An Aged Farmer Loses His Life by Burning—Reduction of Bonded Indebtedness in Butler County—Miscellaneous State Matters.

Aged Man Fatally Burned.
NEBRASKA CITY—F. M. Shoemaker, aged 70, residing on a farm seven miles south of this city, was fatally burned and cannot recover.

His wife and family were away from home and he attempted to build a fire in the cook stove, using gasoline by mistake. An explosion followed, throwing blazing fluid over him and the room. Despite the fact he was a mass of flames he ran out into the weeds and tried to put out his burning clothes. Neighbors saw the smoke and coming to the house put out the fire and found him lying in the weeds suffering untold agony. Physicians were called, but he is so badly burned that no hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Butler County Reduces Bonds.
DAVID CITY—A large transaction was closed here by the county board of supervisors, which saves the taxpayers of this county $3,000. Years ago $119,000 in bonds were voted to aid the Union Pacific Railroad company to build through the county. These bonds ran for twenty years and drew 10 per cent interest. At their maturity $30,000 in cash was paid and $89,000 in new bonds issued, running twenty years at 5 per cent interest. The county board, a few years ago, began to raise a sinking fund to retire these bonds when they mature and in this fund had accumulated about $23,000. The City National bank worked up a deal whereby it could buy these bonds for the county at a price that would save the taxpayers $3,000 by taking them up now instead of letting them run.

Case of Copper Poisoning.
AUBURN—As the result of taking a friend's advice, Homer Howell, a young man living at Howe, a few miles east of here, is suffering with a terrible case of blood poisoning. He was afflicted with ring worms and a friend advised him to use a lotion consisting of vinegar in which a number of copper pennies had been soaked. He tried the peculiar remedy, with the result that blood poisoning has set in. His face is terribly swollen, being twice its normal size, and the features have been twisted into the most hideous shape. He is in a critical condition.

Stock Breeders' Association.
NEBRASKA CITY—A number of the breeders of fine stock in this county have formed an association to be known as the Otoe Thoroughbred Stock association, with H. H. Hanks, president; Orla Lathrop and D. Schindler, vice presidents; Olin Overton, secretary and George Justice, treasurer. The association will hold a stock show in this city in October and already work is being done on the program.

To Stop Sunday Shooting.
GRAND ISLAND—An organization is being perfected in Center township, an exclusively country precinct, to stop all shooting on the Sabbath. Many of the people of the township refuse to join in the effort, however, some because they want to do a little hunting themselves occasionally on Sunday, and others because they do not want to force their Sunday views on others.

Killed by Train.
NICKERSON—Edward Hayes of this place was instantly killed by being run over by a train on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad one mile east of Nickerson. Mr. Hayes, in company with another man, was riding a track velocipede, when the train, running backward to Fremont, caught them. His body was badly mangled.

SPAIN'S TURN TO SMILE.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY IS INDICTED ON 6,428 COUNTS

TWO SPECIAL GRAND JURIES AT CHICAGO RETURN TEN TRUE BILLS FOR VIOLATION OF ELKINS LAW.

Chicago.—The first skirmish in the crusade of the government against the Standard Oil company to compel the concern to comply with the letter of the antitrust and monopoly laws was ended Monday afternoon when the two special federal grand juries returned ten indictments against the oil company, containing a total number of 6,428 counts.

In respect to the scope of the indictments the number of counts and the voluminous nature of the documents all records of the federal courts was broken and when the juries were dismissed by Judge Beetha after three weeks of continuous work they had the satisfaction of knowing that they had hung up a mark for future investigators.

The charges named in the indictments are violations of the Elkins antitrust law, which prohibits the accepting or granting of rebates on oil and other products. The fine as fixed by the Elkins law is not less than $1,000 and not more than $20,000 on each count. At this rate the maximum fine which might be imposed upon the Standard Oil company would aggregate $128,560,000.

The railroads named in the indictments, but which for the present are not charged with guilt by a federal grand jury are: Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; Chicago & Alton; Chicago & Eastern Illinois; Evansville & Terre Haute; Illinois Central; Southern Railway; Lake Shore & Michigan Southern.

