Through the influence of Congressman McCarthy Columbus has a public building site, and through the influence of Congressman Boyd Columbus can have a public building. Stand up for Columbus and vote for Judge J. F. Boyd for congress.

The people demanded a rate bill, a pure food law, a free alcohol bill, and that the Panama canal be built. Then the republican party gave them this legislation as they promised, and is for the voters to put their seal of approval upon the record of the last two years.

The republican candidate for county attorney, C. N. McElfresh, is one of the younger attorneys of Columbus, and by hard work and strict application to his profession has made an excellent showing, and stands high with the legal fraternity of the county. He has never held office, but his qualifications are such that he will make an excellent official.

Now be candid, what is the difference between the man who uses a railroad pass and the man who requests a pass for some member of his family? One is just as bad as the other. Judge Graves, democratic candidate for congress, asked for and accepted a pass for his wife and mother-in-law to Minneapolis and return. In doing this he placed himself under obligations to the railroads just as much as though he had accepted an annual pass.

Nowhere in the state did the democrats in their county convention put up the fight for George W. Borge for governor that was put up in Platte county. And they did it because the party knew he was sincere in his fight against the railroads. Will these democrats support a man who was nominated by the very influences they are fighting, a man who was one of them responsible for turning down Mr. Borge on account of his anti-railroad stand? It was a square issue in the democratic state convention and the railroads won. We believe the democrats of this county were sincere in their fight for Mr. Borge and his principles, and that they will return to line up and vote for the railroad candidate, Mr. Shallenberger.

The republicans of Platte county were indeed fortunate in their choice of a candidate for county attorney and it is a pleasure for the Opinion to support such a man for office. Mr. McElfresh was born and raised in the state of West Virginia, where he received his education and graduated from the law school of the West Virginia university, in the fall of 1900. Came to Nebraska in 1901 and located in Platte county, where he taught school for one year. Was admitted to the bar in Nebraska in 1901 and located at Columbus to practice law where he has been successful. For the past six months he has been deputy county attorney and for the past two months he has had full charge of the office owing to the absence of the present county attorney. The position he has faithfully filled and has served the county honestly and capably and has thus shown he is the right man in the right place. Mr. McElfresh is a lawyer of good ability. He is clean in his personal life, and is honest and faithful with his clients. What this county needs, and something they have rarely had, is a county attorney that will faithfully attend to the duties of that office. In Mr. McElfresh you will have such an attorney. The voters of Platte county regardless of party should rally to his support.—Lindsay Opinion.

If we vote to elect a republican house, it will mean that we are voting to continue the good work of the last session of congress and those which preceded it since 1898. If we vote to elect a democratic house, it means that we are voting to put an effectual stop to that work, to register a disapproval of it, and to prevent the carrying out of the principles and policies of the republican party which the people two years ago declared should continue to be the policy of the government for four years, or during the administration of President Roosevelt.

SOME FACTS
To the Voters of Nance and Platte Counties:
Whereas the report that the republican candidate for State representative, Mr. W. F. Prowett, is not a loyal republican is being circulated throughout the 25th representative district and knowing such a report to be a falsehood, started for the sole purpose of deceiving the voters and defeating Mr. Prowett on next election day we deem it but just to Mr. Prowett and to the voters of Nance and Platte counties, to refute this malicious misrepresentation by making a brief statement of the facts:
Formerly Mr. Prowett was a democrat. He, like many other democrats in the year 1896, refused to endorse the Platform of the democratic party but openly advocated the principles enunciated in the Platform of the Republican National Convention, and has ever since been an active and efficient worker in the republican ranks and is today, in hearty accord with the republican principles as manifested by the grand work of the republican President, and a Republican Congress and set forth in the platform of the last republican state convention.

Since his affiliation with the republican party, Mr. Prowett has proven himself a loyal and worthy member, and has at all times given freely his time for the good of the party, and for the election of the party's candidates.
If the advocacy of republican principles, and assiduously working and voting for these principles for ten years, constitutes a republican, then Mr. Prowett's republicanism cannot be questioned.
If receiving a nomination for office unsolicited, and being an honest, upright and fearless man, in every way qualified to discharge the duties of the office to which he aspires, is a recommendation, then Mr. Prowett comes to the voters of the 25th representative district as highly recommended as any man possibly could come.

OUR SUPERVISOR CANDIDATES
Herman Klawer of district No. 5 is one of the successful farmers of Shell Creek township, and while he has not been a candidate for any office, he has kept in touch with county affairs and understands the needs of his district and the county. In looking after county affairs he will handle them in the same manner he does his own, and that means he would make a careful and conservative supervisor.
J. H. Wurdeman, the candidate from district No. 1 is too well known in his own district to require any recommendations on our part. He is a man who has lived in that locality for over thirty years, and enjoys the confidence and respect of his neigh-

In using Calumet you are always assured of a good batter; therefore, there is no waste of material or time. Calumet is put up in a special case; it will keep longer than any other Baking Powder on the market and has more salted flavor.
CALUMET is so carefully and scientifically prepared that the ingredients are absolutely perfect. Therefore, Calumet leaves no Residue of Salt or Alum in the food. It is absolutely correct.

born, and by the management of his own affairs has shown that he is a most successful farmer and business man. Such a man makes an ideal supervisor. He is fair minded and honest, and everybody, irrespective of party, can vote for J. H. Wurdeman for supervisor.
John Swanson, the only candidate for re-election, has made a good record during the last term and to show their appreciation of his services he was given a unanimous re-nomination by the republicans of his district. Mr. Swanson has made a careful and conscientious supervisor, always looking after the interests of the county and his district, and his re-election will be a merited endorsement of his work.
O. C. Shannon, the candidate from districts No. 6 and 7, is probably as familiar with county affairs as any man in the city. He was city assessor for five consecutive terms, and until the change in the law to county assessor. His re-election for four consecutive years when the normal democratic majority in the city was nearly three hundred, speaks highly of his record as an official, and is a guarantee that the interests of the public will be properly safeguarded.

