Jan. 27. The Journal vouches for the excellence of this entertainment and urges a large attendance. Nebraska University is noted for its music as well as for its foot ball.

Bandaged heads and swollen eyes were in evidence in O'Briens Court last Monday as a result of a scrap in Scorsup and Valasek's saloon in which Valasek and Joe Mostek figured as principals. First Mostek was tried on complaint of Valasek for disturbing the peace in the latter's saloon and fined $10 and costs. Then Valasek was tried on complaint of Mostek for assault and battery and was dismissed. The evidence all tended to show that Mostek had been drinking and started to fight in the saloon and that Valasek undertook to put him out, using his strong right arm to help in the process.

The Orpheus society held their Tenth Annual ball and banquet last Saturday night and the function measured up to the standard of all Orpheus functions. Two hundred and fifty members and invited guests were seated at the banquet tables heaped with the good things from the hands of the wives of the Orpheus members. The banquet was preceded by a short informal musical program contributed by the musical talent present. There was none of the formal speechmaking which has characterized former anniversaries of the society. After the banquet the tables were cleared away and the rest of the evening was given to dancing. The Orpheus society numbers 104 members and has recently expended $500 in improvements on their large hall.

The Columbus Fire Department held their annual election of officers last Monday night and listened to a most interesting report from ex-chief L. F. Gottschalk, which reviewed the excellent work of the past year. No city in Nebraska has a more efficient volunteer fire department than Columbus. The officers elected for the ensuing year were: W. R. Snell, president; Otto Schriber, vice president; Fred Pith, secretary; L. Mohlan, treasurer; B. J. Galley, chief; Ed. Kavanagh, assistant chief. Mr. Gottschalk has served three years as chief and retires with an excellent record. His successor, Bert Galley is acquainted with every detail of the work and enjoys the confidence of the whole department.

The Journal office was moved this week to its new location in the old Columbus State Bank building on Twelfth street. For nearly thirty years the Journal has done business in the Turner building on Eleventh street and its removal obliterates one of the old landmarks of Columbus.

The musical department of the Woman's Club met this week at the home of Mrs. Feintz. A pleasing feature of the program was a paper by Mrs. W. S. Evans on the American composers. At the close of the paper she deftly wove the name of each member of the club into a bit of original poetry, referring to each as a modern composer. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Frank Farrand.

Sunday forenoon at about 11:30 o'clock fire broke out in Victor Reed's residence three and a half miles south of St. Edward. The fire apparently started under a trunk on the second floor, and until the smoke from burning clothing reached the family down stairs, they were unaware of their danger. A ladder was soon placed at one of the upstairs windows, the window broken in, and by the lively work of a bucket brigade the fire was after about thirty minutes hard work, extinguished.

Measrs. Tom Scanlan, Dave Proble, Gene Collins, and Parker Stevens, neighbors of Mr. Reed's assisted very materially in the work of the bucket brigade. A match is supposed to have been under the trunk, and the trunk having been moved out from the wall that morning, it is presumed in some way ignited the match. The loss sustained is about $200, and is partly covered by insurance. Carl, Mr. Reed's eldest son, in breaking in the windows, cut his hands quite bad, but his injuries, while very painful, are not considered to be of a serious nature.—Boone County Advance.

Columbia Lodge A. O. U. W. and Royal Lodge D. of H. held a joint installation of officers last Friday night and it was a most pleasant function.

Mrs. Mary Latkey of Lexington, grand chief of Honor installed the officers for the Degree of Honor and G. W. Philippe Deputy Grand Master installed the officers of the A. O. U. W. Frank Matthews acted as Grand Guide. After the installation ceremonies an elaborate supper was served at the Home Restaurant after which Mrs. Latkey and G. W. Philippe responded with well worded speeches. Mrs. E. F. Kirpatrick was largely responsible for the arrangements.

The A. O. U. W. officers installed were: Edward Rossiter, Master; J. W. Herrod, Foreman; Irwin McFarland, Overseer; Richard Ramey, Recorder; Louis Held, Financier; W. A. Way, Receiver; Lee Laughlin, Inside Watchman; W. W. Musgrave, Outside Watchman. The Degree of Honor officers were: Mrs. Nellie Dulan, Past Chief; Mrs. E. F. Kirpatrick, chief; Mrs. Lizzie Dolan, H.; Mrs. Mary Cuneingham, C. C.; Ed. Rossiter, Recorder; Mrs. G. E. Willard, Financier; Mrs. Mary Lannon, Receiver; Mrs. Odella Patech, Usher; Mrs. Geor, I. W.; Mr. Hughes, O. W.

The annual meeting of the Congregational church of this city was held last Thursday night. Reports of church officers were read and Rev. Munro gave an interesting review of the past year's work and recommendations for the coming year. Miss Elizabeth Sheldon, clerk, reported $492 raised for benevolences during the past year; $2154 for home expenses, and $100 raised by the ladies to apply to the church debt. Besides this, the ladies paid for a church carpet, a chancel rail and kindergartenc hairs in the Sunday school. At the close of the business meeting, the ladies of the church spread a lunch and the business meeting was changed into a most enjoyable social gathering. The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: C. G. Hickok, deacon; Dr. J. E. Papi and W. L. Chenoweth, trustees; assistant committee to the pastor, Meedames Brindley, Brugger and Hobart.

At the close of the business meeting, the ladies of the church spread a lunch and the business meeting was changed into a most enjoyable social gathering. The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: C. G. Hickok, deacon; Dr. J. E. Papi and W. L. Chenoweth, trustees; assistant committee to the pastor, Meedames Brindley, Brugger and Hobart.

The annual meeting of the Congregational church of this city was held last Thursday night. Reports of church officers were read and Rev. Munro gave an interesting review of the past year's work and recommendations for the coming year. Miss Elizabeth Sheldon, clerk, reported $492 raised for benevolences during the past year; $2154 for home expenses, and $100 raised by the ladies to apply to the church debt. Besides this, the ladies paid for a church carpet, a
