Republican State Convention.

The republicans of the state of Nebraska are hereby called to meet in convention at the Auditorium in the city of Lincoln, on Wednesday, August 22, 1906, at two o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following offices, viz:

- One United States Senator,
- One Governor,
- One Lieutenant Governor,
- Three Railway Commissioners,
- One Secretary of State,
- One Auditor of Public Accounts,
- One Treasurer,
- One Superintendent of Public Instruction,
- One Attorney General,
- One Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings.

And for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before it.

The said convention shall be made up of delegates chosen by the republicans of the respective counties of the state, apportioned one delegate at large for each county and one for each one hundred twenty-five votes or the major fraction thereof cast at the last election for Hon. Charles R. Lott, republican nominee for judge of the supreme court. Said apportionment entitles Platte county 12 delegates to said convention.

It is also recommended that the delegates to said convention be instructed to vote for and against the endorsement of the constitutional amendment relating to the creation of a State Board of Railway Commissioners, to the end that the action thus taken may determine the attitude of the party relative to said amendment and may be made a part of the ballot.

It is further recommended that no proxies be allowed and that the delegates present from each of the respective counties be authorized to cast the full vote of their delegation.

The various odd numbered senatorial districts are also notified that they will at the same time and place assemble in caucus to elect members to represent them on the state committee for a term of two years.

It is also urged that the counties which have not already selected their county committees and perfected the local organization for the campaign of 1906, do so at the first county convention held subsequent to the meeting of this call and report at once to the state committee.

It is important that the uniform credential blanks which will be furnished by the state committee to each county chairman be used for furnishing credentials of the delegates to said convention, and that the name of each delegate, his post office address, and the ward in which he resides, be plainly written thereon. Credentials should be prepared immediately after adjournment of the different county conventions, duly certified by their officers and forwarded at once to State Headquarters, at Lincoln.

By order of the state committee.

W. F. WARREN, Chairman.
A. R. ALLEN, Secretary.
Dated at Lincoln, Neb., May 5, 1906.

POINTERS TO PLATTE COUNTY FARMERS.

The table of Platte county statistics published elsewhere in this issue of the Journal from the report of County Assessor Galley affords some excellent food for thought.

If the farmers of Platte county could increase the production of winter wheat two bushels per acre, the increase in one year would build a

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

HEALTH Calumet is made of the finest materials possible to select, and makes light, easily digested Bread, Biscuits or Pastry; therefore, it is recommended by leading physicians and chemists.

ECONOMY In using Calumet you are always assured of a good baking; therefore, there is no waste of material or time. Calumet is put up in air-tight cans; it will keep longer than any other Baking Powder on the market and has more raising power.

Calumet is so carefully and scientifically prepared that the neutralization of the ingredients is absolutely perfect. Therefore, food prepared with Calumet is free from Rochelle Salts, Alum, or any injurious substance.

$1,000.00 given for any substance injurious to health found in Calumet

$60,000 court house, figuring wheat at 50 cents a bushel.

If they could increase the average yield of corn one bushel per acre, and sell it at 25 cents a bushel, they could add $30,000 to Platte county's treasury.

If they could increase the yield of tame hay 20 per cent they could add $25,000 annually to Platte county's wealth.

These examples might be multiplied to illustrate the opportunities in the hands of the farmers of the county to increase not only their private wealth, but to promote the general welfare of the county.

Just a little more care in the selection of seeds, just a little more attention to the scientific methods of soil culture and a half million dollars yearly would be added to the present income of Platte county farmers.

Is it not worth while for every farmer of Platte county to consider it a part of his business to bring about this result?

The Humphrey Democrat says that one Humphrey farmer has produced a beautiful piece of road near his farm by the use of the King drag and by sowing alfalfa along the roadside. The farmer gets a profit from the alfalfa besides beautifying the roads. Why not make this practice unanimous in Platte county?

Aubrey A. Smith, son of Pierson D. Smith of St. Edward, is a candidate for representative from Boone county. Mr. Smith is a graduate of Yale, is vice-president of the Smith National Bank and is one of the cleanest and brightest young men in Nebraska. It is gratifying to see this sort of young men seeking places in the public service.

