The Los Angeles Times building was wrecked by dynamite and subsequently destroyed by fire. Twenty or more lives were lost and a great printing plant utterly destroyed. The outrage is attributed to labor troubles, the Times having for a long time been an open office. So far there is no clue to the guilty parties.
The Standard Oil company through its official publicity representative, J. C. Clarke, has announced that the company has inaugurated a campaign to increase the world's consumption of refined oil, and is lowering prices of kerosene in Europe and the far east. This action follows that of August last, when the Standard Oil company reduced refined oil in barrels 1 cent a gallon from 9 3/4 to 8 3/4 cents at the refinery, and refined oil in tanks from 6 1/2 to 5 1/2 cents a gallon. In part the statement reads: "The Standard Oil company has inaugurated a campaign to increase the world's consumption of refined oil. The level of prices for refined oil today in the United States is lower than at any time during recent years, and as a direct result of these prices the consumption of refined oil in this country is increasing. The same policy is now being actively pursued abroad."
As a tragic sequel to the death of Edmond Pollit, the French aviator, his fiancée, who had shown almost uncontrollable grief went to his grave Sunday and fired a bullet into her heart. ROOSEVELT GREETED

SOUTH GIVES WARM WELCOME TO EX-PRESIDENT.

LARGE CROWDS AT ALL POINTS

New Nationalism Defended, and Men Who are Honest Assured There is Nothing to Fear.

Knoxville, Tenn.—The south gave Theodore Roosevelt a welcome Friday which he described as "Great, by George!"
Throughout the first day of his first southern trip, which took him across Virginia and a part of Tennessee, he received all the honors which the south can pay.
Colonel Roosevelt started the day with the determination to keep as quiet as possible and not to make many speeches, because his throat is not yet in good condition. But wherever he went a crowd was waiting for him. Each crowd was out to cheer and did cheer until he made a speech. The colonel made his first speech before he had finished breakfast and kept at it until late at night, before his train left Knoxville for Atlanta. He said he enjoyed the whole day immensely.
The colonel talked "New Nationalism." He brought into the south the doctrine which he announced on his recent western trip and emphasized it. He defended it from the criticisms which have been directed against it and said that it was not revolutionary, but rather was designed to put a stop to a revolutionary movement, if unchecked. He also put in a few words about his fight in New York state, saying he was trying to improve conditions there.
"It is quite a job," he said, "but we are going to do it."
The two chief speeches of the day were delivered at Bristol, Tenn., and at Knoxville.
In his Bristol speech the colonel defended "new nationalism" and went after the political bosses, saying that bossism is "The negation of democracy."
Knoxville's celebration was held on the grounds of the Appalachian exposition, where Colonel Roosevelt spoke in the afternoon and again at a banquet at night. It was a cold, damp day with a good deal of rain, but the weather did not keep the people at home. All of East Tennessee poured out its people and several thousands were here from Virginia.
The Eleventh United States cavalry from Chattanooga, which escorted Colonel Roosevelt from the train to the exposition grounds, had its hands full in piloting him through the crowds to the steps of the exposition hall to review a floral parade. As the former president mounted the steps the band played "Dixie" and the people cheered. The presidential salute of twenty-one guns was given for him.

UNCLE SAM WILL WAIT.

State Department Will Not at Present Commit Itself.
Washington.—A circular note sent simultaneously to all the powers by Provisional President Braga announcing that he has been proclaimed president of Portugal, that the revolution has been successful and that he has appointed a cabinet, was received by the State department today. The United States has not replied to the note.
The State department will not commit itself by any form of communication until proof of the stability of the proclaimed government is forthcoming.
There are evidences of censorship in the news given out from Portugal, according to officials here, who suggest that it is too early yet to judge accurately the status of the government power from the partisan pronouncements from the Braga regime.
Big Fire Loss in Iowa.
Mason City, Ia.—Fire which started in some empty houses, owned by the Milwaukee road here, on Friday destroyed property amounting to $500,000. The heaviest losses in the International Harvester company, its building and contents being burned. The Empire Separator company, the John Deere & Co., and the Smith Manufacturing company, were the big losers. The Milwaukee company had several cars burned. The losses are only partially covered by insurance.

Resources of the South.

