

OTTUMWA WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottumwa, Iowa.—"For years I was almost a constant sufferer from female trouble in all its dreadful forms; shooting pains all over my body, sick headache, spinal weakness, dizziness, depression, and everything that was horrid. I tried many doctors in different parts of the United States, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors. I feel it my duty to tell you these facts. My heart is full of gratitude to you for my cure."—Mrs. HARRIET E. WAMPLER, 524 S. Hanson Street, Ottumwa, Iowa.

Consider This Advice.
No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous medicine, made only from roots and herbs, has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, confidential, and always helpful.

Officer Muldoon—That fellow's flirting with my servant girl on my beat. I'll run him in if I could charge him with some offense.

Chamber—the milkman—That's easy. Charge him with impersonating an officer!

Sincere but Awkward.

It was at the private theatricals and the young man wished to compliment his hostess, says the Boston Transcript.

"Madam, you played your part splendidly. It fits you to perfection." "I'm afraid not. A young and pretty woman is needed for that part," said the smiling hostess.

"But, madam, you have positively proved the contrary."

A SPOON SHAKER.
Straight From Coffeedom.

Coffee can marshal a good squadron of enemies and some very hard ones to overcome. A lady in Florida writes: "I have always been very fond of good coffee, and for years drank it at least three times a day. At last, however, I found that it was injuring me. I became bilious, subject to frequent and violent headaches, and so very nervous that I could not lift a spoon to my mouth without spilling a part of its contents.

"My heart got 'rickety' and beat so fast and so hard that I could scarcely breathe, while my skin got thick and dingy, with yellow blotches on my face, caused by the condition of my liver and blood.

"I made up my mind that all these afflictions came from the coffee, and I determined to experiment and see.

"So I quit coffee and got a package of Postum which furnished my hot morning beverage. After a little time I was rewarded by a complete restoration of my health in every respect.

"I do not suffer from biliousness any more, my headaches have disappeared, my nerves are as steady as could be desired, my heart beats regularly and my complexion has cleared up beautifully—the blotches have been wiped out and it is such a pleasure to be well again." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville" in pkgs. "There's a reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

NOTES From MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Cull your chicken flocks often.

Alfalfa is the best soiling crop known.

Broom corn is marketed wholly in the bale.

It does not pay to be careless with farm machinery.

There is nothing equal to mother's milk for a young foal.

The honey bee is necessary in the pollination of fruit trees.

Whitewash is a cheap aid to the keeping of a sweet and sanitary stable.

This is the time of year when it is necessary to keep the cultivator going overtime.

After cooling, milk should in all cases be held at the lowest available temperature.

Good ventilation is absolutely essential, but drafts must be prevented in the lambing shed.

The best way to get rid of mosquitoes, like the balance of our troubles, is not to raise 'em.

The Guernsey when it comes to butter fat, holds a distinguished place as a record breaker.

The cost of 100 pounds gain in calves is about $4.10, while it is nearly $6.00 for two-year-olds.

The cultivation of beans should be along the same lines as corn, and if possible more intensive.

Spray the first time for the special purpose of filling every blossom on the tree with the poison used.

Breaking broody hens is not a hard task. A little care in the feeding and housing is all that is required.

The United States produces one-fifth of the wheat and three-fourths of all the corn grown in the world.

Do not wait until the broody fever becomes chronic, but discourage her as soon as she shows signs of it.

All animals produce stronger young when both sire and dam have a reasonable amount of exercise each day.

Alfalfa is one of the best plants to furnish green food for chickens, but ordinarily it soon kills out if over-pastured.

Shorn sheep sell at a discount because the wool cannot be pulled until it has a growth of three-quarters of an inch.

Brush the udder and surrounding parts just before milking, and wipe them with a clean damp cloth or sponge.

Keep small turkey poulters out of the long wet grass in the morning and see that they are under cover during heavy showers.

Butter from fresh and properly ripened cream not over one day old keeps better than does butter made from sweet cream.

An important feature in the successful management of the sow and litter is to get the little pigs to feed as early as possible.

Milk that is properly pasteurized and then kept at a low temperature will keep much longer, as a rule, than that which is not treated.

It is found that success in dairying depends as much on the kind of care and management bestowed on the herd, as upon the breed.

When you weed and thin out the family garden don't forget the poultry; they will relish the garden waste and put it to a good use.

