The Stove Season is Close at Hand..

The names of the following lines carry Merit, Serviceability and Economy.

- Peninsular Base Burners
- Genuine Beckwith Round Oak
- The Original Cole's Hot Blast
- Round Oak Chief Steel Ranges

We can not mention all the points of Merit here. We give you a cordial invitation to visit this department and allow us to explain their superior points.

BE WISE, and if you are going to buy a range, look up the ROUND OAK CHIEF—the range of the year. The very best material that money will buy and the same painstaking fine workmanship in fitting and putting together that made the Round Oak stove preeminent, are used in turning out this range of highest quality. It stands today absolutely unequalled, and the makers invite the most thorough inspection and comparison. Its points of merit can be mentioned here but briefly; it must be seen to be appreciated. They are: Round Oak cast iron used in top and fire box—rated as the best for strength and durability ever put in stoves. Wellville polished steel for the body, the best known one sheet making the entire body with simple round bends for the corners. Fine workmanship? You will say so. The nickle work rich and smooth; the entire range can be quickly cleaned by simply wiping with a cloth. The asbestos insulation, three times the thickness commonly used, protecting the oven perfectly. The fire box, extra heavy sectional fire front and fire back. Duplex grate for wood and coal. The oven, full size, nearly square, and two inches higher than usual,—finest oven you ever saw on a range. The reservoir holds nine gallons, heats by contact, can bake, and heat water at the same time.

There are many other new and practical features of interest. The chief is moderate in price, a fine quick worker with little fuel, and as it has already pleased and satisfied thousands of users it will do the same for you. We ask that you see it. Made with or without oven thermometer.

Our stoves are Winners

WILL YOU INVESTIGATE the merits of the genuine Round Oak heating stove if you are going to buy a stove? There are many good reasons why this famous stove is the most popular, has the largest sale and surpasses all others in the complete and satisfactory way it does its work, and you should know them. Do not experiment—you can just as well have the stove that holds the fire; that is as easily regulated as a lamp; that lasts a lifetime; that will please and satisfy you every day and night you use it. It burns any kind of fuel successfully—hard or soft coal, coke or wood. With soft coal it makes the finest fire possible, owing to the double fire pot with hot blast which burns the soot and gases and makes the smoke clear. The cone center grate prevents the formation of clinkers, and simply shaking the grate clears the entire bottom of the fire uniformly. For hard coal it is a great success; it is all radiating surface—no heat is lost, and it is guaranteed to excel all others in giving warmth and satisfaction with economy of fuel. It can be had with or without magazine—same double fire pot and grate.

All its superior merits cannot be set down in this small space. You must see it and note the good material and fine workmanship in fitting and putting together; note the low down grate close to the floor which it heats thoroughly under and around the stove. Remember there is no other stove like it—it is different and better—others are made to look like it. There are hundreds of imitations. See the name, "Round Oak" on the leg—only the genuine has it.—Price $16.00 and up