Judge Sullivan is going to Europe. He will not admit that he is going to sprout a pair of wings in the European senatorial incubator and declares he has no political ambitions. However, if the fever attacks him as it has Edward Rosewater, we advise him to choose a republican craft in which to return home. It is the only kind that will carry him safe past the democratic Scylla and Charybdis to a seat in the United States senate from Nebraska.

William Jennings Bryan has a good heart. So have many other folks. But what evidences are there that he has the right kind of a head to preside over the biggest nation in the world? He entered the presidential field when people were shy on money and he thought he could be elected by advocating "free money." Conditions changed. Under a wise republican administration business confidence was strengthened and everybody who was willing to work got money. When another four years had rolled around people refused to listen to "free money" argument. But Bryan was equal to the emergency. The United States in the meantime had thrashed Spain and found herself in possession of some islands inhabited by a brown skinned people. Bryan recalled the history of the negro slave on American soil and believed he could be elected president by proclaiming the doctrine of imperialism and likening McKinley to the Czar of Russia. Again he was wrong. Then passed another period of prosperity. In that time he has written many sophomoric essays on many sides of the same questions and now he is in Europe. From the distance he thinks he sees that the people are dissatisfied with republican radicalism as typified by President Roosevelt and he is making his appeal this time to the "conservative" people of the United States that they choose him to deliver them from the radicalism of Roosevelt. Bryan, then, brought down to date, can claim honor or from the American people because of his championship of the three "isms," bimetallicism, imperialism, and conservatism, and the greatest of these is conservatism, for it is the last. If this record proves that William Jennings Bryan has the right kind of a head to administer wisely and safely the affairs of this nation, so be it, let him be nominated by the democrats and elected by the free-silver-imperialist-conservative republicans.

OTHER EDITORS.

Fremont Tribune—It is interesting to analyze the difference between the two men. Mr. Bryan's present popularity comes largely from a fear of something worse in his own party; from a blind devotion of thousands of democrats who are charmed with his high character and his audacious and dashing leadership. But President Roosevelt has had the arduous duties of large responsibilities imposed on him, and he has invariably made good. He has hewn his way thru corruption and menacing evils. He has had the courage to attack wrongs and the generalship to ward the organized forces of predatory wealth. The people love him for this fine display of moral heroism. Mr. Bryan has added to his own personal popularity by endorsing the course of the president. His hitherto fame has rested upon the advocacy of 16 to 1, of anti-imperialism and opposition to a protective tariff. Insofar as he is enjoying a revival it is very largely because he is in line with Roosevelt and modern republican sentiment.

Norfolk News: Despite the figures given by Prof. Bessie of the state university, and quoted at the alumni banquet the other night by Prof. Bodwell, showing that the percentage of business increases with the length of time spent in school and in college work, there is a tendency among men to give up school today and rush into business. It seems to so many young men that they are losing time in studying literature and Latin and mathematics, and they could make more progress adding figures in an account book. So many fall foreseen that without laying a foundation with mathematics and literature and even Latin, which is the best language-training study in the world, they will never be able to rise up as opportunities offer, and will always be held down near the level at which they start. It is true, of course, that some men win what is termed success, who have not had education in any shape, but these are the naturally keen men who would have made easier successes if they had had educational foundations, in the first place. And then, again, there is altogether too much of a tendency to overlook the fact that all success is not in business. The man who gets most out of life learns to enjoy little things, the finer points of life. And surely there is no doubt that the man who is educated has a deeper appreciation of good books and good plays and good living than he who has not.

Will Cure Consumption.

A. A. Herren, Finch, Ark., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best preparation for coughs, colds and lung trouble. I know that it has cured consumption in the first stages. You never heard of any one using Foley's Honey and Tar and not being satisfied. Chas. H. Duck.

PERSONAL AND PERTINENT

The boys tell one on Jonas Welch that is equalled only by the story of Edgar Howard, Pat Hart and the ambassadorship to Ireland and up to date the story has not been denied. Mr. Welch has a large acreage of wheat and oats on his numerous farms and the threatened drought last week was depressing his usually cheerful spirits. How far his spirits were depressed can best be inferred from the following story which is vouched for by the Journal's informant: "Jonas Welch was as blue as a water-wagon democrat ever gets. His oats needed rain and the chances were 16 to 1 that unless rain came soon he would not raise enough to feed the Bryan democratic mule till the owner's return from Europe. In his zeal for rain he dragged out his Bryan-Pennate and even petitioned the Almighty but to no avail. At last, in deepest despair, he turned to that never failing source of succor and beneficence, the republican party. He went into his private den at midnight last Saturday night and with shades drawn wrote out a telegram to the administration at Washington. On the following night Jonas Welch was seen in his oats field in a boat figuring up what percentage of his profits from his oats crop he could afford to donate next fall to the republican campaign fund."

