LEIGH.
From the World.
John Chok, a young Bohemian from Columbus, just newly married, moved on the L. Scudder farm and a Mr. Egan moved on to the old Murry farm last week.

Gord Asche, sr., departed for a trip to the old fatherland, Germany. He expects to remain about six weeks and on his return will be accompanied by a family of relatives who will make the land of the free their future home.

At the German Lutheran church on Shill creek at three o'clock on Wednesday afternoon occurred the marriage ceremony of Miss Clara Schindler and Walter H. Folken. The marriage lines were read by Rev. Miller in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives and immediately following the congratulations a reception was tendered the young couple at the bride's home. They will make their home on a farm west of Leigh.

ALBION.
From the News.
Antone Larner, who has been awaiting the arrival of his wife and children from the old country, received word last week that they were in a hospital in Liverpool and that one of the children had died and two of them were sick with diphtheria.

The explosion of a flu on the west-bound Northwestern freight engine near Lenette Monday noon resulted in the fireman being severely scalded about the face. Dr. Smith was called to the scene of the accident and dressed the injured man's burns. It was thought that he will not suffer any serious results.

Mrs. Wm. Hartman, one of the earliest settlers in this county, passed away at her home adjoining Petersburg Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Hartman came to this county some thirty years ago and located on a claim above Petersburg. A few years ago they moved to Petersburg where he is engaged in the meat business.

LINDSAY.
From the Post.
Andrew Christenson living southwest of town met with an accident which will probably confine him to his bed for some time. While feeding his horses, he became frightened and kicked him causing him to fall under them, and the result was that Mr. Christenson was nearly trampled to death when found. A physician was summoned and his wounds dressed so at present he is resting as easily as can be expected.

A certain young man in our little city went out for a drive the other evening in company with his best girl. Everything went well until they started to return when the young lady wanted to lean to drive, so he handed her the reins and gave her the necessary instructions, but it seems she didn't follow them, for a mile east of town they drove off a bridge causing the vehicle to "topsize" and the young couple were deposited not over gently by the roadside. Luckily no one was hurt, and except a good shaking up from which they soon recovered, they are now looking as well as ever.

PLATTE CENTER.
From the Signal.
The U. P. pile driver gang has been engaged the past week in the placing of new piles in the trestle work about a mile north of town. They run down to Columbus each night.

The question is often asked, "Is there an Irish language?" Yes, there is. It is almost a dead language, however, but there are a few old people who speak it. Certain Irish scholars and societies are trying to revive it.

A message containing the sad news of the death of his brother at his home in Guthrie, Oklahoma, was received last Friday by D. F. Donohue. No particulars were given. Mr. and Mrs. Donohue left at once to be present at the funeral.

Henry G. Muller, who has lived on a farm about a mile north of Platte Center for a number of years, has this week moved to a farm in the vicinity of Lindsay. The farm here belonged to a brother of Muller, living in Illinois, but has recently been sold.

SILVER CREEK.
From the Sun.
E. H. Young has purchased the H. R. Lundy home in the north part of town and will reside there. This probably means that Mr. Lundy will make his future home in Columbus.

Supervisor M. J. Harry, who lost the use of his left arm in a collision with a Union Pacific train at the depot crossing in Silver Creek about a year ago, got a check for $3,000.00 from the company last Saturday in settlement of damages. Of course it will not compensate Matt for the loss of his arm and the suffering caused him, but it can be sized up as a "Balm in Gilead". The company settled the matter without suit.

At a point on the Platte a few miles west of Silver Creek a hunting camp has been established for use during the duck season by Perry and Myron Bond. The wives of these young men are with them and are expecting to do the hunting while their husbands prepare the meals, wash the dishes and wait upon the wants of the guests who will be entertained. Why not? These are days of the suffragette, the farmette and why not of the hunterette?

HUMPHREY.
From the Democrat.
The Commercial club being dissatisfied with the last census enumeration, has authorized a new count, and the work is being done this week by Henry Schumacher. The enumeration has not yet been completed, but already a large gain over the former count has been made.

Another deer from Dr. Condon's herd which he has domiciled in his park here has made its escape. It is thought that the animal which was a buck weighing about 200 pounds was frightened by some boys who were playing in the park causing it to leap the high wire fence enclosing the deer park to gain its liberty. This makes the eighth deer lost by Dr. Condon but he has already ordered four others to keep the only remaining one company.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont the eminent suffragette has started a farmette colony on her Long Island estate, where the work of a large farm will be done entirely by women. This may be a new thing on Long Island but there are numerous farmettes in this part of Nebraska who have been beating the men at their own game right along and performing their share of the household labors also. And they can't even have a day off on election day either.

MONROE.
From the Republican.
Misses Mazie Magill and Emma Snyder of Columbus attended the dance given by the dancing club Thursday evening.

Misses Grace McWilliams, Susie Ziegler and Bertha Kelley went to Columbus Monday to attend the Sunday school convention, returning home Wednesday.

Mrs. Joseph Carter and daughter Nettie left Monday for Meadow Brook, Minn., called their by telegram telling them of the death of John Carter, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carter.

