ALBION.

From the News.
Harry Briggs, after an absence of twenty-seven years, is visiting in Albion this week. He finds only a few of the old boys and girls of his youth still here. It will be remembered he married Miss Elita Dresser, and they have been located on a fruit farm in Montana since leaving here.

Mrs. K. O. Anderson, one of the pioneers of Boone county, died at her home on Shell creek, Sunday, Jan. 14th. The funeral was held at the South Branch church and was very largely attended. Rev. Xavier officiated. All the children eight in number were at the funeral. This is the first death in the family, with the exception of a small infant more than forty years ago.

LEIGH.

From the World.
"Grandmother" Harstick, undoubtedly the oldest woman in Nebraska, died Monday at the home of her son in St. Charles township just across the Colfax county line in Cumming county, in her 102nd year. Her physical faculties remained unimpaired up to her death, the only visible sign of her great age being a slight dimness of vision. She leaves 102 children, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Last Saturday while returning from Stanton county, where he had been doing some carpenter work, Gard Anderson of Clarkston was the victim of a runaway accident of a serious nature. He was thrown from the rig in which he was riding and was trampled upon by the horses, having a deep gash cut in his head besides receiving other injuries. He was brought to town and his wounds given needed attention by Dr. Allen, and has since been confined to his room.

HUMPHREY.

From the Democrat.
Lewis Herden, 25 years of age, committed suicide in Madison Sunday night by shooting himself through the head with a Colt revolver. The young man had disposed of some mortgaged property and was about to be compelled to put up the amount of the mortgage on the property or suffer the consequences of the law. Seeing his inability to raise the money and fearing a term in the penitentiary, he undoubtedly concluded that the best way out was to kill himself. He leaves a widowed mother, four brothers and two sisters.

Herman Ratzlaff who has been a resident of Humphrey for the past twelve or fifteen years, was taken to the hospital at Columbus Tuesday by Supervisor Bohare and Peter Bodewig, critically ill with what we understand was pneumonia, and on Wednesday afternoon word came from his bedside that he was dead. When first coming to Humphrey the deceased was in the saloon business in partnership with a fellow by the name of Eggers, he ran the place now occupied by Aug. Peterson, but only continued for a year or so. His wife got a divorce from him a number of years ago, his children all left and since that time he has lived a sort of shiftless life, doing odd jobs here and there for a living.

MONROE.

From the Republican.
Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Baker of Route 2 left Tuesday for Howard county for a visit with their daughter, Mrs. J. H. Hollingshead and family.

James Thomazin and Ohrie Martin shipped a car of hogs to South Omaha Monday that were eleven months old and tipped the beam at an average of 317 pounds.

W. E. Huffer and two sons, George and Charles, left Thursday for Plattsmouth, Neb., to attend the funeral of J. W. Adams, who owned the place occupied by Mr. Huffer until a year ago.

A letter from Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Frank says they are leaving Hayden, Colo., and are going to Wyoming for a visit with the doctor's brother. They have not as yet decided on a permanent location.

While working around the corn sheller at the Ohas. Lighter place Thursday, Fred Goke had his hand caught in the machinery and two of his fingers crushed. He was moving the self feeder and in reaching below in some of the machinery caught his hand, drawing it in.

Lester Kelley, who has been at the hospital in Columbus for the last ten days, where he was operated on for appendicitis, returned home Thursday. While he is still very weak, his condition was such that he was permitted to return home after being out of bed for two days.

Mrs. Ben Nelson left for Cedar Rapids Monday morning, called there by the serious illness of Guy Beatty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Beatty, who formerly lived in the Wattsville neighborhood. It is hoped by their many friends in this locality that he will soon be on the road to recovery as he is their only child.

Thursday evening of last week the annual election of officers of the Monroe Commercial Club was held in the town hall and resulted as follows: J. Will Campbell, president; C. W. Talbot, first vice president; Wm. Siges, second vice president; H. J. Hill, secretary; Wm. Webster, treasurer. Board of directors, L. Franklin, J. T. Smith, Jacob Schmid, A. C. Loucks, A. C. McDonald, C. F. Ewert and John Gibbon. The new board of directors will be called together about the middle of February, and listen to the reports of the committees appointed to measure the river and also on membership. At this time it will probably be decided as to whether an annual banquet will be held, as there are many who are in favor of having one. There are several matters of importance to Monroe that the committee will look after and later report to the entire club.

