For the last four months the Nebraska Telephone company have been getting ever, thing in readiness to install the central energy system for Columbus. In their new offices in the Phillip-Friedhof building the switch boards, and other appliances are installed, and there are 25 reels of cable in the yard and more cable arriving every day, this being received in car load lots. This improvement means rebuilding the exchange and when the work is completed the exchange will all be new equipment. In this connection the company will comply with an ordinance passed some time ago giving them five years to put their place in the alley, and they will have this done two years before the time required. Manager Holliday expects to occupy the new offices within two months, and when the transfer is being made not one of the patrons will be inconvenienced in the least. A special gang of thirty or forty will come out from headquarters and rush the work through in a few days.

The beautiful autumn days are here, the cere and yellow leaf shows plentifully among the foliage that but a few days since was so fresh and green. October with its lovely summery days is here, and frosty air and weather in the evenings which set the blood tingling in the veins. From various parts Columbusites are flocking back to take their places in their city homes, and to settle down to their busy lives of Autumn and winter, they come from the country where they have luxuriated in the open air all day and perhaps all night long. They come from mountains, from the lakes, some return from European and other foreign lands and all are glad to get back home, while all have enjoyed the summer, and the outdoor air and the life of ease, yet all are glad to get back to their winter life, to enjoy that which the city has to give them and to take up their usual avocations. The signs point to a season of unusual attractiveness.

The new Union Pacific freight depot will be a reality in the near future. It will be located between L and N streets and will be 40x100 feet and the material used will be brick. The unloading platform will be 16x370 feet and located on the last side of the depot. The brick for the new depot was shipped from Pueblo about ten days ago and as soon as it arrives work will begin. The estimated cost of the building is in the neighborhood of $9,000. The old depot one of the old land marks along the The Overland will be torn down and the ground used for trackage. The location of the depot in the last end of yards will necessitate considerable rearrangement of the track in that locality.

We are glad to have a President in our midst, and are extending the glad hand to him. We now have the headquarters of the Bryan "Home Folks" association, and those who went 1600 miles to greet Mr. Bryan, want to do so again; All of the Home Folk went down to Lincoln on Monday and had a high tide that night at the expense of Colonel, besides capturing the highest office in the H. F. A.; Allow me to introduce to you Gentlemen, Judge Edgar Howard, the President of the "Home Folks" association.

For the past couple of weeks, E. H. Chambers has not been keeping house, but has got his lunch and dined wherever he might be at the time, a kind of spatch as catch can, he don't have to do that way now, for Mrs. E. H. returned from her two weeks visiting friends at Lincoln, last Monday evening.

Prowett's Acceptance.

The following from the letter of acceptance from W. F. Prowett should insure to him the support of all honest Platte county citizens:

FULLERTON, Sept. 25, 1906.

R. G. Strother, Secretary Republican Float Representative Convention for the 25th Representative District—My Dear Sir:—In response to your letter notifying me of the action of the republican convention held in your city on the 17th inst., which nominated me as a candidate for the legislature from the 25th representative district, I wish to say that I am profoundly thankful for the honor thus conferred, and am in hearty accord with the platform adopted by the republican state convention on August 22d last. I stand squarely upon the republican state platform and if elected to the next legislature, I pledge my best efforts to the enactment of a stringent anti-pass law; a primary election law, providing for the nomination of all state, county and district officers, including congressmen and United States senators, by direct vote, and a state law along the lines of the law enacted by the last congress regulating freight rates and transportation. In fact, I heartily approve of every plank in the platform. I too should be proud of the opportunity to vote for the office of United States senator, the Hon. Norris Brown, who during his term of office as attorney general, has so ably stood for the interests of the people as against the corporations.

Yours sincerely,
W. F. PROWETT.

Mr. Daniel Metheny was the cause of that big smile on John H. Spanhacker's countenance Monday. Mr. Spanhacker had lost a pocket watch containing $85.00 in the Saloon of Daniel Metheny and was agreeably surprised when Mr. Metheny found the money and returned it to him.

The engines of the Union Pacific R. R. could not take water here on Monday on account of the standpipe being out of fix. During the night before an engine backed up to take water; knocked the water pipe into smithereens and the standpipe leaked out all the water that was in it. It took some time to get it fixed so that water could be had from that stand pipe.

The remains of Mr. J. E. Hicks were brought to Columbus for burial Monday. Mr. Hicks lived in this section of the state for many years and was a man highly appreciated for his manly and gentlemanly qualities. He was born in North Marysburg, Ontario, Canada, January 13th 1844 and died at the home of his daughter Mrs. L. F. Miller at Allenton, Pa. September 26th 1906. He leaves living three children, H. C. Hicks of El Reno, Okla.; E. C. Hicks, Ridge-town, Montana; and Mrs. L. F. Miller, Allenton, Pa. Mr. Hicks was well known among the educators of Nebraska and Canada, he was a graduate at the Albert University of Ontario, Canada and also a graduate at the University of Nebraska. He was Superintendent of schools at Monroe, Reno, Cedar Rapids, and Albion for a number of years and also taught school 17 years in Canada. The last three years he has been traveling on account of his health. He was a member of the Episcopal church and also a Mason. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon at Grace church of which faith the deceased had been attached to all his life. The Rev. Dr. Westcott Rector officiated. The hymns were rendered by a quartet of members of Grace Church.

A lot of people

Should wear glasses who don't.

That's a safe statement to make.

Our experience has been that people do not give the first signs of coming eye troubles the prompt attention they should.

They seem to put the matter off as long as possible, and it isn't the right way to do, not by any means.

We are always ready to attend to the examination of your eyes, and as the service is absolutely FREE, there can be no real reason for delay.

On account of his business interests Hugh Hughes has declined to accept the republican nomination for senator from the Twelfth district and has notified the committee. Mr. Hughes declined the nomination at the time of the convention, but his friends had hoped he would reconsider. The committee expects to fill the vacancy soon and among those mentioned as probable candidates are Judge T. H. Saunders of this city, and it is quite probable that his name will be placed on the ticket.

Tuesday morning word was received by relatives of the death of C. D. Jenkins of Norfolk. Mr. Jenkins was a brother of the late E. H. Jenkins of this city and was well known here. He occupied a department store at Norfolk until about a year ago, when he sold out his interest and moved on his farm near Madison. Mrs. E. H. Jenkins and son Leo left Tuesday evening for Madison to attend the funeral, which will be held Thursday. Mr. Jenkins' age was 60 years.

We are glad that the Mayor and City Council have passed an ordinance forbidding spitting on the sidewalks and crossings, where decent people have to go, and now if they will go one better and stop the ridding of bicycles on the walks, especially when they sound no whistle or bell, to warn pedestrians that they are coming. What say you Mr. Mayor and Councilmen? We don't like to kick, neither do we want to be sent head over heels on the walks.

It takes time and money to notice all those who are absent from here attending the Ak-sar-bon festivities at Omaha, but it is very safe to say that more have gone from here to Omaha this week than ever before, they will paint the town red like crimson, and that the Union Pacific will send out a train on Thursday night for Columbus that will not arrive here until the wee-small-hours, for it leaves there about ten twelve.

Services in Grace church on Sunday next will be as follows: Holy communion 8 a. m.; morning prayer and benediction of the new choir stalls 11 a. m.; evening prayer and sermon 7:30 p. m. Special sermons will be preached by Dr. Westcott as follows: Morning, "Reasons why we should present this church to the American people; evening, "Confirmation what it means and what it is."