Atlanta, Ga.—Plans for the exploitation of the resources of the south and the methods and results that are hoped to be obtained were discussed at the opening session of the conference of the Southern Commercial congress held here.
Judge Parker Files Brief.
Washington.—A brief was filed in the supreme court of the United States by Judge Alton B. Parker and associate counsel in the contempt proceedings against Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, officials of the American Federation of Labor. The principal defense set forth in the brief was that the reference in the official organ of the federation to the Bucks Stove and Range company of St. Louis did not contain contempt for the court of the District of Columbia.
Another Aviator Killed.
St. Petersburg.—Captain Macievich, the Russian military aviator, was killed Friday in a fall from a Voisin biplane. The accident occurred during an altitude competition which was won by Lieutenant Matyevich, who reached a height of 3,933 feet. Macievich had risen 3,930 feet, but decided to descend. When at the height of 1,640 feet his machine upset and the aviator was thrown out. He came hurtling down like a plummet, reaching the ground before the biplane, with every bone broken.

ALL OVER NEBRASKA

Winter Wheat.
Gage County—Winter wheat is about all sown in Gage county and the crop average is about three weeks ahead of last year at this time. The acreage this year is somewhat larger than last.
Granary is Burned.
Howard County.—In a violent electric storm Sunday evening, the granary of A. L. Ballman was struck by lightning and destroyed by fire. It was stored with grain. His automobile, standing in the runway, was burned.
Goes to the Philippines.
Cass County—Miss Julia Kerr, who recently resigned as teacher in the Plattsmouth schools, left for San Francisco, from which place she will sail for the Philippines. She will reside with an aunt, Miss Marie Gilman, who has charge of a postoffice at a station about six miles from Manila.
Dates Are Fixed.
Cuming County—Secretary Wells has announced the date of the Cuming County Farmers' institute for January 12, 1911. The Cuming County Poultry association has fixed January 12, 13 and 14 as the dates of its annual exhibition and poultry and pet stock show, therefore the two events will occur simultaneously.

Wymore Man's Close Call.
Gage County—A Jacobs, a butcher from Wymore, narrowly escaped being killed at the Burlington station. In attempting to board the train he missed his footing and fell against the trucks and rolled on the track. The baggage man grabbed him and pulled him from under the coach before the hind wheels passed over him.
Woman Drowns in Platte.
Butler County—Miss Edna Kavan, of Butler county, a girl of 19 years, was drowned in the Platte river two miles south of Schuyler. Miss Kavan was crossing the C. B. & Q. bridge and there she was met by a section hand, who, by his gesticulations and talk, is said to have frightened her. While she was attempting to escape from him she fell into the river.
A Would-Be Suicide.
Jefferson County—The arrival of his wife at the proper moment, probably saved the life of Will Aultman, who lives at the little town of Thompson, six miles southwest of Fairbury. When Mrs. Aultman arrived on the scene, she found her husband hanging from a rafter in the barn with a rope around his neck. She ran to the house and secured a knife and cut the rope and saved him.

Ground to Pieces.
Custer County—Word has reached Broken Bow that Lewis Bookman, an old and respected former resident of Custer county, but late of Lincoln, was ground to pieces at Hazard by falling under the wheels of a moving freight. He had been looking after some property at that place and was attempting to board a west bound train when the accident occurred. Mr. Bookman was about 60 years old.
Killed by Threshing Machine.
Platte County—Elmer Guiles, a farmer residing seven miles northwest of Monroe, was killed in an accident with a threshing machine. The machine, which was owned by Isaac Jones, was being drawn past the Guiles home, when Mr. Guiles, in a moment of plesantry, ran out and attempted to ride astride the tongue. While in this position he lost his balance and fell under the front wheel of the heavy separator. The engine drawing the machine was stopped just after the wheel had crushed him, causing internal injuries, from which he died a few hours later.

Etue Goes to Penitentiary.
Adams County—Judge Dungan at Hastings pronounced sentence upon Frank Etue, who pleaded guilty to the charge of shooting Ray Hodger at Kennesaw, July 3. The sentence reads for seven and one-half years at hard labor in the state penitentiary and was in keeping with recommendations of the county attorney, who submitted a recapitulation of the evidence on the request of Judge Dungan. Defendant's counsel agreed to the sentence.
Dodge County—Louis Norseworthy and George B. Williams were arrested at the Union station in Fremont on a telegram from the sheriff of Lawrence county, South Dakota, stating that they were wanted at Lead on the charge of stealing about $200 worth of liquors and saloon supplies from Nick Pupick. They were arraigned in justice court as fugitives from justice and committed to the county jail to await requisition papers from South Dakota. Both protest their innocence, though admitting that they had a bottle or two of the liquor.

