LEIGH.
From the World.
Mrs. Henry Moeller slipped and fell last Sunday in such an unfortunate manner that she struck her hand on a nail which happened to be sticking up through a board going clear through the palm.

George Bruhn tells us that for several weeks past he had been missing chickens from his poultry house. A few days ago Mr. Bruhn was a little surprised to find a stray sack in the chicken house and an actual count of the chickens revealed the fact that out of their two hundred fowls raised this past summer, only about one hundred birds remained. If the owner of the sack will kindly call Mr. Bruhn will gladly give him back his sack and no questions will be asked. As it is, Bruhn doesn't consider it a "square deal."

PLATTE CENTER.
From the Signal.
It is said that "there is a land where they don't shovel snow." After one has blistered their hands, exhausted their breath and lamed their back in removing snow from a block or so such a land don't seem such a bad proposition.

The Foley boys finished threshing their wheat crop just as snow began to fall last Friday. They had 7,500 bushels, machine measure. It will probably weigh 8,000 bushels. They had 300 acres, which would make the return close to 27 bushels an acre.

Principal J. J. Malone of the Humphrey schools, under the heading, "Parents, Attention," has the following in last week's Democrat: "Say parents if you have daughters attending the public schools I wish you would look after them during the night. There is entirely too much 'boyology.' The school house steps were not made for sparring purposes, nevertheless they have recently been used at an hour when these children should have been at home. Of course, it was not your daughters. May be it does not make any difference? Are you interested? If so, you will lose no time in finding out about these things. Emphatically, I object to trying to teach or make scholars out of such pupils."

CENTRAL CITY.
From the Post.
A 900 pound hog was shipped out of Central City the latter part of last week. It was consigned to parties in Grand Island and was sold by Timm Neuhofel at his sale at the Disney barn. The animal was a monster and it took a pretty stout crate to carry.

Mack Hess, who works at the creamery, was a badly surprised young man Friday. He was piling cream cans on the second floor and had stacked up two or three hundred cans. All of a sudden the pile toppled over and Mack was caught under the deluge. None of the sharp edges of the cans happened to strike him and he was not injured, but it took several of the other employes to dig him out. The folks downstairs thought for a few minutes that the roof had fallen in.

HUMPHREY.
From the Democrat.
The farm home of Henry Tonyon was placed in quarantine for small pox the first of the week, Joseph son of Mr. Tonyon having the disease. The talk is prevalent that a number of contagious diseases have existed in this community recently that have not been reported to the proper authorities nor quarantined.

Mrs. Frank German was operated on for gall stones at St. Mary's hospital in Columbus last Thursday morning, a short notice of which we had in last week's Democrat. We are glad to report that Mrs. German passed through the operation in fine shape and is getting along as well as could be expected. Mr. German was at Columbus until Sunday evening, when he came home for a short time, and then returned to the bedside of his wife.

Dr. Condon has purchased four head of deer and will place them in Condon park. They are expected here this week. This is a spirit of enterprise which Humphrey people will no doubt appreciate. Condon has gone to a great deal of expense in securing these deer, and while they will not do anything in the way of returning a reasonable amount of revenue for the investment, yet Dr. Condon thinks they will be worth all they cost in adding attractiveness to the park and advertising Humphrey. Mighty few towns in the country can boast of a park containing live deer.

MONROE.
From the Republican.
Mrs. W. E. Cole and baby of Broken Bow, who have been here a few days, will go from here to their new home in Lincoln where Will has located so as to be near a manufactory that can supply him with a patent hen roost he has been selling, and owns the patent.

The condition of the roads, in the northeast corner of Monroe township are such that it is impossible for the carrier to make the trip over them. On account of the trees and lay of land the drifts get so deep that it is hardly worth while clearing the roads should there be much snow. The carrier got into one of the first of these drifts and had to unhitch his team, and turn his wagon around by hand and get out the best he could, so that he would not break the wagon. This piece of road is known as one of the worst in the country, especially when there is snow, and for days at a time it is impossible to get through with a team much less a mail wagon.

