HUMPHREY.

From the Democrat
Misses Mamie and Frances Schroeder and Hattie King of Columbus attended the Thanksgiving ball last Thursday evening.

Theodore Krueger accompanied by his mother returned Friday evening from Texas, where they had been since last spring. Mrs. Krueger became so homesick for her old home that she decided to return to Nebraska to spend her remaining years. Theodore will also remain here for the present.

Farmers who make a habit of putting sale bills and other advertising matter in mail boxes on rural routes would do well to look up the postoffice law on these matters. Recently the federal authorities have made a number of arrests and the offenders in every case pleaded ignorance of the law. Every failure to affix a stamp or stamps to any article deposited in a mail box may mean a fine of ten or more dollars as Uncle Sam does not excuse ignorance in his large family of nephews.

MONROE.

From the Republican.
E. R. Deck was over from Clark this week, making arrangements to move on the Quackenbush farm, which he recently purchased.

The Okay school gave an interesting Thanksgiving program Wednesday afternoon, after which Miss Eisenmenger went to her home near Humphrey to spend the remainder of the week.

There was another change in Union Pacific agents at this place Wednesday when F. Ledbetter was transferred from Enola to Monroe, and was checked in that day. The former agent, B. J. Conklyn, goes to Omaha and will be assigned to another station.

Monday of this week William Smith of Lincoln and Miss Hattie A. White of Monroe were married in Columbus. County Judge R. H. Johnson performed the ceremony. The groom is a resident of Lincoln, where he has a good position, and the bride is a daughter of Mr. J. White of the commercial hotel. The newlywed couple returned to Monroe Monday and Tuesday the groom left for Lincoln, at which place his wife will join him during the holidays.

ALBION.

From the News.
Miss Emma Hoppen of Columbus, visited her brother Paul here last Thursday, returning home Friday morning.

Dorsey Kesterson suffered a very serious injury to one of his eyes Saturday night, and it is probable he will lose the eye entirely. Saturday night while some of the boys were fooling around, one of them threw a stone which struck Dorsey in the eye. Since then he has been under the care of a doctor.

Fern, the little seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kronkright, living near Loretto, died Sunday evening of the spinal disease which has been so prevalent in some sections of the state during the summer and fall. The little one had been ailing for a few days but was not kept out of school, until she was taken worse about three days before her death.

County Clerk Walters has had the pictures of all the ex county clerks enlarged to uniform size and framed and hung in the clerk's office. They are as follows: John Peters, J. Nelson, G. M. Montgomery, Wm. Weitzel, F. M. Siliak, H. F. Lehr and G. H. Babbitt, all of whom, with the exception of the last named, are still living. The pictures are hung in a group on the south wall.

BELLWOOD.

From the Gazette.
We know a man who invariably starts all his remarks. "The thought comes to me," and we often wonder why the thought that he is a nuisance never comes to him.

Bert Rbelly, while shooting pigeons and sparrows on Sunday last, noticed some dirt sticking on the muzzle of his rifle and while trying to pick it off the "thing" went off, the ball passing clear through the thumb on his left hand.

Mr. Wolf, one of the bankers at David City, phoned the Gazette yesterday morning that there was a young woman now on her rounds through Bellwood and vicinity soliciting money for the Child's Institute at Kansas; that she carried with her a letter bearing his signature, recommending her, which Mr. Wolf says is a forgery.

It is said that the muskrats built few houses this year. The ducks remained in the north a month longer than usual. The corn husks are wide open. The quills have not laid away winter supplies. The bees loafed all summer and their hives are empty. If the coming winter proves to be a hard one, the birds and the bees and the animals will prove poor weather prophets.

A short time ago a crank sort of an old man came into this office and stopped his paper because a me thing in it did not just suit his fancy. We have frequently met him on the street since that time and it is amusing to note the look of surprise on the old fellow's face that we are still in existence regardless of the fact that he stopped his paper. Some day—and it won't be long either—that old gentleman will turn up his toes. His heart will be stilled forever. Neighbors and friends will follow his lifeless clay to the silent city and lay them to rest among flowers. An obituary will be published in these columns telling what a kind father, a good neighbor and beloved citizen he was—which the recording angel will overlook for charity's sake and in a short time he will be forgotten. As he lies out there in the cold, cold graveyard wrapped in the silent slumber of death, he will never know that the last kind word spoken of him was by the editor of that paper which in life he so spitefully "stopped." Did you ever pause just a moment and think that your editor, whoever he may be, will write your obituary some day?—Primrose Record.

PLATTE CENTER
From the Herald.
Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Mookle entertained at their home a portion of last week Miss F. T. Walker and children of Omaha, and Mrs. Mark Burke and little son of Columbus.

M. E. Olother had a cousin, Ed Olother of San Bernardino, California, drop in on him unexpectedly last Saturday morning, and although M. E. had not seen him in forty years, he had no trouble in recognizing him. Mr. Olother had been paying a visit to relatives in New York state, and was on his way back to California. He continued his journey Tuesday.

Lawyers stand up in court houses before jurors in the presence of large audiences, and denounce men as liars, scoundrels, thieves and perjured villains, and when court adjourns the men appear to harbor no ill will against them. But let a newspaper faintly intimate that a man's character is blamed, and he has to confront a horse pistol, stand a libel suit or suffer what the people think to be the greatest of all mortifications—lose a subscriber.

