UNCOOKED MEAT VERY DANGEROUS

FEARFUL SUFFERING CAUSED BY EGGS OF PARASITE WHICH IT MAY CONTAIN - STATE-MENT BY A PRIEST.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 2.-Probably the most unusual feature of the excitement that has been created by L. T. Cooper's visit to this city is the removal of parasites or tape worms by his preparations.

During the early part of Cooper's stay in Omaha individuals who were taking "New Discovery," as it is called. brought either to himself or to physisians throughout the city immense parasites that had left the system after using the medicine.

Many of these people were frightened, and cases of this sort became so numerous that Cooper finally made the following statement for publicatinh:

He said: "In every city I visit these things are brought to me within a few days after my medicine is sold In the city. They are what is known as the tape-worm, and grow to an enormous size.

"Few, indeed, realize how prevalent large factor they are in the poor health of this generation. I believe that fully one-half of the chronic stomach trouble new so universal is caused by these parasites.

"Individuals may have them for years and not be aware of the reason for their continued ill-health, but attribute it to many different diseases, when in reality one of these creatures as robbing them of their vitality.

This grewsome prophecy has been amply verified, for not only hundreds but thousands of Omaha people have aroused by the fact.

enormous size as to startle the imagination. The statement of Father John Paptist Arnolis, one of the best known and best beloved priests in this. His statement, among others given to a reporter, was as follows:

"For years I suffered from what I thought was a general run-down condition of the system caused by stomach trouble. I felt extremely tired all the time, and it was a great effort to attend to my duties. I would wake up in the morning feeling as worn out as when I went to bed. If I stood for any length of time I would have pain In the lower part of my back, and would-have to sit down.

"I was very nervous and depressed In spirits, and was troubled with dizzy spells. I would see spots before my eyes when I stooped over and raised up quickly. I had a very irregular appetite, and would have palpitation of the heart after ascending the stairs. "The talk about Cooper's preparations was so universal that I decided to try some, although I do not take patent medicines as a rule. I took four doses of the 'New Discovery' as it is called, and a tape-worm about sixty feet in length left my system. "I am very thankful for this great relief, and now I know what has been the cause of all my suffering."

The story of Father Arnelis is a fair sample of the experience of an asterishing number of Omaha people, and Cooper's preparations are selling here in immense quantities. It is now estimated that he has sold one hundred thousand bottles to date in this city clone, and the sale is still in-

Tog-Eye's Plaintive Protest. Fog-Eye Smith of northwest Wying upon his horrific exterior, he was in the habit of trying to awe newcomers. On one occasion, affecting some displeasure at the manner in which a pallid stranger watered his liquor, Mr. Smith announced, frowning, that unless he detected immediate amendment he would send the neophyte home in a market basket. "Which I'll sure tear you up a whole lot," said Fog-Eye. Half an hour later Mr. Smith was found groping about on the floor under the poker table, hunting for his glass eye, and muttering to himself. The stranger asked with some evidence of impatience what new line of centiments Mr. Smith was now harboring. That injured resident, glaring malevolently from beneath the furniture, repaid: "Which i sure do hate a man with no sense of humor."

Her Idea of Discipline. One day recently, just after the opening of the Paltimore schools, the teacher of a primary class had occasion right at the start to enforce dis-

"Here, young man!" she exclaimed indicating a pupil whose name she did not yet know, "I saw you laughing do that the entire Chilean navy is to study her lines with care at any in this school!"

"I was only thinking about some sheepishly.

"Well, don't let that happen in school again," said the teacher, stern | Chilean bossin' 'em. But then that's board the wrong vessel, it was from ly.-Sunday Magazine of the Cleve- only a part of it. Every one of them no innocent mistake of the darkness, land Leader.

Spoiled the Story. Tattered Terry-I'm a newspaper man, but I can't get a job. Lady of the House-Indeed! Why not? Tattered Terry-You see, I saved a train from a terrible accident once me ever since!-Puck. Before she is married to a man a woman always wants to think of him; afterward she wants to think for him. The world is all gates, all opertunistruck.-Emerson.

ties, strings of tension waiting to be

SYNOPSIS.

