SHELBY.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Zinnecker, formerly of Nashville, have been visiting Shelby relatives during the past week. Mr. Zinnecker was in the barber business at that place but sold out with the intention of locating at Fremont. He failed to make the deal for the shop at Fremont as he expected and is now undecided as to where he will locate.

B. F. Pointer sustained a very severe injury last Thursday evening while doing his chores. He fell from the hay mow and lighting on a ladder injured himself in such a manner that Dr. Potter and Dr. LeMar of Osceola, who were called the next morning, found it necessary to perform an operation. Mr. Pointer is reported to be getting along nicely and no fears of serious results are entertained.

LEIGH.

George Bruhn got a fancy price for a team of horses of his own raising when he sold them to John Reins of Bloomfield for $600.

A fine specimen of Nebraska grown peanuts was left at this office this week by Carl Staab. While this plant is not a native of this state Mr. Staab has demonstrated conclusively that our soil is in many ways adapted to the growth of products of the warmer zones.

Gottfried Marty, jr., was so unfortunate as to have a considerable part of the flesh torn from the fingers of his left hand last Friday in a grain elevator. He says that it was fortunate for him that a portion of the machine was broken, otherwise he might have lost his whole hand.

CEDAR RAPIDS.

Mrs. John Krings was taken to the hospital at Columbus Thursday, where she will undergo an operation. She was accompanied by Dr. Thelen and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kroendahl.

Stanley Maley, of Cedar Rapids, was in town a couple of times this week. We have been informed that Mr. Maley has severed his connection with the First National Bank at Cedar Rapids and will some time this month enter the employ of S. S. Hadley, of Cedar Rapids in the banking business.—Spalding Enterprise.

On last Sunday morning Fr. Nermullen took occasion to speak to the congregation regarding the erection of a parochial school at this place. No definite steps have yet been taken, outside of discussing the matter. The proposition is to erect a $15,000 building on the lots now owned by the congregation on Main street.

Last week Vestel closed the deal for the Bartholomew residence property, in the east part of town, a portion of his livery stock being included in the transaction. He expects to move into his recently acquired property in a few days.

Monroe merchants have reached an agreement on the closing proposition, and beginning Monday, November 14, all the stores will be closed at 8 o'clock, with the exception of Saturday evening. This arrangement will give the clerks and merchants an hour or two more to themselves each day, and their customers, when they have tried the new order of things, will find no inconvenience.

John Terry, who has been sick with appendicitis for some time, became much worse and as a last resort an operation was decided on. He was taken to the hospital in Columbus several days ago, and Wednesday of this week an operation was performed. Mr. and Mrs. Terry were present at the operation, which was quite successful, and they returned home the same evening.

One of the social events of the month was a farewell reception given to Mrs. B. S. Thurston and Mrs. W. H. Groves before they leave Monroe for the west. The reception was given Monday evening by the members of the Ben-Hur lodge and their families in the Odd Fellows hall, and it proved a very enjoyable affair, and the two ladies in whose honor it was given will carry naught but the most pleasant recollections of their friends in Monroe.

SCHUYLER.

Isn't it funny how some people vote. In the third ward in Schuyler a man voted for Dahman for governor and then voted the entire prohibition ticket. We never knew Dahman was a prohibitionist before.

Mr. J. G. Kluck brought a pumpkin to the Sun office last Saturday that is about the biggest thing we ever saw. It is about the size of a wash tub. Mr. Kluck has a lot of them on his farm and we know of nothing any better for feed this time of year for cattle and hogs.

John Sinkule was born in Bohemia, in June, 1849. He came with his parents to America in 1854, and settled in Wisconsin. From there he came to Nebraska in 1873, and lived in Colfax county until his death, which occurred October 28, 1910. Of the four children who survive him only one was present at the funeral service, which was held from the residence of his brother-in-law, John Novotny, Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 1, Rev. G. M. Bing in charge. Three children live in South Dakota, and were not able to be here at the time of the funeral.

The post office at North Bend was broken into some time Tuesday night by unknown robbers who took about everything in sight of value, the total amount lost being close to $250, of which about $50 was cash and the balance in stamps. The robbers gained entrance through the rear door, in which they cut a hole large enough to insert a hand and turn the bars which held the door. This admitted them to the rear room and to get into the room containing the safe they had to open another door which they did in the same way the first door was opened, showing a surprising knowledge of the exact location of the bars on the inside. The tools used in gaining an entrance were taken from Geo. Miller's blacksmith shop which was broken into and were found in the post office the next morning. The robbers opened the safe by working the combination which would seem to indicate that they were experts in that line of work.

Frank Eager, who resigned the position of farmer at the Indian school, arrived in Genoa last Friday and has resumed his old position. Mr. Eager owns a farm in the western part of the state, where he resided this summer, but came to the conclusion that he preferred the government service.

