anything you choose—milk for instance or alone.

At every meal or for a munch between meals, when you feel the need of an appetizing bite to fill up a vacant corner, in the morning when you wake hungry, or at night just before going to bed. Soda crackers are so light and easily digested that they make a perfect food at times when you could not think of eating anything else.

But as in all other things, there is a difference in soda crackers, the superior being

The World's Building Wonder.

The biggest and most mysterious building job on record may be said to have been the construction of the great wall of China, planned by the Emperor Chin Ise Wang, 214 B. C. The length of the wall was 1,250 miles, up hill and down dale, with a width and height of fifteen and twenty feet respectively. How the wall was built of brick and granite in a region entirely destitute of clay to make the former and bare of the latter is a problem which has never been solved. Fifty thousand men were employed in its construction, and so well did they do their work that, although in many places the wall has fallen into decay, there are still considerable portions of it intact.

Blitherkite.

"Blitherkite" is an Americanism, or, rather, an old word which has survived chiefly in American usage. The way it came to be popular here is curious. It is really the old Scottish "blitherkite," from "blither," to talk nonsense (old Norse "bladr," nonsense), and "skate," a term of opprobrium. In the song "Maggie Lander," written about 1850, occur the words, "Jog on your gait, ye blither-skate," and this song was a very popular one in the American camp during the war of independence; hence the vogue of the expressive word in its Americanized form. "Blitherumskite" was the Irish version early in the nineteenth century.

Advice to Teachers.

"Never try to teach what you do not yourself know and know well. If your school board insists on your teaching anything and everything decline firmly to do it. It is an imposition all the way to the teacher to teach that which he does not know. Those teachers who are strong enough should squarely refuse to do such work. This much needed reform is already beginning in our colleges, and I hope it will continue. It is a relief of mediocrity, this idea of professing everything. When teachers begin to decline work which they cannot do well improvements begin to come in. If one would be a successful teacher he must firmly refuse work which he cannot do successfully."—Alexander Agassiz.

Rhodes and Belt.

Cecil Rhodes and Alfred Belt were equally undemonstrative. A great scheme of Rhodes was once collapsed when Werner and Belt came to the rescue and saved it. Belt for his firm—Werner & Belt—took up the obligations. Rhodes said simply, "That's all right," but the following day, as Belt and he stood together at the bar in the Kimberley club, he abruptly asked the steward for half a dozen promissory note forms, signed them in blank and stuffed them into Belt's pocket, saying: "You've backed me. If things go wrong you'll want mine too." In the success the notes were forgotten by both and were handed back some six months later.

To Cure Snoring.

"At a banquet," said an editor, "I once heard Jerome K. Jerome make a speech on snoring. I remember that it ended with these words: 'To cure snoring, it is advised that a piece of soap be dropped into the mouth of the snorer. The oil in the soap will lubricate the pharynx and other Latin parts of the throat. This remedy must be applied with caution; otherwise the snorer will arise and lubricate the floor with the person who dropped in the soap.'"

A Robin at the Funeral.

A few weeks ago a little dog had to be taken by force from the grave of his mistress in Roydon churchyard, England. The affair has reminded the bishop of Barking of an incident in the same village when he was officiating at the funeral of the late vicar. He says: "After the coffin had been placed in the church and just as the service was beginning a little robin hopped up the center aisle, glancing to right and left at the villagers and mourners, and finally alighted on the coffin, where as the service proceeded he sang a few notes at intervals. I was told after the service that the same little bird was a pet of the vicar's and was present in the church on several occasions and among them when he preached his last sermon before his death."

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS NOTES.

LINDSAY.

From The Opinion.

A. M. Church returned last Thursday from a two month's business trip to Bonestell, South Dakota.

The nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Boltz, living two miles south of Lindsay died Monday of scarlet fever and was buried Wednesday.

Miss Baumer, the trained nurse from Omaha, who has been attending Mrs. Fred Wessel, returned Monday. Mrs. Wessel is now convalescing.

Bruce Webb, the auctioneer from Oreston, was in town a short time Sunday. He was on his way to Newman Grove, where he cried a public sale near there Monday.

While in the country last week we noticed several of the farmers husking corn and this week they will commence in dead earnest. From all indications the crop will be a large one and even the late corn will yield well owing to the late frost.

A very pretty wedding took place at the Holy family church on Tuesday morning, October 16th at 9 o'clock when Miss Theresia Korth became the wife of John Bittner. Father Rabanus spoke the words that united the happy couple in holy wedlock. After the ceremony the relatives enjoyed a most sumptuous dinner at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Korth. In the evening a wedding dance was given at the opera house at which a large crowd of relatives and friends were present and enjoyed a jolly good time. Mr. and Mrs. Bittner will reside on a farm south of Lindsay. We, with the rest of the many friends, extend heartiest good wishes for many years of wedded happiness.

CRESTON.

From The Statesman.

W. N. Hensley, democratic candidate for county attorney was in this vicinity the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Austin returned home Wednesday evening. Mr. Austin has again opened up his barber shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Moran left on Monday for Tekamah, for a visit with their son Ezra, before returning to their home in Missouri.

HUMPHREY

From The Democrat.

Phillip Weidner and John Stoffel left yesterday morning for Portland, Oregon, to make their permanent residence provided they find the climate and work to their liking. Phillip is a good carpenter and John is a good brick layer, and as they are both not afraid to work there is no danger that they will not get along in good shape. The Democrat wishes them success anyway.

