HUMPHREY.
From the Democrat.
T. D. Robinson, Jos. Muff and Geo. Fehringier went down to Columbus last Friday to attend a meeting of the deputy assessors called by County Assessor Clark for the purpose of deciding on an equitable and just basis of valuations for assessment.

The Humphrey Dramatic Company has re-organized with Wm. Sternberg as President, Prof. Malone, Vice President, and Frank Fisher General Manager. The company have fathered together the best of local talent and will stage a comedy entitled "The Merry Cobbler" in the course of a few weeks.

Miss Rose Eisenmenger who has been teaching part of the past year in the Madison public schools has been reappointed for the coming year. Miss Eisenmenger is a graduate of our schools and afterwards taught several terms in the intermediate department and was a hard and conscientious worker. Madison evidently appreciates her worth as an instructor.

The Humphrey fans and baseball enthusiasts will be interested in knowing that the Sunday baseball law legalizing the playing of baseball on Sundays in Nebraska was passed over the governor's veto this week by a vote of 21 to 11. By this bill baseball is put on the same plane with lawn tennis, croquet, auto-mobiling and other sports, and should be just as clean as any amusement. Much of the objection to baseball has come from the ungentlemanly and rowdy conduct of some players and we trust that the local management will see that the games this season will be conducted as they should be, as a good, clean and wholesome amusement. Later, since the above was written the lower house killed the bill, but we've played ball here for sometime and expect to keep right on.

The village election passed off quietly Tuesday, and yet to some it may appear that there was not as much quietude about the day as there might have been. Jos. Bender and Richard Omer, being the nominees of the caucus held a couple of weeks ago, their names were the only ones appearing on the printed ballots, but early in the day a botch was started for the reelection of Peter Bodewig as a member of the town board, and also the name of Matt Classen was brought into the running, with the result that Jos. Bender and Mr. Bodewig proved to be the swiftest runners, and for the next year, at least, there will be no change in the present board. In all there were 125 votes cast, of which Jos. Bender received 102, Peter Bodewig 63, Richard Omer 57, and Matt Classen 5. Somebody evidently wanted to make sure that Jos. Smith is a member of the board as he received two votes.

Unless the Northwestern railroad or somebody else gets busy soon, people going to the Northwest depot will have to take the road for it, because at a meeting of the village board Monday night, the present walk from the street north of the creek to the depot was condemned on account of it being unsafe. All of the walk in question is not on railroad property, but for many years the Northwestern railroad company has kept the walk in repair. Of late, however the company has refused to put any more work or expense on the walk beyond its own property and as there is no law to compel the company to take care of sidewalks outside of company land, it appears that it is up to the board to devise a way out of the dilemma, and The Democrat is certain this will be done. It has already been suggested, that the railroad company, the town and Barney Eckholt, who owns the land along which the sidewalk runs, will join in the expense of a good and permanent walk at this place and each bear an equal amount of the expense. It would be an injustice to Mr. Eckholt to force him to put in this sidewalk, as it would probably cost more than the land is worth. There is a question too as to whether a property owner can be forced to put in a walk of this kind.

PLATTE CENTER.
From the Signal.
School in district No. 23, the Regan district, has been closed the past week owing to a number of the pupils having measles. Several older people in the neighborhood are also afflicted with the same disease.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight McCombs from near Columbus, spent Sunday with the G. N. Lamb family.

Mrs. Matt Gilsdorf, whose illness we mentioned last week, submitted to surgical treatment at the Columbus hospital last Friday, and is reported to be improving in a satisfactory manner.

At the time of the death several weeks ago, of D. F. Donoghue's brother, at Guthrie, Oklahoma, the remains were brought to Omaha and deposited in a vault. The remains were interred Sunday and Mr. Donoghue went down to be present at the burial.