Holdings special to the State Journal: That a person who had never walked a step in her life should run away from home seems almost impossible, yet that is what Miss Myrtle Tallman, formerly of Beaver City and Tecumseh and who had several close friends in this city, did recently. The young lady has been an invalid since her birth, having no strength in the lower part of her body and having no control of her lower limbs. She was very strong and active mentally, however, and wrote several books, two of which brought her considerable fame and money. Following the death of her mother Miss Tallman took several hundred dollars which she had obtained from the sale of her books, and with an attendant ran away. It is thought that her home was not as pleasant as it was when her mother was alive, and that that was primarily the girl's motive for going away. Acquaintances of the family at one time, but since then she has not been heard from, nor has her father, who is now in California, seen her. It is said that soon after the girl's departure her father fell heir to a considerable estate in California.

CENTRAL CITY.

From the Nonpareil. J. F. Cummins, personal representative of Gerrit Fort, general passenger agent for the Union Pacific, was in town Friday calling on the newspaper men. Mr. Cummins says that a new policy is being inaugurated by Mr. Fort. The latter believes that the railroads should get on more cordial terms with the public and it is his idea that these relations can be cultivated by a better acquaintance. There is much to the idea. In the past the railroads have relied more on force than courtesy for their business and now that stricter regulation has been brought about they are finding that it pays to solicit business on the basis of good service, accommodations and courtesy. The Nonpareil believes that the people will meet the company half way in this matter and that in the end it will be better for both.

Drunk and chilled and with his automobile dead by the side of the road, a traveling man was found a couple of miles this side of Chapman Saturday evening by members of the county option club and a party of campaigners who were on their way to Viereg township. The man had been driving a little Maxwell runabout, but was so drunk he could not control the car and it had stopped on him. He was lying in his seat in a stupor and could not talk when he was found. Sheriff Iler was summoned and he went up with another auto and got the man and his car. The car was placed in his garage and the owner in the jail. The next morning the man was sober enough to proceed on his journey. Hereafter when he decides to take a little liquid refreshment he had better cache his auto and take a day off.

PLATTE CENTER

From the Signal. Banns of marriage were published last Sunday in St. John's church between Miss Nellie Fenton and Mr. T. J. Cronin.

Mr. Rees Williams, living northwest of town, indulged in a friendly scuffle while at the polls on election day, and as a result he had to call a physician to patch up a broken rib.

We hear of several farmers in this vicinity who have finished their corn-husking. The weather has been so fine since the husking season began that the work has been done without interruption.

Mrs. J. J. Mackin, whose illness we reported two weeks ago, was taken to the Columbus hospital last Saturday. She is suffering from a severe attack of liver trouble. The latest report from Mrs. Mackin are to the effect that she is still suffering, but is slowly improving.

A gang of twelve men who are placing new poles for the Bell telephone lines between Columbus and Norfolk, reached here the last part of last week. They are not replacing all the poles, but when one that is defective is found it is removed and a larger and longer one is substituted. The men will be employed in this locality two or three weeks.

A New Apple District.

Competent authorities agree that the Big Horn Basin with its excellent soil and favorable climatic conditions, will soon become recognized as one of the great apple growing districts of the Northwest. Prof. B. C. Buffum, who for 15 years devoted his time in experimenting in agricultural and horticultural lines while in charge of the state experimental station at Laramie, Wyoming, and Professor Aron Nelson, State Horticulturist of Wyoming, have both given an opinion that the Basin is remarkably well adapted to the development of commercial orchards.

Fruit orchards are now being planted in many localities in the Big Horn Basin, and much land that has in the past been devoted to the raising of wheat, oats, barley, alfalfa, and other hay crops is being planted to apple orchards.

Creating Wealth for the State of Nebraska

By building its lines through lands then worth less than $5.00 per acre, the Union Pacific Railroad has aided in increasing the value of those lands many-fold.

The assessed value of all property in Nebraska has increased from $171,747,593 in 1900 to $398,985,819 in 1909.

There has been no more important factor than the Nebraska railroads in creating this enormous wealth.

The resultant prosperity has increased the value of the railroad.

In 1900 the Union Pacific Railroad paid taxes in the State of Nebraska amounting to $299,855.44. In 1909 it paid $578,112.44.

Progress for the Union Pacific means progress for the whole state. Every mile of additional track laid, every train or station, creates wealth, which is not shared only by the Union Pacific Railroad but by every citizen in the State of Nebraska.

We have a book on Nebraska and its resources which will be mailed to some friend in the East for the asking. Please send us his address.

Every Union Pacific Ticket Office is a bureau of railroad information. Make your wants known there, or write to me.