The story opens with the introduction of John Stephens, adventurer, a Massahusetts man marooned by authorities at Valparaiso, Chile. Being interested in Velparaiso, Chile. raining operations in Bolivia, he was de-nounced by Chile as an insurrectionist and as a consequence was hiding. At his hotel his attention was attracted by an Englishman and a young woman. Stephens rescued the young woman from a drunken officer. He was thanked by her Admiral of the Peruvian navy con-fronted Stephens, told him that war had been declared between Chile and Peru and offered him the office of captain. He desired that that night the Esmeralda, these creatures are. I think I have Chilean vessel, should be captured. Stephens accepted the commission. Stephens met a motley crew, to which he was assigned. He gave them final in-structions. They boarded the vessel. They successfully captured the vessel supposed to be the Esmeralda, through strategy, Capt Stephens gave directions for the de parture of the craft.

CHAPTER VII.

In Which I Suspect Evil. Early dawn reached us in sodden gray, the sun a shapeless blob of dull red, with no vestige of its golden "These parasites are taken into the light forcing passage through those system in uncooked food or raw meat, | dense clouds of misty vapor closing us in the form of an egg, which hatches in as between curtained walls. The almost immediately. People suffering swell of the sea was not heavy, but from them experience a feeling of the pervading gloom gave to the surlassitude and are extremely nervous. rounding water a peculiarly sullen ap-The action of Cooper's 'New Discoy- pearance, through which we tore, reckery' seems to be fatal to these great less of accident, at full speed. A new worms, and in most cases a few doses | hand was at the wheel, Johnson havof the medicine drives the creatures ing gone below an hour since, but I from the system. I will have hundreds still clung to the bridge, my eyes of them brought to me before I leave | heavy from peering forth into the fogbank, my clothing sodden with the constant drin.

Only a few of the men were visible, three or four grouped about the capbeen relieved of some of these fearful stan on the forecastle head, and as parasites since taking Cooper's prep- many more gathered along the lee acation, and the entire city has been side of the charthouse. Evidently regular watches were already chosen, and Some of these parasites are of such a portion of the crew had been turned self, clad in wet, glistening oil-skins and looking gaunt and cadaverous, his chin-beard forking straight out over this section of the country verifies the high collar, was standing aft, beside the fellow who still kept guard to the starboard end of the bridge, odd to me." and, when he glanced around, made signal for him to join me.

> "Not very much chance of any one overhauling us in this fog. Mr. Tuttle," said, pleasantly. 'It would be like bunting a needle in a haystack."

> "Tis as the Lord wills," he returned, rather souriy. "Man proposes, but God disposes. The sun will lift that whole outfit in another hour. How far do you figure we're off shore?"

"Figure it for yourself. We're doing all of 16 knots, and have been for four hours at that speed. With another to be added, even our smoke ought to be below the horizon. We've given them the slip all right, and from now on it's merely a question of steaming to keep ahead. I don't recall anything in the Chilean navy that can overhaul us. What discoveries have you made below?" He turned his crafty, glitering eyes toward me, twisting the lump of tobacco under his tongue. In some way, bepeath the revealing daylight, I became even more distrustful of the man, more conscious of his hypocrisy. "Not a great deal," his mouth attempting a grin; "except that we've got the crew caged. Everybody was ashore but the harbor watch." "Then you found the forecastle empty?"

"Nothin' there but duanage and bilge water, regular sea-parlor, sir." "And no officer on board?" I asked, scarcely believing it possible.

"None, barring the engineer, so far oming bore an appalling facade. His as I know. The cabin was locked up style of beauty was a blight. Depend | by your orders, so I let that alone." "And that, then, is all you have dis> covered, is it, Mr. Tuttle?" He shifted his long legs, but made no effort to turn and face me.

"Well, I guess that's about the whole of it," he answered, slowly, as though deliberating over the choice of words. "Only I'm a bit puzzled about some things what don't look just right. We started out, as I understand it, to run off with a Chilean warship named the Esmeralda, a schoonerrigged steam yacht. That was the contract wasn't it sir"

I nodded, gravely, wondering what the man could possibly be driving at "That was my understanding," his misal tone becoming more pronounced and disagreeable. "And somehow what we've got here looks just a bit odd. This here is a schooner-rigged steam-yacht all right, an' I guess the tonnage isn't very far out of the Esmeraida class, but we haven't found a blame Chilean on board-two Swedes, a Dutchman, two Kanakas, an' bloomin' English engineer."

