Washington. To enable John Hays Hammond to carry out his commission as special ambassador of the United States at the coronation of King George, Judge Barnard Thomas, of the district court ordered the postponement until November of further proceedings in the case of John D. Sully against Mrs.

Hammond. The proposed treaty of arbitration by the United States and Great Britain, upon which rests the hope of the English-speaking peoples for a permanent peace between the two nations and which probably will be a model for peace pacts with other nations, has reached the stage where it is to be presented to the British government for approval.

Governor Shafroth, of Colorado, is in Washington to protest to the president and the war department against the abolition of the department of the Colorado, with headquarters in Denver. Even should the heads of the department be maintained at Denver under the new scheme of organization it would mean an office force of only seven men, it was explained.

The monetary commission has expended between June 5, 1909, and March 31, 1911, $207,130, according to figures submitted to congress by Secretary of the Treasury Mac-Veagh in response to a house resolution. Former Senator Teller and Former Representative Bonynge of Colorado, on the commission since its creation have drawn in salaries $15,562 each.

Seventy-seven mail bags filled with Invitations to the public to bid for Uncle Sam's new bonds left Washington. Every one of the 23,000 national banks, state banks and trust companles of which the treasury has record will receive one of the official circulars and bidding slips. The man who wants to lend $100, $500, $5,000 or more to the government at 3 per cent interest can learn all the particulars by dropping around to see his banker.

Now another jump is made by the reports of the company, in many cases the increase being from one-third to one-half the fomer value. When this increase was first commenced by the railroad company it attracted a great deal of attention and was combatted by other railroad companies in an indirect way. Now that some of the company's property is reported to the state board at double the former value, the suspicion is aroused that the company had more foresight than companies in this state.