THE ISSUES THE SAME
Did you vote for President Roosevelt in 1904?
Are you satisfied with the present policies of the administration and those outlined for the next two years?
The issues are the same today as they were two years ago. The republican party under the leadership of President Roosevelt is working on the same line of legislation as in 1904.
During the last two years more important legislation has been enacted by congress than ever before in the history of the country, and there is still much to be accomplished along this line from 1906 to 1908.
If you endorsed the administration in 1904 there is no good reason why you should not endorse it in 1906. The election of T. H. Saunders, W. F. Prowett and Ed Leuchin as members of the legislature will be an endorsement of the president by the voters of Platte county.

BOYD COMMENT
Roosevelt in his sturdy and splendid manhood has given the party a glorious record of beneficent achievements and has placed a higher and nobler interpretation upon its policies—a square deal. He now asks for a republican congress so that the work so auspiciously begun may be advanced to a higher and fuller realization of a cleaner public life. Judge Boyd is a Roosevelt republican, in hearty accord with the administration and pledged to its policies. If elected his voice will be heard and his vote will be cast in the defense and for the maintenance of republican principles and republican institutions. He stands squarely on the congressional and state platforms committed to each and every pledge therein contained. Judge Boyd is not only a Roosevelt republican but he has personal merit and substantial manhood. To know him is to trust him. Where he is best known there he is most respected. Sincerity and honesty in public and private life have always been Judge Boyd's rule and guide to conduct. The opposition is bending every energy to elect Judge Graves, but republicans from every quarter of the district are meeting it with that zeal and enthusiasm which comes of the assurance of certain victory on the 6th of next November.

Don't Be Impressed Upon
Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations have similar sounding names. DOGS OF ALASKA.
The Native Hound is the Indispensable Herd-Booster.
The native dog is known as the "huskie" or "malamoot" and is a mongrel—one-half timber wolf. He has characteristics which especially fit him for his work. He is heavy set, with a thick coating of long hair, impervious to cold and with just enough wolf in his nature to make him restless, eager to go, and with a sufficient mixture of dog to temper a fierceness and a treachery which might and sometimes do become dangerous. All this is understood—in fact, carefully studied and watched by the Alaskan—and those qualities which manifest themselves in fidelity and gentleness are encouraged by kind treatment, while the wolfish side of their nature is quickly and effectually subdued by numerous whippings. These animals have not yet learned to express themselves by barking, and the only noise they can make is a dismal howl. It is a rare occurrence for them to bite a human being, but they will fight among themselves on the slightest provocation, and it is not an uncommon sight for half a dozen "huskies" to hold a pitched battle on the main street of Fairbanks. A bucket of cold water will generally put them to flight, but in the majority of cases the miners pay no attention to the melee and allow the dogs to fight it out.
The wolf nature manifests itself in their thieving propensities, and all food must be "cached" out of their reach. A hungry "huskie" will open a box of canned beef with ease by biting through the tin. He will lie before the door of a tent or cabin, pretending to be asleep, when in reality he is waiting for a chance to ransack the kitchen. One day I saw a miner's dinner wrecked by his own dog, a splendid, big, wolfish fellow, who overturned a pot of beans and in the most unconcerned manner walked off with the hot bacon in his mouth. No matter what deprivations they may commit, severe punishment, so as to cripple or kill them, is out of the question, on account of their great value in the transportation of supplies. It is an inferior dog that is not worth $40, and many of them, say their masters, "are not for sale."
Two good dogs can haul a man forty or fifty miles a day on a good trail or carry from 500 to 600 pounds of freight about twenty miles in six hours. They are faithful to the last degree and will work even when weak from lack of food. When in this condition, however, they sometimes become dangerous and should the driver fall he may be attacked, but these instances are rare, and more often the dog is sacrificed to save his master from starvation.—Mrs. C. R. Miller in Leslie's Weekly.

The Farmer Grows Wiser.
"You can't fool the farmer any more on merchandise for his farm," said the proprietor of an agricultural store as he wrote down a large order for a certain fertilizer. "Time was when you could sell a farmer anything in the way of fertilizer and no questions asked. It was a fat time for the manufacturers of fertilizers, but that time is all past. Now the man who tills the soil must know all about what the market offers for enriching crops. He insists that he be given the formula of every fertilizer on the market, and he knows whether too much phosphorus, potash, etc., predominates. He knows what his soil needs most; he understands that certain crops demand a certain sort of enrichment of the earth and that other crops necessitate an entirely different sort of an enrichment. In the old days he'd dump anything on his land and trust to luck that things would grow all right; same way with tools. He won't buy a farming implement until he has some actual knowledge of its worth. It's all because of the agricultural colleges which spread agricultural information gratis into the country towns, so that a farmer can hardly help learning a thing or two."—New York Press.

The Teacher's Outlook.
Teaching is essentially a giving of oneself for others, a daily dying that others may live, and yet renewing one's life again that there may be more to bestow the next day. No matter how obscure and modest the place may be where one is at work, if its opportunities are only utilized in the right spirit it may be a center from which the mankind of the future draws strength and health. The joy of the teacher is that his ideas, his plans, his dreams, live on in his pupils. Others may jealously guard their possessions. The teacher takes pride in the abundance of his gifts. He does not talk about patents and copyrights. It pleases him to see his pupils give body to his thoughts and derive pleasure and profit from them. Teachers, as a rule, are of the right spirit. It would be a sad day for our country if they were not. They give freely and grow richer the more they give.—School Journal.
