Mrs. Martha Watts went to Norfolk Tuesday evening to visit her sister, Mrs. W. S. Fox, and attend the meeting of the North Nebraska Teachers' association.

During the last six months the subject of early closing of the stores has been up for discussion on different occasions, and at one time it was thought the Commercial club would take action regarding it, but owing to the fact that very few merchants were present at the meeting, it was postponed. But the clerks, who are so much interested as anyone, decided to take hold of the matter, and the result was a meeting held at the firemen's hall Tuesday evening, at which fifty-two clerks were present. An organization was effected with Henry Ott, president; Carl Becker, vice president; Dan Echols, secretary; and Mrs. A. M. Covert, treasurer. The organization is not solely for the purpose of securing early closing, but to promote a higher standard of efficiency among the clerks, and also adjust any differences that may arise between the clerks and employers. There will also be a social side to the organization. The president appointed a committee to draft by-laws, to be presented at the next meeting of the organization, to be held upon call by the president. A committee, with W. H. Murry, chairman and Miss Emma Hoppen and Carl Becker are circulating a petition asking all the merchants to close at six o'clock, with exception of Saturday evening, and during the holidays. The clerks believe that it will be just as convenient for the public, after becoming accustomed to the new order, as at present, and that the buying will be done between seven in the morning and six in the evening. There are a number of cities in the state no larger than Columbus where the early closing is in vogue, and the clerks of this city are going to ask for the same privileges here.

Besides electing six members of the board of directors Monday evening the Commercial Club discussed the Platte river bridge proposition. L. A. Carahan, president of the Commercial college addressed the meeting in the interest of that institution. Following are the directors elected: First ward; G. W. Viergruz, Louis Held; Second ward, Sam Gasa, Jr., L. F. Phillippe; Third ward, Gus Becker, Jr., R. S. Dickinson; Fourth ward, M. D. Karr, G. W. Phillips. The board of directors will elect the officers from their membership, at a later date. Friday night the annual banquet of the club will be held at the Orpheus hall, and the committee in charge report that arrangements are almost completed. From the number of tickets sold at present, indications are that the two hundred mark will be easily reached. The list of speakers, which includes Senator Burkett, Governor Shallenberger and General Manager A. L. Mohler of the Union Pacific, assures an excellent treat in the speech making line. This year the banquet will begin at seven o'clock prompt, and those in charge wish this to be borne in mind by all who attend.

Up at the city water works, where Pete McCaffrey makes smoke, there has been a gathering every Sunday of fishermen and those who think they know all kinds of ways to fool the fishy tribe. Most of you have heard some fisherman tell of how he had the "daddy of them all" almost landed, when something happened that allowed the old fellow to cough up the hook, spit it out and wink the other eye as he headed up stream looking for more fresh bait dangling from some poor "fathead's" ten dollar fishing outfit. Well, last Sunday the gang was pumping some pretty strong ones into a couple of the new members when one of them starting to leave turned at the door and made the remark that he had been a victim of "hot air" fish stories in different parts of the country for a number of years, but as the fishing season opened this week he hoped the old yarn would be placed in cold storage, and something done to substantiate them. He must be a native of Missouri.

The effect of filing complaints against Union Pacific conductors for blocking crossings unnecessarily has been much in evidence the last few days, and it looks as though the officials were more than willing to meet the public half way. Formerly, when two trains met at this place, the second one would pull in just before the first one was ready to leave, resulting in blocking of a crossing from fifteen to twenty minutes. But the last week this has been done away with, and the second train does not pull up across the crossings until the first one has cleared them and given all who wish an opportunity to cross. Other trains refrain from blocking the crossings any longer than is absolutely necessary, and if this policy is continued there will be a much better feeling toward the railroad in Columbus than heretofore.

