

Cold Affected Head and Threat-Attack was Severe.

Chas. W. Bowman, 1st Lieut, and Adjt. 4th M. S. M. Cav. Vols., writes from Lanham, Md., as follows:

"Though somewhat averse to patent medicines, and still more averse to becoming a professional affidavit man, it seems only a plain duty in the present instance to add my experience to the columns already written concerning the curative powers of Peruna. "I have been particularly benefited by its use for colds in the head and threat. I have been able to fully cure myself of a most severe attack in forty-eight hours by its use according to directions. I use it as a preventive whenever threatened with an attack. "Members of my family also use it for like allments. We are recom-

The extraordinary popularity of fine white goods this summer makes the choice of Starch a matter of great importance. Its great strength as a stiffener makes half the usual quantity of Starch necessary, with the result of perfect finish, equal to that when the goods were new.

SAVES HER VISITING CARDS.

ne Weman's Pet Economy Certainly a Queer One. Women are proverbially niggardly on one or two points; every woman that ever existed had some pet economy, no matter how extravagant she may be in some respects. There's the woman who spends hundreds of dollars on imported gowns, but bates to give up one penny for a paper of pins. The paper-saving person who drops into department stores and hotels to borrow stationery rather than spend any money upon the commodity always is with as; we all know the stamp stealer and the match borrower; but the visiting-card economizer is a new brand of woman who exists only in the most exclusive society. So niggardly is she on the point of her visiting cards that she demands them back from her intimate friends: from her mere acquaintances she steals them at an opportune moment when the servant's back is turned, or when the mistress has left the room. She puts them slyly back into her card case. By a clever series of manipulations it is said she can make 100 of them go as far as 500 went be-

Of Rheumatism Calls for Dr. Williams Pink Pills If You Would Be Easily Cured.

Mr. Frank Little, a well known citieen of Portland, Ionia Co., Mich., was cured of a severe case of rheumatism by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, In speaking about it recently, he said: "My body was run down and in no condition to withstand disease and about ave years ago I began to feel rieumatic pains in my arms and across my back. My arms and legs grew numb and the rheumatism seemed to settle in every joint so that I could hardly move, while my arms were useless at times. I was unable to sleep or rest well and my heart pained me so terribly I could hardly stand it. My stomach became sour and bloated after eating and this grew so bad that I had inflammation of the stomach. I was extremely nervous and could not bear the least noise or excitement. One whole side

THREE GOOD IDEAS

ONE IS IMPROVEMENT ON EVER POPULAR FUDGE.

Addition of Marshmallows Makes the Confection Delicious-Odd Fur nishing for Den-Oysters in Chafing Dish.

Fudge is now as popular as when first introduced several years ago, replacing the favorite chocolate caramels. The expert fudgemaker seldom thinks of meering her materials, but just guesses at the quantity of sugar, milk, chocolate and butter necessary. It is just before the fudge is done that the additions which give it novelty go in. Nuts are always good: may be used. Then there is crystalized ginger cut in small pieces. Auother mixture is of marshmallows. For this the following recipe may be

One-fourth cake of unsweetened chocolate, two cups of granulated sugar, one cup of milk, one teaspoonful of butter. Boil for five minutes. then take from the fire and pour in a heaping saucerful of marshmallows torn in small bits. Beat until the mixture begins to stiffen, then pour aulckly into buttered tins to cool. Another way is to sprinkle the shredded marshmallow on the bottom of the pan, and pour the hot fudge over it. This is convenient when both the marshmallow, nut, and the plain varieties are to be made from the same

A den seen recently was furnished in black oak and the walls were done in deep red burlap. The trim, including a wooden cornice, was also black. The ceiling was a deep cream, or perhaps more on the buff. The couch was upholstered in linen taffeta to match the walls. There were many pillows in plain red and a few in buff. A plate rail of oak for china and steins was carried around the room. On the black oak reading table was an oriental scarf, harmonizing with the walls and the pillows. Upon this rested a wrought-iron lamp with a deep red bowl, and shade of gold-wire cloth. The mantel was ornamented with several old brass candlesticks. About the room were scattered several pieces of old brass which were put to use. A large brass bowl was utilized as a scrap basket.

Lentil Curry.

Soak over night in cold water one cup of lentils. Wash, cover with fresh water, and cook slowly for two hours. Drain, put two tablespoonfuls of butter into a saucepan; when melted add two onions chopped fine; cook slowly until a golden brown; add a teaspoonful of curry powder, a dash of cayenne, and half a pint of the water in which the lentils were boiled. Add lentils, cook slowly for 20 minutes: add a teaspoonful of salt, the juice of one lemon, and serve with well boiled rice.

The latest fancy of this kind is the hand-dipped tallow candle, flavored with spearmint, which is said to give out a minty fragrance as it burns. The candle has the interesting irregularity of hand-made things and is greenishwhite in color.

Preservative for Eggs.

A simple solution of salt and lime is a good preservative for eggs. Put into a stone jar a lump of lime weighing about two pounds. Pour on this one quart of water and stir until lime is broken up; add one gallon of water and one pint of salt. Place the eggs in this jar and keep them well covered with the solution.

Good to Look At.

A girl with magnificent red-brown hair looked delightful in a rough, dark serge with a copper colored suede cap perched on her beautiful hair and two copper buckles at her waist and copper colored kid shoes and stockings. These shoes, it may be remarked, are made in the most practical shades and kids, and can be cleaned with preparations specially made for them, and the colored stockings are everywhere to be had of suitable warmth.

Gentle Door-Tape.

A story of extraordinary deafness was unfolded at a recent meeting of a medical society in Philadelphia. An elderly woman, exceedingly hard of hearing, lived near the river. One ifternoon a warship fired a salute of ten guns. The woman, alone in her little house, waited until the booming reased. Then she smoothed her dress, brushed her hair back in a quaint manner and said, sweetly: "Come in."-Harper's Weekly.

Origin of Starch. The art of starching was not intro duced into England until the ingenuity of Dutch women in starching ruffs induced Queen Elizabeth to turn to bric and linen cuffs. In 1564 Mistress Dinghein von den Plasse, the refugee daughter of a Flemish knight, came with her husband to London, accord ing to an old writer, and set up an establishment for starching, where she not only plied her trade, but instructed English classes in her art.

I scratched them with a brass pin and shortly afterwards both of those limbs became so sore that I could scarcely walk. HEADS SHAPED TO ORDER.

German Doctor Explains Causes of Various Formations.

At a recent convention of German naturalists and doctors Dr. Walcher, of Stuttgart, in an instructive paper put forth a sensational theory to explain the formation of the shape of the head of infants. He maintained that the head of a child could be molded artificially. He found by experience that when a medium-shaped head is placed in a soft cushion the child turns on its back, or rests on the back of its head, in order to free mouth, nose and face. In this manner the head rests smoothly, and a short beed is developed. But if the mediumchaped head of a child is placed on a hard under-rest, like a hair mattress er rolled carpet, the child's head turns aside, as it cannot stand any more on its head than an egg, for the muscle of the back is weakened. Therefore, with continued resting on the side a long head is developed. To prove his assertions the lecturer presented a child whose mother and sister are short-headed. The child at its birth had a short head, now after 18 months it is long skulled. If the child had been placed on its back, according to other experiences its head would have been short-shaped. Dr. Walcher did not deny that the shape of the head was inherited, but asserted that it could be greatly influenced by the way the child rested.