Plan to raise a fine flock of general purpose standard-bred birds this season. They will yield much more satisfaction and profit than a mixed flock.

If a man has Jerseys, give them Isle of Jersey care and feed, for they cannot succeed on scrub fare and fodder. They were not intended for that purpose.

Cows must be kept clean and healthy, have pure air to breathe, and then they will return a volume of rich, nutritious milk in paying quantities.

The cow that wanders over bare pastures and looks wistfully at growing crops she cannot reach, is not happy nor contented and will not produce well.

By two or three plantings of sweet corn two weeks or so apart, one can have tender juicy corn on the table three times as long as one planting can give them.

Cooked fish makes good summer animal food. Beef scraps are less liable to cause indigestion and diarrhea in hot weather if well scalded and mixed with ground grains.

The butter fat from very fresh cream is apparently in a more stable condition than is the fat in the sour cream over one day old, and not so predisposed to decomposition.

If shod, the shoes should be removed at frequent intervals, because the hoof of the horse keeps continually growing. If the horse goes unshod until the feet occasionally.

The ewe with the heavy fleece is better protected from the weather, remains more healthy for that reason, and her fleece keeps more free from dirt, sand, manure, bits of straw and other foreign matter.

A garden can be made to do almost double what it otherwise would toward furnishing appetizing food and change for the farm table, if several timely plantings of the same things are made during the growing season.

PRACTICAL CONSTRUCTION OF COMFORTABLE HOG BUILDINGS

Floor Problem Is Still an Unsettled Question—Concrete Is Satisfactory If Covered With Plank Overlays or False Floors—Ventilation Is Important Factor Often Overlooked.

(By R. G. WEATHERSTONE.)
The hog house floor is an unsettled question. A good floor is the ground with woven wire stretched on top to prevent the hogs from rooting. Electrically welded corrugated wire is very satisfactory. This makes a floor which is easy on the hogs, almost free from rats, and, if properly bedded, warm and dry. It is, however, more difficult to keep free from dust than some other floors. Many concrete floors are used, but they are cold, liable to be wet, and are hard on the hogs' feet. Often almost an entire pig crop and many sows are lost by taking cold on concrete floors. Concrete floors are, however, very satisfactory when covered with plank overlays, or false floors, which should be raised from the concrete about an inch by nailing cleats on the under side. The wood portion of this floor consists of 2 by 4 inch timbers laid about one-fourth inch apart to allow drainage.

Feeding Floor.

Board floors are expensive, short lived, cold if up of the ground, and make the worst kind of rat harbors. The writer once visited an old hog house with wood floor in which the owner said the rats had gotten over stand out 6 or 8 inches to prevent the sow from mashing the pigs against the wall.

It will be found convenient to have the alley gates removable by lifting out. It is sometimes helpful, also, to have part or all of the partition fences removable. All partitions should be 30 to 36 inches high.

Six by 8 feet is generally found to be a very satisfactory size for pens, but if feeding is to be done inside, the pens will need to be longer in order to get room to feed and water without getting the bed befouled. Very large sows, such as are sometimes kept by breeders, may need more room, but the producer of pork will not need a larger pen. Small sows do not need this much room, and it might be good economy to make half of the pens 5 feet wide. Five by 7 feet will accommodate a small sow very well.

Hog doors should be 22 to 23 inches wide and 30 to 31 inches high in the clear. In cold weather a piece of burlap or ducking hung at the top of the hog door, with a stick a little shorter than the width of the door nailed across the bottom to prevent the wind from blowing it back, will help materially to keep the pigs warm. The pigs will soon learn to go through the board doors in cold weather, but then need to be closed except in very bad weather, or while the pigs are very small.

In most cases either ventilation is lacking or the house is drafty. In a well-ventilated, double-walled building, little moisture will gather on the walls even in very cold weather, while in a poorly ventilated one thick coats of frost will often gather, and the whole house will be damp when the frost melts. It is not easy to secure a good supply of fresh air and prevent all drafts from striking the pigs. There are, however, several quite satisfactory methods of ventilation in use. The commonest one is to make some of the windows so they will either slide or swing on hinges. The cloth curtain window also does good work.

Whitewashing the inside of the house is an excellent practice. Besides going a long way toward disinfecting it, it increases the light materially. When the sunshine strikes a whitewashed wall, much of it is reflected to the floor and does a great deal of good. Dark houses which must be used will be much improved by whitewashing.