The ten indictments very only in the name of the railroad involved and in the particular shipment alleged to have caused the illegal rebate.

Liable to Heavy Fines.
Practically the ten form one big indictment, under which the minimum fine of $1,000 on each count would be $6,428,000. If Standard Oil is found guilty under each count and the fine is placed at the minimum of $20,000, the total of the fines would reach the astounding figure of $128,560,000.

Standard Oil promises to contest the battle at every step, and the first strife will come when District Attorney Morrison appears before Judge Beetha to ask that the company be required to furnish bonds for its appearance to answer the indictments.

John S. Miller, who has been retained as special counsel by Standard Oil, will present the plea for bond. Mr. Miller said:

On the earlier indictment Judge Beetha fixed the bond of the Standard Oil company at $25,000, which has not been given as yet. If the same ratio is pursued the total demanded would exceed $8,000,000.

Laughs at Bond Plea.
"The Standard Oil company does not propose to resort to obstructive tactics and will not unnecessarily delay the hearing of the cases. It is ridiculous, however, to ask the Standard Oil company to give bond for its appearance in court. The company cannot run away. I have never heard of a corporation being compelled to give bail in a criminal prosecution."

The indictments returned far exceed any advance estimate of what the two grand juries have been doing in their secret sessions, yet it is declared to be apparent that the reports are but the beginnings of the government's battle against Standard Oil. The indictments referred simply to rebate giving and receiving, and were returned as under the Elkins interstate commerce law of 1887. The vastly more important phase of the proceedings is what is now the uppermost endeavor of the Roosevelt administration as betokened by the policy which has been mapped out by the president and Attorney General Moody is to bring Standard Oil on to an accounting as violating the Sherman anti-trust law, as a corporation acting in restraint of trade.

CONSIDER RAILROAD TARIFFS

New Rate Law is Discussed by Shippers and Carriers.

Washington.—To discuss certain phases of the railroad rate law which took effect Monday, there was a conference which lasted the greater part of Tuesday between the members of the interstate commerce commission and representatives of the railroads and shippers of the country.

The railroad representatives uniformly gave assurance of their intention to fully comply with the new law, but presented their views as to the operation of certain provisions, among the points urged being extension of time in which carriers may file their tariffs with the commission.

The shippers' representatives urged the protection of their interests, particularly against the railroads shifting classifications so as to put up rates and contending for the discretion of the commission in the export and import charges and for the publication of tariffs in the full acceptance of that term. The commission reserved decision of the questions brought up.

NEW RAILROAD LAW IN EFFECT

Lines Have Been Unable to File Schedules for Switching.

New York.—The new railroad rate law which applies to all railroads doing an interstate business went into effect at midnight Monday. It will be enforced by the interstate commerce commission.

According to the new law the roads were to have filed with the commission by midnight all their tariffs and charges, showing not only the full cost of transportation from point to point, but also what items go into the making up of this cost. From now on there can be no "extras," but the shipper is expected to be able to obtain in advance a final statement of the charge he has to meet.

It was stated that not a single company has been able to fully comply with the provisions of the law requiring them to have all their schedules on file by midnight. The schedule of switching charges was the most difficult of completion, and it is said that no road has been able to finish it in time to file as the law directed.

CHURCH FUNDS LOST

PRESBYTERIAN CASH TIED UP IN TRUST FAILURE.

IN HANDS OF RECEIVER

Big Philadelphia Institution, With Liabilities of $10,000,000, Closed When Death of President Reveals Its Condition.

Philadelphia.—Unable to meet its obligations because of the large amount of money loaned on insufficient security by its president, now dead, the Real Estate Trust company of Philadelphia, which up to last Saturday, was considered one of the strongest financial institutions in the city, closed its doors Tuesday. Soon after the doors closed George H. Earle, Jr., a prominent financier, was appointed receiver. The liabilities of the company are placed at $10,000,000 against which there are quick assets of about $3,500,000 and collateral of about $9,000,000 which is not negotiable or readily convertible. This doubtful collateral is held mostly as security for loans of about $5,300,000 made to Adolf Segal, a promoter of this city. The man responsible for the failure was Frank K. Hipple, one of Philadelphia's best known citizens, who died suddenly last Friday morning in his country home at Bryn Mawr, near here, under circumstances which, in the light of developments lead to the suspicion that he may have committed suicide.

