The following communication having been denied admission to the columns of the Journal, I ask you to print it in the Journal: Editor Telegram.

Dear Sir: In your issue of the 7th inst., describing the Hon. W. J. Bryan's reception in New York city, there is such a gross misstatement of facts, that in the writer's opinion, the matter ought to be rectified and the truth stated in plain English to the readers of your valuable paper.

Referring to the rules of the New York custom house regulating the inspection of imported goods you make the following statement: "So suspicious is your Uncle Sam that he commands that every American woman coming home from abroad shall be carefully searched, even down to her stockings, for concealed loaves, silks, gloves, diamonds and other dutiable goods."

What a base slander of Uncle Sam by an American citizen, when it is admitted even in foreign countries in the matter of custom house rules and regulations Uncle Sam is the least suspicious and the most generous of all.

The fact of the matter is that only in rare and exceptional cases, when the custom officers have good reason to suspect a lady of being an expert smuggler is she compelled to address in the presence of a lady attendant and have her wearing apparel searched.

In the name of fairness and justice to Uncle Sam and every man in this great country of ours let us have the truth, and surely after the dire predictions of the great W. J. Bryan that did not materialize, democracy is sadly in need of being square and truthful in politics.

Respectfully,
Albert Stenger.

Tom Dress and Joe Ager of Woodville were in this city Saturday returning from western Nebraska where Mr. Dress bought some land.

There will be communion service in the Presbyterian church next Sabbath at 11 o'clock. All members are requested to be present. The usual service in the evening. The pews are free to all.

Mrs. John Schram, of Seattle, accompanied by the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schram of Ballard, Wash., arrived in this city last week for a brief visit with Mrs. J. P. Becker and other relatives.

Spontaneous combustion started a fire in Fred Gottschalk's new house last Wednesday which did some peculiar stunts. It burned a round hole through a step of the stairs and died out without igniting a quantity of shavings which were just under the step. One of the painters who had worked in the house the day before had left some waste cloth in his overalls pocket and had thrown the overalls down on the stairway. Sometime during the night it is supposed that the waste cloth was ignited by spontaneous combustion. The overalls were all destroyed except the suspenders.

"You are not dead yet, because your chin is warm." This was the language of the half-drunk stranger who picked up J. Wagner of Belwood last week, after the latter had been run over by a team and wagon and suffered three broken ribs and many bruises on his face and body. And, indeed it looked for a while as if Wagner was fatally injured. It is not known how he happened to get under the foot of the passing team. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital where his fractures were reduced and his bruises treated. Mr. Wagner, who is an insurance agent at Belwood, was taken home Monday.

W. H. Swartley, the well-known Platte county poultry man was judge of the poultry department of the Madison county fair last week. Mr. Swartley spoke in highest terms of the exhibit at Madison but says that the heavy rains almost ruined the fair from a financial standpoint. He also said that Mrs. Luther North, who had some Barred Rocks and Rhode Island Reds in the exhibition won the lion's share of the prize. Mr. Swartley says that a good many entries will be made at the Boone county fair at Albion this week by Platte county poultry raisers and that he anticipates a large attendance at Albion from Columbus.

Owing to the anxiety of the incoming students at the Creighton Dental college to get to work, the infirmary at that institution will be opened Monday morning, with free attention for all who apply. Secretary Condon of Humphrey arrived in the city and Friday and immediately took charge of the affairs under Dean Ryan, and the school will open on October 1. A meeting of the faculty was held as soon as Dr. Condon arrived and it was decided to open up the infirmary at once. The roll of students at the college is double what it was at the opening last year, and the success of the school is considered to be phenomenal by Dr. Condon and the faculty.—Omaha World-Herald.

The young people of the Presbyterian church were entertained by the members of the Christian Endeavor society last Friday evening at the home of Dr. E. H. Nauman. A short entertaining program was given. Among other things, much merriment was occasioned by the discovery of four of our prominent and professional men. Dr. Lueschen, Attorney McElfresh, Dr. Campbell Carl Becker, each holding a fluffy white apron and holding a pan of potatoes, ready to begin to pare at a given moment. The purpose of the contest was to see which young man could do the neatest work in the shortest time. They were stimulated to do their best by an excited and admiring audience of young ladies. The palm of merit was gracefully won by Mr. McElfresh and justly awarded by competent judges composed of married ladies. Miss Olga Rasmussen carried off the honors in a guessing game entitled, "A Romance in Song." Candy was served during the evening. All present expressed themselves as having an enjoyable time.

Demand Creates Supply.