One Year in Penitentiary.
Wheeler County—Matthew C. Sample was convicted of malicious assault and cutting and stabbing with intent to wound, and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.
Scottsbluff County Fair.
Scottsbluff county.—The Scottsbluff county fair closed with an unusually good attendance and program. Owing to the early frost the vegetable display was not up to the standard, but many specimens of farm products were exhibited.
Bank of Norton Robbed.
Otoe County—About 1:30 in the morning burglars entered the bank of Norton and blew the safe with dynamite, taking some $1,200 in gold and silver in the safe. The safe and but overlooking $1,000 which was covered in silver and $800 in paper money, part of the building were wrecked by three explosions. Mr. Stevens, who resides opposite the bank, was awakened by the explosion, but having no phone, looked out and seeing his house guarded, gave no alarm, nor did he leave the house until daylight.

State Corporation Tax Smaller.
It is estimated that the state's annual license tax upon corporations will bring in less than was received last year. The first year the tax was imposed it resulted in the collection of considerably more than $72,000. This year it is estimated that the tax will be about $60,000. The tax is delinquent September 1 and corporations that have not paid the tax and a $10 penalty by November 30 are subject to cancellation of charter. Up to date $37,905.80 has been collected for the tax of 1910. There are 8,000 delinquent corporations. Not more than half of these are expected to pay the tax, because many corporations have been consolidated and swallowed up by parent corporations for the express purpose of evading the tax.

Raised the Price.
The state board of purchase and supplies has been notified of an increase in the price of coffee. The board has been somewhat wedded to coffee that costs 15 cents a pound. The board has been buying 15-cent coffee for use in state institutions, the officers of such institutions being excepted from the use of such grade, but now it has been informed that at least 4 cents a pound more will be asked for this coffee by jobbers.

Plan for 1911 Fair.
Secretary Mellor of the state board of agriculture has already heard from most of the firms that made machinery exhibits at the 1910 state fair asking to save the same space reserved for them next year.
To be deluged with requests of this kind at so early a time is an unexpected experience for the board. Individual firms have sometimes put in a bid for their old space immediately after the fair, but the majority usually do not show such haste.

Officers for the coming year for the state association of photographers are: President, R. C. Nelson, Hastings; first vice-president, W. S. Soper, Nebraska City; second vice-president, W. A. Thorn, York; secretary, R. R. Roszell, Beatrice; treasurer, Arthur Anderson, Wahoo. The convention was held at Lincoln.

Recently it was reported that the state board of public lands and buildings proposed to buy the shirts damaged by flood in the penitentiary storehouse. Some one has called the attention of the board to the fact that its contract with the maker of the shirts provides that shirts made by convict labor shall be shipped out of the state. Under this contract the shirts must first be shipped out of the state to Chicago or Council Bluffs before they can be bought by the state for use at state institutions.

The cost of sending the national guard to Fort Riley, Kas., a few weeks ago was $22,193. Of this amount the state of Nebraska paid $5,487 as its share of the pay of enlisted men.
Drainage district No. 1 of Richardson county has presented to the state auditor for registration $205,000 of 6 per cent bonds. The bonds have been paid to eastern brokers. The auditor has registered $125,000 of water bonds issued by the city of Kearney for the purchase of water works from a private company. The bonds bear 4 1/2 per cent interest.

Election Proclamation.

Acting in accordance with the statutes Governor Shallenberger has issued a proclamation informing the people that an election will be held in Nebraska on Tuesday, November 8. The proclamation contains the following list of officers and propositions to be voted upon:
One governor.
One lieutenant governor.
One secretary of state.
One auditor public accounts.
One attorney general.
One treasurer.
One commissioner of public lands and buildings.
One superintendent of public instruction.
One railway commissioner.
One congressman, First congressional district.
One congressman, Second congressional district.
One congressman, Third congressional district.
One congressman, Fourth congressional district.
One congressman, Fifth congressional district.
One congressman, Sixth congressional district.
State senators for each senatorial district.
Members of the legislature for each representative district.
An expression of preference for United States senator.
Also for or against a proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Nebraska, amending section 1 of article 7, defining the qualifications of electors.