Women sometimes talk. Occasionally they listen. And once in a great while they hear things which are "too good to keep." This happened in the case of two good Columbus women last week and as a result it can be announced with authority that Columbus is about to present to the world a real live diplomat. Our fellow citizen Patrick J. Hart is to be sent as "ambassador to Ireland" if Edgar Howard has his way. And Edgar ought to have his way in this ambition, for he was heard by these two women to declare that it was the only political ambition he possessed in the world. It was to be the one request that he should press upon President William J. Bryan, and "no powers on earth or in heaven" so help him Christopher Columbus could prevent said Bryan being president in 1908. The women in question are sure he said it for they heard him. They could not be mistaken for it was two o'clock in the morning and all other earthly sounds had died away save the footsteps of Judge Hensley slowly venturing his way homeward in another part of town. And the hearing of the women was unusually acute for one of them was the wife of the future diplomat patiently waiting in the shade of the vine covered porch to catch the sound of her husband's home coming footsteps. The doors were locked and he had the key. The ladies knew that Howard was sincere in his declarations of devotion to the future ambassador to Ireland, for—did he not walk all the way home with the diplomat, clinging tight to his coat sleeve? And did he not cling long if unsteadily to said sleeve, for many minutes after the ambassadors wife should have gone to her beauty sleep? Of course he was in earnest. And all the rest of us will throw up our hats and shout "Hurrah for Pat Hart the next ambassador to Ireland. May he live to honor his political discoverer—and never again carry off his wife's door key."

Crow Reservation.

The government has made all arrangements for the registration for the lands of the Crow Agency, which will be drawn July 2nd at Billings. The registration dates are June 14 to 28 at Sheridan and Billings, and the Burlington has offered exceptionally low rates to those wishing to take a chance in Uncle Sam's big lottery. The rates from all Burlington stations west of the Missouri river to Billings and Sheridan will be one fare for the round trip, with a maximum of $20, which will make the rate from Omaha, Kansas City and Denver much less than a fare for the round trip. From all points east of the Missouri river and from Kansas and the southwest the rate will be 75 per cent of the one-way rate, with a minimum of $20. The tickets will be sold June 10 to 25 inclusive, with a return limit till July 10. All lodging places will be listed and committees at each town will meet the excursionists.

The mayor of Billings has wired General Passenger Agent Wakeley of the Burlington that everything will be done to take care of the registration crowd, and he will take personal charge of the police force. Tents will be laid out in the streets with board floors. Booths will all be connected with city sewers and the best sanitary arrangements made. The mayor says that Billings will be able to take care of 10,000 people at any one time.

Sheridan has already advised the Burlington that complete arrangements are being made to take care of the crowds for registration. Every available room be arranged for, while necessary cots and bedding and tents will be secured from Fort MacKenzie to accommodate a small army. Fine camping grounds will be prepared. Hotels and eating houses are stocking up and will be prepared to take care of all that come. The police force is taking measures to eliminate all undesirable elements, such as thugs and gamblers. The Chamber of Commerce and city council are taking vigorous measures to insure registration visitors a safe and comfortable time at Sheridan.

All Good Painters Agree that the best painting results are secured by the use of paint containing nothing but Pure White Lead ground in Pure Oil—colored of course to the desired shade.

There are substitutes for these two ingredients, such as barytes and zinc, which cost less, but invariably lower the quality.

Pure White Lead paint requires less of the painter's time, looks better, lasts longer, affords better protection to the painted surface than any other kind. It forms an elastic coat that becomes at once an integral part of the wood painted. It will not crack or peel. It wears off gradually, leaving a surface ready for repainting without the expensive necessity of scraping and "burning off."

Insure yourself of the best results by insisting that every keg that is bought for your house bears the name:

Collier, Red Seal or Southern
Pure White Lead
Made by the Old Dutch Process

Send for a booklet containing several handsome reproductions of actual houses, offering valuable suggestions for a color scheme in painting your house. A test for paint purity is also given.