John Stockton Lenon, age sixty-one years, died at the home of J. O. Read November 14, 1909. Mr. Lenon had been in poor health for some time, but his death was unexpected. Mr. Lenon was born in Delaware county, Ind., March 14, 1848. At the age of sixteen he joined the Methodist Episcopal church, and in 1882 was licensed to preach. On June 6, 1867 he was married to Sarah A. Rowley, who survives him. Nearly all of his life was passed in his native state of Indiana, where he resided on a farm until he entered the ministry. About three years before he and Mrs. Lenon came to Nebraska, which was in 1900, his health failed and he was compelled to give up the ministry. Funeral services were held Tuesday at 12 m. from the Methodist church, being conducted by Rev. Rose, pastor of the church and he was laid to rest in the New Hope cemetery by the side of his little niece, Lulu Cole.

GENOA.
From the Times.
Another Nance county man has sold his farm for a big wad of money. Last Friday a deal was made which transferred Jim Anderson's farm six miles west of town to J. Carstenson. The price paid was $90 per acre. If Mr. Anderson does not change his mind he will move to Greeley, Colo., to reside.

Charles Anderson committed suicide by taking poison at the home of his divorced wife in the south part of town last Saturday at 9 a. m. Mrs. Amanda Anderson secured a divorce from her husband five or six years ago on the ground of non-support, the decree giving her possession of her four children, the oldest fifteen and the youngest six, at the present time.

A story is told in the Cincinnati Enquirer of two brothers, David and Gasper Ayers, of Rochester, Ohio, who had fought side by side during the civil war. The death of one has brought to light the fact that each had drawn a pension for injuries sustained as the result of exposure upon the same day. One claimed to have suffered frost-bitten feet, and the other to have had a sandstroke.

ST. EDWARD.
From the Advance.

Two young men from near Kearney endeavored to give a wild-west exhibition on our street yesterday afternoon. Marshal Wait took them to the lock-up and Judge Fellars assessed them $5 and costs this morning.

Miss Wathan who is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Styles, was called home to Boone Tuesday afternoon by the news that the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wathan, had burned that morning. It is reported that Mr. Wathan was carrying insurance of $500 on the building and $250 on the household furniture.

Cornelius V. Eagan died Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 17, 1909, at 4:30 o'clock at the F. M. Redman restaurant where he had been making his home. He had been in ill health for a long time but his condition was not supposed to be critical until Saturday evening. His brothers, John Eagan of Columbus and Francis Eagan of Omaha, were notified and were at the bedside. Funeral services were held from St. John's church, Rev. Father Crowley of Albion officiating.

What a Poet Writes.
"You never can tell whether poetry is loaded or not," said a Columbia professor decanting upon the muse, "and what a poet writes in the moments of his fine frenzy rolling may be susceptible of change which would make him curse the pen did he but know whence it pointed. Now, listen to this couplet:
"Help us to save free conscience from the paw
Of hireling wolves whose gospel is their maw."
"It sounds like some kind of a family poem, doesn't it, with paw and maw coming in to make the rhyme? Do you imagine the poet when he wrote the lines ever thought of the parents represented in such a homely way and how the meaning of the whole thing could be changed by changing the meaning of the end words of two lines? Was he a beginner? Oh, no; he was not a beginner. He had written several very classy things. He was John Milton. You remember he wrote 'Paradise Lost' and two or three other pieces of considerable merit, though he never quite got into the 'six best sellers' list, and these two lines I have quoted close his sonnet to Lord Protector Cromwell, written in 1652."—New York Herald.

The Mistletoe.
The mistletoe is a Druidical contribution to Christmas. It was held in great veneration by the Druids in ancient England, and the cutting of it was attended by sacrificing and feasting. With weird incantations the priest climbed the tree on which the mistletoe grew and cut it away with a knife of purest gold, no base metal being allowed to touch it. As the twigs fell they were received below in a mantle of spotless whiteness.

Another Case of Faith.
"I wrote a medical friend of mine in London about a curious discovery which I made recently quite by chance, but which I shall never publish to the world through the scientific journals."
"Not long ago this friend sent me about fifty little dark colored pellets, and he wrote me that they were a new combination of drugs that he had found particularly good in cases of brain pain. He asked me to try them on my patients and report. During the next month or so I doled out the pellets to several of my patients who came around complaining of tired nerves. All of them said that the medicine did them a lot of good. Yesterday, however, I was going through my office desk and discovered those pellets from London intact in the plain envelope in which I had placed them. A hurried but anxious investigation disclosed that I had been administering to my nerve weary patients some wistaria seed that my wife had gathered, put in a plain envelope and laid inadvertently on my office table."—Exchange.

