This statement was made in the presence of Senators Dolliver and Clapp, who are contending for the Hepburn bill in the form that it came from the house. It was said in jest, but it is believed that nt more nearly expressed the situation than any previous alleged authoritative announcement. The committee agreed that important amendments will not be voted on until Friday of next week. Ostensibly the committee adjourned because Senator Tillman was suddenly

CHINA'S BOYCOTT.

Discrimination Against American Goods Extending. WASHINGTON-From the many reports received by the state department from its representatives in the east relative to the anti-American boycott, its extent, the prospects of its continuance and the amount of injury it has inflicted on American trade, two, selected at random, from the north and south have been made public. In neither is there any hint of violence, and the movement, it is stated, is confined strictly to trade limits. The report from north China brings the history of events up to the close of 1905. At that date the boycott movement had been "nearly all talk" in the principal cities, says the correspondent, who adds:

"The student class as the willing workers of the boycott organization, has done its best to keep the issue alive, and to some extent has succeeded, much against the wishes of the merchants, who have had enough and never want to see another boycott. But this talk and undercurrent of agitation has not been shown to any great extent in the business affairs related to American products. There has been timidity in buying and in some instances cancellation of orders under the spur of threats, but despite denials from some Americans it is well known to the majority that such conduct on the part of 'the Chinese buyers has not been the rule. This statement, however, does not apply to the product of the Standard Oil company, which has been opposed in many places outside of the principal cities in northern China. As to that condition, it can only be said that thorough investigation will prove that trade competition has as much to do with it as Chinese antagonism. That underhand methods have been employed against the Standard Oil company and the British-American Tobacco company is becoming plainer every day. At present the attack on these two companies is apparently centered in and around Hankow, where obscene circulars have appeared and also many evidences of unfriendly intent. "But at Soochow, Chinkiang, Changchow, Wuhu, Kiukiang and many other places tributary to and on the Yangtse.there has also been more or less antagonism of late. The merchants are against the boycott, but under the lash of the guilds that must give a half-hearted acquiescence, at least, if the officials so desire, they can squelch the recrudescence of the movement in this section and by so doing will gain the support of the merchants. But, again, there is the now