Mrs. O. M. Edgerton and children were guests of Monroe friends from Saturday until Monday. She was enroute from Hamburg, Ia., to their new home near Shelton, Neb., where they have rented a farm.

F. A. Matson and family arrived last week from Carlisle, Neb., and are now located in the residence vacated by Jos. Carter, in the west part of town. Mr. Carter's have moved into the old drug store building for the present.

Chas. Nunnally will leave in about three weeks for an extended trip in the west, including points in Colorado, California and Washington, and he may conclude to make his home in the west. Fred Gerrard arrived here from Calamus, Neb., last week and will take his place in the Looking Glass office.

John Ditter, who formerly worked on the seed farm, and later went to Lincoln where he has been employed in the Burlington railroad round house and blacksmith shop, of Wm. Truelove and expects to take possession March 20. Mr. Truelove has been contemplating selling his shop on account of his age, and he will now enjoy a well earned rest.

On Friday of last week Post Office Inspector L. A. Thompson, of Omaha, inspected the post office at Monroe. Everything was found to be in a satisfactory condition. The office was rated excellent, and was so reported to the P. O. Department at Washington. This is the highest rating, and was very gratifying to Postmaster Talbitzer and his able assistant, Miss Hester Hill.

At the annual township meeting, held in the town hall Tuesday of this week, Isaiah Lightner presided and L. N. Hitchcock was selected secretary. After the routine business was transacted, the levy was taken up, and is nine mills for road purposes, two mills for general fund and two mills for bridge fund. Chas. Miller was recommended for the appointment of road overseer for the west end of Ocoee township, and John Read was appointed assessor to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of Jas. Harris. The meeting decided to dispose of the gasoline engine for pulling the grader and it was ordered sold, and the town board will carry out the wishes of the meeting.

SCHUYLER.
From the Sun.
In a talk with local Union Pacific Agent Bazzie a few days ago he informed the reporter that Schuyler is going to have a new passenger depot as well as a new freight depot. We need the passenger depot badly and now that the Union Pacific officials are going to do more than they were requested to do, it is gratifying indeed.

This has been a big year for real estate transfers. The amount of farm property that has changed hands in Colfax county in the week of March 1st amounted to over a million dollars. The biggest deal consumed in the many transactions was the sale of 320 acres of land by Joseph Pojar to Henry Parr for $140 per acre or a total of $44,800. The next big deal was the sale of the J. In Craig farm of 320 acres to Frank Pokorny for $36,000. Joseph Pojar sold 200 acres to Frank Dvorak for $35,000, and Chas. W. Payzant sold a farm to Chasney Sheldon of Columbus for $32,800.

On Tuesday some horse-traders called on Mrs. Katrina Kohler to trade a team of horses for her span of mules. The mules not being so gentle as they might be, Mrs. Kohler preferred a gentle team of horses. The traders guaranteed their horses to be perfectly sound and gentle, so a trade resulted. On Wednesday the horses were hitched to a wagon for trial, they ran away and kicked the front end out of the wagon. Next day they were hitched to a load and refused to pull. Mrs. Kohler then notified the sheriff and after considerable searching the traders were found in Butler county. Mrs. Kohler will bring a law suit against the traders on the grounds of misrepresentation.

Wagner as an Acrobat.
Ferdinand Praeger related an incident of a visit to Wagner at his Swiss home. The two men sat one morning on an ottoman in the drawing room talking over the events of the years. Suddenly Wagner, who was sixty years old, rose and stood on his head upon the ottoman. At that moment Wagner's wife entered. Her surprise and alarm caused her to run to her husband, exclaiming, "Ah, Richard, Richard!" Quickly recovering himself, he assured her that he was sane and wished to show that he could stand on his head at sixty, which was more than Ferdinand could do.

"Robbing Peter to Pay Paul."
That proverb "robbing Peter to pay Paul" arose from the way in which the dean of Westminster was treated at the time of the reformation. As about he had been an independent dignitary, but as dean he was placed under the authority of a specially created bishop of Westminster. This disservice after existing for ten years was merged in the see of London, and many of the domains of St. Peter's abbey passed into the hands of the chapter of St. Paul's cathedral, thus giving rise to the now familiar saying, "It was by a hard struggle," writes Dean Stanley, "that the abbey was saved in those tempestuous times. Its dependency of the priory of St. Martin-le Grand was torn to pieces, and its outlying domains to the east of Westminster were, it is said, sacrificed to the Protector Somerset to induce him to forbear from pulling down the abbey itself."—London Chronicle.

Familiar Sayings.
"I don't like your weigh," remarked the customer to the dishonest grocer.
"I hope I make myself clear," said the water as it passed through the filter.
"Reading makes the full man, but writing doesn't," complained the half starved poet.
"My resources are all tied up," said the tramp as he placed his bundle on a stick.
"The rest is silence," quoted the musician, explaining the meaning of that term to his pupil.
"This is a complete give away," remarked Papa Santa Claus as he finished stripping the Christmas tree.
"I call that treating a friend in a rather distant manner," said the doctor as he hung up the receiver after prescribing over the telephone—Boston Transcript.

