MANY YEARS AGO.

Files of the Journal, June 13, 1877.

Hail as large as a quail's egg fell yesterday for several minutes, rendering the streets glistening sheets of ice. But little wind prevailed during the storm.

Five families of emigrants from the province of Maren in Austria arrived in the city Monday. They expect to locate in Butler and Polk counties, where they have friends.

A splendid sample of rye was brought to the Journal office last Monday from the fields of Mrs. Brady, who resides a few miles northwest of this city, in the Loup valley. The rye measured five feet eight inches in height and in every way has a healthy appearance.

David Anderson purchased over 100 head of refuse stock this week, such as old stags, old cows, etc. The stock will be driven to Sioux City and fattened for the Indian market. This was a favorable move for our farmers and stock raisers as it afforded them an opportunity to dispose of all their objectionable and rough cattle at a fair price.

A western farmer suggests the use of sod for fences in Illinois, Iowa and other states where timber is scarce. He writes as follows in relation to the matter: In England and Ireland they have no fences. I have seen them in this country occasionally, but I think if our farmers knew their practical merits, we should see them often. Only dig two ditches, three feet apart, three feet wide and two feet deep. Throw the dirt from the ditches on the space between, beat it down until it has some hardness, and give it enough slant to prevent caving, and you have a fence for a lifetime. In most cases here we need no turf or whimbushes as they do in the old country, for in a year the bank will be covered with a luxuriant growth of blackberry bushes answering every purpose. Even where timber is plenty, we can make this fence cheaper than most any other.

The following from the Crete News tells of the musical success of a former Columbus girl, who will soon return to this city with the family and make her home here: The junior recital given last Saturday evening by Miss Edith Waite, voice, Miss Dora Neumeister and Mr. Richard Gray, piano, was one of the most pleasing concerts of the season. A large audience was in attendance and many expressions of pleasure and enjoyment were heard on all sides. Miss Waite, pupil of Mrs. Luce, has developed very remarkably in the past year. Her voice is clear and full and under perfect control at all times. Her selections were of a wide range and proved her equally versatile in all styles of vocal composition. Her singing was a great surprise to many of her friends. Purity of tone, distinct enunciation and good expression made all her numbers very enjoyable. Miss Neumeister proved herself a very talented pianist. Her numbers were all clearly executed, showing careful training. She possesses an unusually musical and pretty touch and has a sure and firm technique. She plays with the greatest ease, entering into the spirit of each composition. Her playing throughout was greatly admired by all and a brilliant future is predicted for her. Mr. Gray showed himself to be a genuine musician. His playing is masterly and forceful, showing a well balanced mental equipment as well as a good technique. All of his numbers were played with ease and precision and a general air of repose and confidence. Heartily applause greeted all his selections. The concert closed with a duet by Miss Neumeister and Mr. Gray which was enjoyed by all. The entire concert was a pronounced success.

At the ripe old age of eighty two years Louis Phillips, or, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Plath, October 27, 1928, and was 83 years 7 months and 23 days old at the time of this death. At the age of twenty-eight he left his native land and came to America, settling in Knoxville, Ill., where he took out his citizenship papers. From there he went to Macon City, Mo., where in 1858 he married Elizabeth Hoffman. In 1861, when the country was still new, they came to Columbus and located on a homestead south of the river, while he worked at his trade of a shoemaker, and opened up the first shoe store in the city. Later he engaged in the grocery business, and during considerable of his fifty years' residence here was identified with the business interests of the city. Before coming to this country Mr. Phillips served in the German army during the war of 1848. He leaves five grown children, Mrs. J. J. Dodds of Cambridge, J. C. Phillips of Belgrade, Mrs. L. Plath, L. F. Phillips, and H. A. Phillips of this city. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at St. Bonaventura's church, and he was buried beside his wife.

