ITEMS OF INTEREST

ALBION.

From the News.

A transaction of considerable interest to the people of Albion was closed the past week, whereby Pittenger Bros. and Burt came into possession of the original electric light and power plant. Work will be commenced as soon as possible on a new dam. It is the purpose of the new owners to build up a first-class water power plant. In the meantime the present plant will be kept in operation to furnish light and power for the city.

LINDSAY.

From the Post.

Henry Schacher, age 13, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schacher died at their home north of Lindsay Saturday December 19th at 11 a. m. The deceased boy had not been robust for years but during the past year, complained but little and was able to do considerable work in the field having his own time on not being compelled to work only as he felt disposed. About a month ago he began to complain but was not dangerously ill. Saturday morning early as the father sat by his bed he suddenly grew worse and suffered excruciating pain until death relieved him.

HOWELLS.

From the Journal.

Dan Stephens and a number of other prominent Fremont people, who have placed under tile a large number of acres of Platte and Elkhorn valley land, have, after a two years' trial, proven the value of tiling. On the Stephens farm fifty-four bushels of corn was raised to the acre where, had it not been for drainage the tiling afforded, the crop would have been drowned out entirely. With as much low land as they have in Dodge county, a complete system of tiling will mean a large increase in the production of staple crops. One writer has said that he who makes two blades of grass grow where but one has grown before is a benefactor to his race, and the same praise is due him who turns swamp and pond into productive fields. Some of the Platte valley lands in this county could be tiled to advantage.

Ezra Fellers returned Wednesday from his trip to Spring Valley, Minn., where he was called on account of the serious illness of his brother. When he left, his brother who is over 80 years of age, was much better. His illness was caused by exposure to cold night, and he being a strong republican wanted to know that his state was right before retiring that night. When Mr. Fellers left Wisconsin there was good sleighing and had been for some time.

GENOA.

From the Times.

Mrs. E. V. Clark, who was visiting at Anadarko, Oklahoma, returned last week and at once commenced packing her household goods preparatory for removal to that place.

An Illinois man is being sued for divorce. He set a rat trap in his trousers' pocket when he went to bed, hung the pantaloons on the bed-post, and caught his wife before midnight.

Last Saturday G. N. Brooks finished delivering to Fonda Brothers 1400 bushels of wheat for which he received 90 cents. Previous to this he sold Fonda Brothers 1700 bushels at 82 cents, and 1000 bushels to another Genoa firm at 80 cents.

Anna, wife of Nels Olson, died at her family home Monday morning, December 31, 1906, at 9 o'clock, aged 48 years, 7 months and 11 days, after an illness of several months. Last winter four children were stricken with scarlet fever and for several weeks the home was under quarantine. The watchful care of Mrs. Olson over her little ones during their sickness overtaxed her strength and her health commenced to fail. She went to the Columbus hospital for treatment but obtained only temporary relief. Two months ago it was realized that her condition was serious and the announcement of her death was not unexpected by the friends of the family. Funeral services were held at the home Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. Wimberly conducting the service. Interment was in the Genoa cemetery. Mrs. Olson leaves, besides her husband, nine children, the youngest two years old and the oldest about 18.

CENTRAL CITY.

From the Republican.

With all her children for the first time in fifteen years, it is no wonder Mrs. A. P. Baird enjoyed the celebration of her seventy-second birthday last Sunday. She prepared the sumptuous dinner which they and Uncle Andy ate with relish and satisfaction, and it seemed that Father Time had turned back the hands of the clock for a few years so that the united family might enjoy the pleasures of another's company under the wholesome inspiration of mother cooking. All of the children have been home at frequent intervals during the fifteen years but it is the first time they have all been together at the same time in that period.

A blossoming romance was nipped in the bud by Sheriff Iler and a brother of the groom-to-be last Saturday. Miss Ethel Bush, aged twenty-two, and Adolph Kruger, aged seventeen, residing south of Folk, came to Central City Thursday last, remained at the Belmont hotel over night and the next morning went on to Cheyenne. Friday a brother of Kruger came to Central City on the trail of the young Lochinvar and his fair one. With Sheriff Iler's assistance he found that they had gone to Cheyenne and he set out for that place on the first train. Arriving there he found the young couple and was pleased to discover that they had not yet been married. They were brought back and young Kruger is probably negotiating on the difficulties that attend the elopement of a minor.

SCHUYLER.

From the Sun.

J. S. Dyche, of Clark who has been living with a broken neck for three months, died last week. Mr. Dyche was working on a haystack when he was struck by a fork of the stacker and knocked off. His neck was broken and his spinal column injured which caused him to be a helpless invalid ever since.

Mrs. Fannie Taskey commenced an action in the district court Monday, in which she seeks a divorce from her husband, Edward Taskey. She also wants the custody of their two children and a reasonable alimony. She alleges that they were married in Columbus in September, 1902; that Taskey has deserted her for more than two years and refuses to contribute toward the support of herself and children. She also avers that the husband's habits are such that he is not a fit person to have charge of them. The married life of the Taskeys was one of sad romances. In returning from Columbus on their wedding day the train they were riding on ran into and instantly killed Mrs. Taskey's mother, Mrs. Tom Drapala, at the mill crossing in this city. The husband deserted the wife and children several years ago, and was arrested and brought back to this county for wife desertion and abandonment. When released from custody he again went west Mrs. Taskey and children live with her father in the Third ward in this city.

Singers Need Big Room.

Many excellent voices are ruined, according to a communication which Dr. Weiss has made to the French Academie du Medecine, by practicing in too small a room. A public singer must throw every intonation of his voice a distance of 30 or 40 yards, he says, but a student practicing in a small room is only able to throw it a yard or two, and the consequence is that the voice, instead of expanding, becomes telescoped.

Animal Nearly Extinct.

About 300 specimens of the steinbok are under protection on the southern slope of Monte Rosa, but apart from that, the animal is nearly extinct in the Alps. It breeds slowly, and the efforts of the government in its behalf have helped little. In two places private herds have lately been established, and it is hoped thus to prevent the extinction of the steinbok.