Mr. Hipple, in addition to being president of the Real Estate Trust company was the treasurer of the board of trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States and of several other church funds, and was a director of the Franklin National bank.

In addition to the deposits of the General Assembly, the Real Estate Trust also had about $25,000 of funds placed there by Dr. Roberts as stated clerk. The Presbyterian hospital of Philadelphia and the Presbyterian board of relief, also had sums of money in the failed institution.

For the loans to Adolf Segal Hipple accepted as collateral securities of the Majestic hotel, a big new apartment house, operated by Segal, the Swedish Steel company of Lancaster, Pa., and the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company of this city. The steel company and the sugar refining concern have never been placed in operation. Segal claims the collateral he gave is good and that he will meet all his obligations. There are others to whom Hipple loaned money on insufficient security but their names have not been made public and the sums are not believed to be large. How far Hipple benefitted in the loans made or whether he was merely the tool of others is yet to be determined.

Philadelphia.—Receiver George H. Earle, Jr., Wednesday took charge of the affairs of the Real Estate Trust company which failed Tuesday because of the heavy loans made by Frank K. Hipple, late president, to Adolf Segal, a promoter, upon insufficient security.

John H. Converse, a director of the company, and one of the foremost Presbyterian laymen in the country, upon whose petition the receiver was appointed, said he was satisfied that the securities of the various Presbyterian church boards are safe. The Presbyterian hospital, of which Mr. Hipple was treasurer, elected the Fidelity Trust company as his successor and through that concern learned that the institution's securities, amounting to $1,500,000 are intact.

Holidaysburg, Pa.—Adolf Segal, of Philadelphia, Wednesday sold the town of South Altoona to Roland & Waddell, of Pittsburg. This town had been developed by the Knickerbocker contracting company, of which Segal is the head, at a reported outlay of $1,500,000. The price paid by the purchasers was $500,000. Mr. Segal is the promoter who figured in the failure of the Real Estate Trust company.

BRYAN ARRIVES IN SAFETY

POPULACE CHEERS NOTED DEMOCRAT ON RETURN.

Delegations from Nebraska Enthusiastically Hail Their Well-Known Neighbor as Next President of the United States.

New York.—Under gray skies but in exuberant spirits and bronzed by the suns of many climates during a year of travel completely around the world, William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska, twice the nominee of the Democratic party for president of the United States and already endorsed as the candidate of 1908, steamed up New York Bay Wednesday afternoon on the steamer Princess Irene and received an ovation from large welcoming parties which went down to quarantine to meet and cheer the incoming vessel and its distinguished passenger.

Mr. Bryan did not enjoy his usual health during the voyage, but he was much better Wednesday and said that he felt sure he would be able to carry out the plans which have been made for him during the next few days. He was very much fatigued when he boarded the steamer and during the entire voyage suffered from indigestion and severe headache. His illness was not serious enough to interfere with his work, however, and he devoted a large portion of the nice days at sea in preparing his speeches and in keeping up his correspondence.

Mr. Bryan did not land in New York city proper until Thursday afternoon when he was received at the Battery by delegations of prominent Democrats from all parts of the country and escorted to the hotel where he will make his headquarters while here. He was taken off the Princess Irene by special permission of President Roosevelt shortly after the vessel had anchored in quarantine. First he went aboard two yugs which had been chartered by "Bryan's Nebraska Home Folks," where he was exultantly greeted and hailed as the next president. He then went aboard the trim little yacht "Illini," owned by his long time friend and schoolmate, Edward F. Goltra, of St. Louis, and where such well known Democrats as Norman E. Mack, national committeeman for New York, and Daniel J. Campau, national committeeman for Michigan, were awaiting him. In the "Illini" Mr. Bryan was taken to the landing of the Ocean Yacht club at Stapleton, Staten Island, where he landed and was whirled, away in an automobile to the home of Lewis Nixon, "Ben Braw," on the heights of Tompkinsville and overlooking the harbor.