"Well, what of that?" I broke in filled with foreigners." thing, ma'am," said the youngster, questioning glance toward me; "that's teresting to the eye of a seaman. But a whole crew of those beggars an' no the truth. If we were, indeed, on One Man's Method of Making Life Atcabin, have got the name Sea Queen beyond my comprehension. I swore for the World's Work. The editor has painted on them. Dam' if it ain't, here, savagely under my breath, even as I asked him to tell particularly how his mandment which bids them honor too, on this tamaulin." at the lettering he pointed out, yet realized, by my increasing dislike of city. with no feeling of uneasiness.

and all de editors have been sore on name before the Chilean government accident was grotesque, ridiculous, be set out to make life enjoyable for our food. It is likely that many a son purchased her and renamed her Es- youd belief! It was the hallucination children," his "partner" being his wife. meralda for their service. She was of a fool. One of the men assisted me There follow tales of porterhouse bought from English parties, I've to unbar the slide across the compan- steaks which "would have appetized of loving responsibility at the head of heard. Probably the new owners have ionway, and, bidding him stand by the jaded palate of a dyspeptic presi- the home. Anyway, the boy is not found no opportunity to repaint the ready for a hail, I started below, my dent," and of huge bowls of straw- kept to the acres by the selling of the > Tuttle drew forth a red bandanna on the rubber-lined stairs. and blew his nose, his voice more su! These led into as handsome a sea- fellows the fortunate young folks of family.

"See Here, Mr. Tuttle, Kindly Explain What You Are Driving At."

over the companion. I moved across yer right. However, it looks .m' in elaborate taste, evidencing an ex- a sudden leap upward of my heart into thinning fog. It was the manner of pressed me.

certainly knew where she was moored few hours.

yesterday." other boat into her anchorage."

I laughed aloud, not in the least impressed with his argument.

alike as to deceive all of us." dently unconvinced, plucking at his chin-beard.

"There is a certain way of settling the matter," I went on, decisively, "that is, by an examination of the papers in the cabin. Take charge of the bridge, and I'll run down and clear up this affair beyond any further controversy. We may even have one of the ship's officers stowed away there. sleeping off his late celebration. If there is, he's due for a rude awakening. Keep the yacht's head as she is,

and I'll be back directly." I was aware that he watched me closely as I descended the steps, but felt little interest in such surveillance. That we could have been guilty of so in upon my consciousness with that serious an error as he suggested was beyond possibility. Nevertheless the mere suspicion was irritating, leaving me filled with a vague unrest. It was quite true that I might have been deceived. I realized that, because I had enjoyed no opportunity to observe the impatiently. "You know as well as I Esmeralda in daylight, and no occasion time. To me she had appeared merely "Sure," he coincided, with a swift, as an extremely graceful vessel, inall true enough, sir, but I never saw | Tuttle and his crew must have known small boats down there, an' the life- but rather the result of deliberate preservers hangin' in front of the plan, the full purpose of which was farmer" is writing his autobiography laughed sareastically at the vague sus- son came to enjoy farm life and not I bent over the rail looking down picion, aroused largely, as I well hanker after the allurements of the written corollary. Parents must honor the ex-whaleman. The wrong ship? "From the very first," says this "Beyond doubt, that was the yacht's Why, the very conception of such an rural philosopher, "my partner and I forth the best he had in thought and lenly insolent as he resumed speech. | parlor as ever I remember gazing "Glad ye take it so cool, an' maybe upon. Everything was effective and penditure that made me stare about in my thoat. There was no semblance of I glanced aside at the wheelman ap- amazement. So deeply did it impress | fear, only undisguised amazement, in prehensively. The fellow was gazing me that I remained there grasping the straight ahead of him into the rapidly the rail, gazing about in surprise, hesithe mate more than his words that im- ther. Yet this feeling was but momentary, the very desertion and si-"See here, Mr. Tuttle," and I lence quickly convincing me that the dropped my hand rather heavily on cabin contained no occupants. The his sleeve, "kindly explain exactly movement of the vessel, the trampling soaked jacket, with the glistening what you are driving at. Do you in- of men on the deck, and the ceaseless peak of my cap shadowing my face. tend to insinuate that we have made noise of the screw were more noticea mistake in the dark, and run off able here than forward, and no seawith the wrong vessel? Why, man, man, however overloaded with liquor that is impossible. We are sailors, he might have been the night before, not landlubbers. Both of us have had could have slept undisturbed through chances to see the Esmeralda, and you the hubbub and changes of the past