Sarah Ann Chapman was born in Urbana, Staunton county, New York, September 20, 1838. Died in Monroe, Neb., February 1, 1911, aged 72 years, 4 months and 11 days. Was married to Robert B. Sutton December 4, 1859, by Rev. Royce, they lived together over 50 years. To this union was born one son, William M. Sutton, who passed away at the age of 32 years, July 20, 1892. The husband passed away January 8, 1910, leaving the wife and mother alone for one year and 23 days. An adopted daughter, Mrs. May Terry, and three grand-children, Robt. B. Sutton, of David City, Mrs. Jesse Hensicker of Colorado and Wm. M. Sutton, of Monroe, and a large circle of friends are left to mourn, but not as those who have no hope. She was converted and joined the Baptist church in childhood and continued a life long member of the same. She was a lover of music, and was often heard to sing the sweet songs of Zion. Her sickness was of short duration, but her suffering was intense, but she never complained. She said nothing of dying but said when she was well that she believed in being ready when the Lord called her. She was also a member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, had been a member for over 15 years. We shall miss her in our union, her sweet words of council and her admonition. Though she was deprived of the privilege of attending very often she was ever ready with a smile to greet us. She with her husband came to Nebraska in January 1879, and has lived in and near Monroe 32 years. She was a kind friend and a loving mother, and will be greatly missed in the home. Funeral services were held in the M. E. church at 1:30 this afternoon, conducted by Rev. Alderman, Baptist minister of Columbus.

Word was received here from Alberta, Canada, that Joseph Edmiston died at his home Dec. 30, 1910, after a week of severe illness. He was an old settler of Schuyler coming here in 1870. He moved with his family to Alberta, Canada, in 1893. He was 72 years of age. He was a brother of Mrs. E. D. Ralston and Mrs. H. Ohronister of this city.

Monday morning of this week John Doyle an old resident of this county was brought before the board of insanity on complaint filed by his brother from Illinois. The board found upon examination that he needed treatment so sent him to the Norfolk asylum. Two of his brothers came from Illinois at the request of friends and wanted him to go home with them but he refused to do so. Of late his mind has been weak but it is thought with care he will soon recover.

SCHUYLER.

From the Sun.
Mayor Zeulow is in receipt of a letter from Gen. Mgr. Mohler of the Union Pacific, in which he states he is positive a new depot will be erected here before next fall.

On Saturday evening January 28th the patrons of the Richland school met at the school house and decided by vote to erect a new building. There will be another meeting held on Friday evening February 10th to which all patrons of school districts number 23 and 5 are invited to attend and discuss the proposition of consolidation.

While working on the Sommerstedt garage building, Monday, Levi Cunningham fell from a scaffold, eight or ten feet high, and sustained a badly sprained wrist. He had started to take down the scaffold and in throwing down a plank did not notice a spike which was driven in the end of the plank and which caught in his glove and jerked him off the platform. Below him was a pile of cement blocks, but as he started to fall he made a jump and cleared the pile of blocks, lighting on his side on the ground. He had a narrow escape from what might have been a very serious injury. Mr. Cunningham says he holds the record among the carpenters here of falling the farthest and bounding the highest and still keeping on top of the earth.

As we are about to go to press a telephone dispatch from Grand Island advises us that Chris Hostetter, formerly a well known business man of this city, had died there. Wednesday evening he was suddenly stricken with paralysis at his home and failed to rally from the effects. Death relieved the sufferer Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Friends in this city will be pleased to learn that Dr. and Mrs. Fred Fouts, who have been doing missionary work in China for a number of years, embarked for America Tuesday. They are scheduled to reach San Francisco by February 24th, and will spend some time on the coast in the interest of Mrs. Fouts' health before coming to Nebraska. Their friends will extend them a glad welcome.

Tuesday evening a gentleman whose name was not learned stepped from one of the Union Pacific trains and placed two grips in the baggage room of the depot and immediately disappeared. It was afterwards learned that he had a very good reason for disappearing as officers were on the watch for him and later confiscated the two suit cases which were found to contain about eleven quarts of whiskey besides other alcoholic liquors. As yet John Doe has not been found.

From the Times.
Application has been made for the appointment of a guardian to take charge of the business affairs of Mrs. Lewis Smith, of Prairie Creek. It is alleged that this step was made necessary on account of Mrs. Smith's mental condition.

April 30 has been set aside this year as "Tuberculosis Day," and it will be observed in 200,000 churches throughout the land in a manner similar to that of "Tuberculosis Sunday" in 1910, when over 40,000 sermons were preached on the prevention of consumption. In the first official announcement of the occasion made by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis today, the leaders of the movement state that they hope to enlist all of 33,000,000 church members in the country.

Chee Look, a Chinaman, employed by E. L. Burke, received a package from Chicago on which the express charge was $1.20. He mailed the package here to a friend in China and marked it "parcels post." The postage cost him 42 cents. In countries having the parcels post, people living in the United States have the right, under existing treaties, to send packages abroad under the provisions of the parcels post law of the country to which the package is addressed. In this country the people pay tribute to the express companies that contribute to the campaign funds of the two old parties. People usually get what they vote for. They have voted with and for the express companies in the past and ought not to kick about express rates or find fault with the government for allowing themselves to be held up.

