FRIENDLY SUIT TO BROUGHT IN COURTS.

Convict Labor in Penitentiary Tailor Shop Because Competition is Unfair to Free Labor. .

That the bankers of Omaha and Nebrasks are determined in their purpose to test the validity of the bank deposit guaranty law passed by the recent legislature was shown at a meeting held in Omaha which was attended by a number of the representative state and national bankers of the state Since the meeting held some weeks ago to consider the question the proposition has been thoroughly canvassed and a committee has been formed to arrange what is termed a friendly suit to carry the matter through the courts. The following statement was given out at the close of the meeting:

The banking act passed by the recent session of the legislature prorided in a manner for the guaranty of bank deposits by the collecting of a tax from solvent banks in proportion to their deposits, to be applied as far as possible toward the payment of depositors in failed banks after all asets and shareholders' liabilities had been exhausted. This is such a radical change in all established systems of banking that it necessarily behooves much good or much harm to all interested in banking, whether as shareholders or depositors. The time for the discussion of the question as a desirable public measure from a political standpoint has passed and it would seem that those who favored the enactment of such a law. as well as those who opposed it, should unite in having the question finally settled by the highest court as to whether or not a tax for the purpose named can be collected from banks or bankers without their consent. It is the general opinion among bankers that the question should be finally settled at as early a date as possible, as to leave the question in doubt or to have the law declared ineffective at a time of financial unrest would mean a most serious disturbance of all banking and commercial interests. A committee has been formed of

Opposes Convict Labor.

The state will not contract with the St. Louis garment making firm which made a bid for the use of the convicts. The firms desired to install a tailor shop in the state penitentiary and use the convicts for the manufacture of clothing for laborers. The Board of Public Lands and Buildings thought favorably of the tailor shop idea, believing the state could get much more money for the use of the convicts than it could be letting them out to the broom factory. The clothing firm had already signed the contract agreeing to pay from 60 to 85 cents a day for the prisoners and the matter was referred to Governor Shallenberger, who does not favor the plan, because of his belief that it is unfair for free labor

The Irrigation Congress. The governor has appointed a com mittee of five to consider the best means of making the national irrigation congress, which is to be held at Spokane from August 9 to 14, of the greatest benefit to Nebraska. Co One Wants to Do It, But Some Paint Will Wear No Longer.

When you have a job of painting done you don't expect to have it done over again very soon. But to make a lasting job, several things must be taken into consideration—the proper time to paint—the condition of the sur face—the kind of materials to use, etc. All these matters are fully covered in the specifications which can be had free by writing National Lead Company, 1903 Trinity Building, New York, and asking for Houseowner's Painting Outfit No. 49. The outfit also includes a book of color schemes for both interior and exterior painting, and a simple instrument for detecting adulteration in the paint materials. A Frank Opinion. Once a youth thought it his solemn duty to learn something about Henry James. So, to the great admiration

Salting a Diamond Mine. Howard DuBois, the noted mining engineer, told a good story to the Tech men recently, illustrating the "art" of salting a diamond mine. The story was told of a man in South Africa who, while walking one day over his property, suggested that they assay some of the soil. In the search that ensued eight rough diamonds were found and offers began to fly through the air at a rapid rate for the land, when the host's wife called out to her husband: "Why, John, where are the other two?" The sequel of the story was left to the imagination.—Boston Record.

Future Ideal Town. In the ideal town of the future, as pictured by Sir Oliver Lodge, the houses will have gas for heating by open fires and for cooking, and electricity for lighting. The gas, produced from the coal at the mine, will be sent long distances through pipes, as water is now distributed. It is hoped that the experiment will be tried soon, the burning of crude coal in town being absolutely forbidden, and at least two English towns are already considering the plan. The purification of the air is one of the greatest needs in the improvement of the conditions of

"Why, don't you get up, my child?" he asked. "Why, greadpa. didn't you tell me to do what the Bible says?" replied Dorothy. "Yes. certainly." "Well, it disapproves of early rising—says it's a waste of time," rejoined the child. Mr. Gladstone was unable to agree, but Dorothy was sure of her ground. Laundry work at home would be much more satisfactory if the right Starch were used. In order to get the desired stiffness, it is usually necessary to use so much starch that the beauty and fineness of the fabric is hidden behind a paste of varying thickness, which not only destroys the appearance, but also affects the wearing quality of the goods. This trouble can be entirely overcome by using Defiance Starch, as it can be applied much more thinly because of its greater strength than other makes.