VICTIMS NUMBER 32.

Daughter of Premier Stolypin Not Killed by Bomb.

St. Petersburg.—The daughter of Premier Stolypin, who was injured by the bomb explosion in the premier's summer home Saturday and who was erroneously reported to have died, was still alive Sunday, having passed a quiet night under the effects of an opiate. The premier's son, who also was hurt, is better.

Two more persons injured by the explosion died Saturday night, bringing the total number of deaths up to 32. Twenty-six persons were killed instantly.

Saturday's unsuccessful attempt on the life of Premier Stolypin with its sickening, useless slaughter of 32 persons, was followed Sunday night by another revolutionary outrage in which Gen. Min, commander of the Semenovskiy guard regiment and who since his promotion to be a general has been attached as a personal adjutant to the suite of the emperor, was killed on the station platform at Peterhof by a young woman, who fired five shots into his body from an automatic revolver and then, without resistance, submitted to arrest. The capture of the girl was effected by Gen. Min's wife, who held her until the arrival of an officer.

BRYAN IN COTHAM

GREAT RECEPTION GIVEN TO DISTINGUISHED NEBRASKAN.

MAYOR TOM JOHNSON PRESIDES

The Madison Square Garden Calls to be Sounding of Democratic Call—Outline of What the Political Policy Should Be.

NEW YORK.—William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska, who arrived in New York harbor Wednesday afternoon and spent the night with friends on a steam yacht down the bay, landed in New York City Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock and was the recipient of marked attentions from that hour until late at night when he had finished a notable eighty-minute address before 20,000 persons gathered to Madison Square garden. Mr. Bryan outlined clearly and vigorously the principles he thought should guide the democrats in their campaign.

Greeted by nearly every prominent democrat in the country and accompanied by them, Mr. Bryan was driven from the yacht landing at the Battery to the Victoria hotel, where he was called upon for an impromptu speech and then shook hands for more than an hour with an apparently never-ending line of citizens. He dined with his family and friends and then was driven in an automobile to Madison Square garden, where his welcome home was made complete by demonstration.

The garden meeting was presided over by Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland. There were brief addresses by Governor Joseph Folk, Missouri; Augustus Thomas, the playwright; Harry W. Walker of the Commercial Travelers' Anti-Trust league, under whose auspices the reception was given, and Mr. Johnson.

There were several outside meetings, the principle one of which was addressed by Representative Sulzer of New York, Governor Glenn of North Carolina and Mayor Dabney of Omaha. When Mr. Bryan had concluded his garden address at a few minutes after 10 o'clock and appeared outside the hall, he received another ovation. He needed no introduction to the vast crowd which had waited long to hear him and spoke briefly.

Mr. Bryan was then driven with Mrs. Bryan in an automobile directly to his hotel where he was greeted by W. E. Hearst. The party went to the reception rooms where they talked for some minutes. Shortly before 11 o'clock, Mr. Bryan, much fatigued, retired to his apartments.

The night reception, which was given under the auspices of the Commercial Travelers' Anti-Trust league, proved really to be the sounding of the democratic campaign call. Mr. Bryan's speech was a clear cut outline of his ideas as to what the democratic policy should be. The election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, regulation of the trusts by the government, a universal eight-hour day, settlement of all international disputes by arbitration rather than by resort to force, and revision of the tariff were his chief points. Mr. Bryan declared, however, that he was merely expressing his own opinion and not attempting to forecast the policy of his party.

EMBEZZLEMENT AND SUICIDE.

Senatorial Developments Come Thick and Fast in Philadelphia Failure. PHILADELPHIA.—Examination of the list of securities held by the defunct Real Estate Trust company developed the fact that Frank K. Hipple, president of the institution, who committed suicide, was an embezzler.

The authority for this statement is George H. Earle, Jr., receiver for the trust company. Mr. Earle declined to say what securities are missing, but he declared that Hipple had hypothecated $65,000 worth of the paper, securing $50,000 for the securities, which he never returned. Receiver Earle further declared that President Hipple embezzled the $50,000 he loaned Adolf Segal, the promoter.