Few plays of recent years have made the bid for popular favor that "The Cow-Puncher" has since its production. It is from the pen of the well known author, Hal Reid. Beginning with our Santa Claus days we paint startling pictures in our mind of the great and boundless west. It is a field that affords a wonderful scope for our imaginations. And the cowboy with broncho and lariat, wild and generous nature, has always been our hero, and stands on the bulwark of American independence. Mr. Reid has made his characters live true to life. W. F. Mann has chosen players suited to each individual part and surrounded them with a lavish scenic production. "The Cow-Puncher" will be seen at the North Theatre on Saturday April 3. For one night only.

Mrs. Wm. Lange, residing eleven miles north of this city, passed away at the family home Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, death resulting from a complication of diseases. She had been in poor health for the past year, and since December has been confined to her bed most of the time. Mrs. Lange, nee Katharina Albers, was born in Germany in 1850, and was at the time of her death fifty-nine years of age. She was the mother of two children, William and Mary, who with their father, Wm. Lange, mourn the loss of a kind and loving wife and mother. The deceased also leaves one brother, Wm. Albers of this city. The funeral was held Monday afternoon from the Shell Creek Baptist church and interment was made in the cemetery near the church.

The last of the two new electric pumps at the city water works is now being installed. When the motor was placed ten days ago the connections for the new pumps were also put in and the one new pump connected up, so all there is to do with the second one is to place it on the foundation that has been built for it. This second pump takes the place occupied by one of the old steam pumps, and this had to be removed before the foundation could be built. Motors for the new pumps are here and placed and all that is necessary to connect them up is to lay the cable from the power house to the station. This will be placed about two feet under ground so that there can be no interference with it in any way, and the current will always be available.

Wm. Nansel, of northwest of Monroe, is at St. Mary's hospital, on account of a bad dislocation of the hip and knee. Some time ago he was run over by a load of hay and his knee and hip dislocated. The injury was such that it did not yield to treatment at home and he was brought to the hospital, where he could have better attention.

A number of years ago J. C. Freydieg was thrown from a horse while working for the A. D. Castle company at Monroe, and several of the small bones in his foot were broken, and as a result he has since suffered a lameness in one of his feet. In order to relieve this, if possible, he entered St. Mary's hospital last week, for an operation to remove his trouble.

Thursday of last week the adjourned meeting of the Division Council of the Sons of Veterans of this state was held in this city. Besides transacting routine business the following officers were elected for the coming year: H. B. Reed, Columbus, commander; H. W. Rogers, Fremont, senior vice commander; A. L. Rollin, Columbus, junior vice commander; division council, Bert J. Galley, chairman; James McBeth, Loup City; George F. Welz, Fremont. Commander Reed announced the following appointments: O. E. Devlin, division secretary and E. P. Dussel, division treasurer. Delegates to the national encampment were not selected, but will be appointed later by the division commander.

Simon Iossi of Platte Center and Miss Clara Bauman of Loup City were married in Madison county March 23. The wedding reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nobel of Norfolk. Those who were present at the ceremony were Alfred Iossi and Miss Stella Healer of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. Nobel of Norfolk. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bauman of Loup City, but formerly of Columbus, and the groom is a son of Christ Iossi of east of Columbus. Mr. and Mrs. Iossi will make their home on the Lincoln farm near Platte Center, which the groom has rented for this year.

One of the great plays of the season is that of "The Cow-Puncher" by Hal Reid which is to be seen at North Theatre, next Saturday, April 3d. He depicts his characters with an intensity and realism absolutely startling, and throws strong light on the character of the cowboy whose heart is as big and broad as the vast plains on which he lives. The farewell scene between Tom Layton, and his brother Billy, when the former is compelled to pass sentence of death on the latter for his alleged participation in the depredations committed by a band of cattle rustlers is convincingly pathetic and powerful.

Monday's Lincoln State Journal has the following to say regarding the death of Mrs. Thomas H. Williams, a former resident of the Postville neighborhood, prior to her husband being appointed farmer at the insane asylum at Lincoln: "Mrs. Thomas H. Williams died yesterday morning at her home near the hospital for the insane of heart trouble. She was sixty-two years of age. A husband and seven children survive her. Mr. Williams has for many years been head farmer at the asylum. Two of the children, Arthur and Mrs. Mand Snyder, are married while the rest of the family are still at home.

