Platte Center. (From The Herald.) Mr. Patrick Fahy, who for a number of years lived a few miles northwest of Platte Center, and was well known to all who resided here previous to his removal, died at his home near Kingfisher, Okla., July 8. We regret to report the death of a five-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Oady, living about ten miles west of town. The child had partaken of some green apples on Wednesday morning, causing a case of cholera morbus so acute that she was thrown into violent convulsions, from which she did not recover. The funeral was held Thursday morning from St. John's Catholic church. M. E. Oehler started last Sunday for a visit to his old home, near Bartons, N. Y., which he left thirty-seven years ago, and this will be his first visit. He has two brothers and a sister living there. He expects to be absent about four weeks. His daughter Jessie, who has been there since spring, will return with him. A gang of workmen have been engaged the past ten days in preparing the Kehee elevator. Rats had undermined the foundation and the sills and rotted until the entire building had settled. It had to be raised to position and a new foundation and sills put in. It was quite a job, and came just as the busy season for handling grain commenced. George Englehorn informs us that his son Charlie enlisted in the navy, at Lincoln, a few days ago and is now at Newport, Rhode Island. Mr. Englehorn's son Ed. is the coast artillery, and is located at Fort Stevens, Ore. For the first time in more than twenty years the township of Lots Creek is out of debt not a warrant being outstanding against them. More than that, there is money enough in the treasury to pay all bills that may be incurred to pay during the ensuing year. Some three weeks ago fifty Italians were landed here and they have since been engaged in placing rails for the railroad between here and Oonsee. Yesterday morning seven or eight Japs arrived and they are engaged in the same work. They will be here a week or more.

St. Edward. (From The Advance.) It develops that many farmers in the territory of St. Edward are becoming interested in the King road drag. Hugh Smith has been enteringprising enough to make one of the worst roads in the county almost as good as a pavement with the drag, but there are many who would like to see the drag tested on roads of a different soil. It is very probable that the village board will decide to make a test of the drag to demonstrate its worth. Should the drag come into general use, it is the opinion of the Advance that the result would be more than satisfactory. Dr. O. A. Brittle, W. F. Flory and the writer visited Columbus Monday to look over some formulating plans for an opera house for St. Edward. This year is certainly an ideal one for building a stock company opera house. Crops have never been better, and the need for an opera house has never been more apparent. And last but not least, a number of the substantial farmers have already expressed themselves as desirous of helping a stock company proposition along. With the next few weeks some definite information will be put before the club as to the probable cost of a suitable building.

Humphrey. (From The Democrat.) Mrs. J. M. Specht and children of Edgar Wis., arrived here last week on a visit to their relatives and friends. John Rist arrived in town Wednesday evening direct from Germany. He is a young man about 17 years old and comes to America to seek his fortune. It is a two to one shot that he will succeed. He comes from the same place in Germany, where Joe Kelley and several others in this neighborhood came from. Mr. Kelley is figuring on going back this winter to pay his aged father and mother a visit. He has not been back since he came here about a quarter of a century ago. Mel Ritchie had the misfortune to fracture his left arm over the elbow the first of the week. He was engaged in a friendly scuffle with Rudolph Ludewig and slipped and fell striking on his arm. About a year ago he fractured the same arm near the wrist. George and Pete Eisenberger who were called to Peotoma, Ill., last week on account of the serious illness of a sister, returned home Sunday evening and report their sister somewhat improved but slight chances of her recovery. We hope they will soon learn of her permanent recovery.

Geneva. (From The Leader.) Mrs. A. E. Anderson of the Swedes and her sister, Miss Ada Robbins, departed the last of the week for Glenwood, Ia., where they will visit friends and attend the chautauque being held there. Fish stories fail to interest Geneva people these days. Big wheat yield yields have taken their place. The latest big yield reported in this section is from 12 acres raised by S. J. Ellis. Six hundred and twenty-four bushels from 12 acres or 52 bushels per acre. An electric storm visited this section on Friday night last. About three-fourths of an inch of rain fell accompanied by considerable hail. Corn was stripped some north of town and also damaged some east of Kent ranch. George Hodge and family don't like tapicee pudding anymore and have a good reason. Mrs. Hodge served some for supper Monday night and what was left stood in a tin dish over night. The next morning it was served for breakfast with serious results to all who partook of it. Mr. and Mrs. Hodge and Mr. Hodge's mother were all taken ill soon after, and for several hours it was not known whether the elder Mrs. Hodge would recover. It is supposed the pudding was poisoned by the tin dish in which it stood over night. George Froelich had the misfortune to have one of his arms thrown out of joint at the elbow Tuesday afternoon. He has a new pony and while he was out trying the animal's speed he lost his balance and fell off, striking the ground with his weight on his arm.—Leigh World.

Up to Die. R. Spiegel, 1294 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." Chas. H. Deck.