The Farmers Grain and Stock Co. of Humphrey have purchased the elevator at this place owned by the Omaha Elevator Co. and the new organization will take possession Nov. 10, 1908. The secretary of the organization is sending out notices to the stock holders to pay the amount they subscribed for building or buying an elevator by Nov. 10.

Al Edwards of Cornlea and Miss Josie Reiss of this place were united in marriage at Elgin Wednesday where the bride went a few days ago on a visit to friends and relatives. The young couple have arrived in Cornlea where we understand they will make their home. The Democrat joins a host of friends in extending hearty congratulations.

Supervisor Clothier of Platte Center, was in town Tuesday calling on friends. He and Supervisor Schure had been out near Ad Alderson's place to inspect a bad piece of road and determine the best way to repair it. It is the road running east and west by Mr. Alderson's place and the little creek that runs along one side of it is washing away so much of the road that it is becoming almost impassable.

J. C. Schaefer and daughter, May, went down to Columbus Wednesday to visit Mrs. Schaefer who is in St. Mary's hospital. Mr. Schaefer will leave today for Indiana to visit his aged mother who has been seriously ill for some time and is not expected to live. We hope Mr. Schaefer will find his mother much improved in health when he gets there and that she will soon be restored to good health. It has been a number of years since Mr. Schaefer visited his old home.

PLATTE CENTER

From The Signal.

Mrs. L. S. Morton, mother of Mrs. A. G. Parker, arrived here Saturday evening from a visit of several weeks with relatives at Pontiac, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ragatz, jr., of Columbus, arrived here Sunday evening for a few days' visit at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Evans of Postville.

Last Sunday there was quite a family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Scheidel. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Brodfehrer and son, and Mrs. Ed Ballou, from Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pinson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Scheidel and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pinson, James Burrows and August Siebler.

James Timony, well known in this town and neighborhood, was taken through here on his way to the Columbus hospital Thursday. He came from Elgin, Neb., where he met with an accident, mashing his right leg into a pulp. Amputation will be necessary.

Monday T. S. Hoare sold his livery stock to James Sullivan and John Drees. Tom has run the barn four months, has done a profitable business and was not anxious to sell, but the boys paid him his price and got it. There is no reason why they, too, should not prosper.

Old inventory of Railroad. An old inventory of the Mohawk & Hudson railroad, dated Jan. 1, 1833, gives the following as the total rolling stock of the road at that time: Three locomotives (the John Bull, the De Witt Clinton and the Experiment); three passenger cars, accommodating twelve passengers each; nine, accommodating nine each; two, accommodating six each, and three, accommodating eighteen each, a total capacity of 182.

Nourishment in Skim Milk. In skimming milk the cream removed lessens the fat percentage, and for older people or fat children the skim milk is equally desirable, in some cases better. In eating apples the skin, too, should be eaten. Pared apples are not so nutritious, as the ash contents of the apple skin are valuable to the human system.

English Tavern Sign. A tavern sign seen in various parts of England is "The Dog's Head in a Pot," accompanying the painting of a dog eating out of a three-legged pot, which may seem to mean that the host is kind and his viands good. Another significant sign is "Five Miles from Anywhere. No Hurry," seen in Hampshire, a pleasant reminder that it is as "treacherous place to linger."

Origin of "Schooner." "Schooner" is a word of American manufacture. At Gloucester, Mass., about 1713 Capt. Andrew Robinson built the first vessel called by that name. As it slid off the stocks into the water a bystander shouted: "Oh, how she scoons!" (skims). Robinson instantly said: "A scooner let her be." The name has been universally adopted, but, singularly enough, it is spelled in the Dutch manner, though it is provincial English.

Tendency of Fish to Decompose. Fish, because of its tendency rapidly to decompose, holds a peculiar position among foods. In England it is the subject of a special act of Parliament. So long ago as 1698 men knew the evil consequences resulting from eating mackerel of uncertain post-mortem age. So they passed an act providing that except during the hours of divine service this fish could be sold on Sunday. That act has never been repealed.

Theory and Practice. "I takes notice," said Uncle Eben "dat de man who tells you how easy it is to be contented will salt pork an beans ginerly has as fine an appetite for fried chicken as anybody."—Yonkers Statesman.

Too Much "Hustling." We work too nervously. Also we play too hard. Stressfulness has been over-preached. Is it not time to enter a plea for good, old-fashioned idle ure?—New York Public Opinion.

Advice from a Bachelor. The way to make your wife have confidence in you is to tell her that the other woman is rather pretty except for her hair, eyes, mouth, teeth, nose, complexion and figure.—New York Press.

A Flower Weeping. A red rose leaned across the way. To a rose of creamy white. While the sun sunk down behind a hill In the evening's fading light. The red rose knelt the white rose. Its petals softly pressed. And whispered there a day good-night. With its perfume for a blessing.

The Gulf Coast of Texas.

That's the name of a new eighty-page illustrated book just published by the Rock Island-Frisco Lines.

It is of vital importance to you that you secure and read it.

The region described is unparalleled in its possibilities for home getting and fortune getting. Think of a country where the climate is just right; where there are twelve months of "growing weather" per year; where the soil is naturally rich; where you can get a good deal of land for little money and where hired help is plentiful and cheap.

If you know Southern Texas you would want to share in its tremendous wealth—and a small share would soon make you independently rich. There's nothing to prevent your achieving success in this remarkable country. The book will tell you about it and a trip of inspection is cheaply made. Are you interested?

Your name and address on a postal will bring you full details and the book. WRITE TODAY. This is too good to pass by, especially since it costs you nothing to investigate. You will not regret having done so.