People who want to improve the theatre should go to the theatre. The demand creates the supply, but no amount of supply will create a demand. There will be good plays and bad plays according to the audience attending. The play should teach the ethics of life by example. It can and it does. It appeals to better instincts and husbands our endangered ideals. The cry today is that the play is not what it should be. Just how great it shall be rests primarily with the public that can come or stay away. If it allows the stage to be ruled by the vulgar and the licentious it will get that kind of plays. There's no need to say much about "Monte Cristo" which comes to the North Opera house, October 22. The Dumas play has been before the public for over seventy years. Its admirers will flock to the theatre just as they have always done in the past. And with good reason, for "Monte Cristo" is one of the "bully" good plays. It comes with a sterling good actor in the title role. Eugene Moore assumes the part which he is said to do excellently.

Miss Lillian Ernst returned home after a three weeks' visit with Miss Leach at Lincoln. Miss Leach was the guest of Miss Ernst here for several weeks last month.

Ed Williams of Monroe returned last week from a four month's trip to Europe. Mr. Williams was delighted with his visit, but he expressed himself as being glad to return to his Nebraska home.

O. D. Vincent, a well known farmer and stockman of St. Edward called at the Journal office yesterday on his way from North Dakota where he bought several thousand acres of land three years ago. Mr. Vincent has just sold his Boone county land and will invest more in North Dakota. Land which Mr. Vincent paid $8 an acre for three years ago he is retuning $13 an acre for today. Mr. Vincent managed the big Brainard ranch west of St. Edward when he first came to the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark of Woodville returned Tuesday from a three weeks' eastern trip. They visited Niagara Falls and went down the St. Lawrence to Quebec and Toronto. Mr. Clark gave the Journal a very vivid description of their trip. They enjoyed especially their trip through The Thousand Islands in the mouth of the St. Lawrence where every habitable island is made the summer home of one or more wealthy people and they were impressed by the Pilgrimage to St. Anne, from Quebec, where ten thousand throw-away crutches mark the cure of the thousands who have gone to the shrine of St. Anne and departed free from disease. Mr. Clark was especially interested in the methods of agriculture which he found in vogue near Quebec. The land, originally owned by the old French families has descended from father to son, being divided and subdivided until the farms in many instances are narrow strips of land running back from the river, the river frontage being made the basis of division. On these small narrow strips of land Mr. Clark was surprised to see the primitive methods of farming practiced by our grandfathers. He saw women cutting grain with scythes and cradle and instead of the up-to-date steam thrasher of Nebraska he saw the little separator run by the one-horse tread mill. Mr. and Mrs. Clark return with greater faith than ever in Nebraska. During their absence they visited the old home of Mr. Clark's mother at Cooperstown, N. Y. Mr. Clark's mother was a niece of the great novelist, J. Fenimore Cooper, whose Indian stories will delight the children of all future ages.

Magnificent stage settings, elaborate scenery and costumes are features with the big city production of "Romeo and Juliet" September 28.

Miss Kelse's Millinery Opening, Thursday, Sept. 27. Music from 7:30 to 9 p. m.

Mrs. Helen West, mother of Mrs. Homer Robinson who has been visiting in Columbus the past week returned to her home in Omaha Tuesday.

Albert Ryan who sold out at Osceola was here during the past week. He has landed interests in Greeley county and other parts of the state.

F. T. Walker returned last Saturday from a trip to Bird City, Kan., where he and Sam and Merv Elston employed building barns on several of his farms.

A car of merchandise was scattered about the tracks in the Union Pacific yards last Friday morning as the result of a small collision. The car was also splintered.

Governor J. H. Mickey was here on Friday. The Governor had been over to Norfolk as a witness in the Norfolk Insane Asylum examination, before the grand jury.

Livermy Custer of Shelby bought out the livermy business of Louis Brunken on South 11th street, and will take possession at once. The Journal has not learned Mr. Brunken's future plans.

The mails have been late the past week on account of the floods at other places. There have been no floods here, neither as much rain as at other places around us. The precipitation here for the past ten days has been 3.5 inches.

Miss Nell Evans left Monday for Washington, D. C. where she will enter the National Park Seminary, a school for girls. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. C. D. Evans who will visit friends in Chicago and New York for ten days before her return.

Dr. Deming of Chicago, who spent several weeks here last summer with his old college classmate, Dr. D. T. Martyn, died very suddenly last Saturday night while he was making a professional call. Dr. Martyn left Monday for Chicago to attend the funeral.

Special services were held at Grace church last Sunday. In the morning a harvest home was held for the benefit of Clarkson hospital of Omaha and in the afternoon the Sunday School gave a flower service and the flowers were sent to St. Mary's hospital in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hood of 216 Third St. announce the engagement of their daughter Rose Elizabeth to George Louis Swartley of Bloomington, Ill. The wedding will take place in October. Miss Hood is a bright young woman who has a large circle of acquaintances. Mr. Swartley is a salesman for the National Biscuit Co.—Fort Wayne Independent.