His Generosity.
"Yes," said the tired looking woman, "I have a very generous husband, and this is the way he gets that reputation. The other day I worked and slaved in the kitchen for about ten hours making jelly. It was my first attempt, so I had considerable trouble and burned my fingers about seventeen different times. It turned out pretty good, however, and of course I was proud and delighted. That night I put some on the table for dinner, and husband got enthusiastic.
"Next day he was visiting a sick friend of his, a man, by the way, quite able to buy anything he might want and whose wife never lifts her finger. On leaving Mr. Generous Husband says: 'My wife made some pretty good jelly the other day. You might like some. I'll send you up half a dozen jars.'
"Now, wouldn't that frost you or rasp you or whatever they say. Half a dozen jars! After all my work to hand that jelly over to a man whose wife is too lazy to breathe! I made exactly eight jars, so we will have one more unless he has already promised it to somebody else."—New York Press.

ADVICE TO WOMEN.

A Message from a Famous Beauty Specialist to Women Lacking in Energy and Vitality.
Thousands of women vainly attempt to improve their complexion and to remove blackheads, crows' feet and other blemishes, through the use of cosmetics. This treatment fails because the troubles lie far deeper than the skin. They are suffering from impure and impoverished blood. The condition is in many cases due to a catarrhal condition of the whole system which finds its expression in sallow, muddy complexion, dark-circled eyes, general weakness of the system, and perhaps most plainly in the weeping of mucous membranes that is commonly called catarrh.
In fact this whole tendency is, properly speaking, Catarrh. Banish this catarrh, and the complexion will clear as if by magic, eyes will brighten, faces become rosy and shoulders erect. Perfect beauty goes only with perfect health, and perfect health for women can only be obtained through one certain treatment—that which will cure catarrh.
Mrs. Swift, New York, the famous beauty specialist known throughout the world and an accepted authority on all relating thereto, states that one positive and permanent relief for catarrh is Rexall Mucuo-Tone. Here is her letter:
"I can strongly endorse the claims made for Rexall Mucuo-Tone as a cure for systemic catarrh. Its tonic effects are remarkable. It builds up the strength and restores vitality. If women who are tired and run down, lacking in energy and vitality, will use Rexall Mucuo-Tone, they will praise as I do its strengthening and healing qualities."
Rexall Mucuo-Tone works through the blood, acting thus upon the mucous cells—the congestion and inflammation of which causes local catarrh. This remedy causes poison to be expelled from the system, and the blood is purified and revitalized. Thus the natural functions of the mucous cells are restored, and the membranes are cleansed and made strong. We know that Rexall Mucuo-Tone does relieve catarrh. We positively guarantee to refund the money paid us for this remedy in every case where the user is dissatisfied. It is a builder of vigorous health and a creator of good complexions. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. Mail orders filled. It may be obtained only at Pollock & Co's. drug store on the corner.

Rise of Russia.
In the history of Europe down to the middle of the eighteenth century Russia is a blank. The foundation of the kingdom was laid by Ruric the Norseman in the sixth century. In the tenth century the Russians were Christianized, adopting the Greek form of Christianity. In the thirteenth century the Russians were completely overrun by the Tartars under Garghiz Khan. From the Tartars Russia was delivered by Ivan, who became czar in the time of Elizabeth. It was Peter the Great (1672-1725) who gave Russia for the first time a place in the states system of Europe.—New York American.

FURNITURE TALK

About Our New Fall Line
We are showing on the floor at the present time our new line of Bed Room Furniture in Circassian walnut, mahogany, bird's eye maple, golden oak and the good imitation quartered oak.
In beds we have something new in wood in the Ver-nis Martin and enamel finishes. The first time these goods were shown was in Grand Rapids last July. We can truthfully say that at the present time we can show you a larger line of bedroom goods than we ever carried before.
In kitchen cabinets we have just received a line of the Springfield make, the best we know of, in prices ranging from $18.50 to $40.00. We also show the McDougal line of sifter bin cabinets.
Pedestal extension tables, 42 inch round tops, we are selling now for $11.00. These are first class tables in oak and ash, solid woods, golden oak finishes. Genuine quarter sawed oak tops on these tables at $14.50 and $16.
