AT Dack's

THE FIRE FIEND. Destructive Midnight Fire Ruesses Department and Citizens.

Shortly after midnight Saturday night the people of the city were startled to hear the distressing call of the fire whistle. The department responded immediately, to find a very destructive blaze which had started in the Derrington cigar factory, on the second floor of the building occupied by the Telegram office.

The nature of the fire, which was in the leaf tobacco, was such that it was very hard to handle, as the firemen were unable to cope with the fumes of the tobacco, and they could not get close enough to it to do an effective work as if the fire had been confined to wood.

In a short time the flames had eaten their way through the door to the stock room of the Telegram office, which is also located on the same floor, back of the cigar factory. A hole had already been burned through the floor when it was discovered by a policeman, who immediately turned in the alarm. The loss to Mr. Derrington is complete, amounting to about $1,200, with about $800 insurance.

The greater portion of the loss of the Telegram company was due to water, which thoroughly soaked all the paper stock on hand, ruining it completely, while the machinery on the floor below was damaged by the water and the sand from the plastering which was thrown and washed into it, making the delicate bearings almost useless. One large jobbing press, which stood just beneath where the fire broke through the floor above, is a total loss. Judge Howard estimates the loss to the Telegram plant at between $4,600 and $5,000, which is amply covered by insurance.

The building is the property of R. S. Dickinson and is damaged to the amount of about six hundred dollars, without insurance. The upper part was completely gutted, while the lower floor will require a new ceiling. Mr. Dickinson is replacing the old plaster ceiling with a new steel ceiling.

Mrs. Emil Held died very suddenly last Thursday afternoon at her home north-east of the city, following a brief illness with diphtheria. She had been ill but four days, and indeed, was not thought to be seriously so until a few hours before the end. She was about thirty-six years old, and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Schmidt, one of the early families to settle in the Shell Creek neighborhood. She was married in October, 1893, to Mr. Held, who, with five daughters and one son survive her. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the Shell Creek Lutheran church, being conducted by Rev. G. Mueller.

Mrs. J. E. Peterson, and daughter Miss Vergie, and Miss Ruth Berger were the guests of Mrs. Myra Gillispie, near St. Edward, from Saturday until Monday. Miss Frances Gillispie, who has been visiting friends in this city for the past week, accompanied them.