Mrs. Minnie Johnson Kamm died last Sunday at the home of her son, Frank Kamm, two miles southeast of Platte Center, at the very advanced age of 95 years, 3 months and 28 days. She was born in Germany and came to this country twenty-three years ago with her son Frank, with whom she made her home, her husband having died in Germany. They have lived in this vicinity some twelve years. She leaves five sons, one in Clay county, this state, two in Oklahoma, one in Germany and one here. The funeral was held Wednesday from the Shell Creek German Baptist church, and the remains interred in the cemetery close by.

ARE MICROBES IN YOUR SCALP?
It Has Been Proved that Microbes Cause Baldness.

Professor Unna of Hamburg, Germany and Dr. Sahpbrand, the leading French dermatologist, discovered that a microbe causes baldness. Their theory has time and again been amply certified through research experiments carried on under the observation of eminent scientists. The microbe lodges in the Sebor, which is the natural hair oil, and when permitted to flourish it destroys the hair follicles and in no time the pores entirely close, and the scalp gradually takes on a shiny appearance. When this happens there is no hope of the hair being revived.

Dandruff is a contagious disease, which is largely due to a destructive microbe, which when left to pursue its course causes itching scalp, falling hair and baldness. Dandruff is caused by microbe affecting the glands which produce the sebaceous matter, which then unnaturally dries up and scales off.

We have a remedy which will, we honestly believe, remove dandruff, exterminate the microbes, promote good circulation in the scalp and around the hair roots, tighten and revitalize the hair roots and overcome baldness, so long as there is any life left in the hair roots.

We back up this statement with our own personal guarantee that this remedy called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will be supplied free of all cost to the user if it fails to do as we state.

It will frequently restore gray and faded hair to its original color, providing loss of color has been caused by disease, yet it is in no sense a dye. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic accomplished these results by making every hair root, follicle and pigment gland strong and active, and by stimulating a natural flow of coloring pigment throughout the hair cells.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely free from grease or sediment, is exceedingly pleasant to use and will not gum the hair or permanently soil the clothing or pillows.

We exact no obligations or promises, we simply ask you to give it a thorough trial and if not satisfied tell us and we will refund the money you paid us for it. Two sizes, prices 50c and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it in Columbus only at Pollock & Co's. drug store on the corner.

Woman—and Her Master.
The philosopher and his friend sat far into the night discoursing on things in general and smoking strong shag. "Woman," said the former oracularly, "was meant to fill a subordinate position in the scheme of creation. Man is naturally her master. She cannot rationally oppose his will. He is instinctively and by the law of natural selection the dominant animal. Woman may learn to revolt, but she can never learn to rule. She has one mission in life—that of obedience. Man is born to lead, woman to follow. Man is born to command, woman to comply. She is secure only in her weakness. It is at once her duty and delight to obey her superior and"— Then the door opened, and there appeared the head of a female theraut. "Theophilus," said a stern voice, "how often have I told you not to smoke your horrid tobacco in the library? It's half past 2, sir. Come to bed instantly." And the philosopher sighed, shook his friend silently by the hand and went.—London Sketch.

He Knew Them.
"The pastor of a Tallapoosa church," said a southern senator, "said rather pointedly from the pulpit one Sunday morning: "Ah sunny am ref'lect to see Brud-dah Calhoun White in ch'urch once mo'. Ah's glad Brud-dah Calhoun has saw de error of his ways at lawst, fo' dere is no' joy obah one sinnah dat repenteth dan obah de ninety an' nine."

"But at this point Brother Calhoun White interrupted angrily. "Oh," said he from his seat, "de ninety an' nine needn't crow, Ah could tell some things ebout ninety an' nine ob Ah wanted ter?"

No Lie After All.
They were telling fish stories, and at last the tall, lank man on the cracker barrel said:

"I went down to the river this morning, and, although the water was high almost to a flood, I took a ten foot pike."

"Stop there!" exclaimed the fat man with the corncob pipe. "Tell us you took an eight pound trout, and I'll sit idly by, but a ten foot pike—never! Ananias died for less than that."

"I took a ten foot pike pole," continued the unflinching tall, lank man on the cracker barrel, "and in less than five minutes I hooked out a fifteen foot bass."

"See here! See here!" yelled the man who owned the grocery. "You'll have to go way from here to finish that lie. I ain't got no lightning rod on this store yet."

"I hooked out a fifteen foot bass-wood log," persisted the tall, lank man, "and I want to ask how much you think I kin sit for it."

Dr. Hale's Day.
Dr. Hale and the late Bishop Huntington of New York were fast friends. The latter had been a Unitarian, and his shift caused a sensation, says the Christian Register. The Episcopalian has since assigned to the various days in the year. When an Episcopalian minister writes a letter on any day for which there is a saint he always writes the name of the saint at the close of the letter instead of the date. Bishop Huntington learned all these things quickly and began to practice them at once. The first time he had occasion to write to his old friend Dr. Hale after joining the church he placed "St. Michael's day" after his signature. A reply from the doctor came, and after his name he had written in a full, round hand, "Wash day."

The Water Jet.
The idea of driving piles with a water jet was borrowed by engineers from the clam, a small shellfish which burrows twelve to fourteen inches into hard sand or mud by this process.

He who lives in the spirit never grows old. The outward man perishes, but the inward man has a perpetual youth.—Phillips Brooks.