P. E. McKillip received a telegram Wednesday afternoon advising him of the death of Edward Ryan, father of Mert Ryan in Los Angeles, at 11 o'clock in the morning of the same day. Mr. Ryan's death was a great surprise to his friends and relatives here, it not being known that he was very ill. The cause of his death, we understand, was from a stroke of paralysis. Few people are compelled to endure the sorrow which has come to Mrs. Ryan during the past two years. During those two years her two sons and only children Charley and Mert died, and now hardly before the dirt on Mert's grave has had time to settle, Mr. Ryan is also called to the great beyond. Mrs. Ryan has certainly a sorrowful lot and her many friends in Humphrey and Platte county sympathize with her.—Humphrey Democrat.

Charles Sillman of Lead, S. D. called on friends in this city last week. He was on his way to San Diego, Calif. to visit his mother.

Joseph Glasser, of southeast of town was a caller at the World-Office Monday and when questioned regarding the proposed new railroad through the central part of the county, said that a party of surveyors were working on his land that day, which is about eight miles southeast of town. There are thirteen or fourteen men in the party. They are going west at the rate of about two miles per day. The object of this survey seems to be to straighten the preliminary survey as much as possible. The stakes that they are placing now are not grade stakes. The nearest point to Leigh from this survey is about five and a half miles. It crosses the south road from town at Dassenbrook's farm.—Leigh Town.

The Tilden Citizen last week made the following comment on the proposed partnership of Dr. Paul and Dr. Matzen mentioned in last week's Journal: "Dr. Matzen has made arrangements to enter into a partnership with Dr. J. E. Paul a life-long friend, for the practice of dentistry at Columbus. Dr. Matzen came to Tilden in June 1901 and, being provided with a first class equipment, soon secured a profitable connection. He soon demonstrated his professional ability and a highly satisfied clientele brought him constantly increasing business. His genial and courteous personality made him a host of friends outside his patients, and when he determined to leave Tilden for Norfolk nearly two years ago, general regret was expressed throughout this community."

Patrick Regan whose serious illness the Signal mentioned last week, died at his home near Madison, about ten o'clock Wednesday morning. The funeral was held this Friday, morning at Madison. Deceased felt the first symptoms of the disease, locomotor ataxia, which terminated his life, last fall, and from since early in the spring he has been confined to his bed. He was 67 years of age. Mr. Regan was born in Ireland and came to the United States in 1868. In 1871 he came to Nebraska with his brother Dennis, from Illinois, and settled on a homestead a short distance northeast of Platte Center. He lived in that vicinity until two years ago last spring, when he purchased a farm near Madison. His immediate family consisted of a wife, two sons, one daughter and a brother.—Platte Center Signal.

Platte Center has had a Modern Woodman lodge for several years. But of late interest in it had waned and but little was heard of it until a couple of weeks ago when Deputy W. C. James, of Norfolk came here and began to work up and interest and list new applicants for membership. The result of his efforts was manifested last Saturday evening when twenty new members were initiated. The working team of the Monroe lodge was here and did the work, which consumed nearly the whole night. A number of visiting members from Columbus and Monroe were present. A substantial supper was served at the Clover hotel. There were several other applicants for admission, but their cases could not be attended to because of lack of time. They will be accommodated at another time.—Platte Center Signal.

Last Wednesday evening a portion of our county was visited by a destructive hail storm which was accompanied by a high wind, and in the track of greatest destruction, by a fearful whirlwind. The storm came from the southeast, leaving Columbus, as it were, between the prongs of a fork, one part of the storm going south, and one north along the Shell Creek valley. John Early's place seems to have been at the junction of the hail prongs. It is a singular fact that the same localities have been visited by similar storms for several years in succession. Last year Mr. Early's crops were partially destroyed by hail, and three years out of four, his crops have been wholly or partially destroyed. The storm Wednesday damaged crops and buildings on the farms of the following named persons south and west of town: Wright, P. H. Kelley, Hendrick, Chapin, Schaeffer, Robinson, Stevenson, Clark, Dietrichs, Grant, Mayberger, Boutson, Leut, Kinzie and Pinnas.

Last Thursday a match game of base ball between the "Shoo Flies" of Columbus and the "Jack Rabbits" of Shelbyville drew many to our city. At the end of the ninth inning the score stood 64 to 37 in favor of the Columbus boys. The game lasted three hours. George Turner umpired. Mr. Finnau scored for the Rabbits and William Rott for the Flies.