She Wen.
He was a philosopher and a talker. She was a woman of action. They stood together on the bridge and watched a tug that was hauling a long line of barges up the river.

"Look there, my dear," said he. "Such is life. The tug is like the man, working and toiling, while the barges, like the women, are..."
His wife gave him no time to finish the sentence. "I know," she said. "The tug does all the blowing and the barges bear all the burden."

Not So Bad.
"What's the worst you can say about him?"
"He hasn't an honest hair in his head."
"Well, that's bad enough."
"Oh, not so bad as you think. I mean he wears a wig."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

CENTRAL CITY.
From the Nonpareil.
Col. W. C. Shelton marketed three hogs the other day that netted him the neat sum of $134.40, or an average price of $44.80 per head. The three porkers tipped the beam at 1,800 pounds.

BELLWOOD.

From the Gazette.
While shelling corn Tuesday for Ohas. Bailey, Henry Whitney in some manner made a misstep on his engine, fell and broke two of his ribs. Dr. Fledderman administered to the broken ribs and Henry is getting along as well as can be expected; but he will have to be careful of himself for a few days.

Man is like nature; he blows hot and cold. One day he is storming around and full of bluster. Can't get a civil word out of him. But for the most part he is good-natured, and when well fed and clothed, you can notice the chinook winds blowing, the sun shining and no clouds in sight. Are you a tempest or a gentle southern breeze. Are you mad and ready to scrap, like a blizzard, or make a noise like a beautiful May day?

Friday forenoon Rev. Jackson, pastor of the Bellwood Methodist church went out to the Bell orchard northwest of town to amuse himself chopping wood. While he was busy chopping under a tree close to the Bell burying place his axe must have got caught on a limb, and glancing to the right side of his head made a large incision over the temple. Mr. Jackson fell to the ground and lay in an unconscious condition for some time. On becoming conscious, in his weak condition, called for help, but no one heard him. As blood was flowing from the wound in a copious manner the next best thing he thought of doing was to stop himself from bleeding to death by pressing his pocket handkerchief tight on the cut. In a bewildered condition he reached home covered with blood. Dr. Fledderman was suddenly summoned, who put several stitches in the wound and otherwise dressed it. He also had considerable trouble in keeping the flow of blood back.

SILVER CREEK.

From the Sun.
Miss Eileen Kavanaugh of Columbus spent a couple of days here last week with friends.

Mr. Arthur Engel and Miss Anna Horn of Duncan were married February 1, at the Duncan church. Both of the young people are well and favorably known.

At Columbus, Tuesday last, William Wilcox and Laura Wisely were married. Both of the young people are well known to everybody around here and Sand congratulates them on their good luck. We wish the bride and groom many happy years.

Word was received here this week that Mrs. Eliza Rich had died January 27 at Hornell, New York. Mrs. Rich was 90 years and 1 day old at the time of her death, and had spent many years of her life in this vicinity. She was the mother of Mrs. Emily C. Bennett, who died here June 26, 1907.

Harm Shank of Osceola brought a bunch of people over to the Firemen's ball last Friday night and a Mr. Johnson who was with him started back after another load. While near Olat Moore's the car caught fire, presumably in the carburetor and was totally destroyed. The driver escaped uninjured.

John Kava and Tilda Lis were married at the Catholic church in Silver Creek, Feb. 1. They went immediately to the home, three miles east of town, where Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lis, parents of the bride, served a splendid dinner to the invited guests. Mr. and Mrs. Kava will live on a farm three miles south of the Croacow church.

PLATTE CENTER.

From the Signal.
While butchering a hog last Thursday H. G. Gehring, through the slipping of a butcher knife, cut a nasty gash in one of his hands which required the service of a physician in dressing.

Ed Parkinson left for the south on Monday noon's train. He will stop at Kansas City a few days, where he will determine whether he will visit Excelsior Springs, Missouri, or Hot Springs, Arkansas. He expects to be absent until spring.

Last Wednesday death came at the old age of 92 years, to Mrs. Joseph Hanzel, of Schuyler. She was grand mother of Mrs. G. A. Otrudovic, of this place, who together with Mr. Otrudovic, attended the funeral which was held last Friday at Schuyler.

John and Charley Conpons loaded a car with stock and household goods last Thursday and with their families left on the evening train for the ranch purchased last summer near Alliance. We understand they do not intend to farm but will turn their attention to stock raising.

Gerhard Gronenthal is carrying his left hand well bandaged because of an accident which happened to it last Friday. He was digging the putty from a window sash preparatory to placing a new pane of glass, using a sharp pocket knife. The knife slipped and the blade entered the left hand at the base of the thumb on the inside, cutting an artery from which blood flowed very freely. In fact it was not stopped until he came to town and had the wound dressed by a physician. Several stitches were required in the dressing.

