He was buried among the ruins but succeeded in extricating himself. The scene beggars description. Screams and groans rent the air in all directions. Nearly the whole populace was buried in the ruins of the town of Lone Pine, the center of the great disturbance. Over three hundred distinct shocks were felt between half past two o'clock and sunrise. In fact the earth was in a constant shake and tremble for over three hours. A chasm was opened, leading thirty-five miles down the valley, ranging from three inches to forty feet in width. Rocks were torn from their places and rolled into the valley.

Eye Examining

Is a very delicate business.

It requires experience, a knowledge of optics, and the necessary instruments.

We are fully equipped in all these particulars, and can determine with the utmost accuracy when a person should wear glasses, what sort of glasses they should be, and we will supply them at the lowest possible price.

When these advantages are so handy, don't you think it would be a mistake to do without glasses?

Any error of vision is altogether too important to be neglected.

Let us give you the advantage of our facilities.

As we are going to press we heard a rumor to the effect that Dr. Leach had decided to leave Columbus in the near future and enter into a partnership with his brother, Dr. T. A. Leach, of Broken Bow. We asked the doctor about it and he says it is true that he will leave some time this fall, but is not ready to say for a certainty yet just where he will locate. The doctor says he does not like to leave Columbus as he has found it greatly to his liking for a place to live but he feels he can do better in his profession elsewhere. Dr. Leach is one of Columbus best young business men.

Mr. and Mrs. Derrington were called to Omaha last Saturday by a telegram from Mrs. Edwards, Supt. of the Child Saving Institute, announcing the death of their adopted infant child. The sympathy of the community goes out to these worthy people in their loss. They took the little one to their hearts and loved it as if it had been their own. The child was never strong and had been under the daily care of doctors ever since its adoption, every possible effort being made in its behalf but without avail. A week before the death of the child, Mrs. Edwards, according to the unvarying rule of the Institute, came and took the baby to Omaha that it might have the treatment of specialists.

Joseph F. Wells started suit in district court last Wednesday to recover possession of a valuable half section of land near Columbus, which he assigned to his half-brother, O. L. Baker last fall while a criminal suit was pending against Wells for shooting Ezra Mahaffey and Wells sets out in his petition that Baker by threatening to assist in the prosecution which Wells feared would send him to the penitentiary, induced him to assign land worth $20,000 for the sum of $15,000. Wells' petition also declares that there was no other consideration in the assignment and that C. H. Sheldon had full knowledge of the facts. Wells offers to pay the money necessary to redeem the land and asks to have the Baker assignment cancelled on the ground of fraud and to have Sheldon required to deed the property to Wells. Wm. Eisemann is a tenant on the property, and he is joined as defendant because Wells also wants an accounting of his share in the rent and profits of the farm during the past year.

Dr. Edward Hoehen. Another of the old timers of Columbus has passed to his final rest. Dr. Edward Hoehen died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. A. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Benham of this city were shocked last Thursday morning by the receipt of a telegram from Omaha, announcing the death by suicide of Mrs. O. A. Sampson. Mrs. Benham's mother. Mr. and Mrs. Benham left at once for Omaha and accompanied the remains to Salina, Kansas for burial. Mrs. Sampson had been in business here a few months, handling a stock of infant's wear and fancy goods in the Kelso millinery store and had enjoyed a profitable trade. About June 1 she went to Omaha, presumably to order goods, but when she did not return some fears were felt by Mrs. Benham, and it was learned that she had drawn out her bank account, indicating that she left Columbus with no intention of returning. She had taken a room in a private boarding house in Omaha under the name of Mrs. Howard. Suspicion was aroused when on Wednesday morning Mrs. Sampson did not leave her room as usual. Breaking open the door, Mrs. Sampson was found dead. She was clothed in a black burial robe and had her hands clasped above her breast. The gas had been turned on and the key-hole packed to prevent the escape of the gas. She had also drunk a large quantity of landnum.