Inspired to activity by this knowl "Well, when I come to think it edge, and eager to settle the identity over, I don't feel quite so everlasting of our prize, I began closer examinaly sure about that. The mind o' man i tion of that impressive interior, alis mighty deceitful," he admitted though not entirely relieved from the slowly. "You see, I never saw her spell of its royal magnificence. Six any closer than maybe a mile, an' doors, three upon each side, opened even then she was half hid behind oth- off from the main cabin. The fuller shippin'. Of course I took notice of length mirrors occupied the spaces beher outline an' rig, but I didn't pay tween, and the doors themselves were much attention to details. To-night we marvels of decoration and carving. was all of us excited, an' colors don't Another, beneath the stairs, led dishow up much in the dark! Now, her rectly into the steward's pantry, and funnel is painted red, an' unless I'm revealed, besides, a passageway leada liar the Esmeralda's was black with ing i ward, probably to the lazarette a yaller stripe round the top. You amidships. The others, as I tried their see, Mr. Stephens, we ke t in pretty brass knobs, exhibited merely comclose under cover all yesterday, an' fortable staterooms, fitted up for offimaybe they hauled the Esmeralda up cers' use; three contained two bunks to the government docks, and run an- each, the others only one. Four of the beds had been carefully made, but the remainder were in disorder, as though quite lately occupied. Everything im-"A very likely story that there were pressed me as unusually clean and two vessels in that harbor so near neat, evincing strict discipline. The only desk I noticed was a roll-top af-He remained stubbornly silent, evil fair, securely locked, and with no litter of papers lying anywhere about. This, I figured, was probably the berth of the first officer; the captain's room would naturally be the one farthest astern.

The upright piano, with the highbacked cushioned chairs surrounding it, blocked my view aft, but on rounding these I observed a closed door, which apparently led into a room be occupied, I grasped the brass knob, to a full stop, dazed by astonishment, haps I my teeth clenched in quick effort at would co self-control. The entire scene burst tion. May I ask them of you?"

green plush, the polished table with a vase of flowers topping it, the glistening front of a book-case in the corner, the tiger rug into which my feet sank. All these things I perceived, scarcely realzing that I did so, for my one true impression concentrated itself upon the living occupants. There were two present. At a low dressing table, her back toward me, froating a mirror, yet with eyes fastened upon an open book lying in her lap, sat a woman. The lowered head yielded me only an indistinct outline of her features, yet the full throat and rounded cheek gave pledge of both youth and beauty. Standing almost directly behind her chair, with short, curly locks, crowned by a smart white cap, her hands busied amid her mistresses' tresses, was a maid, petite, roguish, fluttering about like a humming bird. The latter saw me at once, pausing in her work with eyes wide open in surprise, but the preoccupied mistress did not even glance up. She must have heard the sound of the door, however, for she spoke carelessly:

"I thought you were never coming. What caused you to sail so suddenly?" These unexpected words, uttered so naturally, served partially to arouse me from the dull torpor of surprise. I clenched my hands, wondering if I was really awake, and stared back into the frightened eyes of the maid, who appeared equally incapable of articulation. Suddenly she found voice.

"It is not ze one, madame," she cried, shrinking back. "Non, non; it is un homme etranger."

"What is that you say, Celeste?" and the other arose swiftly to her feet, the open book dropping to the floor as she turned to face me. Instantly I recognized her, in spite of the long hair trailing unconfined far below her waist-recognized her with the dark gray eyes that met mine.

"What-what is the meaning of this tating to press my investigations fur- strange intrusion? Are you a member of the crew?"