An Extreme Case.

THINK THIS OVER.

This Offer Should Gain the Confidence of the Most Skeptical.

We pay for all the medicine used during the trial, if our remedy fails to completely relieve you of constipation. We take all the risk. You are not obligated to us in any way whatever, if you accept our offer. That's a mighty broad statement, but we mean every word of it. Could anything be more fair for you?

A most scientific, common-sense treatment is Rexall Orderlies, which are eaten like candy. Their active principle is a recent scientific discovery that is odorless, colorless and tasteless; very pronounced, gentle and pleasant in action, and particularly agreeable in every way. This ingredient does not cause diarrhoea, nausea, flatulence, griping or any inconvenience whatever. Rexall Orderlies are particularly good for children, aged and delicate persons.

If you suffer from chronic or habitual constipation, or the associate or dependent chronic ailments, we urge you to try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Remember you can get them in Columbus only at our store, 12 tablets 10 cents; 35 tablets 25 cents. The Rexall store, Pollock & Co., corner 13th and North streets.

He Didn't Know Them.
The late Rev. Horatio Stebbins of San Francisco was a man of large mind and noble powers, but more familiar with the world of intellectual and scholastic interests than with trivial and timely things. His household was blessed with a charming daughter who grew up tall and beautiful, commanding the admiration of all who saw her.

One day a visitor said to the good doctor: "Doctor, your daughter grows more charming day by day. Why, she's a regular Gibson girl."
"Ah, thank you, thank you," replied the doctor in his best manner. When the visitor had gone, turning to his wife the doctor asked, "My dear, who are the Gibsons?"—San Francisco Argonaut.

A Change For the Better.
The nine-year-old boy of a Baltimore family who is compelled by his parents to practice daily upon the piano may not be a clever performer, but he has a pretty shrewd notion of the worth of an instrument, as well as a rather mature wit, as is evidenced by an incident in the household not long since.

His father upon returning home from a week's absence heard the lad plugging away at the piano.
"When did you learn that new piece, son?" asked the parent.
"It isn't a new piece, dad," answered the boy. "The piano has been tuned."—Lippincott's.

Good Reason.
"I wouldn't be in Brown's shoes just now."
"Why not?"
"He left them in the cellar, and they dumped four tons of coal on them before Brown was up."

A Long Swallow.
"And you give the graffe only one lump of sugar?" asked the little boy at the zoo.
"Oh, yes," replied the keeper. "One lump goes a long way with him."—Yonkers Statesman.

RUSIE'S TERRIFIC SPEED.

His Thunderbolt Delivery Terrorized the Batters.

A veteran ball player who has battled against nearly all of the noted pitchers in the last twenty years named Amos Rusie as the universal standard of speed in shooting the ball across the rubber.

"There have been many fast pitchers in baseball, and all of them in their time when they cut loose for fair have baffled the best of hitters with their speed, but you will notice that when fast pitchers are spoken of the one name is always made, 'Has he the speed that Amos Rusie had?' And, I think, it will be that way forever. As long as great names are remembered or baseball is the nation's game Rusie will remain the champion speed merchant, the one pitcher who could send in the ball faster than any one else that ever lived. When you say 'fast as Rusie' you don't mean it, either; you only wish to show that your favorite pitcher is a very speedy boy.

"Words fail" really to describe the speed with which Rusie sent the ball. He was a man of great width, great strength and the ability to put every ounce of his weight into the pitch. Coupled with this he had a set of dazzling curves which were manufactured with the same effort required to produce the speed. Some men can throw a straight ball with great force, but have to slow up in order to develop curve, but Rusie drove in a curved ball with all his tremendous power.

"Facing Rusie to a timid man was like going into battle must be to an inexperienced soldier. The distance was shorter then. Rusie had the whole box to move around in instead of being chained to a slab, and he simply drove the ball at you with the force of a cannon. I have stood up to all the great pitchers of nearly twenty years, I have seen scores of them come and go, and none of them inspired the terror in a batsman's heart that was put there by the mighty Rusie. The ball was like a white streak tearing past you without time to balance yourself, figure the course of the ball or take aim at it. The fellows with the wide curve might fool you into reaching out and missing them, but you weren't reaching out at Rusie—you simply swung at a white streak as it hurried past, and if you took a full arm swing the ball was gone and in the catcher's hands before you had half finished the swinging motion.

"The convincing proof of Rusie's terrible speed was this: If any other pitcher hit a man the man swore, flung a moment and went to first. If Rusie hit a man the man retired from the game and sometimes went to the hospital. To be hit by Rusie was worse than to have an ordinary man smash you with a rock."—New York World.
