Plans are under way for a steel bridge across the Loup river at Monroe. The township boards of Loup, Monroe and Lost Creek townships are preparing for a special election in the near future for the purpose of submitting to the voters of the three townships the proposition of voting $15,000 bonds to build the bridge. The date for the election has not yet been fixed and it is too early yet to predict the sentiment of the taxpayers interested in the proposition. Supervisor A. E. Priest of Monroe is active in urging the plan.

The Union Pacific Railroad company has just issued a pamphlet on Utah, its population, industries, opportunities, climate, etc. Utah will be greatly benefited by this publication as it has been by the editions of the past years. The pamphlet will be circulated over the entire country by the representatives of the system and any request for it will be cheerfully filled. The book compiled from the latest reports, contains 107 pages. It deals with every line of industry of the state. A large portion of the book is taken up by statistical tables, bearing upon mining, agriculture, stock raising, climate, population, etc. Each county of the state is given considerable space in the publication.

It may be true that lightning never strikes twice in the same place, but it seldom happens that the same bolt of lightning strikes in twenty-five places at the same time as it did last Sunday night when it struck and killed twenty-five cattle for Tom Lynch all at one time. The cattle were in a pasture south of the Loup and were bunched together for protection against the heavy hail storm. After the storm they were all found dead as a result of the electric shock which had been communicated from one to another. Mr. Lynch lives in Shell Creek township. Since the above was written the Journal learns that only eight of the cattle belonged to Mr. Lynch. Twelve of them belonged to John Grossnicklaus and three to Pat Gleason. Lynch's cattle were insured about thirty days ago.

KRYPTOKS OF GREAT SERVICE.

"Kryptoks" are a boon to wearers of glasses, as the change of focus is made without apparent effort—the eye readily moving from long to short distance without inconvenience.

They will almost invariably relieve the nervous strain caused by the old style bifocal, or the ever changing from the long to short distance glasses, which is not only injurious to the sight, but wearing to the nerves. We of today can thank science and inventive genius for the advent of "Kryptoks," which afford us the maximum of sight, and reduces to a minimum the burden of wearing glasses at all.

If you have never worn bifocals, and are now ready for your first pair, do not fail to secure these lenses. Send for booklet describing "Kryptoks." The Columbian Bifocal Co., Temple Court, Denver, Colo., the exclusive manufacturers in the West.

Or call on Dr. J. W. Terry, in Columbus, our exclusive representative for Platte county, Nebraska. Dr. Terry will be in his Columbus offices Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week.

The exercises will be held in a large tent secured for the occasion.