The village of Platte Center had a very spirited election Tuesday. Two members of the board of trustees had to be elected, but some as two years ago, no one seemed to take enough interest to see that a ticket was nominated, so the tickets were printed blank and voters had to write in the names of those they wished to vote for. Notwithstanding this state of affairs, 106 votes were cast, the largest number in the history of the village. And there was evidently pronounced action, as Henry Burke and E. W. Hoare each received 65 votes, J. E. Maher received 31 and P. J. Riley 28. Three ballots were thrown out for irregularity, and the balance of the total were scattering. Burke was re-elected. The board for the ensuing year will be John Moffett, Max Bruckner, Fred Meyer, Henry Burke and E. W. Hoare.

MONROE.
From the Republican.
Arthur Watts was very sick the first of the week, and is under the doctor's care.

Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Frank left this week for their old home in Iowa, after visiting some time with friends in Monroe and vicinity.

Misses Maude and Hester Hill were guests at Columbus friends Wednesday and Thursday. They were accompanied home by Miss Grace Lubker, who will visit here for a few days.

Jacob Smyer returned from Kit Carson county, Colo., several days ago, where he invested in a quarter section of land. He is located about fifteen miles from Burlington, the county seat of that county.

Last week the wind did quite a bit of damage to the F. Belford house, formerly owned by O. L. Gerrard of Columbus, moving the house in such a position from the new built foundation that it tore the foundation to pieces.

Frank Lamb tells us a great story about a hen that was buried in their corn crib last fall, and this week, as he was passing by the crib he happened to see the hen through the cracks and getting her out. He says there could have been no other way for her to get in there, only by being covered up as they filled the crib last fall. She had eaten the corn all around her and was still alive, and was a funny looking sight, her feathers sticking straight out. How is this for a hen story?

Tuesday's village election was out of the ordinary for Monroe—in fact not in a number of years has the contest been so hot. And it was not for members of the village board, as there were only three candidates, and contrary to the usual custom, no names were written on the ballots. The fight was on the pool hall, and those against it carried their campaign so far that it receded, and the majority for the proposition was larger than it would otherwise been. There were 66 votes cast, 42 for the pool hall and 24 against. The three trustees, Howard J. Hill, Wm. Sigas and John Gibbon, each received 60 votes, about four or five of those who voted declining to vote for trustees, but voting against the pool hall proposition. There are a number who were not strongly opposed to having the pool hall, conducted as it has been during the last year, and much preferred it to the secret gambling which it has been responsible for stopping. The judges and clerks of election were: Clerks, J. C. Read, C. W. Hollingshead; judges, Hugh Hill, J. E. Duck and E. W. Mann.

SCHUYLER.
From the Sun.
A bunch of men with a tape line made some measurements near the depot the last of last week which looked very much like measuring the site of the new building. They were like the usual railroad survey gang—knew nothing about why they were taking the measurements. Isn't it funny how some men can draw money for doing a little work and more money for keeping still.

Ruth and Ida Brock of Columbus spent a few days here with their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Smith.

Saturday Mayor Zenow took over the reins of government in the post office and he can now affix the title of P. M. to his name. All the old employees are still there and will probably remain for some time at least and it is possible that they cannot be removed as a law was passed by Congress making the clerks in a post office a civil service employee. Otto is already measuring out the stamps at the front window and he doesn't look at all bad behind the bars.

Friday morning of last week the hearts of the board of directors of the Schuyler Library were made glad by the receipt of a letter from Andrew Carnegie stating that he would be more than pleased to give them nine thousand dollars for a library building. Isn't that great news? About a month ago a committee of the library board asked the city council to make a levy of two mills for maintenance of such a proposed building—it was granted. Mr. Carnegie was immediately notified of the board's action and a request made that he build us a library. As the city levy is about nine hundred dollars we get a building costing that many thousand. At the present time the board are investigating a suitable site. There are about three under consideration and it may be but a short time until it is selected and turned over to the city council for acceptance.