Disinterested Affection.
"I'm afraid Edward, you're marrying me only because I've inherited from my uncle 100,000 crowns."
"Why, Blanche, how can you think that of me? Your uncle is nothing to me. I would marry you no matter from whom you inherited the money."
—Der Floh.

The Faultfinders.

GENOA.
From the Times.
While standing on a chair dusting a picture last Saturday, Mrs. E. L. Newman fell, fracturing a rib and injuring herself internally.

Robert C. Anderson departed Tuesday with two carloads of stock and household goods for Armstrong Creek, Wis., where the family will make their home.

One year ago J. B. Anderson retired from farm life and moved to Genoa. One year in town was enough, and then back to the soil west Jim. He moved his family to the farm formerly owned by Ed Ford.

Charles Crouch, an old man, aged 70, residing with his son on a farm 15 miles west of Fullerton, committed suicide last Sunday evening by drinking carbolic acid. He was alone in the house at the time, the family having gone to a neighbor's to visit. When they returned about six o'clock they found the man seated in a chair unconscious, and he died a few minutes later. County Coroner Benj. Person was summoned at ten o'clock Sunday evening and went to the Crouch home where an inquest was held at one o'clock Monday morning, and a verdict returned in accordance with the facts stated above. Mr. Crouch was in feeble health and had often expressed a desire to die. It developed at the inquest that twice before he had attempted suicide by taking poison.

SHELBY.
From the Sun.
Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jax were in town Monday morning, having brought their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Haggler, here to take the train for their future home near Stockville, Neb.

Rev. and Mrs. Franklin Lohr came down from Shelton last Friday morning and are visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. W. A. Cornish. Mrs. Lohr is just recovering from a very severe spell of sickness.

A meeting was called for Butler township in the town hall at Duncan Tuesday. County supervisors, Schwarz and Smith, were in charge. One thousand dollars was voted for road fund, three hundred for bridge fund and two hundred for general fund.

D. A. Brazee came very near being relieved of all the cares and labors of his life Monday morning while moving a small kitchen away from his house to make room for a larger building which he had moved in from another farm. With some assistance he was prying up the building when one of the blocks which was used as a fulcrum split allowing that corner of the building to drop about a foot and causing the chimney to fall. Mr. Brazee was caught by the falling bricks and crushed to the earth. He was carried into the house and a doctor summoned, who after an examination announced that Mr. Brazee had sustained no serious injury and would be alright again as soon as the severe bruises and cuts had time to heal.

ST. EDWARD.
From the Advance.
The quarantine was raised from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Finch Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Finch was the last member of the family to be effected with the small-pox, but he is now fully recovered.

The homes of Chas. Wood and E. C. Kennedy have been quarantined for scarlet fever. Dolph Wood and Harold Allen Kennedy are the children afflicted. The cases up to the time of going to press are in no way critical but a strict quarantine is being kept to prevent the spread of the disease.

Just as we are ready to go to press we are handed a tabulated list of thirteen tests of seed corn made by the First National Bank. We are unable to publish the list this week and can give only the general result of the tests. The average germination is 60 per cent. Some tests show a much higher average and some a much lower. The results thus far would indicate that it will be unsafe this year to plant anything but tested seed corn,—unsafe, at least if a good crop is expected.

WOOD PULP PAPER.
Forced into Use by the Scarcity of Rag Stock.
In the early days of printing it was hardly possible to employ anything but first class paper in making books, for the reason that wood fiber and wood pulp paper had not then come into use. At that time good cotton and linen rags were turned into fine, firm, pure white paper, well able to withstand indefinitely the yellowing and disintegrating effects of time.

As the increase in the demand for printing paper grew apace it was soon found that there were not enough rags to go round. Thus wool pulp came into use.

All vegetable fiber is suitable for paper making, whether it be obtained from rags, wood, esparto grass, straw or other substances. When these fibers are torn apart they are clogged with gum, a substance that must be thoroughly dissolved and washed away by chemicals if the best results are to be obtained.

Wood pulp paper is made of finely ground wood, usually spruce, the grinding being done with a beating engine, run at high speed, and huge stones between which the wood is reduced to a kind of pulp. That done, it is made up into paper without any preliminary removal of the gum or other deleterious ingredients.—Harper's Weekly.

ELECTRIC FOGHORNS.
Which May Be Blown Without Effort by Pressing a Push Button.
The time honored foghorn and still the one in most common use on myriads of smaller boats is of the sort that you raise to your lips and blow. Toicrably hard work blowing a foghorn.

Bigger foghorns for larger boats are set in a box, the box containing a bellows by which the horn is blown. Attached to the bellows is an outside lever by means of which the bellows is operated by hand. A lot of noise this foghorn makes, to be heard for a considerable distance.

There are now made, used on many power boats and yachts, electric foghorns the operating of which calls for the exercise of neither lung nor hand power. In these horns there is attached, in place of the smaller end, a metallic diaphragm to which is connected an electric coil which when electricity is turned into it vibrates the diaphragm and sounds the horn. Electricity is supplied from a storage battery or from current generated on the boat if it is electrically equipped. To blow an electric foghorn you simply press a button.—New York Sun.