To Test Pure Food Law.

State Food Commissioner Mains has decided to start a fight against the National Biscuit company for failure to brand the net weight on packages sold in Nebraska. It has been arranged that O. J. King, groceryman, and Agent Page of the biscuit company shall be arrested for failure to brand the net weight and that habeas corpus proceedings shall be instituted in the supreme court for the purpose of testing the state food law in the highest court in the state. The state law provides that the net weight of food packages shall be stamped on the outside of the package. This law the National Biscuit company has refused to comply with and up to this time State Food Commissioner Mains has taken no legal action.

The Modern Lochinvar.
Young Lochinvar sailed in out of the west in his new biplane.
He swooped down to the castle gate and whistled shrilly.
The idol of his affections tripped nervously forth, pursued by her father and several invited guests.
She seated herself in the machine.
"One moment," said Young Lochinvar. "Wait until the newspaper photographers have taken a few snapshots."
That ordered over, he pulled the starting lever and they were away.
"I will not follow them," said her father to the reporters. "The match will not last long. She has him up in the air already."
Returning to the banquet hall he ordered the butler to branch a few more magnums.

On Second Thought.
"The first time Harold saw me he told me that he loved me."
"You didn't think to ask him what he thought about you the second look he took at you, did you?"

More Nourishing.
"Does your husband always shave for dinner?" asks the lady who never loses an opportunity to intimate that all the social amenities obtain in her household. "Mine does."
"Shave?" repeats the other woman. "No, my husband always eats something."

Artemus Ward Reversed.
"I am happiest," said the musical maiden, "when I sing."
"I am happiest," said the mere man who was really musical, "when you stop."

Elliptic.
"I simply cannot endure that Mr. Twistedde," titters the frivolous damsel. "He does not agree with me at all."
"Does he handy words too much?" "Oh, no. Have you never seen him? He handy legs too much."

Willing to Wait.
"Doctor," says the rich man when he begins to convalesce. "I can ill repay you for the great service you have rendered me."
"I know you can, ill," answers the doctor, "but I shall not send my bill until you can, well, repay me."

The Leaders.
"Who do you suppose are the most envied women here to-day?" asks the gray-bearded philosopher, as we stroll through the vast assemblage.
"The handsomest two," we venture.
"Not at all. They are the one who paid the most for her dress and the one who got hers at the greatest reduction in price."

He would never write them letters; he dodged matrimonial letters with a deep and crafty cunning that you could not but admire.
When he went to woo a maiden, with a pound of candy laden, he would vow to her with fervor that she was his heart's desire.
But, afraid of legal quibbles, he was chary of his scribbles, and he never penned an answer to a tender billet-doux.
For, he reasoned very smartly, letters figured more than partly as exhibits when the lady had made up her mind to sue.
As he read of Jim or Thomas being sued for breach of promise he would exclaim and chuckle in the lining of his sleeve.
Saying that such Miss or Madam, since the early times of Adam, was a subject for reproduction of her crafty mother Eve.

Well, he met Miss Lizze Timmons who was strong for rights, called women's and who had some clever notions as to how folks should make love.
And she kept him off repeating tales of how his heart was beating for her always and his fondness was as true as stars above.
Then, at last she hired a lawyer named Lycurgus Moses Sawyer to recover such finances as would give her heart its balance.
He just snickered at the jury while her lawyer spoke with fury of the times that he had wooed her underneath the sheltering palm.
"O," he cried, "produce a letter, for you see I'm a forgetter"—then a sudden conformation stopped him as he tried to laugh.
For each word of all his wooing rippled forth in his undoing from the disk that Lizze Timmons put upon a phonograph!

Love's Crime.
George was a manly fellow, yet, surprising as it may seem, he was guilty of a grave charge, a criminal offense— theft. For had he not many times, stolen kisses from his fair sweet heart?
Wanda, one of the most lovable of girls, was equally guilty as an accessory: she received the stolen property. Each seemed to have perfect confidence in the other, however, and when sentence was pronounced by a properly qualified official, they decided to serve their time together.
They remained loyal to the end, neither making any effort to have their sentence abrogated or shortened, but during the course of their long term together several small offenses were directly chargeable to them.— J. W. B. in Puck.