BENEFITS OF FARM WINDMILL

In Some Respects It Serves as Hired Man—Affords Fresh Water for the Live Stock Day and Night.

(By F. H. HAYLEY, Kentucky.)
I use my windmill to great advantage on my farm. In some respects it serves as a hired hand. When I purchased my windmill I secured two pieces of lumber, nine feet long, five inches thick and eight inches wide.

I placed the legs of the windmill on the two pieces of lumber which has a bevel on the bottom like a sled runner. I firmly screwed the legs to the timbers and nailed braces across from one to the other making it steady. Then it was ready to move from place to place by means of a pair of horses.

In the summer months when it is hot and dry I hook onto my windmill and take it to the pasture and connect it with the pump, keeping fresh water for the stock day and night. I save the labor of doing the pumping myself, watch before, took me about two hours twice a day and my stock enjoyed two good drinks a day. Now they enjoy cool fresh drink at all times through the day.

I have a pen around my windmill and pump to keep my stock from damaging either. My watering trough is made from gum lumber 15 feet long and 14 inches wide, 1 1/2 inches thick and is 18 feet long, 28 inches wide and 14 inches deep.

I have a rubber hose to fit over the mouth of the pump which is five feet long and leads to the trough and at the end of my trough I have an inch and three-quarters iron pipe that intersects it about one inch from the top. It comes straight down to the ground with an elbow allowing it to go along on the ground to a ditch.

My pipe is three inches under the ground from being mashed by the larger animals.

When the summer is over and it begins to rain I hook up to my windmill and bring it to the house, which requires but a short while, connect it to my pump at the house to use in pumping water for my stock after I bring them into winter quarters and also for the use of watering the house.

I have a rubber hose 14 feet long which I use in washing my buggy and wagon. I also use it for washing my horses' feet and legs as the windmill forces a powerful and effective stream.

By means of the patent self-locking and unlocking method I can stand on the ground and stop or start my windmill by pulling the cord which hangs down beside the frame. My windmill cost me $54 but a good mill can be purchased for $27.50 and up.

Counting the three months that I keep my stock in the pasture and three hours' work per day at 10 cents per hour which is the minimum wages for farm hands, the windmill will save $27—half the price of the mill, while it would cost me that amount if I did not have it for a hand to pump water for the stock.

There are several other advantages that the windmill is to the farmer. It can be attached to the grindstone, the cream separator, churn, etc., making it one of the most useful implements on the farm.

CONSTRUCTING MILK COOLER

The tank is made of galvanized iron and is set near the well with a pipe connecting from well to tank at the top of the cream house. In one side of the tank make a hole for a piece of gas pipe using a couple of locknuts, one on the inside, the other on the outside to keep from leaking. On the inner end of this outlet which connects with the water tank for cattle, use an elbow with a piece of gas pipe about sixteen inches long turned down so that the circulation is good in this tank, the water going in at the top and out at the bottom. All the water for cattle must pass around the cream where the cream can be set as soon as separated.

RUDE AWAKENING FOR ELIZA

Too Late She Discovered That Visitor Was Not the Object of Her Adoration.

The gentle Eliza was sitting drearily in the darkened room, waiting miserably for a visitor, whom she feared would never come. To tell the truth, Eliza and William had quarreled bitterly the night before. But what is that? A ring, a step, a masculine voice. "Oh, my darling!" she sobbed, with her head upon his bosom. "I am so glad you have called. I did so long to make up and to my best to say you for bringing light into my life. Let us settle peacefully once more with each other."

"Well, miss," said a strange voice, "I'm willin', I'm sure. But my instructions is that if you don't 'in to cut off the gas!"

And it was only then that Eliza found out she had mistaken a common gas person for her William.—London Times.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands suffer from sick or weakened kidneys without knowing the cause. If you have headache, backache, urinary disorders, look to your kidneys—give the help the kidneys need. Mrs. R. E. Scott, 302 Front St., Baker City, Ore., says: "For twelve years I was a sufferer from kidney trouble. My back ached terribly, the kidney secretions were in awful condition and my bladder badly inflamed. I grew so bad I was bedfast and was so thin I looked like a skeleton. Doctors failed to help me and I began using Dean's Kidney Pills. They cured me permanently and I am now as well and strong as anyone."