A quiet wedding occurred at the Brewer home in North Columbus, when Frederick Brewer, youngest son of Mrs. Jennie C. Brewer, was united in marriage to Elizabeth Dostal, Rev. Roush, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by only a few relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride was formerly of Wisconsin, but for the past few months has made Columbus her home. The groom is well known, having lived all of his life in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Brewer will for the present reside with the groom's mother.

Dr. Skinner, a returned missionary from China, addressed the congregation at the Methodist church Sunday evening and at the same time showed a number of stereoscopic views which illustrated very vividly the mode of living and customs of the inhabitants of China. Dr. Skinner has been a medical missionary in China for the past ten years and during that time was in charge of one of the largest hospitals in China. He is now home on a furlough. Dr. Skinner pleased his listeners with a Chinese song and also recited the Lord's Prayer in the same language.

George Kummer, formerly of this city, but who for the past several years has been living with his father at Red Cloud, Neb., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kummer several days last week. He then went to visit August Kummer and family, who reside on a farm southwest of this city, and was suddenly taken ill. George has been in poor health for the past few years, being afflicted with asthma. He is now confined to his bed.

"Platte county" was one of the features of the Sunday Bee of March 28. For some time the Bee has been giving a half page in the Sunday edition to the different counties of the state, and last Sunday the write-up of Platte county appeared. Besides dealing with present, some of the early history, including the founding of Columbus, was incorporated in the sketch. Illustrations of the mills, elevators, hospital, Y. M. C. A. and park were given.

The funeral of Mrs. Dora Diedrichs, widow of C. H. W. Diedrichs, was held at the family residence Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. B. Zueser, pastor of the German Methodist church officiating, and interment was made in the Columbus cemetery. Out of town relatives who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Linde of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shitt of Platte county and Charles Diedrichs of New York.

Will Willard left Tuesday for Pierre S. D., near which place he has a home-stead. He expects to remain there two weeks or a month, during which time he will look after some improvements he will have made on his place.

During the summer Wm. J. Voss & Co. will erect a large addition to their implement warehouse, on the east of the present building. Just how large it will be has not been determined, but it may include their present capacity.

A number of lady friends gathered at the home of Mrs. G. M. Douglas Tuesday afternoon, the nature of the party was a house warming. The afternoon was devoted to music and social chat, and at four-thirty a luncheon was served. The guest list numbered twenty.

Good horses and mules are bringing top prices this year, and this fact was strongly emphasized at the Branigan horse sale Monday, when their best stuff brought prices that were quite above the ordinary. Their heavy draft horses sold as high as $300 each.

There was considerable excitement at the Johannes & Krumland store last Saturday when an extraordinarily large tarantula was discovered in a bunch of bananas. The animal was captured, however, before it had a chance to harm anyone and is now on exhibition at the store.

Senator Burkett one of the speakers for the Commercial Club banquet Friday evening, will arrive in this city at 3:30 p. m. that day, and he, together with the other speakers and guests, will be given a public reception at the Y. M. C. A. building from 6:30 to 7, prior to the banquet.

Tuesday of this week the annual meeting of the deputy assessors of Platte county was held at the court house. These annual meetings are held so the different assessors may get their instructions from County Assessor Shell Clark, and also that the assessment of the county be made as uniform as possible.

Bernard Schroeder, who was secretary of the Royal Highlanders, resigned his position and P. F. Luesinger was elected to fill the vacancy, the transfer to be made April 1. On April 16 the order will give an oyster supper to the members, and each one is privileged to invite either their wife, husband or a friend.

Last Friday the boys' and girls' basket ball teams went to Genoa, where they played the high school teams of that town the same evening. The Columbus girls won from Genoa, but the Genoa boys defeated the Columbus team. Prof. L. H. Britell and Miss Florence Erford of the city schools chaperoned the party.

