Here's a newspaper man's definition of a gentleman credited to an exchange: "A man that's clean inside and outside; who neither looks up to the rich nor down on the poor; who can lose without squealing and who can win without bragging; who is considerate to women, children and old people; who is too brave to lie; too generous to cheat, and who takes his share of the world and lets other people have theirs."
 Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Emerson of Fremont arrived in Columbus last Sunday from San Jose where they had spent the winter. "I tell you we were glad to see Columbus" Mr. Emerson said to a Journal reporter. San Jose suffered as badly as San Francisco excepting the ravages from fire. We waited twelve days to secure Pullman accommodations to get away from the city. And such sights in the city. It makes me sick to think about it. People that had good homes are living in the street. Women who formerly dressed and lived in style can be seen now with dirty dresses and dishevelled hair preparing meals on stoves in the street, indifferent apparently to their surroundings. When you have seen what I have seen there you will agree that people who have good health and enough to eat ought to feel thankful."

 Max Elias returned last Thursday from his trip to San Francisco where he was called two weeks ago as one of nineteen expert baggage men to relieve the congestion of traffic at Oakland pier, caused by the great earthquake disaster. Max gives some interesting descriptions of the people and conditions in the destroyed city. "Trunks and bundles" he says, "were stacked on the platforms at Oakland by the people making their escape from San Francisco, and in the excitement no attempt was made to keep track of them. The baggage men, many of them had lost their houses or members of their families and were forced to leave their post of duty. This left the identification of trunks and bundles in the hands of us new men. My experience there at times almost made me sick. Women with small crying and hungry children would come to find their bundles. They all seemed destitute and without hope and all wanted help. A man with any heart could not help being moved by the suffering on every hand and I was glad to get back to Columbus. I spent one day in San Francisco. From Nob Hill looking over the main parts of the city you can see nothing for five miles but unsightly heaps of brick and twisted iron and tottering walls. The newspapers have not pictured it as bad as it is."

It is not difficult to relieve blind, bleeding, itching or protruding piles with Man Zan, the great pile remedy. It is put up in collapsible tubes with nozzle, and may be introduced and applied at the seat of the trouble. Stops pain instantly. Sold by Mc-Olintock & Carter.

 FOR SALE—Ottomwood lumber, wood and sawdust. Also a No. 1 Chicago cottage organ, price $30 cash. Clear Creek Mill.
 Naylor and Gerrard, manufacturers of the Natural Flour Refiner received some news last week which means much for the future of their business. A letter from England informed them that on March 16th the Andrews patent was revoked in the Ohio and Division of the High Court of England before Justice Kekwich and an order issued restraining the owners from issuing threatening notices. For several months the Andrews people have written threatening letters through the milling journals charging Naylor and Gerrard with infringement on their patent. The latter knowing the groundlessness of the Andrews claim have given no heed. However, many millers have refrained from buying the product of the Columbus factory on account of the threatened trouble. The people of Columbus will be glad to learn that an obstacle has been removed from the path of this manufactory which is one of the growing enterprises to which our citizens point with pride.
 "When the Union Pacific gets ready in earnest to shorten its main line route to the coast, it will probably not build from Central City to Wahoo as some of the newspapers have suggested, but from Columbus to North Platte," said Dr. D. T. Martyn to a Journal representative the other day, discussing the route-shortening plans of the Union Pacific. "More than twelve years ago a former superintendent of the Union Pacific pointed out to me while we were waiting for a train at Monroe, several reasons why some day the main line of the Union Pacific would go from Columbus through Fullerton and St. Paul to North Platte. In the first place if you will consult a map you will see that this route is almost straight. Besides, the track is already laid to Fullerton and from there to St. Paul up the Loup valley is almost a natural road-bed. This extension would enlarge the territory tributary to Columbus and make this city one of the most important 'jobbing' centers in Nebraska. This is a matter worth thinking about and it is worth working for. You newspaper men who want to do something for Columbus should try to get the Commercial club interested. It is amusing to hear the talk about cutting Columbus off the main line. The fact is this city has the best future of any in and city in the state. Those who look at the map and study the physical condition of the country in question will see the logic of Dr. Martyn's remarks and will hope that our business men will help the railroad company to see it.
 The tar that is contained in Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is harmless. It is not coal tar, but is obtained from the pine-trees of our own native forests. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is the best remedy for colds because it acts on the bowels—thus expelling all colds from the system. Bee's is the original Laxative Honey and Tar, and is best for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, lung and bronchial affections. Sold by Mc-Olintock & Carter.