Friday evening the city council held a special meeting to consider the proposition of the Columbus Light, Heat and Power company to establish a maximum rate of fourteen cents per kilowatt, with a discount of ten per cent for prompt payment. The proposition had been referred to the committee, and the council turned down the proposition, preferring the present rates to the ones proposed by the light people. At the same meeting the light company submitted another proposition to the city for all night service, making a price for such service of $100 per year for the area, in place of $70 under the present agreement, and $20 for all night incandescent lights, instead of $15, the price at present. This was referred to the committee, and will be taken up at a later meeting.

Just what to do with the water that accumulates west of the Union Pacific depot after a rain, seems to be puzzling the engineering department of that road. Soon after the street had been paved and everything seemed lovely, there was a heavy shower of rain and the pond on the paving resulted. An engineer and the paving man came out and a section of the pavement was torn up and relaid, and the supposition was that the pond would be no more, even if it did rain. But it did not work out that way. With the last heavy rain the pond returned, a little larger than before and a few feet from the old location. Tuesday an engineer came out again and the pavement taken up once more, and it now remains to be seen whether the offending pond has disappeared for good.

Jacob Tschudin, living in the Gruetli neighborhood, across the river from Monroe, was injured by a vicious bull last Wednesday. Mr. Tschudin, with his sons, was preparing to ship a car of cattle and the animal, which had never shown a vicious disposition before, was with the herd. Without any warning he attacked Mr. Tschudin and knocked him down, and trampled him, bruising him considerably. Fortunately the sharp horns of the animal were not brought into play, or his attack might have resulted differently. Mr. Tschudin was not injured seriously, but he will feel the effects of the encounter for some time.

Columbus will not celebrate the Fourth this year, as was planned at first. The committee on soliciting funds did not meet with an enthusiastic response, and it became evident that Columbus business men were not in favor of having a celebration this year, and the committee finally concluded to call the celebration off. The Kearney-Columbus ball game will be the only attraction in the city that day.

Last week Geo. Lehman completed arrangements to again secure control of the Thurston hotel, and took possession. For the last week he has been making preparations for opening the dining room, and will begin serving meals Wednesday of this week. Extended improvements will be made in the hotel as soon as the races are over, as it would be impossible to close the house during the next two or three weeks.

Arrangements for Columbus races next week are practically completed. The entry list has been published, and for the events of the three days there are over one hundred entries, and many of the horses have been at inter-state meets. The management and stockholders of the association are boosting harder than ever this year, to make the meet a success, notwithstanding the comparatively early date. Arrangements have been made for special trains on the branches the last day so that people who attend may return that same day.

Some time ago the board of supervisors of Platte county presented a bill to Butler county for their share of the amount expended in repairing the south end of the Platte bridge, the work being done last winter. A few days ago Chairman Schwarz of the board received notice that the bill had been rejected by the Butler county board and that they did not propose to pay anything toward the bridge. Upon receipt of this County Attorney Hensley was instructed to bring suit against Butler county, and compel them to pay their proportionate cost of the repairs.

With the exception of Monday, the board of supervisors have been in session this week as a board of equalization this week, and it is only a matter of form this year, as there are practically no complaints. Last Sunday afternoon there was a quiet home wedding at the residence of Pastor Deninger of the Loeske Creek church, when his daughter, Miss Louise, became the wife of Paul Johannes of this city. Only relatives of the bride and groom were present, and the ceremony was performed by the father of the bride, Rev. E. Deninger. The groom is one of the well known business men of this city, being a member of the firm of Johannes & Krumland and the bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. E. Deninger. Sundays new time card on the Union Pacific adds four new trains and makes several changes in the time of others. The new trains added are No. 7 and 8, the Los Angeles trains, and 19 and 20, both mail trains. The Los Angeles trains run about the same time and No. 17 and 18, but do not carry local traffic in Nebraska, being the same class of trains as No. 1 and 2. The two new mail trains are practically second sections of the present mail trains, the volume of this traffic being to heavy for one train. The Grand Island local is now No. 23 and 24, and the west bound train arrives a few minutes earlier, at 8:38, instead of 8:45 p. m. The west bound arrival Platte local, which is now No. 21, arrives at 11:15 and departs at 11:30 a. m. No. 13, the fast Colorado train, arrives at 1:38 a. m., which is a few minutes earlier. On several of the other trains there is a change of a few minutes, all arriving a little earlier.

