MANY YEARS AGO

Files of the Journal, December 26, 1877. On last Friday frost was reported out of the ground, and the farmers making ready for spring plowing. Just think of plowing going forward on the 21st of December.

A. W. Lawrence returned Sunday from a trip to Omaha. He thinks the streets there are the roughest he ever saw—tracks all over them, little tracks, where the horses ears can be seen.

Mr. Olson is putting the finishing touches on the new Odd Fellows and Masons hall. The carpenter work of the building has been done by him, and shows that he uses both conscience and skill in his business.

The warm and damp weather which has prevailed in this vicinity for the past month we hope may not end in general sickness as it does sometimes in other localities. As yet the health of the city has been good.

Frank Kersbrook of the Columbus base ball club and H. A. Fritz, who were delegates to the state league meeting at Hastings last week, returned very well pleased over the success of their trip. They succeeded in getting a member of the board of directors from Columbus, C. E. Pollock being elected to that office. Another concession to be made in the three game schedule, this arrangement making it better as far as traveling expenses are concerned and also from the standpoint of attendance. Henry Sievers of Grand Island was re-elected president, but had some opposition, which was not pronounced however. The schedule this year will provide for 112 games, the same as last year, and will be arranged by the directors early in the year. The $500 forfeit will be placed by March 1 this year, so that should any of the teams decide to step out their place could be filled in time. At present the league is the same as last year, including Fremont, Columbus, Seward, Grand Island, Hastings, Kearney, Red Cloud and Superior. Columbus proving to be the best ball town in the league, was given proper consideration at this meeting, and the report brought home by the delegates will tend to increase the enthusiasm already shown for 1911.

Sunday a new time table went into effect on the Union Pacific, and one of the important changes was the taking off of two Denver trains, No. 13 and 14. Several minor changes were also made in the time of the evening trains, two of them arriving here a few minutes later. Taking off No. 13, which arrived here about 2 o'clock in the morning, means a change in the mail service, the car formerly carried by that train now being carried by No. 11, which arrives here at 8:56, and the morning dailies do not arrive here until that hour. On the branches the mail is delayed much more than here, as on the Spalding and Albion branches they will not receive their dailies until afternoon, while on the Norfolk branch they will be delayed twelve hours. No. 13, which formerly passed through here at 10:27 p. m., is now scheduled to arrive at 5:21 a. m., about the same time as No. 14 did prior to the change.

The following regarding D. Burr Jones, formerly secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of this city, is taken from the Omaha Bee: D. Burr Jones, a former Omaha man and a member of the Thurston Rifles, has been elected second lieutenant of the Grimes Battery of Portsmouth, Va., Jones was a corporal in the Thurston Rifles company, which is officially known as Company L, First Nebraska, and was at the siege of Manila and in the Philippine campaigns with that company, when it lost sixty-three dead and 238 wounded. Grimes Battery, which Mr. Jones is the second lieutenant, was formed in 1812, and was one of the famous batteries of the south in the civil war. At present, Mr. Jones is general secretary of the Young Men's Christian association of Portsmouth. He entered the work in the Philippines. He is also a member of the United Spanish War Veterans.

Mrs. Joseph Rothleitner, aged 66 years, died at the family home on East Eighth street, Sunday evening after a lingering illness of over two years. Mrs. Rothleitner, whose maiden name was Anna Turk, was born in Grunendorf, Austria, June 25, 1844. In 1868 she was married to Joseph Bohinzel in her native country, and when he died she came to America and to Kansas in 1896. Here she lived until 1904, when she was married to Mr. Rothleitner on June 25 of that year and has made this city her home since. Mrs. Rothleitner leaves one step-daughter, Mrs. Edward Schrott, of McCormick, Kas., who was here about a month ago to visit her mother. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning from the home, and St. Bonaventure's church, and burial was in the Catholic cemetery.

Between six and seven o'clock Tuesday morning the shelving on the west side of the Columbus Candy Kitchen gave way, and with the contents crashed on to the show cases, breaking them and causing considerable damage to the stock. Policeman Nelson passed the store about six o'clock and did not notice anything out of the way, but when Policeman Hagel passed at seven o'clock the shelves were down. The owners of the Candy Kitchen supposed the shelves were anchored, and simply strong enough to hold the weight placed upon them. As soon as the accident was discovered a force of men were set to work cleaning it up, and they resumed business without interruption the same day.

A new arrangement of the city delivery in the business district is made necessary by the change of the mail trains on the Union Pacific. Heretofore, No. 11, the night train, brought in all the mail, including the dailies, so they could be delivered early in the morning. Now the mail arrives at 8:56, when it is on time, and in order to prevent too long a delay, it has been arranged for carrier Rollin, who supplies this district, to make two trips in the forenoon and one in the afternoon. This arrangement may be temporary, however, as it may not meet the requirements.

Edward Schober returned Sunday evening from Cambridge, Neb., where he was called on account of the serious sickness of his son Victor, who was operated on for appendicitis. Victor was moved to a hospital at Holbrook, and when his father left him he was still very weak, but there was every chance for his recovery.