SHELBY.
From the Sun.
A wrestling match was pulled off at the opera house Monday night between T. L. Slegelmaker and Jack Gorman. Slegelmaker undertook to throw Gorman three times in 15 minutes but failed in the third round to get Gorman down within the allotted time.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James McMeekin, living five miles north of Shelby, was the scene of a quiet home wedding Wednesday afternoon when their daughter, Mary, was united in marriage to William Innes. The ceremony took place at four o'clock in the presence of about fifty close friends and relatives. Rev. T. K. Surface, pastor of the Shelby U. B. church officiating. After congratulations had been freely bestowed upon the happy couple by the guests, a bountiful wedding dinner was served. The bride is the daughter of one of our most prosperous and respected farmers and is well known in this community, having lived here all her life. The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Innes, and is also well and favorably known in and around Shelby. The young couple intend to begin house-keeping at once on the Innes farm, two and one-half miles south of Shelby. They have a wide circle of friends and acquaintances in this county who extend congratulations and wish for them a full realization of their bright prospect for future happiness and prosperity.

SILVER CREEK.
From the Sun.
J. W. Vath, C. R. Galley and Earl Hawkins of Columbus have been hunting in this vicinity for a few days.

Miss Opal Merrill went to Columbus last Friday and met her cousin Miss Ruth Burger of Clay City, Ind., who expects to spend the summer here.

Thyrza and Erma Buchanan are under the doctor's orders on account of having contracted the small pox, to which they were exposed when Elva Klass came down from Gothenburg to attend her mother's funeral. Neither of the girls are very ill. Papa Buchanan is at home making garden and Asst. Cashier Jim Jackson has quit writing drafts at the bank for a few days. The Board of Health has closed the schools until April 17, also ordered all public meetings to be abandoned until that date. There are simply precautionary measures, nobody having particular reason to be alarmed over the matter.

ALBION.
From the Argus.
T. A. Banker has the lumber trust built a whole city block. He has just finished a new bar 16x24, with 18-foot posts, with side wing 14x24, made mostly out of cottonwood lumber grown and saved on his own place. The trees were planted on the place before he bought it by Wanzler and Widaman. He had the 2-inch steel sawed full 2 inch, so that he has a very strong structure. That's the way to do it—raise your own lumber.

The L. O. O. F. people have made for themselves a fine home. A short time ago they bought the Drake building, at one time the old Hollman hall, and have taken the partitions out, papered and painted, till they now have a hall worthy of the order.

Talking with Chas. Nichols about his railroad accident he said the adjuster came up and settled all satisfactory, both with him and Tom Doty. It is surely a case where all ought to feel thankful, first that no one was killed or crippled, and that now it is all settled.

Wm. Silvers, former sheriff of Boone county, in the good old days when poeism ran rampant over the country, dropped off here, with his good wife, last Friday. He has been living in Washington, in the famous apple country since he left here and has come back to see the folks once more.

From the News.
Dr. H. H. Millard arrived home Saturday afternoon from Columbus. He had been spending a few days hunting near Silver Creek, making the trip in his auto, but owing to the snow and muddy roads, left his car at Columbus and took the train home.

The firemen have lately received about 800 feet of new fire hose and Tuesday afternoon gave it a trial. They have been crippled by the need of sufficient dependable hose and with this new supply, ought to be pretty well equipped.

BELLWOOD.
From the Gazette.
Mrs. Wm. Barkalow went to Ulysses Wednesday morning to visit with old friends. While she was washing one day last week, a needle that happened to be in the clothes, penetrated the fleshy part of her left hand. She still carries the needle in her hand and she thinks it is working its way to the elbow. W. H. accompanied his "letter half" to Ulysses, where they attended the funeral of Miss Mahoney's brother, who was killed in a railroad accident last Sunday.