Columbus teachers who are on the program for the East Central Nebraska Teachers' association, which meets in Omaha Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, April 1, 2, and 3, are Mrs. Thompson, Miss Ruby Rieckley and Prof. I. H. Britell. A number of the other teachers from this city will be in attendance at the meeting.

Next Sunday, April 4, the annual confirmation will be held at the German Lutheran church, Rev. Miesler, pastor. Fourteen boys and girls compose the class this year, as follows: Julius Traups, Martin Baumgartner, Herman Wolf, Arthur Viergruz, Herman Kaufman, Edward Mueller, Ernest Ewert, Fred Bergmann, Nellie Meyer, Olga Oehrich, Ella Luers, Clara Fickel, Edna Rhodehorst, Helen Bartels.

The Cassin meat market, on Thirteenth street, which has been under construction this winter, will be completed during the month of April. Mr. Cassin intends to have one of the nicest markets in the state and has spared no expense to reach that end. Everything in the appointment is modern bright and new. An ice machine will be one of the innovations, and it will be run by an electric motor, which gets the power from the city plant.

Last week James Wilson and Frank Smith went into the Linstrum tailoring establishment, and one of them asked for a needle to sew a button on. While one of the tailors was complying with his request he appropriated a piece of cloth lying on the table and later tried to sell it. The affair was reported to the police and the pair arrested. When the case was brought up before Judge Esterman he sentenced Wilson to fifteen days in the county jail, but as there was not enough evidence against Smith to implicate him in the case, he was discharged.

Saturday evening, March 27, Columbus Council No. 325, United Commercial Travelers, held their annual election of officers, which resulted as follows: J. F. Kirkpatrick, senior counselor; Mark H. Rathburn, junior counselor; C. W. Betterton, past counselor; Frank J. Kerienbrock, secretary-treasurer; Myron D. Karr, conductor; Sam H. Fray, page; Milton G. Bower, sentinel; executive committee, Frank W. Farrand, Lane Williams, two years; H. A. Fritz, P. A. Jaeggi, one year. Frank W. Farrand was elected delegate and C. W. Betterton alternate to the convention of the Grand Council, to be held in Columbus, May 21-23, 1909. Columbus Council now has a membership of nearly sixty and is one of the flourishing branches of the order in the smaller towns of the state.

Workmen have one-half of the brick work of the first story of the planing mill nearly completed, but it will take about six weeks to finish the building.

Major E. J. Phelps of Lincoln will be here Thursday evening to muster in a camp of Spanish war veterans. The affair will be held at the Y. M. C. A. building.

Dunnell & Son have the contract for putting in the conduit between the electric light station and the city water plant, which contains the cable for transmitting power to the motors on the pumps. They will have the job completed this week.

Mrs. Emma Wagner, widow of Robert Wagner, formerly of this city, but who for the past five years has made her home in Omaha arrived in the city several days ago, and is ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Scott. For some time Mrs. Wagner has been in poor health but at present her condition is somewhat improved.

One hundred and five dollars and fifty cents was the average price paid for the Browner farm at the referee sale Tuesday. David Thomas was the purchaser, and in the deal he gets two-fifths of the crop for the coming year. While this seems a very good price for the property, yet there is little doubt that it will advance considerably beyond the price paid.

Something out of the ordinary will be given for lovers of sport at North theatre, Wednesday night, April 7, when the only original life size moving pictures of the world's championship fight between Burns and Johnson, at Sydney, Australia, will be presented. The show is put out by William A. Brady of New York City, the man who presented the "Man of the Hour" company in Columbus this season, which assures it being a first-class attraction.

Next Tuesday is election, and city politics are rather quiet. For mayor, and in fact all the offices, both parties have named good men. Carl Rhode, the republican candidate, has never been before the people asking for an office, and if elected, will be in a position to devote all time necessary to the office. The remainder of the ticket, including the councilmen, is one the Journal can commend to the voters, and are men who will conduct the affairs of the city in a satisfactory manner.