The first of this week, H. W. Abts Co. completed moving into their own building which has been repaired since the fire of a few weeks ago. Since that time workmen have been busy repairing the damage, and in addition to the repairs they have installed an electric elevator for handling heavy goods from one floor to the other.

Last Saturday Joe Dodds was taken suddenly sick with appendicitis while walking on the street. He was given medical aid, and Sunday morning underwent an operation. Mr. and Mrs. Dodds, John Dodds, and Louis Phillips left Sunday evening for Cambridge on receipt of the news and a message from Mr. Phillips this (Wednesday) morning says there is no hope for his recovery.

Register of Deeds Jerry Carrig is endeavoring to standardize the various instruments presented for record in his office. He has been working along this line for a year, and has succeeded so well that he is going to issue a circular letter to those who have instruments to file, showing them the advantages of such a method. And incidentally the county, while it furnishes the blanks free, makes a saving in the amount of books required in the recorder's office.

Monday of this week the Henry Gibb farm, in Monroe township, northwest of Monroe, was sold at referee's sale by referee Gruenther. While the improvements on this land are not the best, the farm itself is considered one of the best in that locality. Wm. Joy, who owns land close by, was the purchaser, and the price was $90.50 per acre, establishing a new record for land values in that section. When Mr. Gibb purchased the farm, about twenty years ago, he paid $2,800, for the quarter, and the total price paid Monday was $15,920.

T. O. Cain, a former resident of Platte county, and well known in this city, was found unconscious last Friday at Newhouse, Utah, and died at Milford that state Tuesday of this week. Mr. Cain was a member of Wilder Lodge No. 44, I. O. O. F., and a receipt signed by J. E. Ballou was found on him, and a message sent to Mr. Ballou, notifying of Mr. Cain's condition. He at once wired the Utah authorities to give him the best of care at the expense of the Columbus lodge, and this was done. Tuesday morning a third message was received telling of Mr. Cain's death and asking for instructions. About twenty years ago Mr. Cain lived on a farm north of Genoa and frequently visited this city. He was a brother-in-law of W. J. Irwin of Genoa. For the last number of years he has been living in the west. He was at one time a prize fighter of local renown and engaged in several bouts.

Last week Detective Gorman of the Union Pacific gathered up eight boys who have been taking coal from the company cars. For some time the depredations on the coal cars have been quite numerous, and finally the culprits were landed. The boys have made a practice of stealing the coal and selling it to residents of the city. There was not enough evidence to make a case, the boys were given a warning by County Attorney Hensley and on a promise to not take any more coal were released. Should they continue their depredations they will be brought before the court the first time they are apprehended.

Columbus Corn Growers' Association.

The success of the first annual meeting of the Columbus Corn Growers' association more than met the expectations of its promoters, and the result is that it will be a permanent institution, and an active canvass is being made for members.

It was first intended for merely a local affair, and not many outsiders were expected, but Friday a large crowd of strangers paid the show a visit. The one hundred and four entries were more than was anticipated, and made an excellent showing for this vicinity.

Programs for both days were given by local men, each of whom had a specialty in the agricultural line. One of the subjects of much importance to the audience was "Good Roads," and this was ably handled by G. W. Phillips, who, while he is not a farmer, fully appreciates the value of good highways.

The award of the prizes and contests evoked much enthusiasm, and the merits of the awards were discussed very freely. People taking such interest in the prize winning lots.

For the coming year the following officers were elected at the close of the business session of the association: D. G. Bartels, president; U. S. Mace, first vice president; Wm. ### Improved Fire Apparatus for Columbus.

At the meeting of the city council on December 2, City Clerk Becker was instructed to correspond with manufacturers of chemical fire apparatus, and have some data regarding it for the meeting of last Friday evening. In response to the letters several of the companies had representatives present, while others sent written communications. The council went over the matter carefully, and should a chemical be purchased, one with a fifty or sixty horse power engine, carrying two chemical tanks, ladders and six or eight hundred feet of hose, would be type purchased. And in connection with taking care of this machine, it is understood that the council have an offer from an automobile garage to take care of it at the same rate charge for automobiles, and furnish a man to take it to fires, he to be on duty any hour of the day or night.

Since the purchasing of a chemical engine was brought up, many of the citizens are in favor of the move, realizing that additional apparatus is needed, and in this they are seconded by the fire department, who understand the situation better than anyone else.

At first the council was in doubt as to whether they could make the purchase, but after getting the desired information, passed the following resolution, which gives the people of Columbus an opportunity to decide whether or not the machine shall be purchased. Whereas, recent fires and the water loss resulting therefrom have demonstrated the necessity for improved appliances for getting to and putting out fires, now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the mayor and council of the city of Columbus, Nebraska, Section 1. That the following proposition, to-wit: "Shall the mayor and council of the city of Columbus, Nebraska, have the power to make an appropriation of not to exceed $5,000.00 for the purchase of a combination chemical fire hose wagon, motor propelled, with such power according to such plans and specifications, as may be adopted by the mayor and council?" be submitted to the legal voters of Columbus, Nebraska. Said proposition shall be submitted by petition, upon which shall be written or printed, said proposition to be circulated among the legal voters, not later than the 20th day of January, 1911.