Instantly my can came off, the thought occurring to me of what a rough figure I must be making in my "No, madame;" and I bowed before her "I am not one of your crew. My

-my entrance here was entirely a She leaned forward, one white hand grasping the back of her chair, the expression in her eyes changing as she read my face, perplexity merging into faint recollection. "I-I do not quite comprehend," she confessed at last, changing her speech to a slightly broken Spanish. "You -you are Senor Estevan?"

CHAPTER VIII.

In Which I Begin Discovery. Stunned by this abrupt disclosure of the extremely dangerous predicament we were in, I found no immediate voice for reply, merely standing there as if petrified, staring at them both, cap in hand, grasping the edge of the door. Their faces swam before me in the gray light streaming through the stern ports; the maid already attempting a smile, as though her fears had subsided, the mistress viewing me in wondering perplexity. She it was who first succeeded in breaking the embarrassing silence. "But, senor, what does this all mean? Why are you here on board the yacht?"

With strong effort at control I brought my senses together, desperately fronting the disagreeable situation, feeling myself scarcely less a victim than she. If all that I now dimly suspected proved true, about us both were being drawn the cords of treachery.

"I cannot explain, madame," I began lamely enough. "At least not until I comprehend the situation betextending the entire width of the ter myself than I do now. It is all cabin. Never suspecting that it might dark. I have reason to believe a most serious mistake has been made-one and stepped within. Instantly I came it will be very difficult to rectify. Pere more clearly if you o answer a few ques-(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Keeping Boys on the Farm

tractive to Sons.

"A farmer whose son is also a fingers on the brass rail, my feet firm berries and cream "which Queen Vic- best joints to the city markets while toria might have envied." For play- the chuck steak is served to the right."

this farm had calves, colts, horses, pigs, pigeons, Angora rabbits, dogs, birds, guinea pigs "and even a white rat!"

Boys and girls do not enter this world of their own desire. The comtheir fathers and mothers has an unand comfort their children. The farmer in the magazine did this in setting has gone further astray than "off the farm" for lack of such a keen sense BUILUS A HOUSE FUR CATS

Chicago Woman Erects Seven-Room Structure for Valuable Feline Pets to Live In.

Chicago.—Chicago may claim the distinction of having probably the most remarkable cat fancier in the world.

Mrs. W. Eames Colburn, wife of the head of the banking firm of W. E. Colburn & Co., has built a modern seven room house for her feline pets and provided her 35 prize cats with all the luxuries of urban life. A liking for cats forbade her giving up one of her pets, but impels her to frequently add to their number. Gradually the house grew to be overrun with them and the time came for her to say good-by to some of her friends. This she refused to do, and but one alternative remained. A seven room house was built adjoining her home at 7306 Bond avenue. The feline domi cile was built with the same care and expense as though the owner herself were to live in it.

The entire front of the home is a large library, fitted with upholstered couches, silk draperies, lace curtains and heavy rugs. Steam heat and gas as well as a modern bathroom were included for kitty's comfort.

The 35 members of the cat family share six bedrooms, each fitted with little brass cots, mirrors and costly hangings. Each pet has its own bed. with silk spreads and downy blankets. Head of the household is Lord Barisford, a large white $1,000 Angora, 'who rules with an iron hand," settling all disputes and brooking no in subordination. His mate, Connie Lock. is the pride of his life, and might well make his rivals jealous. She is a pure white Persian with large brown eyes

The only militant member of the colony has precipitated so many rows in the home that he now lives in the family home with Mrs. Colburn. This is Kee Kee Vita, a short-haired Slamese with pretty, innocent blue eyes, but possessed of a violent temper. He left the marks of his disposition on many a prize animal before separated Mrs. Colburn has always derived much pleasure from spending her time tending the pets until her health failed recently. A woman has now relieved her of the cares of the cat family and spends most of her time in the cat home.

HEADS ILLINOIS MILITIA

Frank S. Dickson Is Appointed Adjutant General of States Forces by Governor.

eral of Illinois to succeed the late Thomas W. Scott, has been acting adjutant general since Scott's death, April 6, 1909.

at Hillsboro, Ill., October 6, 1876, and his present home is at Ramsey. He entered the Illinois National Guard in 1897 and was made quartermaster of the Fourth Infantry in 1900. He was appointed assistant adjutant general May 6, 1907. Gen. Dickson saw service in the Spanish American war, serv. dition remained unchanged. I did not ing a year in Cuba as a private in want to acknowledge coffee caused the Company 1, Fourth Illinois infantry.