The Village election was held Tuesday and resulted as follows: W. H. Grant, "dry" candidate, 52 votes; Geo. Wadsworth, "dry," 51 votes; A. Yanke, "wet" candidate, 49 votes; E. Berger, "wet," 49. It will be noticed by the vote that both parties shot pretty straight. There were two spoiled ballots. Both parties put in their best licks. The vote in about the same as it was a year ago. There were no black eyes or no one killed. During the day but two voters were challenged, one of them being Wm. Price, now a preacher in Holt county, but formerly of Bellwood, the other, Ike Severn, who recently moved out of town to work for his brother. Both swore in their votes. David City went "dry" Tuesday by a reduced majority over last year. Ulysses also went dry. Brainard, they say, is "still in doubt."

GENOA.
From the Times.
A deer, supposed to be the one that escaped from a private park in Humphrey, has been several times during the past weeks southwest of Genoa along the Loup.

The election Tuesday was very quiet. The names of B. D. Gorman and Alfred Alfruds appeared on the ticket by petition for village trustees and they were elected without opposition.

At a meeting of the Business Men's Club held Monday evening at Firemen's hall, it was resolved to make an effort to secure money by subscription to improve the condition of Main street and the side streets and to sprinkle the business streets during the summer months. Frank Johnson and W. E. Martin were appointed as a committee to solicit funds and got busy Tuesday morning. A generous sum was secured.

URGES MUSIC IN THE HOME.
Ethical Culture Man Would Have Children Begin by Learning to Play on the Dishpan.

A member of the faculty of the Ethical Culture school of New York urges the development of music in the home by unusual though simple means. He would have the growing child learn to play upon his mother's dishpan as an introduction to the keyboard of the piano, and graduate from thumping upon a rubber hand to the strings of a violin. He mentioned also the triangle and the xylophone as examples of the more primitive instruments a child could learn to play, and he might have extended the list with the instruments employed in the kinder-symphony—the cuckoo, the water whistle, the watchman's rattle and the other diminutive editions of the cacophonous inventions of Richard Strauss.

To carry the idea further, a child who has the laudable ambition to become the tympantist in a symphony orchestra might be taught to drum on the window pane on rainy days; he should be fed on drumsticks; he is to be encouraged to practice the reveille and the ratapan with his knife and fork on the edge of the table. Hereafter judicious parents will not throw away empty to-mato cans, for, given a stout bit of twine and a piece of rosin, their noise-making possibilities are almost infinite. By sliding downstairs children will cultivate a faculty that will prove useful in the manipulation of the slide trombone, and the use of the shoehorn will suggest the French horn and the English horn subsequently.

Deserving No Mercy.
"Here," said the policeman after he had hurriedly entered the dentist's reception room, "what's goin' on? You've had a man in there hollerin' bloody murder for nearly half an hour. Why don't you give him something to stop his pain?"

"Give him something to stop his pain? My dear sir, you don't understand. I had occasion to take a lady to lunch one day last week—oh, it was a business matter, nothing more—and this chap saw me. Well, the next day he happened to meet my wife, whom he knew before she was married, and he mentioned he had seen me and wanted to know what the other lady's name was. Of course, I—"

RESULTS OF A WRONG DIET
English Writer Says That Nearly Every Form of Disease Can Be Traced to Food.
To sum up in a word, wrong diet furnishes the raw material for every disease. Without it they are not possible. It furnishes the means by which inherited predisposition develops into active disease. In its absence we are not vulnerable to infection and contagion. Its retention in the body in the form of foreign matter is the one real disease. For disease is the accumulation of foreign matter in one part or other of the body, and all the manifold names it bears serve merely to distinguish the different conditions arising from this common cause. The locality, character and state of these accumulations may give rise to the most varying symptoms, disordering the blood, retarding the changes of the tissues, clogging the joints, irritating the nerves and generally obstructing the bodily functions.
Wrong diet is the underlying cause of consumption, rheumatism, cholera, epilepsy, cancer, borbic and pneumonic plague, heart disease, measles, bronchitis, influenza, appendicitis, bad temper, melancholia, apoplexy, hysteria, cataract and arthritis, and is the commonest cause of suicide.