Section 2. That if a majority of the legal voters of said city shall sanction said appropriation, that then and in that case, proposition for the purchase of such fire apparatus shall be submitted by advertisement or otherwise to bidders, and that when the mayor and council have ascertained the cheapest and best of such apparatus, they may enter into a contract for the purchase thereof, and appropriate the money to pay therefor in accordance with the proposition so submitted to the voter.

Besides disposing of this council placed an order for three steel cells, to be placed in the old engine room of the water works plant which has been fitted up for a jail. And they have also made arrangements to use a portion of the same building for drying fire hose—something that has been needed for a long time.

James B. Whitcomb and Chalmer Shannon, successors to Geo. Hagel, made application for a license for a billiard hall for the unexpired term. Wood Smith and Ohas H. Dack were each granted permission to place electric signs in front of their business houses.

Columbus Entertains Sheriffs.

If the expressions from the visiting sheriffs were any criterion, Columbus certainly made good in the entertainment of the State Sheriffs association held in this city last Thursday and Friday.

Thursday afternoon and evening was devoted to registering the new arrivals at the headquarters in Eagle hall, and when the roster was completed it showed the names of over fifty visitors.

President J. M. Dunkle of Grand Island arrived Thursday evening and took charge of the business end of the association. The session was held in Eagle hall and called to order at 2 p. m. and after an address of welcome by County Attorney Hensley, who officiated for Mayor Held, and a response by Deputy Sheriff Foster of Douglas county, the regular order of business was then taken up.

Discussions of the various phases of the sheriff's office then followed, and at the conclusion the following officers were elected for 1911. J. M. Dunkle, Grand Island, president; John A. Jones of Nelson, vice president; J. A. Christies, Fairbury, secretary treasurer. Omaha was the choice of the association for the 1911 meeting the invitation being extended by Sheriff Bralle of Douglas county, and also the fact that Omaha will entertain the national meeting of sheriffs at that time, was a point in favor of that city.

At the conclusion of the business session a banquet was tendered the guests at the Oxford cafe, and President Dunkle officiated as toastmaster. About two hours was taken up with the banquet and speech making, and the sheriff's then accepted an invitation from Sheriff Lechmit and Deputy Burke to attend a theatre party at the North.

Besides the visitors the following sheriffs of Platte county were present: Ex-President J. C. Byrnes of the state association, D. C. Kavanaugh, C. J. Carrig, Martin Bloedorn and George Lehman.

Awaiting a purpose

It is a very common thing for money to lie idle, awaiting a particular purpose.

When left at this bank, such funds are made to earn interest during the waiting period:

Columbus State Bank

Capital & Surplus, $85,000.00

For some time the Commercial club and others interested in the "Good Roads" movement have been in correspondence with the Department of Agriculture, with the result that Tuesday of this week a Mr. Dodge, a good road expert from the department, arrived in the city to confer with the Commercial club regarding the improvements of the highways. The one stretch of road that particularly interests this city is the almost two miles between the Loop and Platte rivers, and also the short stretch between the city and the Loop bridge. It has been the general impression that the bluffs north of the city would be the place to secure the material, but this does not seem to be the case. In this company with Messrs. G. W. Phillips, G. Frischholz and R. S. Dickinson, Mr. Dodge took an automobile trip to the piece of road in question, and while in that locality made tests of the soil in various places. Those samples he brought to the city and will test them, and while his statement as to whether they will answer the purpose or not will not be forthcoming until the tests are completed, he feels confident that he has all the material close at hand necessary to make a good road through the sand. The approximate cost of such a road, where material is convenient, is from between $600 to $1,000 per mile, and this means a road that will be permanent. Should this visit result in a first class road south from this city those who have interested themselves in the matter can feel well repaid for the time spent.

M. C. A. Notes.

Watch this space next week for the announcement of the New Year program.

The third number on the entertainment course comes on Dec. 22d. No reserved seats will be sold for this or the remaining numbers of the course.

Manager Becker of the Association Basket Ball team has arranged for a game at Genoa on Thursday evening. The team is composed of the following: Captain, H. F. Tolsonhoff; manager, Paul Becker; Neil Nelson, Roy Rector, Mr. Betterton, H. F. Frankfort. They go with high hopes, but the story will be told when they return.

We wish in this way to express our appreciation of the way in which the membership team worked during the contest. The Y. M. C. A. is an association of many men and not an institution run by one or two men. It is only by associating our efforts that our object can be attained. At the banquet on last Wednesday evening for the membership teams President Sheldon expressed to those present the appreciation of the officers for the hearty cooperation shown. A gymnastic contest followed the banquet and the gymnasium was crowded to its full. Various contests between the intermediate and Senior classes were closed by a basket ball game. The committee are planning to hold many more of these events which are open to the public and we hope that the present interest and attendance may be continued.