New Miners' Safety Lamp.

A new safety lamp for miners has been invented, comprising a battery and a metal filament lamp which are completely incased. The circuit of the lamp is kept closed by means of a spring-pressed rod bearing against a light ring on the glass casing of the I don't see how anyone can like coffee, lamp. Should the glass be broken, anyway, after drinking Postum! the ring would be sure to break or be displaced, opening the circuit of the lamp, so that there would be no danger of igniting the gases with the incandescent filament.

Poor Chafing. that she was chafing under restraint." "What do you suppose was the mat-

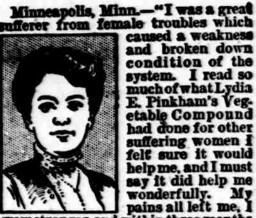

"Her husband would not permit her stead of a friend, and he is troubled to use more than half a bottle of ale | 10 more with insomnia. in the rarebit she was making."

Irony. "You're as hard as nails," said his trainer. "Well," irritably answered the actorpugilist, "wouldn't you naturally expect me to be? I wear my claw hammer coat two or three hours every

WANTS HER

For Benefit of Women who Suffer from Female Ills

rew stronger, and within three months was a perfectly well woman.
"I want this letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. John G. Moldan, 2115 Second St., North, Minneapolis, Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their

If you want special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Shewilltreatyourletterasstrictly confidential. For 20 years she has been helping sick women in this way, free of charge. Don't hesitato — write at once.

very likely.

new leaf.

Ned-He's so economical I'm afraid he'll use the same one over again.

Nil Desperandum. Percy Parkington rose and brushed the dust from his knees. Then, drawing himself up to his full height, he gazed resentfully upon the form of Miss Muriel Muggins, who nonchalantly fanned herself the while. "Very well, Miss Muggins," came in bitter tones from Percy. "Oh, very well! You have spurned me, it is true! Indeed, you have spurned me twice! But, though despair eats my heart, I shall not die! I mean to go Springfield, Ill.-Frank S. Dickson, into the busy world. I will fight! I who has been appointed adjutant gen- will win! My name shall become known, and my riches shall become envied-

"Pardon me for interrupting you, Mr. Parkington," interjected Miss The new adjutant general was born Muggins, "but when you shall have accomplished all that, you may try me again."-Lippincott's.

An Educational Problem. Little Margery has just begun to go to the kindergarten, and is filled with a due sense of the importance of her studies'there and the solemn value of the attainments that have thus been put within her reach. The other afternoon, after coming home from school, she remained in a brown study for a time, and then said: "Mamma, do I know as much now as I don't know?" The Latest Scheme.

"That new hotel will have red wallpaper in all the rooms." "Heavens! Why?" "So that when the guests kill-er-

> HARD TO DROP But Many Drop It.

mything, it won't show."

A young Calif. wife talks about coffee: "It was hard to drop Mocha and ava and give Postum a trial, but my nerves were so shattered that I was a nervous wreck and of course that means all kinds of ails.

"At first I thought bicycle riding caused it and I gave it up, but my controuble for I was very fead of it. At that time a friend came to live with us, and I noticed that after he had been with us a week he would not drink his coffee any more. I asked him the reason. He replied, 'I have not had a headache since I left off drinking coffee, some months ago, till last week, when I began again, here at your table.

"I said nothing, but at once ordered a package of Postum. That was five months ago, and we have drank no coffee since, except on two occasions when we had company, and the result each time was that my husband could not sleep, but lay awake and tossed "I met her last night and it appeared and talked half the night. We were convinced that coffee caused his suffering, so he returned to Postum, convinced that coffee was an enemy, in-

> "I, myself, have gained $ pounds in veight, and my nerves have ceased to priver. It seems so easy now to quit offee that caused our aches and alls > and take up Postum." Read the little book, "The Road to Vellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason." fiver read the above letter? A new ne property from time to time, pre mention, true, and full of human