Capt. Fremont, Son of the Pathfinder, Will Be Promoted.

New Commander of Boston Navy Yard, One of Uncle Sam's Efficient Office>3-Friend of Taft and Roosevelt.

Boston .- Capt. John C. Fremont, who has just taken charge of the Boston navy yard, belongs to a historic family; a successful naval officer. popular socially and as good a family man as a sailor can be. Born in California, the son of Gen. John C. Fremont, first presidential candidate of the Republican party and known as "The Pathfinder" on account of his exploration in the west, and Jessie Benton, daughter of "Old Bullion" Benton, senator from Missouri and intimate friend of President Jackson, Capt. Fremont at an early age developed a fondness for the sea and entered the navy at the first oppor-

Capt. Fremont is a good sportsman. In his younger days he was an expert tennis player and doubtless would have crossed rackets with ex-President Roosevelt if he had been stationed in Washington. He is a judge of horses and formerly delighted to drive a four-in-hand, and did it in a manner that won the admiration of everybody who saw him.

Now, however, he prefers the automobile to the horse and is probably one of the most enthusiastic and practical motorists in the country.

Capt. Fremont's love for animals is shared by the members of his family. They have a black "chow" dog from China, a very rare specimen; a fine bull terrier, and a white Persian cat. He is opposed to animals on shipboard, anyhow, for disciplinary reasons, and the men on any ship under his command are not permitted to enjoy the privilege many other sailors have of keeping pet monkeys, goats, lizards and other animals as

"mascots." It has never been shown, however, that a Fremont command is any more unlucky than any other command on that account.

Probably no other man in the navy has more prominent and influential people among his close personal friends. He made the acquaintance of President Taft in the Philippine is lands some years ago, while Mr. Taft was governor general of the archipelago and Capt. Fremont commanded the navy yard at Cavite. The future president learned that the young naval officer was able to make good when he promised anything.

Admiral Remey, who at that time commanded the Asiatic squadron, formed a strong admiration for his Lieut. Frement, had found the Cavite yard a pestridden hole and left it in sanitary condition; he raised the Spanish gunboats sunk by Dewey and accomplished wonders in repairing ships with Filipino labor paid in Mexican silver.

Besides the president, Capt. Frement counts among his close personal friends ex-President Roosevelt.

Mr. E. K. Bell, of Frankfort, Kentucky, writes to a Canadian Government Official, and says: "I have just returned from Alberta, overjoyed with my trip. Your literature was very flattering, but not half what I found it. I bought a half section between Calgary and Edmonton, one mile from railroad, near a good town. This is the best country I ever saw or ever expect to see. I will go in the spring and get to work on my place. I think it is the coming Country of the World." Some of the papers describe the settling of the Canadian West as "becoming a fever with a great many people. The lure of its golden promises is creeping into their hearts and many are they who are answering the call of that unsettled territory." This paper editorially cautions its readers to exercise care and thought before moving to a distant country. This would be a wise precaution, and is exactly what the Canadian officials ask.

The success of the settler who has made Canada his home for years is the best evidence that can be offered. And of the large number of Americans who have made their homes in Canada, very few have returned. All are satisfied.
