Salesmen—Doctors—You Can Save Money with a Ford

Railroad travel is usually uncomfortable. Cooped up in a stuffy day coach is an experience that most traveling salesmen despise. Besides its discomfort, it's expensive. Railroad and livery bills are always high and make a continual pull on the pocketbook. If you are wise you'll save this outlay and make traveling enjoyable and healthy, by purchasing a Ford.

The original purchase price of the Model T is small. Consider, that for the price you get a car with all the useful equipment necessary to make any trip under any conditions. Your journeys from town to town are quickly made; you are comfortable in the fresh air and you are saving both time and money. No more pokey trains to wait for-you are your own engineer, conductor and brakeman.

Ford light weight saves tires and tires save money. Light weight saves wear and automobile wear is expensive. Vanadium steel construction means strength and strength means durability-all points that prove the Ford car the best for road travel of

The medical profession is one that usually requires instant service. The doctor's time is never his own day or night. He must answer calls promptly or lose his practice The horse and buggy used by the doctor to hasten his call is fast being pushed into the background and supplanted by the motor car. In design the Ford Torpedo Runabout is the ideal car for the doctor. It is very speedy on the road and always reliable. The old saying that "Time is money" is more than true in the case of the professional man. In this light and powerful Ford car the doctor can cover double the ground and make twice the calls that would be possible with the horse and buggy. As to economy in upkeep, it is impossible to find a superior to the Model T Ford On account of its design, light weight and strong construction, gasoline, oil bills and general upkeep have been reduced to the minimum. The many hundreds of doctors who are today using Ford cars are getting from 25 to 30 miles from a single gallon of gasoline. It's this economy in all Model T care that has made Ford the popular car for the busy practitioner.

Several explanations have been given of the origin of the phrase "Mind your P's and Q's." One is that takes the wheel for the first time is: it is derived from an old custom of "Does she kick?" hanging a slate up in an alchouse on which was written P or Q-that is, due to the action of the water under pint or quart-against the name of the lee of the rudder, when the veseach customer according to the quan- sel's stern, which has for the moment tity which he had drunk; to be paid been borne skyward on the crest of a day night. Another explanation given in the Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette is that the sentence originally was "Mind your toupees and queues." The toupee was an artificial lock of hair and the queue the pigtail of olden time.

A riddle used to be in vogue as follows: "Who is the best person to keep the alphabet in order? Answer: A barber, because he ties up the queues and puts toupees in irons.'

Charles Knight gives the most plausible explanation, as follows:

"I have always thought that the phrase 'Mind your P's and Q's' was de ling straps are used regularly in nearrived from the schoolroom or the ly all weather, and many sailors reprinting office. ASIATICS ON BRITISH SHIPS

Growing Preference for Chinese Sea men Over Britons for Service Under Red Ensign.

One of the principal grievances complained of by the union, we believe, is the alleged growing preference of ship owners for Asiatic seamen, particularly Chinese seamen, to British seamen, for service under the red ensign. The recent declaration by Winston Churchill, home secretary, is to the following pertinent effect: With regard to the alleged dumping of Chinese labor on British ships, the figures show that the number of British seamen employed in the British mercantile marine is steadily increasing, while the number of Lascars and Asiatics of all kinds was stationary. In 1905 there were 263,686 persons employed, of whom 180,492 were British and 43,483 were Lascars and Asiatics. In 1908 there were 198,474 British and 43,960 Lascars and Asiatics, an increase of nearly 18,000 British seamen in four years. It should be remembered that a very large proportion of Lascars and Asiatics employed were natives of India and British subects.—Shanghai Times.

The Astronomer's Cat. The Rev. T. E. Espin, who recently achieved considerable fame by discovering a new star, possesses a tabby cat, says the London Globe. The story of Mr. Espin's cat in his own words is this: "Last February, returning from church on a cold night. with the ground covered with snow, I heard lamentations very similar to what Jeremiah would have uttered. and on searching about found a young and quite small cat on the window sill very cold and very starved. I took him in and fed him and made inquiries, but have never obtained the least clue as to his owner. He was then about six months old. We became keenly attached and his affection has been so great that on more than one occasion he saved me the trouble of eating my dinner by being first in the field."

Man Who Creates Sensation at Monte Carlo Talks of His Good Fortune.

"Will told me last month, at the Cercle de la Mediterranee in Nice. that he attributed his good fortune to the fact that he could always tell his lucky days.

"He said with a laugh that the first turn of the wheel told him everything. In its startling revelations the wheel, he said, suggested the young earl who fell in love with the pretty Monte Carol chambermaid.

"The yonug earl found a Monte Carlo chambermaid so irresistible that he proposed to her and was, of course, accepted. So one night he took her motoring, and in the course of the ride he produced a bottle of champagne. "'I'll open it,' said the pretty cham-

Chrysanthemum Marvels. The great autumn shows of chrysanthemums at Dangozaka, near Tokio, offer many wonders to their crowds of visitors. You will see the flowers in long ranks, each plant a facsimile of the next beside it, with exactly the same number of blooms on each. And not merely that; the top bloom will be fully opened, and so make one of a perfectly level line of fully opened blooms; the next will be nearly opened and again one of a similar row; the flowers of the third row are open to a less degree; and so they decrease to the feet of the plants, where a row of close green buds extends so that the whole long rank presents a constantly repeated scale of all the beauties of the opening flower from bud to fullest bloom. And the marvel does not stop even here, for not only the blossoms but the leaves are matched in number and situation. In other places instead of straight lines the plants are disposed fan fashion or in the shape of an umbrella.
