EARTHQUAKE NOTES.

Congress unanimously voted $800, 000 for the relief of the Italian earthquake sufferers, in response to a message from President Roosevelt. Ambassador Griscom at Rome chartered a steamer for the work of aiding the survivors. He delivered to Count Taverna, head of the Italian Red Cross, $250,000 sent by the American Red Cross. The king proclaimed martial law in the devastated district, and Messina and Reggio were ordered evacuated.

There was the gravest alarm among the authorities in Italy over reports from Messina that typhoid fever had broken out among the earthquake survivors. Strict sanitary measures were adopted at once in the hope of preventing the spread of the disease outside the districts devastated by the earthquake. Earth shocks were frequent at Reggio and the Canary Islands were shaken. A third shipload of supplies was started from New York.

The American Red Cross steamer Bayern, laden with food, clothing and medical supplies and carrying doctors and nurses, sailed from Civita Vecchia for Messina. American women in Rome organized to help administer the relief fund. Severe earth shocks were experienced at Zermatt, Switzerland.

More earthquake shocks were felt in several of the ruined Italian towns. At Messina 1,300 victims were buried in one huge grave. Relief finally reached the town of Villa San Gio-Hull of Iowa and Bartholdt of Mis-

Review of the Names Being Mentioned Both Governors Present Their Messages and the New Executive of the State is Sworn In.

Change of governors in Nebraska took place on the 7th. The state bade goodbye to its first native-born governor and greeted his successor with generous applause as he made his initial bow as the state's executive. There was no diminution of interest in the inaugural proceedings over former years and save for the presence of a large number of strange faces in the crowd that gathered to hear the words of the outgoing and incoming governors, the scenes were not greatly different from those that have gone before each biennium.

A special committee was sent to advise the state officers the joint convention was ready to receive them and another committee was dispatched to notify the chief justice of the supreme ccurt his presence would be needed to administer the oath.

Chief Justice Reese was announced and the members stood as he advanced to a seat provided. Other members of the court remained on the bench.

Before the oaths of office were taken the message of Governor Sheldon was read. The governor advanced to the reading desk while the salute of a battery was sounding and he asked permission to await its end before beginning. He was greeted with applause as he was presented by the lieutenant governor, who said: "It is now my pleasure to present to you Governor Sheldon, a man whom you know so

SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE NEBRASKA NEWS AND NOTES.

The First Democrat to Ever Hold the Office in Nebraska. Charles W. Pool, the new speaker of the house of representatives, whose picture appears herewith, is the first democrat ever to hold that office in Nebraska. There have been fusionists and populists, but no bona fide Jeffersonian democrat before the present speaker. Mr. Pool has been in Nebraska for forty-two years, coming here from Illinois, and for thirty years of that time he has been in the. newspaper business as printer and editor and publisher. Twenty years ago he established the Johnson Courty Journal, which at that time was the fourth democratic paper in Nebraska. At the present time Mr. Pool is the editor and owner of the Johnson County Tribunal, an indeendent paper. He has always been intimately connected with the politics of the First district and of the state and has on numerous occasions been a delegate to democratic state conventions. Save that of councilman and other city positions, Mr. Pool has never held office until the present time. He is married, but has no fam-

Division Over Bank Guaranty.

The democrats of the senate are in a fair way to split over the bank guaranty. At a meeting of the committee on standing committees members in favor of immeediate payment and those for delayed payment locked horns. Farmer members are insisting on a makeup that will insure an immediate payment bill, while the bankers are lining up against this. The bankers want Volpp of Washington county for chairman and the name of Diers of York county is being urged by the faction opposed.

New Tack Taken on Judges.

By a strict party vote the senate ordered the secre ary of state to furnish them with a certified copy of the election returns cast on the two constitutional amendments in November. Earlier in the day similar motion by Ransom of Douglas was not acted upon and an appeal from the decision of the chair in ruling it out on order was sustained. This puts it up to the secretary of state whether he will obey the senate and probably raises a technically different question than the one of hand ng over the original returns.

New Mailing Privilege.

An unlimited mailing privilege was granted the secretary of the senate by a vote of the members when on motion of Senator Buck of Otoe county, a banker, the secretary was au-

Rats Are Wise.

Rats, which have of late become a great nuisance to the London tubes by attacking the coverings of electric cables, have been driven from their haunts by means of a virus which, when eaten by rats or mice, causes them to be overcome with the desire to get into the outer air and to drink cold water. It is a curious and interesting fact that the rats knew where the tube was nearest to the surface, as evidenced by the great numbers which found their way to the top at the Trafalgar Square station.
