JUDGE THOMAS H. SAUNDERS, Republican Candidate for State Senator.

Deeds are thoughts crystalized and according to their billiancy do we udge the worth of a man to the country which produced him, and in his works we expect to find the true index to his character. The subject of this review, Judge T. H. Saunders, is a worthy representative of that type of American character and of the progressive spirit which promote public good in advancing individual prosperity and conserving popular interests. His portrait is presented in connection with this sketch. The Judge is a native of New York, born April 2nd, 1837. His father, Thomas Saunders, was a native of New York and his mother of Connecticut. His father died in the year 1849 and his mother in 1889, both of them at Troy, N. Y.

In the city of his nativity Judge Saunders was raised to manhood, acquiring his education in the public schools and under private instruction. However, observation, extensive reading and a retentive memory have made him a well informed man and he is now a man of broad general culture. At the early age of twelve years he started out to make his own way in the world and learned the carriage makers trade, which he followed until his marriage to Mary E. Hayner on September 27th, 1858 when they lived on a small farm a few miles from Troy until the breaking out of the war of the rebellion, which event in the history of the nation changed the entire current of the life of Judge Saunders. Responding to his country's call for troops he became a private in Company F, 2nd N. Y. V. and followed with the army of the Potomac in the 2nd, 70th (1st Excelsior) and the 86th N. Y. V. He was finally discharged and paid off on the 4th day of July, 1865, after four years of valiant service. After the war was over Judge Saunders tried to work at his trade, but his health was so impaired he found it impossible, and he accepted a position at light work at Spencerport, N. Y., but again The fact that a change of a given | finding himself unequal to the task, he removed to a small farm. Osceola, and was elected county judge of the county and while serving in that capacity he took up the study of law and was admitted to the bar in 1887 by Judge T. L. Norval. He was also admitted to practice in the supreme court of the state and in all the departments of Washington, District of Columbia, and has been connected with much of the important litigation heard in his district. Aside from his duties on the bench he served as Clerk of the District Court for four years, and was the first Clerk of the District Court of Polk county, Nebraska. The Judge is a prominent Mason since February. 1864, has served as Master of the Masonic lodges for nine years and at present is a member of Lebanon Lodge No. 58 Orient Chapter No. 18, or both lodge-Chapter & Commandery of Columbus. He also belongs to the Odd Fellows, has passed through the chairs, has been District Deputy Grand Master of the state, and 'also Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge I. O.O. F. rosaic fellow. His attire is course alnost to the point of ungainlinesscoat a shade or two darker and edged with a strip of black fleece; a peaked woolen cap and a cane, and you have the picture. He is a farmer on a small scale, and his hobby is raising hogs, which he turns into the forests or fields to fatten on mast. The rural life in Servia is primitive. At sunup folks rise, take their raki, or schnapps, and go to the fields to work. Their meal is brought to them at noon and again in the evening, for they often work until sunset. And so life goes on and on. Across the bluffs that border the river a road runs parallel with the Danube, and here workmen are seen, dressed often in white suits with red girdles, striving to bring from the earth the grain that will not come. In Roumania and Bulgaria the grain lands are rich, but here the earth seems stubborn and improductive. So the laborer ekes out his existence as he may-the least interesting of all the laborers of southern

The Swiss Fourth of July. Aug. 1 is the Swiss Fourth of July, the national fete day. A traveler tells how he helped to celebrate it one year at one of the climbing centers in the Valais by eating the sumptuous dinner provided by the hotel without extra charge, applauding the fireworks display and a bonfire lighted high on the mountain side and shouting "Hourra!" at the end of a patriotic speech extolling the ancient military glories and present republican democracy of Switserland. Next morning came the strange sequel. The orator of the occasion, the most distinguished native visitor in the place, was appealed to as one who would certainly know the name of the Swiss president, but even he could not remember it. Nobody ever can. The name of that unassuming functionary is always less familiar in Switzerland than that of the lieutenant governor is in Illinois. He is merely the democracy's temporary of Jail Born Books. Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress" is the most famous and of its class incomparably the best English book ever written in prison. Bunyan was a prisoner in Bedford jail from 1660 to 1672 and in addition to his immortal allegory wrote "Grace Abounding" and "The Holy City" during those twelve years. Raleigh, who was a prisoner it the tower, 1603-14, occupied seven years of his captivity in writing his 'History of the World." "The King's Quair," a long and romantic love poem. was written by James I. of Scotland when in prison at Windsor castle in 1423. Smollett, during his three months' detention in the King's Bench prison for libel, wrote "The Adventures of Sir Launcelot Graves," and during a similar experience at Newgate in 1708 Defoe wrote a "Collection of Casualties and Disasters."

Nape and the Health. Prolonged "forty winks" during the day are severely condemned by many doctors on the ground that they affect one's regular sleep. Scientists have vitality between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. and the least between 2 o'clock and 6 o'clock in the morning. Long sleeps during the day interfere with this order of nature and sometimes affect various organs, causing headache. The nap of forty winks, but only forty, proves refreshing to many because it is too short to have any injurious consequences.—London Telegraph.

Milk In Turkey. In Turkey there is a great consump tion of the milk of the buffalo, the common cow, the goat and the ewe but it is hardly ever used in a natural state. According to a paper read at the London Academy of Medicine, the milk is considerably reduced. After slow cooling the milk is treated with a ferment taken from the previous day's supply. In a few hours a curd forms, which is called yaghoun. The preparation is preferred to milk, and it has a pleasant, clean, acid taste and is of course nutritious.

"Calumet," supposed to be an Indian word meaning "pipe of peace," was wholly unknown among the savages. It is Norman and signifies in general a pipe. The pipe of peace was a "ganowdace" among the Iroquois and a "poagun" among some other tribes. The Algonquins called it "poagan," the Winnebagoes "tahneehoo" and the Dacotahs "chaindonhoopa."

The Gulf Stream. Western Europe's climate would be changed entirely were the isthmus of Panama and adjacent territory to be submerged, for in that case the equatorial current would be carried into the Pacific ocean, and the gulf stream, which does so much to warm Europe would not emerge into the Atlantic.

Watch Jewels. A jeweler, no matter how dishonest, would not steal the jewels in a watch, for they are valueless. They cost only 10 cents spiece. In antique watches the jewels were often costly. In modern watches they are never worth more than $15 a gross.—Argonaut.