Sometime Tuesday night John R. Cummins, who was to have been checked in as Union Pacific agent at Oconee, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. Cummins had been in the employ of the company for about eight months, and came from Spalding, where he had been helper, to take charge of Oconee station temporarily. He was stopping at the hotel at that place, about six o'clock Wednesday morning he was discovered lying on the floor in a pool of blood. The hotel people thought he was dead and called Coroner Gass. Shortly after the arrival of the coroner it was discovered he was still alive and Dr. Bates of Monroe was called and later a company physician from this city. The wound, which was on the right side of the neck, is a bad one, but not necessarily fatal, and there are good prospects for his recovery. Cummins is a man about twenty-five years old and his home was in Ohio. So far the authorities have been unable to discover any motive for the deed.

On The Diamond.
Columbus has been playing ball during the last week, the addition of the three new men materially strengthening the team.
Thursday's game with Fremont went fourteen innings, Columbus succeeding in scoring in the last inning. A shower interfered in the twelfth, but the game was continued after that.
Fremont was here for Friday's game and again Columbus defeated them, the score being 3 to 6. Chittick's spectacular catch and double to Brown in the seventh prevented Fremont from scoring.
Saturday and Sunday Columbus played two return games at Fremont, and lost both games to the home team. In the Saturday game the score was 6 to 3, and the Sunday game 2 to 1. Over 300 fans went to Fremont to see the Sunday game and it was quite exciting until the finish. With the bases full in the ninth Fremont changed pitchers and Malm for Columbus fanned.
Monday's postponed game with Kearney was easily won by Columbus. Agnew, the new catcher, batted a home run in the first bringing in three runs, which gave Columbus a lead that the visitors could not overcome. Stafford was in the box for Columbus, but he was relieved by Kissell in the last half of the eighth.
Tuesday's game was the first with Red Cloud and it proved to be a slugging match for Columbus. They touched up the visitors' three pitchers for eleven hits, which netted them eight runs, while Kissell held them down to five hits. For Columbus Tighe batted a home run in the fifth and Agnew hit the ball four times out of five times up, two of them being two baggers. The second Red Cloud game will be played this afternoon and Thursday Superior plays here. Hastings will play the Saturday and Sunday games and Kearney Monday and Tuesday.

Horatio H. Adams of this city and Miss Phyllis M. Kinney of Whitewater, Wis., were married Sunday afternoon in the apartments of landlord Adams of the Clover, Rev. W. H. Xanders of Grace church performing the ceremony. Only immediate relatives were present, the wedding being a quiet one. The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Adams. They left that afternoon for an extended trip in the west, after which they will beat home in this city.

Dr. L. B. Dozey arrived in this city last week from St. Louis, the charge against him in that city having been dismissed. On Friday their household goods were sold at auction, and Sunday Mrs. Dozey left for St. Louis. While here they were at the Meridian hotel, and it would seem that the stories regarding their separation were not well founded. Dr. Dozey expects to leave this city soon, but has not decided where he will locate.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.
Two new beds have been purchased for use in the dormitories, making twenty-six in all. The base ball boys, who use two beds to the room, left several rooms without beds, so that more were bought for new roomers.
Secretary Putnam was in the city Sunday afternoon, returning to the boys' camp early Monday morning. He reports that everything is coming along fine. Although soaked to the skin the first day out, the boys soon dried themselves, and lately they have been having some ideal weather. Several returned Saturday and Sunday, but the others are sticking it out, and declare they would stay all summer if allowed to do so. The camp is nicely located on John Blaser's farm, fifteen miles west of the city. Mr. Putnam attempted to get three men to go along as leaders, but was unable to do so, and consequently he is now in sole charge of the camp. The amount of work he has to do can only be understood by those who have attempted to take care of twenty hungry mischievous boys for a few days. Several have visited the boys during the last few days, and of course were given a royal welcome. Mr. Putnam expects to bring them back to civilization Thursday, and needless to say the town will wake up a little when they arrive.
