PENINSULA BASE BURNERS

The stove that saves you money in fuel is the kind for you to buy. The stove that produces the greatest heat from the least fuel is the one that saves you money.

The PENINSULA line of Base Burners do both. When you burn a pound of coal you generate a certain fixed quantity of heat. The stove that retains this heat the longest by making it travel over the greatest amount of radiating surface, is the heater that has the greatest heating ability. Price $30.00 and up.

Every friend of the Columbus schools is proud of the showing made by Columbus in the educational exhibit at the state fair. Out of six entries, Columbus is credited with five first prizes and one second. The first prizes were won in manual training, clay-modelling, drawing and individual water colors. The second prize was awarded Columbus on collective exhibit of water colors. The individual water color prizes were won by Rose Leavy and Mabel Puschel. This is a most excellent record and it reflects credit to the teachers in our city schools from Supt. Sherman down.

Charles Wurdeman recently completed a school house in the Jenny district near Leigh which will probably become a model for other school districts in this part of Nebraska. In the front are two vestibules, one for girls and one for boys. These open into a school room 25 by 30 feet which is lighted entirely from one side so that no pupil is required to face the light. One whole wall is given to blackboard space. There is a small teacher's room in one end of the building and the ceiling is of steel. The building and equipment cost $1800 and the district raised the money by taxation before starting the building. Miss Lewis is the teacher in this new school house, this being her third year in the same district.
